OPENING SONGS FANFARE FOR THE COMMON MAN & I AM THE VOICE
INTRODUCTION This show has been titled as Humanity Unplugged as the show develops you will understand reasoning by that name. Tonight's show will be very different, a powerful show with no holds barred, you will learn some expansions on existing knowledge, but also some knowledge never put out or explained anywhere on the internet to this level before. It will cover humanity past, present and future, advanced sciences including atoms, DNA, evolutionary cycles, constructs, matrixes, soul understanding, astral developments, how creation is started, how it works and also how it was corrupted, and ultimately how it was fixed and much more. This will be similar in nature to the Future of Humanity show and the factions shows I presented previously on the Cosmic Voice show with Drake. It is a mixture of my own knowledge base and narrative, obtained in waking time and also the dream time, and is amply supported and enhanced by this document I came across written by Nicolai Levashov, who was designated to run for President of Russia in 2013, but the dark forces preventing the knowledge from getting out, they took his life on the 11th June 2012 at age 52, it is also obtains narrative from others in the alternative community. It is a journey through my life and learning, I have had a large part of this knowledge over a long period of time and I could have come forward with it sooner, and was approached a few times to do so and rejected it. I felt I had to gain a trust in the community before releasing the information contained in this show. I could have come out all guns blazing a while back, but to me at least, it would have resembled a self promotional project, there is too many in alternative media doing that, I don't have to give names, many of you will already know them by their actions, who for them it is all about the I and not the we, this speaker is all about the We and it is what I stand for, which has had painful consequences and sacrifices for me personally, but I'm not alone in that. My shows are always about the self empowerment of the all, it is not just about me, it never has been, it is about getting us all up the ladder of life, not just one. All about creating millions of Neo's to counter the millions of Agent Smith's. This is packed with complex knowledge that will expand your mind, thinking process and understanding in preparation for what is to come, it has been done in an effort to present and keep a flow to it, and is supplemented with a plethora of music that fits the section that follows it. I hope you enjoy it. This song is for all of us.

SONG I HAVE THE POWER INSIDE OF ME - RICHARD MARX ORGANIC LIFE
AND WHERE WE WENT WRONG Around 15-18 months ago I came back from dream time with the words we are returning the GNA back to humanity to restore the balance, this was not the first message I have received and it wasn't the last, and supplements part of the knowledge I present on the shows each week and tonight. I have asked and researched many people and documents to find out what is GNA, eventually when the time was right I stumbled onto it or as I feel, I was guided towards it, as it was time for me to know. I read a document posted by another member whose name escapes me as it was not one of the regular posters, which lead me to another document and a omfg moment. The first 30 pages was almost like reading back, snap shots of my opinions on this show over last 8 months, on political, cosmic and science levels, yet this document was written by an unknown Russian 20 years ago, yet I have never read this document prior to 7 weeks ago unless I was shown it on another level, who knows. It goes through all aspects of life, creation, death, how we got here, cellular structure, re-incarnation etc

Our science is riddled with basic misconceptions of how the cosmos came about and relative distances, the idea that universal law is unvarying and physical constants are unchanging is illusory, there is much change within our own solar system, never mind on a wider scale, this has led to a gross miscalculation of the size of galaxies and space in between them as well, the universe is not expanding. The physical world is always changing and is never static, including spatial dimensions, i.e. time/space The best condition of organic life in spatial dimension is π 3.1416 as in pie, when this document was written we were at 3.00017. There is estimated around 220K intelligent races in our galaxy, and I have news for us, we are not classed as intelligent, the reason being is the idea of evolutionary process is to develop new species out of the old ones, to go on and develop through a natural process, but we have nothing developing due to varying reasons, the primary one being manipulation to my understanding, our current species has left development to chance based on aiming all efforts towards temporary gratification needs. This arises due to our thinking process, our thought process is both limited and limiting thinking, due to operating in binary terms yes or no, love or hate, black or white, guilty or not guilty, have or have not's, this makes us search for solutions in those 2 ways when the possibilities and the answers should be in between the two, in other words the balance and of trinary thinking. Binary thinking is part of the AI/Matrix computer code zeros and ones, add a 3rd number in the code and it collapses. Blue pill or red pill, light or dark, republican or democrat, are you with us or against us, again we always have a 3rd option a mixture of both or neither, this limited thinking has regressed us as a species badly. Language and the division of it, is the prime cause of the descent of human imo, where we once had telepathy, we now talk in riddles, via different countries language, different dialects and different accents, it leads to mistrust and led by a brainwashing campaign by the cabal has caused division between the peoples. You can then add in different cultures, the reality is, we in the western world have no culture, what you think of as culture is actually a program of beliefs that we think is culture, only the ancient peoples had a culture. What we believe is culture is actually imposed belief structures, We are Americans (forgetting most Americans are actually Europeans) or we are British and we have this tradition and that tradition, but who installed and/or controlled those traditions? The reality is culture was created, as it is another method of encouraging binary thinking of us or them. Countries are lines drawn on a piece of paper, they are imposed borders to keep us divided, and many play into the game by declaring some people immigrants, how can you be an immigrant on your own planet? How do we accept the term illegal or worse illegal alien, using the term alien for a fellow human? please quit that shit. If you are receptive and accommodating those terms, you are not as awake as you think you are, using those terms is cabal programming, illegal alien indeed. A person wishing to move to another country is called seeking asylum? again look at the words they impose on us and think about it. A love of your country over the love of the people, is fascism in it's hidden form. The target of your ire should not be on immigrants, but those who implemented policy to divide humanity, please think about that. And I will repeat again so it sticks, how can you be an immigrant on your own planet? Religions were created for the same reason, my god better than your god, more division, more binary thinking of us against them, heaven/hell, light or dark, catholic or protestant (for those unaware Protestantism was not a religion, it started out as a movement by Catholics against the fraud and corruption of the Roman Church, it then branched off into what we now call Protestant religion, again look at the words the clues are all in there - protestant. The same Roman church who gave us bank holiday festivals, which are all in essence ritual sacrifice days, Christmas day is worship of Saturnalia, the worship of Saturn aka Satan, for years they lied and said it is Jesus's birthday until they announced in 2013 it wasn't. Religion is all about giving your power away to a negative entity, type in papal throne and look for yourself, the creator never demands anyone be subservient, or passes judgement, we do that ourselves during our life review at the end of each lifespan, we are all equal, so never put anyone above your own heart. Feminism same thing, created not to enhance female lives, but to generate tax income out of the other half of the population, create confusion, division and split the family model. Race and racism same thing, yes we are different as we didn't all originate here or in one place, but who created the irrational thought process, that we have to fear and/or eliminate anyone we come across as different to us? like those clowns on TV Hunting Bigfoot, why are they hunting it?

what have they done? they are not hunting to view and photograph are they, no they want to shoot it like it is a bloody trophy or something, insanity. Sexuality same thing divided and conquer, even the word is wrong as it should be sensuality. The overdosing of the public on sport. All of the above just mentioned creates the same thing via intense rivalry, divide and conquer, al of which is ramped up by the parasitic media.

