WHAT ABOUT US In part 1 yesterday we laid out the erasing of Russian history and it's people, 70-90M of them between 1917 and 1945, more followed after that. A country taken over by Zionists with an agenda that encompasses finance, land grab, resource stealing and a complete wiping out of, all that are not a part of their agenda. People will say well you don't really believe some people would want to wipe out 90% of the population, that's ridiculous, my answer is they wiped out close to or possibly beyond 90% of the cream of a single nation in Russia, they killed over 90% of all American indigenous peoples also, 20M down to 800K, they wiped out totally or near to extinction various other tribal people's also, be it in the Amazon, Maoris, Africans or the Aborigines. One third of Europe was wiped out across Europe via the black plague, which then reached Asia and the Middle East, do you think that was an accident? Millions of people across Europe were displaced and killed across Europe between 15-1700 at the behest of the Roman Catholic church, whole towns eradicated Spain, France, Portugal and UK to name but a few, a fact that too few are aware of due erasing of history or knowledge. Or the fact that not only content in having WW1 that killed vast quantities of people, laid the foundation for another theater of operations for another war 20 years later, but they introduced Spanish Flu all in the same year 1919, that flu alone killed an estimated 500M people, I could go on for a whole show in itself giving examples of the dark's atrocities, but if you don't see what they have done in the past, that plays out in our present, then you are incapable of any useful input into society, when knowledge was not available you had an excuse, now ignorance is a choice. Was yesterday's piece harsh on certain religions and cultures, yes, and I make no apologies for that whatsoever, it has to be said, I think it is beyond time that the full truth of the dark past and agendas of this world, was brought to light and faced up to, processed and dealt with once and for all. If your a part of the religions and cultures that were mentioned yesterday, you have an obligation to change from within your own circles, a failure to do so makes you complicit in their actions. You can't sit back as a Catholic and ignore the vast crimes against humanity committed by that organization, thinking everything will be ok if I just go to church or read some ancient book, of which you have no definitive proof is real or valid, praying saved no one in case you hadn't noticed. 4.5B people all pray each day to their various gods to come and save them, their country or religion, you would think with that amount of effort and free will choice something would change, but it hasn't as it? no one came, no one is coming to save you or anybody else, one giant trick played on the whole of a planet, by the dark forces to make you inactive and seeking an external source, when the answers all along were internal, the answer was YOU, The god you have sought outside of you, was always within you, you are the savior, you always were, you just forgot, time to remember me. REMEMBER ME

AN ATTEMPT TO WIN THE WAR WITH GENETICS Urs-teachers stayed in ancient India in order to bring the light of knowledge to the Dravidian and Naga tribes and to change their genetic qualities for the better. According to the Indian legends, seven white teachers (rishi) came from the North high mountains (the Himalayas) and brought to the local populace the Vedas and new Vedic beliefs which in the course of time were distorted and transformed into Hinduism, just like the term Sanskrit is not from India or East either, but is an old Russian language, but the Urs were also geneticists and they also tried to change the genetics of the dark infected races and end the reign of the Dark Forces here. Seven white teacher-Urs knew perfectly the connection between psychical and behavioral reactions and the human genetics. They understood that worshipping Kali-Ma, the Black Mother, for thousands of years was not something accidental, but the consequence of the resonance of this cult with psychical and behavioral features inherent to the genetics of the black race. These properties and qualities showed up especially strongly through the X-chromosomes of the black race, because in a genetically pure black woman each X-chromosome strengthens the dominant properties of another X-chromosome which causes a substantial mutual strengthening of their properties and qualities, creating a brightly pronounced female dominant. Understanding this, the Urs-teachers had to change the genetic code of the Dravidian and Naga tribes, adding some fragments of the white race genetics. They conducted this genetic correction everywhere in order to block negative psychical and behavioral reactions in the tribes of the black and yellow races which appealed for help to them. Most tribes, which the Urs-teachers resettled from Asia to North and South America, underwent this kind of genetic correction. This migration had lasted until the Bering Isthmus between Kamchatka and Alaska disappeared.