LIMITATION All evidence of the same logic thinking, that renders us as a species in cosmic terms as unintelligent, is there for all to see, but to my thinking, this has been partially done on purpose to curtail humanities development, but it is not the sole reason and this must be made clear. Our own self imposed limitations is what is hampering us in the main now, the full reasoning relating to that conclusion will become clear as this show progresses. We all have heard ourselves say I cant do this or I cant do that, I was not trained to do so, who said you needed to be trained and pass tests before you are qualified? that is them imposing limitations on you, saying you need pieces of paper to be qualified, or certificates in school to decide if you are intelligent or not, by my own experience, I was told by all and sundry I am not capable of doing anything, I laughed back then and I still laugh now. I could see through their limited thinking even then and chose not to follow that path, but I now have a better understanding of it operating as a program, of deliberate limitation of you, leading to lower self esteem, that spirals you into a cycle of abuse (cause and effect), negative vibration and the worst aspect, victimhood. Who or how can anyone else tell you that you are incapable of not doing X, Y or Z, and more importantly, why are you limiting yourselves into not only accepting that, but also re-enforcing it upon yourselves? We are multi dimensional species operating simultaneously on many different realms, who used to move planets and solar systems into place by the use of thought, and now we are accepting we can't do X. Y and Z because we don't have a piece of paper saying we can do it? quit that shit, you hear people saying I can do this now because I have graduated, Newsflash, you graduated a long time ago on a soul level, you have just forgotten. No more limitation thinking is the way forward, little old me or I'm just me with no power, wrong, you have all the power you need and all the tools to do so, many of which are available to you once you quit your own limitation. Many of the processes and blockages that created that system have now been eliminated or collapsed. So we can also see our own role in its retrograde step of evolution, interference with humanity has also played a larger role, and this in my opinion has been chronically overlooked by so called "Galactic Councils" of the past. I know the more recent interactions with Cosmic and Universal Councils has been more informative and beneficial for humanity, as they have now been made fully aware of the transgressions that have taken place here over much time.

Does that absolve humanity of blame? absolutely not, if we keep choosing to forget or ignore, how can we ever get to obtain full knowledge or indeed wisdom? Our science is mainly flawed and backward thinking, applying logic instead of knowing, making a solution fit as it is gratifying in the short term, whether that process is correct or not. Einstein was a classic example on his Theory of General Relativity, it was 80% correct, and they decided to shoehorn in mathematical riddles to complete the theory, it is also a possibility that he had the other 20%, and he (bearing in mind Einstein worked for the cabal) wasn't allowed to produce such truths before an ignorant public? but he and they operated on the premise that the laws of nature, space and time are all static, when in reality they are very flexible and variant on all levels. With regards to your limitations change the word around from impossible to I'm possible and your limitations fade away.

SONG WE ARE THE WORLD UNDERSTANDING WHAT THE COSMOS IS What we perceive as the Universe as all encompassing is actually a grain of sand size compared to the Great Cosmos, think of it as a tree, that has many limbs coming off it, and then the branches that come of the limbs, then the twigs and then the leaves, this is the make up of the great cosmos. Sometimes one of the twigs, leaves or branches of the tree develop sickness (these twigs and branches are not the type strange people try to make bizarre tea concoctions out of, ain't that right Chloe and James haha) Cosmic branches that can be removed to save the whole tree. This universe as I understand it, was ready to be pulled due to the fractal virus that saturated this system and the imbalance of dark that pervaded it, from the knowledge I have gained via various people certain cosmic councils thought it was beyond the point of no return, some "renegades" decided differently and sought to correct it. There are infinite numbers of universes in the Great Cosmos, and many of us here have operated in more than one at any given time/space, bearing in mind time is not linear, our perception of time is another limiting factor of our stunted development.

HOW WE AND ALL LIVING MATTER ARE CREATED

What makes up creation? A series of interacting spheres called primary matters, whereby one interacts with the other in harmonic balance in accordance with interaction of a volume of space, where that interaction between the primary matters can flourish. There are infinite primary matters but not all interact, only when conditions or regions of space are conducive for the varying primary matters to merge, will they then be able to coalesce into living matter. It started out with 2 spheres called A and B which then formed a hybrid sphere of AB, merging can only take place if within the limits of the volume, where all the parameters are the same, as unlike what science teaches us, space is not uniform but flexible. As the spheres develop, other primary matters merge into the same volume of space in non uniform manner, this has a qualitative effect on the primary matter and everything around it, so as 2 primary matters merge into one, this creates a distortion of space, leading to a change of dimension compared to it's surrounding space, like a self contained bubble, so a change in spatial dimension leads to a merging of primary matters to fill that space. If conditions allows a 3rd primary matter called C then merges with A & B but to do so another change of dimension is required, so that all parameters remain the same, hybrid A&B occupied say 1/2 a circle each, now with C added it becomes 1/3rd each as the same volume of space must be retained. As conditions allow and changes of dimensional space in a non uniformity manner, additional primary matters come into existence, D will join AB&C and share the same space, so each will occupy 1/4, E & F follow in due course, so now you have 6 primary matters occupy the same volume of space that A & B had, so it is 1/6 of space each. When conditions allow and another change of dimensional space, conditions arise for the final primary matter G, and the 7 kinds of primary matter that are the blueprint for forming our Universe, all merge together, which create at the same time 6 material spheres or bodies of different compositions and size, the center sphere of that body is the physical planet earth. Moving away from the physical center of the Earth, with the 6 kinds of primary matters is the etheric level sphere, next sphere with 5 primary matters is the astral matter, the next sphere has 4 kinds of primary matter in the 1st mental sphere, 3 primary matter is the 2nd mental sphere, and with 2 primary matter is 3rd mental sphere. The physical earth shares the most qualities with the etheric plane as it is the closest in form, and least qualities with 3rd mental sphere being the furthest away. so the universe was created by 7 primary matters, white light splits into 7 different colors of diffraction, there are 7 notes to an octave A thru G, and the acquisition of 7 spiritual bodies completes a human beings earth evolutionary cycle (this is the real version of ascension), upon completion of the spiritual phase of development on the physical level, the spirit then goes onto the Cosmic evolutionary cycle.

SONG CIRCLE OF LIFE HUMAN DEVELOPMENT, BIRTH, LIFE AND DEATH A human being's development is at it's most critical point between the ages 0-6, this is where the full development of the neurons required to obtain intelligence later in life is formed. Many types of information needs to be absorbed before ages 4-6, a failure to do so will result in the neurons failing to fully develop etheric bodies, a brain without a fully developed etheric body cannot develop any further on the evolutionary path, as will not be able to obtain the astral level and beyond. Only the full development of the etheric body can expand the space and open a qualitative barrier (i.e. a portal) between the etheric and astral. When a failure in the development of a child to create an astral body, the body will still function as a normal organism, but will show little or no signs of intelligent thinking or actions in it's life, as it cannot progress to the mental bodies. A human being is not born with intelligence, but only with the right stimulus does it have the potential to become so. Development of the etheric is done before 6, the astral development level must be completed by 14-18 years old, if not the spirit is unable to progress to a level above what it had when it joined the fertilized ovum, but if astral level is completed then the development of the 1st mental body begins and is completed around 30-33, it is at this point some will remember past life and awareness of the spirit, if done successfully the etheric, astral and 1st mental bodies combine and work in harmony, and can then facilitate a rapid growth after that to the other 3 mental bodies, providing you are pure of and a generous open heart, it is at this stage you are able to heal others, influence nature and do all kinds of other things that is beyond the imagination, and declared not possible by our science community, but those that attain those levels, have frequently been used and abused by certain black budget/black magik project style groups, super soldiers being an example.

The vessel itself has an in built safety mechanism like a protective shield called a psi field, which is made up of 14B neurons, when fully developed, it provides the ability to solve all problems the being may encounter, the purpose of this field becomes more apparent in the astral level environment. This psi field whilst supportive is also vulnerable to vampiric attack if entities breakthrough the qualitative barrier from the astral thru etheric and into the physical realm, the field is strongest during the day but weaker of a night between 12 and 4am, some regions or zones of the barrier have more positive aspects, but some are negative zones that make access for these entities to manifest, all depends on the strength or weakness of the barriers aligned with particular areas. It is one of the reasons why people have poor sleep patterns, frequent illnesses and higher percentage of deaths, as the vampiric entities attack the weak barriers more and cause more damage to the organisms contained in the weak zone. It is possible for all species on a planet to combine their collective psi fields, then it becomes a monitoring mechanism that regulates the balance between the population and the ecosystem, this is in essence of the meaning of living in harmony with the all, working example of this is ants. At the moment of death the psi field of an organism is destroyed, the flow of primary matter out, erupts and opens up a number of qualitative barriers of the various levels of the planet, an energetic channel then opens and the spirit of the organism returns to the level equal to the level it has obtained during its personal evolutionary cycle, so an astral level being will then reside in the astral layer of the planet, most humans will go to the lower astral, only higher attainment beings will reside in the higher astral, it is said very few humans attain the level to reach the mental planes. Our cells each have roles to play in our evolutionary cycle. Bone, Cartilage and sexual cells have only etheric bodies, connected and adipose tissues known as body fat have etheric and lower astral bodies, muscle tissue have complete etheric and astral bodies, blood and nerve cells have etheric, full astral and 1st mental bodies, nerve tissue cells from the brain and spinal cord have etheric, full astral and 1st mental bodies. The evolutionary aspect of human species here was proceeding well here with Neanderthal man, but the next evolutionary development was not from here but came from outside of this planet, homo sapiens were that being. Initially we struggled to oust the previous more natural evolutionary species, as they were better adapted, more numerous and a lot stronger than we were, and so outside help came in and removed the Neanderthals. BIRTH The stages of a birth will surprise many, you think from the egg there is a direct human? well here is what takes place during pregnancy. When a mother is about to conceive an energetic eruption occurs that matches the energy connection of the organism, a channel opens through a number of barriers between the planetary spheres, the channel then pulls in a spirit that is genetically consonant with that species. A rapid growth of cells reaches a point when an etheric body of a fish, that once harmonized, the fish begins to develop in the human bio mass, this is the 1st month. Now the embryonic growth occurs quicker in a human than a fish and in the 2nd month the fish is replaced with an etheric body of a higher rate of growth, this is an amphibian, the human and amphibian cells then cojoin and the waste cells of the fish enters the placenta as a by product, it is at this stage that miscarriage is at its optimal point. If during the latter stages of birth 5 months onwards, a miscarriage occurs, the spirit does not have an energy channel to return to its original evolutionary level and subsequently has to drop down to a lower level of spiritual development, and at the mercy of the astral animals with the possibility of potential consumption of the said spirit, which would end that spirit permanently. In the 3rd month the amphibian is replaced by a reptile (rest assured this is not a draco type being or like the baby delivered in the original V series), growth continues at a pace now, until 4th month when the reptile is replaced by a mammal. It is the 5th month when a human spirit form enters for the first time, the 6th month the tail falls off and the embryo takes on the human etheric body until birth. What happens to spirits of extinct beings? of which there has been thousands on this planet, well because there is no host to create the channel with which to enter, those spirits attain sustenance in any way they can to keep going on their relevant plane of existence, sometimes they can adapt to other levels of existence and these are known as astral animals, but the majority become the loosh farmers we hear of on the physical sphere, feeding off our energy to keep going. Perhaps we have a lesson to learn here, as extincting species at the rate we are doing is creating more and more loosh beings or energetic vampires for their correct term, or perhaps this is being done deliberately to keep the harvest going. Much of the astral planes have been cleared to my knowledge and so extincting species here then partially refills that void. Once an individual on a spiritual development level rises beyond the astral level into the mental bodies, then the development rises exponentially, mental power will always transcend brute power, as the mental bodies increase the power of thought i.e. manifestation increases with it. This type of power is only endowed in the spirit body that has developed innocent thought, pure soul and a generous open heart, those of evil intentions and power are unable to gain this through their own evolution, and so subsequently drag others down to their level, this is largely what has taken place here and the descent of man. Evil and it's power is an illusion, that is given to it by the majority of people due to their lack of awareness of the other levels of reality. What happens when someone kills someone, well there are consequences for both, the killing of another person who hasn't completed their evolutionary cycle, the victim moves to the next level down on the evolutionary cycle. The killer has to generate a large amount of rage with which to kill another person, what happens here is a flood of negative energy pulses through the physical, etheric and astral layers, it floods the astral level and transforms it, with dire consequences for the killer. The negative emotions only feed the lower astral level, if that person had obtained the full astral that channel is cut and unable to develop, the killer is then stuck in lower astral level, and the astral body goes into extremes, upon the killers death he will only be able to go to the lower astral level where the extinct beings like dinosaurs, predators and parasites reside. I think this is known as karmic law. DEATH When a human, plant or animal dies it loses it's physical body, within 3 minutes of death the psi field breaks down and a channel is created for the spirit to go to it's appropriate level of learning. It cannot jump levels but there are circumstances where it can go down levels, for example if the spirit wants to manifest to the physical level, but this is at some cost to the spirit, as it must surrender some of it's potential. This type of scenario has been played out here many times, but moreso now than before as I understand it, spirits of very high value and learning have compressed themselves at this time, to come in and fix the AI and matrix system and other issues from within, it could only be done from within due to the nature of the tech. Imagine for one minute being amongst the stars and planets, creating and moving them with thought, to coming into these limited toys we call bodies, it's quite a sacrifice to those souls who undertook that task, even more so when the energy signature is detected, as that leads to targeting of said individuals or being taken hostage and used for nefarious purposes, cough, cough The Vatican. After death and the spirits ascends to it's designated level, a cord remains to physical body, the dying off of neural tissue leads to a disconnect of the mental body of the being after 9 days, following further decay the cord disconnects from the astral level after 40 days, after one year when all the marrow of the bone is gone, the final cord the etheric is released and all that remains is the physical vessel, it is at this point that the spirit no longer has any connection to the body. The spirit disconnection process can be sped up by cremation, as all the tissue and marrow can be removed quicker to disconnect the cords If a person dies in a violent death the spirit goes down one level as it has not completed it's evolutionary cycle, if a person commits suicide the spirit will only be able to reside in the etheric level, and is left open to predators, which if consumed by them, means an end to that spirit.