In the case of the black race, the white Urs-teachers came across a special situation, when their own genes added to a genetic “caldron” were not enough to get the necessary qualitative changes in the psychical and behavioral reactions in the race as a whole. The active X-chromosome did not give this possibility because of the reasons indicated above. Moreover, the other twenty two chromosomes also possessed their active properties handed down by the distaff side. Therefore, the Urs applied a new principle of genetic engineering. To create a new sub-race they used passive (recessive) masculine chromosomes of the black race. For this purpose they used the cells of the yellow masculine marrow, as the most suitable for this purpose. When these cells divide, they produce white blood cells which have many functions, the main of which is a building one. The blood stream delivers the white blood cells to tissues, where they form one or another cell necessary for the human multi-cellular organism. Yellow marrow is located in the cavities of the bones of the human skeleton, including ribs. The simplest way to obtain the yellow marrow with minimal consequences for the human organism is to extract it out of a rib. Most likely, an Ur-teacher who was “responsible” for the genetic correction and had a powerful psi-field immersed “Adam” into deep hypnotic sleep and took yellow marrow from his rib, as was described in the bible. Until recently, genetic engineering was science fiction, so, what can we say about the Dravidian and Naga people for whom the abilities of the Urs were obviously supernatural, and these tribes regarded them as Gods. The so-called American Indians expressed exactly the same kind of reaction; they worshipped White Teachers like Gods. White Teachers abandoned these tribes, when they began to bring in their honour human sacrifices and rejected a request to stop doing this. The Hopi and other tribes talk of the Great White Brotherhood returning, I think it is safe to say this Brotherhood was the URs. So, what did the Urs do well they took the marrow cells from the black (Negroid) race man being taken; the Urs changed a passive Y-chromosome into a passive X-chromosome. As a result, it united with passive chromosomes of the black race inherited from men. When they had artificially created a double set of female chromosomes with a passive set of features, the result was a hybrid grey sub-race female embryo. These embryos (using ova from white women) gave girls who now did not have psychical and behavioural properties inherent to the black race, which made the representatives the latter conductors of Dark Forces. Thus, the Judaic Eve, a woman of the grey sub-race, was created. According to the plan of its creators, she should have brought the descendants of the black race to light. For the genetic correction to be dominant in the descendants of the black race, some period of time must have passed for these changes to accumulate. Only when the number of carriers of the changed genetics reached critical quantity, would the genetic changes become irreversible and dominant. But the Hierarchy of Dark Forces did not allow time to complete the process of genetic transformation. The creature-parasites made a successful attempt to renew their destroyed system in the active sacred area, the Biblical Eden, using the remaining genetic manifestations. It was not full, but it was enough to turn back the process that the Urs had launched. Both the work done at the genetic level and the knowledge brought to the black race were unable to neutralize completely the possibility for the restoration of old habits. Thousands of years of the Black Mother worshipping did the dirty deed. The grey sub-race bred by the Urs came to be the creature-parasites' next victim. This could be looked at two ways, one the dangers of meddling with creation and nature and how it always appears to rebound back and bite ya in the ass, or two in desperate times, desperate decisions have to be taken for the benefit of all, this was one of these cases, as the dark infection was not just about here - Midgard, but all the other Earths also, throughout the universe.

HOW THE VEDAS DESCRIBE MAN ARRIVING HERE AND THE CONSEQUENCES OF WAR Spreading to different Spaces and Realities, Wise thinking creatures,

Conducted by Ancient Patron-Gods, Explored and rendered habitable

Splendiferous uninhabited New Earths Of the Light World of Nav,

And after that they returned to the Heavens.

This was the way the harmonious Worlds Of Yav (the inhabited world we have now) and Nav were inhabited.

They had been conceived in The living Light of Joy, Which the Great Primordial Ra-M-Ha radiates. It follows from the above that modern man appeared on Midgard-earth as a result of intentional migration from other Earths (planets). The very fact that several races appeared on our Midgard-earth thirty five to forty thousand years ago indicates that:

1. The migrants came to our Earth from different Earths (planets) of our Universe which had similar climatic conditions, but, nevertheless, not identical. The humanoid races had been formed on each of these planets independently. They were physiologically close to each other, but had different types of exchange processes, the colour of skin, some distinctions in the skeletal structures, but these races also have different psychical and behavioural reactions conditioned by significant distinctions in their biochemistry.
2. Some distinctions within one and the same race are conditioned also by the fact that different tribes independently evolved on different planets, which had almost identical natural conditions, or they are representatives of one civilization which had originated on one and the same planet and later settled on other planets with very close living conditions.