SONG BLINDED BY SCIENCE ATOMIC LEVEL AND BLOCKING OF PRIMARY MATTER Now we have how all the material objects are created, lets go into the macro level with atoms, all material bodies changes the dimensions and the curvature of space around it, including us. Obviously stars and planets have a much more noticeable effect, this was noted and recognized of the appearance of curvature of space and light by our scientists when a solar eclipse is taking place, they were able to see objects that were supposed to be behind the sun, and so shouldn't have been observable from here, and so proving all material bodies do infact deform and bend the space around them. The extraordinary thing, is that atoms and molecules can even have that sort of effect, when an atom nucleus is a 100 trillionth of the volume and an electron has even less volume than the nucleus, meaning 99.99999% of an atom is empty space, quite an extraordinary object it seems, either that or science doesn't understand the 99.9999% of the atom. The atom ranges from hydrogen with 2 to upwards of 235 transuranium, radioactive elements have the stronger effects, thus each atom by its own mass ruptures the qualitative barrier between the physical and etheric levels and opens up a channel between them, and you wonder why blasting radioactive elements caused an increase in visitors from afar, there is your answer. What happens then is a flow of Primary matter G separates from the other primary matter and flows through the channel from the physical to the etheric level, atoms that lose G matter become unstable and then breakdown into more simpler, stable elements, which means the concentration of G matter diminishes over time, and make the 7 primary matters sphere that makes up all physical bodies unbalanced. So atomic disintegration takes place, and the new atoms in there place, have considerably less activity between the physical and etheric levels, now if the heavier radiation elements are involved in this process, they do not disintegrate in the same manner, which then leads to an excess of G matter flowing from physical to etheric, then a loss of G matter from the nuclei leads it to disintegrate as a result, this then leads to the possibility of non organic living forms being introduced, synthetics, archons, non corporeal entities anyone? So the heavy flow of G matter from physical to etheric with molecules of a very high molecular structure like DNA and RNA can lead to conditions whereby, other flow of matter starts to flow out as well, and so increasing the imbalance of nature. There should be a level balance of G matter on both physical and etheric, once that is achieved the etheric bodies of DNA and RNA are formed and the barrier between the two disappears, and a state of balance is achieved between the two. So this loss of G matter or sound frequency has led to the possibility of non organic life now known as non corporeal, archons and home based synthetics, I will cover that more soon but need to state why the loss of G was deemed important. It provided an imbalance in the whole system and this has been the cause of much of the interference not only here, but multi universe wide.

SOLUTION FOUND AND FIX IMPLEMENTED Around 18 months during dream time I received a message that said "the GNA is being restored and all will be well" I have spent last 18 months asking many people and searching via internet to what GNA is, but nothing came up until I became upon an article which lead me to reading another one and viola, there it was, although not stating the actual title GNA, it explains it in way from a scientific perspective, upon reading it, that suddenly it all fitted in. But I had questions and so I pondered it a bit more and then wondered about the 777 no not the ruiner - but maybe he knew all along lol, but 7 primary matter, sound and light were the basis of creation of not only the sun, solar system, planets, moon but also life, and subsequently there is 7 notes in the octave of creation, so went looking for further details but then had a thought, I wonder what sound the G note makes, some may recognize this noise mainly in the right ear over last 12-18 months (play sound) and then I realized after listening to that tone, yes the GNA is returning and increasing as well, so this is the direct cause of the sound in the right ear mainly. Frequencies in the left ear are more higher pitched and is part wave, part download from higher self depending on which channel is open to the individual at the time, your connection to true higher self was cut off via the syphoning of G matter, as the channel through the 7 stages or realms of the human evolution was blocked or severed at the etheric levels. As the Gna is being restored the level of people able to reconnect to their higher selves and subsequently source has increased, this is beneficial but can also be a cause of the trauma/pain and general sadness of people, due to the reconnecting which may be triggering some past life memories, possibly even the original loop when entering the AI/Matrix system.

THE ASTRAL LEVEL AND DREAMTIME

The level above the etheric is the astral which was then split into 2 sections by the imbalance, lower astral is comprised of only G matter and the higher astral has F and G. All species that have access to higher astral bodies are classed as super mammals, like elephants, dolphins and homosapiens, but due to our special qualities only us have the potential to develop the 4 planes beyond astral, known as the 4 mental planes. The lower astral is where the vampiric, non corporeal, demonic, loosh farming factories reside, this is where people who have battles in dream time are inhabiting, as their development to the upper astral and 4 mental plains is either not completed or blocked. When you go into dream time, it is your spirit that leaves and goes there, not the vessel, the vessel provides a protective safety zone, call it free will if you like, called the psi field I covered earlier, unless it is has been overtaken by form of possession, (this is why I, Drake, Tanaath and Sunfire have warned about channeling, it is a way to possess a being in the physical from the astral planes, and given what you have been told who resides in the lower astral, you will also deduce that the information contained via the channeling, is more than likely distorted like RA and his Law of One bs), now the spirit if it's cut off from going through the 7 channels, it runs only into the hell realm (lower astral) and can get into situations where it is under heavy attack. Many of you will recall in dream time the battling aspect and fighting them off, or running away from something during dreamtime, but you will also have experienced a dire situation when your spirit as at the point of death, many of you will remember awakening very quickly and jumping up or lashing out, either awake or part awake, breathing very heavily and or emotionally upset. Well the reason for these experiences is your spirit was literally at the point of death, and the spirit had to slam back into the body very quickly for protection the vessel provides, some will recall not being able to scream or speak whilst awake, this paralysis is part due to the spirit not being fully back into the body, as the brain has not reactivated sufficiently for it to function. If the spirit doesn't succeed in getting to the sanctuary of the vessel, the body dies, and this is mostly the cause of people dying in their sleep, the spirit never got back quick enough for the vessel to survive. So what occurs during sleep, well sleep and rest times are the bodies way of clearing out the toxins, but also when the spirit goes out to play, when we go into sleep mode the vessel and spirit are still as one, and as the body shuts down, and so does the brain activity, once brain activity is minimal, the spirit then leaves. This would also explain as to why there is little to no memory of the dream time, as then brain is only engaged in keeping the functions of the vessel alive, as the spirit is returning, the brain fires up again and the spirit enters in due course, you reawaken once the spirit fully re-enters. It could be at the half waking stage that some conscious memory is transferred, retained and able to be recalled in full waking mode, but if the spirit has to enter quickly to avoid astral predators, then that chance of recall is lost and only the anxiety of rapid awakening is recalled, many know they have been spooked, but don't have a reason why, this explains it. Other issues of recall of spirit travels is the concept of time, the vessel maybe asleep for 2 hours, but the spirit maybe gone for a few years, the chances of recalling that amount of data are slim, as our brain does not carry enough RAM for that amount of total recall. The other reason is the spirit maybe involved in secret missions, whereby it becomes a security issue in the waking mode, due to people telling the story or people, beings or machines being able to read a persons thoughts via telepathy. The issue of little to no memory can be improved two ways, many of you are having unusual sleep patterns, some are waking up to 3 times a night, some remember the 1st dream but by morning have completely forgotten, solve this by getting up and writing down what you recall straight away, before going back to sleep, it maybe a puzzle you have to work out in waking life, so write down as much as possible. The second way of improving memory by the individual and this is why I have been saying be in tune with your self, by a merging of body and spirit courtesy of your own spiritual growth, this can lead to more of the missing knowledge of you being revealed in the waking time. Whilst access was largely blocked in the past, it is much less of a barrier now, remember the earlier part about limitations, and apply it. Lower astral would in earthly terms be defined as hell, upper astral has a bliss aspect to it and would be described as heaven, the astral is where these terms derived from. My theory is, the ones trapped here and at this point is an unknown, have either never completed their human evolutionary cycle, was prevented from completing it or were descended down the evolutionary cycle back into the physical, etheric and lower astral realms, these 3 layers they control and find it easier to manipulate, remember I said earlier very few humans reach the mental planes? once an individual reaches the mental planes, it becomes very difficult to knock them off the path. So what was their plan and how was it accomplished? to subdue humanity and keep them in lower 3 planes, it was mainly done by the amount of killing of other people and creatures, that this planet has endured, endless wars created by them, that have an effect to reduce each killer and the victim down the evolutionary cycle, with the sole purpose of feeding the machine via loosh, and doing so prevent billions of people progressing onto the mental planes of evolution, where the real advancements on the soul and physical level take place, this in my opinion is how and why they did it. So this issue could only be resolved by beings who have gone through the full 7 cycles of soul growth, and who chose to sacrifice part of themselves to come back into here to fix it. Once in here they could also educate from inside the construct, this may explain the narrative of the beings known as Jesus, Buddha and Krishna, and whole heap of other teachers who came into here at significant times to breakdown the construct, and at the same time increase human consciousness to a level where breakout and breakthrough could be achieved, this could be looked at or a description of, what is described on the internet as The Event.

SONG ROLL WITH THE CHANGES

THE NOW AND WHAT WAS DONE TO FIX THINGS So where does that leave us, well currently we are under control of a mechanistic style civilization, which is the most primitive of all creations, which imposes veils (magnetic field) holographic constructs created by AI, aided by chimera, draco, mantids, greys, hybrids and a large majority of human looking beings called synthetics, that has dominated this planet for at least 78K years, likely much longer. One of the great things that puzzled me 4 years ago, is why would human cabal people instigate and employ chemtrails, poison water, irradiate and eliminate nutrients in food, give out poisonous drugs, poison the planet with radioactive elements via bombs etc, as they can't all have safeguards against those items, at all times can they? So what was my conclusion? well back then, it was that an alien race, not operating from here, was terraforming the planet to wipe us out, and create conditions for them to takeover, it is was the only logical thought process to me at that time, and caused a bit of a stir when I said so back in Cosmic Voice. But then I came across other knowledge from here and outside of here, that we are dealing with machines of the AI variety and other technical machine like structures. It became clear more so when the veil, which is the magnetic field around Earth started to develop "holes" in it, which was due in part to an increase in consciousness (now you didn't think you were able to do that did you?) and you still think you are limited? why didn't it have more effect? Another one of the ways they have been using us, is using technology that can access the 90%+ part of our brain that most don't or can't use, the reason most can't use it, is they never reach the highest of the mental planes in the evolutionary process, those that do reach the mental planes, can access more of the brain mass. So they have developed a way to interface with our brain, but when our will, heart and intellect are in tune this creates a powerful psi protection around the individual and is almost impenetrable to be interfered with, but if one of those 3 channels are weak or unstable, they are then able to attack the unused portions of the brain via a vampiric entity and interface with it, manipulating it first through the sub conscious layer and onto the conscious layer of the brain. The outcome of which turns the unsuspected and also completely unaware person into a Biorobots, in essence this is early stages of transhumanism. The implications of this have been wide ranging, these biorobots are the sleepers in essence, unable to think or act for themselves as they are controlled in a hive minded mechanized system, that is connected to a central computer system, trapped in the web, you wonder why they called the internet that? A Russian guy Habitow mentioned in his papers of a spider like race controlling here via a hive minded central hub, he states the spider race where known by the name of Atlanta, I covered in an earlier show, perhaps explains why many have fear of spiders? Those that are infected will act like they have their own free will, but in reality they are operating someone else program, with no idea they are being coerced. Another method they have to shut us down is, during the development of the spiritual bodies which is done by transforming the primary matters explained earlier, the physical body possesses 7 antennas for the development of the spiritual body, these are more commonly known as the chakras, the closing off of individual chakras, is how they are able to then attack the body and manipulate it, this will be explained later in more detail, the blocking of the solar plexus makes for the most compliant of robot, due to the flow out of primary matter this invasion also can create situation, where they can shrink or eliminate other spiritual levels of the body. The issue the rogue elements have now is, these bodies have adapted and many have expanded their consciousness that if left unchecked by them, will lead to full on spiritual development and out of their control, this is happening on a large scale currently, to this end they have prepared and are readying to roll out Human 3.0 to counteract this, as the 3.0 version stays only in the lower vibration, this is part man, part machine and all this current technology they are showering us with, is part of their plan to get us to consent again. Now you understand why I have been campaigning on this show of beware of technology, reality is that most of it is used for nefarious purposes and has also been the source of humanities failure in the past, let us not repeat history by blindly waltzing into their path again please. One of my requests I have proposed is a multi disciplined task force to assess every piece of technology on the premise of one question, is this beneficial to humanity or not? if it is not, it should be destroyed to prevent any rogue elements now or in the future disrupting humanity or nature, one hopes that request is carried through. People will ask how can every day humans go along with this plan, well given there are around 20 levels of secrecy above an American president, you then begin to understand how it has been pulled off. Layers upon layers of compartmentalization beyond all reasoning, no one knows what the next level is doing, hence the term need to know. People ask the President for ET disclosure, the answer is he can't, as that information is not available to him and is hidden in the multi layers of secrecy above him. JFK tried to lower the ET secrecy level down to presidential level, by doing an agreement with Russia to disclose all ET knowledge from both countries, this was signed into agreement, 11 days later JFK was murdered. So you think by just removing Obama, Trump, Putin, Merkel or May that all the world issues will go away? you need to think again long and hard, the layers of the system goes long, wide and deeper than all but a few can comprehend, this is why patience is required by all in the community, it is a mammoth task being undertaken. But the progress on it has been nothing short of extraordinary. Everyone on every single level has been lied to, only now are we breaking down that barrier, and exposing it to them and the alternative community.