3. All migrants were placed in those climatic areas of Midgard-earth which were maximally close to those of their native planets. Our planet was inhabited within a very short historical term. In the past, Midgard-earth was a part of the system of civilizations of our Universe which communicated, mainly, with the help of star gates or by means of Vitmaras, interstellar ships:

The next verse describes it entirely The Priests, the Keepers of Ways, Which went through the Star Gates, Said to Perun the Thunderer: Tell us, our Wise Teacher, What is happening in the Great Svarga?

Why have many Gates been closed to Makosh and Rada?, Why do the Crystals of Motion not shine? Why has a quarter of the zarbin Circle grown dark? Why have the Celestial Needles lost their colour? Why do many Vitmanas not answer to our call?

So it was clear this planet was in connection with several other Earths and Constellations, but due to the war, everything was cut off due to the collapsing of the Star Gates during the war with the Dark Forces and their weapons of total destruction. Perun the Wise answered them: Know, Keepers of the Gates between Worlds. That there is a Great Assa in Svarga...The Great Battle is taking place now In Makosh, Rada, Svati and Race With Alien warriors from Hell.

There, Light Gods from Prav, Smite the enemy hip and thigh; And cleanse every Palace Of the World from the warriors of Darkness, which come from the Dark World Most likely, the Priests, keepers of ways which passed through Star Gates, maintained and repaired these devices which were intended for travelling between stars and planets. A person entered into the Star Gate on one planet and exited on another. In order to realize similar transition, Star Gates must be on both planets. Their damage or destruction on any planet made the contact impossible.

It was explorer-wanderers who installed these devices on Earth-planets suitable for life; they moved within the Universe on spaceships, the Vitmanas. These ships were used for different purposes: for long and short-distance flights, for movement in space at different speeds, sometimes enormous ones which, several times exceeded the velocity of light, but they were always limited, because their building material, bio-metal, had limited capabilities.

Star Gates were devices which forced space through (changed its dimensionality) so that within these Star Gates two spatial points which were situated at enormous distance from each other sometimes millions or billions of light years would close into one. After the installation of these kinds of devices, it was possible to shift from one planet to another almost instantly.

Exactly through these devices, Star Gates, installed in several places on Midgard-earth, all the main races of Homo sapiens came to our planet. Moreover, each race came through its own Star Gate. The migrants settled in those climatic zones which were maximally close to the living conditions on their native planets. There were many of these planets:

So there was four galaxies engaged in star wars with Dark Forces: the galaxy-Makosh, galaxy-Rada, galaxy-Svati and galaxy-Race. At the same time, Light Forces liberate one constellation (Palace) after another in these galaxies (Worlds) from the warriors of Darkness who came from the Dark World (Dark Galaxy). Many civilizations of these galaxies took an active part in this intergalactic war, including some civilizations which had transport connections with Midgard-earth. And this means that: First, our Midgard-earth lost the transport connections with many planets, and that the Keepers of Gates between Worlds were unaware of why the Gates on these planets did not function.

Second, there were a great number of other planet-Earths with which Midgard-earth was able to make contact. The Gates were switched off on these planet-Earths because they were in the area of military operations, and there was a risk that Dark Forces could control them. If Dark Forces had managed to take working Gates, they could have quickly and unexpectedly appeared on many other planet-Earths, with which the Worlds mentioned in the extract had contact, through the Gates.

Therefore, when a planet-Earth was threatened to be taken by Dark Forces, its Gates were blocked immediately. In other words, this kind of action was an ordinary precautionary measure. Perun tells about this:

To protect from those spiteful enemies, Who converted flourishing Earths to ashes,

Who shed the blood of innocent creatures, And spared no one, neither young nor old,

Many Gates were closed, In order that alien enemies could not get to the Light Earths of the Great Svarga...And they did not repeat Troara's fate, Which had illuminated the Worlds with its wise Love In the Light Rada.