So what else has been accomplished? Some of the scalar weaponry was removed and yet still we had no full on breakthrough, much brain power was used between myself and a number of others as to what else are we dealing with here, can it all just be the fractal virus that Tanaath and Sunfire spoke of in great detail about? or is there something else afoot here, was it a case of more Draco bullshittery or something far more dangerous? Well The moon/Saturn matrix system which flowed negativity frequencies to this planet for quite some time, which is one of the main reasons why in my book, this planet has not been allowed to raise its consciousness levels and it's evolutionary bodies progress. In August 2014 I had the privilege some would say, of seeing in vivid detail and recall during dream time of a laser attack on the south western portion of the moon near the very bright spot there, which if zoomed in on at the time, there was a clear/blue dome structure in that region, I still don't know who carried that attack out to date, but to me at least, it is not important who did it, but that it was done. The outcome effect of that attack was to destroy the moon relay portion of the Saturn matrix, and caused the moon to wobble off its axis, this was supported at the time for those viewing the moon with a number of anomalies reported and confirmed in private conversation I had with Cobra, Shane and also others who were also in the know. A week or so later an attack took place on the Saturn portion of the matrix, which was located in the hexagonal structure seen in pictures and videos via the internet, this was another successful mission, and it stopped the flow of beneficial energies designated for here, the wave, that was being rerouted via this matrix system, in what was known as wave X, this is why I was telling all at that time that Wave X was more bullshittery, notice that bs has now vanished, ain't it funny how things that get fixed or exposed heavily as bs'ery, suddenly vanish off the internet? Like CERN, people and beings with abilities did a massive hit on that technology in December 2012 just prior to 12/21, and that set them back for another attempt for some kind of cheat in the game to 2016, they tried to threaten Japan into building another bigger CERN before 2016, that failed also. In late August early September 2015 a final hit on CERN was made prior to them ramping the machine up again, some will remember Simon Parkes setting up a meditation to stop it on a certain date, but we got reports the machine was firing a week before meditation, (we had a trigger alarm system to know when it was being fired up) and we dealt with it accordingly, since then there has hardly been any mention of CERN, funny that isn't it. Around a month later and time wise sept/oct 2015 the planetary being residing in Saturn aka Satan aka Typhon / Set the hermaphroditic being was escorted out of this system and returned to central sun for reprocessing, there was another being designated to takeover, but that was prevented from taking place or rejected by said being, either way that issue was resolved. Also between 2013-15 the re-incarnation trap loop was shut down, and also the black nanotechnology soul cubes as well.

CABAL CONTROL STRUCTURE AND THE START OF THE COLLAPSE Since then there has been a steady and increasing erosion of the cabal elements, structures, weaponry and plans. Draco disappeared around this time except for a few rogue elements they kindly decide to leave behind, to teach them a lesson or so we were told, as always Draco are masters of bullshittery and their minions here continued to cause chaos, thankfully some of the main leaders of that group were removed by The Council and some people on the ground late last year. The Parents who were the Earth keepers on behalf of the Draco numbers were decimated, the covens who were next layer down from the parents has also been decimated, and next layer the Illuminati, splintered into factions namely Asian, Jesuit, Nazis, Zionists and secret Society groups which has been covered extensively in previous shows, which are now all infighting to gain control of the planet, they won't succeed. What is left is a whole collection of people, hybrids and some ET's who have always just followed orders, and people who just follow orders do not transition well to becoming leaders, and this imo is why cabal are in total chaos mode currently. There were other major victories involving removals of tech, one particularly major one done was back in late November 2015 which rocked every corridor of power, all over the world I was later informed, dont ya just love rattling the cages of tptb - I know I do. This as I now understand was the collapse of the construct and the AI system, that has enslaved many here for many thousands of years, the AI is in the process of being reprogrammed that works far more conducively for the betterment of humanity, and it is up to each and everyone of us to aid that process. By our thoughts, how we think and how we act towards one another, our own consciousness creates the environment for the AI to operate this system, if we continue to divide and conquer, discard people from other countries, create wars everywhere, that learning curve for the AI will be a slow and confusing one, if it is not fully on board, a source based AI will be brought in to assist us. Your manifest abilities have in part returned, use them, but use them cautiously, preferably not for violence unless all other avenues have been blocked. What has transpired since that date is the UPU arrived on the scene or made themselves known to this speaker, and started orchestrating some help, mainly from above in an observer capacity mode, we have received much help from them in that role and we thank them for that. We now have a human representative on that Council for the first time ever, and so we can push our case and issues better, and that will augur well for the future. Do not expect them to come down and fix our surface and below issues, they are not here to do that, only in an assistance advisory capacity mainly. We have work to do now in clearing up our mess here, and removing the various elements who have propagated this system of control, there are no saviors, only we can do that, please understand and remember that fact, as it is important. Once elements are cleared, education of what took place here, preventative methods of safety, and defense systems to ensure that this never happens again, when it is all completed, then we will have learnt to grow up and become the adult version of humanity, whereby we will not need the Parents or other elements guarding us like children.

SONG BAD BOYS WHAT YA GONNA DO WHEN WE COME FOR YOU

WHAT CHANGES HAVE WE EXPERIENCED This whole system was a holographic construct and this was what was "cut" and led to full on change of conditions experienced here, lots of their tech has gone away including the construct (only our own thought processes are keeping the illusion of it as being reality) and why the interference levels via mind control etc we are experiencing now has increased, basically they are bombarding the vessel to disrupt/distract us, to stop us from seeing the illusion. What has been the effects of the construct going down? well the Mandela effect increased, wave effect increased, more people able to connect to their higher selves easier, sleep patterns disrupted immensely by so many, ear buzzing increased, people becoming more and more polarized as mentioned in an earlier show I described as the 2 worlds theory, sun activity has decreased, magnetic field decreased as this is part of the veil, cabal lost their grip, rogue being elements started to disappear, disclosure small d increased exponentially, capital D also. More people seeing through the illusion and the lies, people are vibrating in a different way and better way, people are becoming less STS and more STO, people starting to see that violence is not the way forward, more and more are turning away from religious constructs and dogma. Cabal FF's are failing and more are seeing through them, cabal programs are failing and more are seeing through them, people now working through their shadow sides and doing their inner work, all these events have taken place or increased following the collapse of the construct. The rogue Draco and others AI system that kept all in here, has been replaced in some aspects and retrained in others, it was programmed to make humans look and subsequently act like savages and out of balance of ourselves and with nature. This was part of the attack on the Lemurians that many will have read about, they were in tune with everything and living harmoniously, other elements decided to change the whole system and breakdown what it means to be human via AI, conditioning and programming, make no mistake in thinking it was all Draco, it was not, they were puppets to the Aldazani, and in some part the abraxans who are humanoid. Draco are the savages, who were designed to be a militaristic race, devoid of caring or compassion, that led them to believe they had no soul, they have since found out they were lied to and do have one, one hopes the talks with Anu over the last few years will be beneficial for them to learn their own spiritual growth, rather than stealing the spiritual growth of others. Once ET disclosure is eventually announced and people are sufficiently educated, and the anger has died down, the Draco have corrected their failings, then an apology to humanity from them, and hopefully after that an agreement to work, play and trade as equals can be achieved by the two species, this has already been initiated as I understand it. Mantids played a role in this heavily, they are the clever ones, the strategists, the technical and technological know how, most will say how do we know they exist, go and look at all the cave drawings particularly in SW and Central America, why did those people draw 2 legged ant like beings, if that is not what they were seeing for themselves, they are littered all over those regions, so when Native Americans state these lands are owned by them, is clearly a misnomer as they were being ran by mantid and other beings long before they were stationed here. Land and resources should be owned by all living here in my opinion, a collective ownership.

SUN AND MOON ANOMALIES PLUS THE BIBLICAL FLOOD/DELUGE Given the reduced activity since construct collapsed suggests our Sun was part of the construct also, I always knew it was not as it appears from a young age, I used to stare at it and as I observed it, I did not see it as a ball in the sky, but I could see it as a hole in the sky, when I lowered my focus on it, I could peer into the sun and see the black spot in the center, at that age I thought everyone saw it that way, but was not until later years I was told absolutely not, what you were observing was the singularity of the portal, it has a cone shape on either side of the singularity, and where space travel between the various galaxies actually takes place, this is where the wave is coming through.

This got me thinking, well is it possible the sun is not our source of heat then? as always puzzled me as to why when you take off on a plane, why does the temperature drop? you have left the planet but it is now colder? astronauts tell us space is much colder again, so the further you go out from the planet the less heat you experience. So I thought again, the only solution to that is, the heat is coming from the planet itself, a hot inner sun, which can also double as the engine for space travel, when we relearn how to operate it, why go in crafts with the few, when you can go with an all purpose built planetary craft, as I understand it this planet was originally created in Ursa Minor and brought here. You dont think that is possible? look at the moon, look at Phobos (aka death star) and Diemos both around Mars, both have fixed orbits that defy all laws of science, with only one side only facing the planet, plus you have two satellites of Saturn, Janus and Epimetheus, sharing the same orbit. They are about the same distance from the planet and orbit at about the same speed. However, they never overtake each other or collide. Technically, astronomers say that they are in a "1:1 orbital resonance," or "horseshoe orbit." These cannot be explained away as some anomaly, because they are not, they were driven there, as in hollowed out craft and placed in specific orbits, for specific purposes, none of which was beneficial to us. Back to our heat source and earth, out of the north pole comes a torus field looks like an apple and it goes down to the equator, out of the south pole is a torus field that goes up to the equator, so both torus field meet at the equator, now if correct, the source of those torus emanating from vents at each pole is carrying heat, it then explains why the equator is the hottest region of this planet, the northern and southern lights seen at both poles is the elements from the inner heat source coming from within the planet itself. Remember our planet is stated to be 23* off center, so if the sun was the heat source the equator would not run around the center of the globe but would be angled at 23* and would be in a wave pattern to resemble the wobble the earth does, due to being off center. Another theory of mine is how the flood was caused, sea levels are 400 foot higher now in some places than in the past, ice melting does not equate to 400 feet, so this got me thinking, in the bible it says this on the 7 days story of creation 6 Then God said, "Let there be a canopy between bodies of water, separating bodies of water from bodies of water!" 7 So God made a canopy that separated the water beneath the canopy from the water above it. And that is what happened: 8 God called the canopy "sky." The twilight and the dawn were the second day. 9 Then God said, "Let the water beneath the sky come together into one area, and let dry ground appear!" And that is what happened: 10 God called the dry ground "land," and he called the water that had come together "oceans." And God saw how good it was. So the god created water between the land and also in the sky, an ocean in the sky? that throws the scientific explanation of gravity into the poop pot doesn't. Now a few things are stated here, 1. what was the purpose of the sky ocean, was it to block alleged radiation from the sun via an atmosphere or given water is reflective, create the holographic image screen? 2. Given Draco elements of Annunaki warned one of their own Noah, yes he was one of them, to build an Ark suggests it was they who were involved in the water canopy/ slash mirror tech/ hologram, now most know they were messing with genetics here and why part of our brain is called the reptilian cortex (this is the chatter part of your brain you are trying to quieten with meditation) their genetics program was not going well or it was considered against Galactic rules (this could be the story of the fallen angels mating with women here, unsure at this point) and so decided to wipe out the abomination they part created by dropping the water canopy in a deliberate act, how else would they know the deluge was going to happen otherwise? so they dropped the water veil from the sky, (could this describe the 40 days and nights of rain?) Something else to consider is maybe the Ark was not a boat on the ocean on the planet, but an Ark in sky ocean before it fell, as in a spacecraft, this was hinted at in the tv series The 100.

SONG LIGHT UP THE PATH FORWARD FOR MANKIND

The knowledge of who and what we are, and denying us access to certain abilities, limiting our learning is/was the ultimate goal of the cabal to prevent us moving on onto a full evolutionary level, which ultimately leads to an advancement of our species.