We can clearly see that Perun had not been a God, although he was considered as such afterwards, but was one of the Hierarchs of Space Light Forces. He arrived on Midgard-earth with a mission to explain to the Keepers of Star Gates what was going on both in Big Space and on Midgard-earth. Similarly, we may assume that all the other Gods of the Slavonic-Aryan Vedas occupied one or another position in the hierarchy of Light Forces in accordance with their evolutional qualities and abilities, this is in relation to your soul development of going through not only the 7 midgard planes, but advancing through the 7 Cosmic planes and then the 7 Universal Planes, being who had done that, become the teachers and heirarchy of the Light Forces, the dark forces wanted and still prevents beings from developing beyond the lower astral plane of the subsequent Earths. for one it stifles development and 2. feeds the astral beasts who are under their control.

It is of interest how Perun describes to his listeners and subordinates on Midgard-earth the consequences of Dark Forces' attack launched against some planet-Earths with which our planet had contact by means of the Gates:

Now Troara is deserted, left without Life...The Multi-Gate Circle is torn to pieces, Mountains are brought down on many Needles...And only ashes of seven sazhen (1 sazhen equals 7 feet) are there...The same image, sorrowful and cheerless, I saw in Arkolna, on Rutta-earth, That had shined in Light Makosh.(great Bear or Ursa Major)..

The Gates between Worlds are now fused stone...Celestial Needles are roadside dust...

All cities were destroyed by the strong flame That rose from Rutta's surface to the sky...

There is no Life in that Earth anymore Without Sun there are no plants, birds and animals...

Wind carries only ash to the valleys, And fills up the canyons with it ...

It is cheerless and quiet in the world of ruins, Where once Life dwelt everywhere...

The Fash-destroyer evaporated all rivers and seas, And the sky is filled with black clouds,

Not a ray of light can pass Through the pitch-dark gloom...

... Life will never come back to this World ... WAR

The Fash destroyer is described as atomic or nuclear weapons by the Vedas, and could well be the name of the weapon that created all the deserts here, before these wars we never had deserts, the north pole and Siberia regions once had lush vegetation or woolly mammoths would not have resided there.

This happened on many Earths to which, The enemies had come from the Dark World.

They were attracted by the riches in the Bowels of those wonderful Earths;

Using flattery, they wormed into the confidence, Of the inhabitants and set people against each other... This was the way wars were born in those Worlds... All sounds too familiar doesn't it, just like Draco and Annunaki

When the wars were over, The rest of the survivors were exposed to tziran rays...

And people were deprived of their Consciousness and Will, And they mined the riches from the bowels of their Earth, Submitting to the Alien enemies' orders...

When the riches of those Earths were exhausted, And the bowels of the earth were emptied,

The enemies destroyed all the people, And took everything they had extracted from the Earth.

But when people were able to drive them out, The Strangers sent the Fash-destroyer to these Earths... Perun describes the consequences of using the Fash-destroyer Taking as an example the fate of two planets, Troara-earth and Rutta-earth, he gives a detailed description of the consequences of the nuclear blows delivered to these planets and describes the Dark Forces' strategy and tactics. "... This happened on many Earths to which the enemies had come from the Dark World..." Perun continues the narration and we can see the picture of horror and senselessness of this space catastrophe unfolding before our inner eyes. Star wars are not an invention of science-fiction writers, but the reality of the past and present.