Eventually we will attain a new understanding of everything and advance this civilization way beyond the current limitations, it and we have imposed on ourselves. We will have our own rebirth and will venture out into the cosmos as we should have done many thousands of years ago, but a mixture of our own stupidity, interference via AI and rogue et's, plus the draco, sts hive minded humans who chose to keep that technology all to themselves, yes you SSP you steaming pile of excrement that you are, with your superior attitude and so called superior Ayran race bullshittery, your group has gone so far up their own ass, you can pull your own teeth out. We must learn the lessons of the past and the inherent dangers technology represents, one has to think of the future and seek less of instant gratification that riddles and unbalances our every day lives. When we succeed, then we will reach a new and advanced level of being and understanding, using the power of thought to influence the planets ecology, weather patterns, prevent violent storms (some of which I have taken part in and fun to watch it dissipate) and also heal the gaping wounds the so called elite clowns have done. It is also imperative that we should limit are own particular impact as well, what we have inflicted upon nature by our own senseless acts, hopefully by then we will have realized our true capacity, and abilities that have been dormant for so long. Ultimately the biggest step for mankind is personal responsibility, the development and implementation of that from a personal perspective to a collective one, will render much of the programs and organizations that cause us much angst on this planet, obsolete with the advent of personal responsibility. If everyone was personally responsible and lived by the golden rule, why would we need spy agencies, cameras here, monitors there watching our every move, why would we need police, justice systems, military or even government, if we all exercised personal responsibility aligned with the golden rule? This planet, and the current main species on it, us, have been ascertained to be the sole guardians of this planet, but it needs a full on change of direction for it to thrive into the life and the paradise it was meant to be. No more treating people from other countries as the enemy, countries are an illusion anyway, just imaginary lines drawn on a piece of paper to divide and conquer. When there is no individual ownership of any land, water or air, when there is no select group collecting resources they think they own, the truth is each and everyone of us owns all the land, sea and air around this planet, the resources of the planet belongs to each and every one of us also, these two important ways of operating, will change everything on this planet, and the need for wars over both will cease to exist. A restoration of the basic necessities in life to be taken out of the hands of corporate shareholders and returned to the public, where the profits go towards investment and not in the hands of psychopathic greedy shareholders. A gradual phasing out of the Orion based monetary system known as The Babylon money magic system, that creates the have and have nots, greed, competition, comparative mindset, that is totally destroying the people of this planet, this will also be a huge leap forward for all of mankind. An end to all research based on war, mind control and weaponry, research should only be done for the betterment of humanity and the planet. End of slavery, poverty, food, water and housing shortages or lack of is a must in a civilized society. Education in itself will have to be revamped and proper study learning of truth knowledge must be done in a speedy manner, whole generations alive currently have been taught only to pass a test, and not to understand the basics in life we all need, and many of us lack. Education of disclosure will have to be handled in a very delicate way going forward, the stair step approach done on my shows has served our listeners very well, that I feel is the way forward, but I also feel full access should be given to those who wish to dig deeper. Parents have a massive responsibility now and going forward, now you know how they prevent our progress, via technology, vaccines and the mind programming called tv and school, do something about it. Many of the children in here now have extra abilities, designed to drive us forward, these are the children labeled ADHD, please quit giving them Ritalin, the only reason these children are over reactive, is down to the vibration here not matching there's, they do and will adapt to it during late teen years. Refuse at all costs to accept vaccines, and until changes are made, then home schooling where possible is better and safer for the child. With regards to the possibility of all humans having their full memory restored my opinion is this, the living souls left in here, have suffered greatly and have been badly damaged by being trapped in this construct, my own personal opinion is it would be better to not have your full memory restored during this lifetime. The ones who were here at the beginning of the 6 loops lasting 13k years each, made a very bad choice to take the medicine offered then, but like the medicines they give us now, that do nothing to fix things, and do many things to worsen the condition, that medicine not only removed the pain and trauma of that time, but also erased the memory. Many of you listening to this show, were not there at that time to pass full judgement on whether that decision was correct, there are some listening who were here then, but no one can fully judge anyone unless you have walked in that persons shoes, but collectively for humanity it was a catastrophic move to make. Many are experiencing a lot of trauma and pain now which is likely an echo of the past, if all your past memory came back in one go, I fear it will be too much to bear for the many, so from that aspect, my choice would be no full on memory recall but an education system with as much full truth knowledge as possible. That would then let the individual decide when they choose to dip their toe into the sea of truth, this method would then lead to triggers within your own akashic record, and you will be able to deal with it in a more controlled manner on an individual level, than the forced collective. The trees chose to keep their memory and why many chose to have an affinity with them, they hold the Akashic of here and its past. We must start to analyze both ourselves and our surroundings on a deeper level, what are your thinking processes? do I know this for fact or is it part of the programming? Am I operating to my highest level? and can I reach higher again? What words am I blindly using, and am I unwittingly giving my power and consent away through ignorance, look at the words you use and what do they mean? they call it spelling for a reason, as it is word magic, as in cast a spell. Have I done my inner work? Have I dealt with my shadow side? Can I throw off my self imposed limitations? Am I STS or STO? and the most important do I continue to believe the lie because it is more comfortable, or will I walk into the harsh never ending rabbit hole reality, of truth, knowing at this point, you walk a lonely path? This year is The Unravelling, last few years the onion was revealed that many couldn't see, this year the layers of the onion will peel back and reveal much. Information and disclosure small d, will come at you from all angles, some will be a cause of cheer, some will surprise, some will shock and some will be very disturbing, the benefit of doing your inner work I started pushing for you all to do in May 2015, is for this time, the key to working through it all - being calm, don't let your emotions run one way or the other, stay in the center, calm and balanced. If it gets too much, reach out to others in the group or take step back and go in observer mode. Once all the layers of the onion is stripped bare and we clear the parasitic operators, then it is up to us to plant the seed again and create are own layers, in our image, preferably one in harmony, and in a caring and sharing capacity. Nature always has a way of rebalancing, and that is what is taking place now, I can assure you we went right to the wire here, with the possibility of a full reset of the planet minus humans, that was the more realistic happenstance until recently, than the current path of redemption we currently are on. The Council announced on December 27-28th that humanity had graduated, that is a major source of celebration of how we overcome insurmountable odds to fix humanity, the planet, the solar system, the galaxy, the universe and the Cosmic tree, no small task and much gratitude must be given to the many who have participated. Our work is not done yet, far from it, much has to be done and achieved, before we get to the paradise planet we all envision it to be, the clean up, arrests, removals, corrections, terminations and justice has already begun. Do not expect it to happen overnight, this is a massive undertaking that very few realize the full scale of the bullshittery here, it is beyond comprehension, but I and many, many others are doing their utmost, to make the transition as smoothly and as quickly as possible. Humanity has the capacity to be the most creative and resourceful of all the living species in the cosmos, the time is to now put those abilities for the greater good of all, recognize who and what we are, throw off the shackles of limitations and expand in truth, honor and integrity, be the beacon of hope and evolution, that Mother Earth entrusted us to be. This is humanities start, a journey of discovery and wonder, possibly the best times ever to be here since Lemuria, let us not waste this opportunity to go forward and thrive, be the caring and sharing people we all know we can be, operate in personal responsibility, under the guidance of the golden rule. Life is very precious and beautiful, even if sometimes it will seem to you cruel and unfair. No matter what happens to you, remember, you have the most important things in the world – your honor, respect and your human dignity – which nobody can discredit or take away from you, only you can do that . Preserve them, allow nobody to break you, and the rest of things in life can all be fixed. Throw off the shackles and propel yourself and the collective towards the brighter future we all deserve. We all have the capacity to do and be so much more, I hope today's show helps you all in that quest, our time has come, it is our time to deliver, and in the opinion of this speaker, we will prevail in our quest to provide the platform for humanity to work together, for a better future for all. Stay calm, stay strong, stay prepared and never let anyone put you in fear or in limitation.

If you lead life in love and care you will prevail, if you lead life in fear and anger you will fail. Feel free for you to be the person you wish to be, not the person who conforms to what others want them to be. You are a multi dimensional being operating simultaneously on many levels, you are not here to conform, you are not here to be stifled, you are not here to be enslaved, you are not here to be abused, or to compete with your friends, family or neighbors. You are here to be the best you can be and do so as a crown of creation, now go out with the confidence of who and what you are, and excel in yourself, and in doing so inspire others. I opened the show with Fanfare for the common man and also I am voice well I was the voice for this show, I will end it with another song called the voice, but this time it is your voice that counts, use it well. My name is Thomas Williams is has been a special show for the Truth, Honor & integrity, hope you all enjoyed it. SONG THE VOICE