The fight between Light and Dark Forces is not some conditional concept that depends on the point of view, or desire of the person who expounds it, trying to describe himself from the best side and wishing to make the truth favourable to him. This fight is the fight between life and death, evolutionary movement forward and evolutionary dead-end. When a social parasite of the planetary level gets the possibility to act in Space, he becomes very dangerous, especially, if he has a weapon which can convert planets into deserts. The words, as such, mean nothing, but only that which they reflect or transmit: Dark Forces or Devil, Koscheis or Dark Arlegs, Princes of Darkness or Chernobog — Draco. Mantids, Raptors, Reptilians, Greys the name is not important, but the essence is! Without understanding of the essence which is behind these and other words it is easy to become a plaything in the hands of these forces, when black is declared to be white, and white — black. In order to avoid this kind of trap, it is necessary to penetrate into the sense of these words. One needs to feel them deeply in his heart, comprehend with his soul and reason and be filled with the light of knowledge and understanding of what is going on, words are magic spells that the dark uses to bind us to their dark deeds. In simple terms the essence of dark and light, of which all living things have both aspects and it comes down to choice, is parasitic in nature, dark beings are parasitic of which they feed off others, whether you are a Draco, Creator being, Angel, human or animal, if your whole existence is about feeding off the energy of others for selfish purposes, that in essence the definition of being Dark. Many people can have right intentions on a face to face basis, but hide their true intentions in what I called the mask of illusion. We all have masks of illusion at various stages of our lives where we fake this or fake out, and it used to be able to cover all kinds of weaknesses, traumas, guilt and shame, plus the more obvious scamming of people, but a change has come on a massive scale, that I warned would happen near 2 years ago, the masks of illusion would start to come down, not only for the cabal and the EL-ites, but all of us. This is why there is a total fracture in society now, as the masks no longer work like they used to, I warned there would be greater exposure of the criminality in our midst and a vast volume of information and revealings would take place, I think most would agree that has been borne out. But, I also warned things would not be pretty on an individual or collective basis, as we would see many people losing it, the reason being their masks have worn off, no longer can they project an image of themselves as all love and light, whilst their parasitic nature remains hidden, that no longer works. What has also happened is people notice things a lot quicker than they used to, because you are paying more attention to it, as an example, look at how quickly many of you spot trolls on the page now, compared to a few years ago, that's only a small part of it, but that also transfers onto other aspects of life, people no longer tolerating vampiric family members or loved ones anymore, you think that is a co-incidence? it's not. Those that have done their inner work, and I mean have really done it and not continued to lie to themselves, will reap far more benefits of heightened sense of awareness, than those who haven't, those that have can now clearly see those who haven't, the difference in the being is now very marked. Regular listeners know I have referred to The 100 series on Tv as a good guideline to some of our past history, and way back in time humans chose to not remember their past lives due to not being able to deal with the trauma, in the series it is called taking the City of Light pill, where everyone walked around like zombies, drinking alcohol and doing drugs and a veritable free for all sex orgy, sound familiar? it should do. Those are 3 of the 5 hooks they can trap you into the system with, money obsession and religion are the other two, all are energy looshing concepts and so vampiric, drinking and drugs brings in the spirit worlds which have been heavily corrupted for and by the dark, all psychedelic drugs all have one thing in common, ALL are low vibration plants, so they are not to enlighten you, but stifle your own development. Drugs are about forgetting life's ills and you go to the other worlds and can forget this realm for a while, and whilst there is much about this world we would all like to forget at times, is that not repeating the City of Light pills? The only way to really forget is to face up to it, deal with it and move onto a different and better path, whether you call it serving your karma or by some other description, the same effect is felt, and the only way to deal with anything of that nature is go through the pain and trauma, process and let it go, masking it, ignoring it, denying it has led us all where we are today. Pain, trauma and the dark can also be great gifts of learning on the physical and soul levels, it all depends on how you approach it. We have spent far too long in the dark, forgetting, ignoring stages brought about by the failure to address matters on an individual level, that developed into a collective level, of us all giving away our energy, life force and who we are to the vampiric parasitic, who all too greedily sit back and just wallow in, not only our essence but our own stupidity, we handed control over on a plate, it's time we took it back and giant strides to that fact have been made.

WONDEROUS STORIES

GATES ARE DOWN AND MAJOR TRAUMA UNFOLDS

So, why does life feel so lonely here, an earth that appears to be in the middle of nowhere, well as the texts stated, that was not always the case, until the Gates were collapsed or closed. Mainstream science is only recently catching to some of the concepts of life back then, but they are hampered by religious dogma, and compartmentalization of the knowledge. All of it is wrapped up in theories, most of which is downloaded by them to confuse and distract, that includes Einstein and Tesla, they received the downloads, Da Vinci also in some aspects, but as I understand a lot of those drawings were copies received following a trip organized by the church to China, that unearthed a vast array of knowledge unknown to the rest of the world. A detailed description of the consequences of the nuclear blow on Rutta-Earth fulfills this task the best way. However, Perun pronounces only a few phrases about Troara- Earth. Now Troara is deserted, left without Life... The Multi-Gate Circle is torn to pieces; mountains are brought down on many Needles...”

The Slavonic-Aryan Vedas mention the Multi-Gate Circle only once. These words, said as if by chance, have enormous value. The human consciousness simply skips them, because almost no one understands this concept. The point is that the Gates between Worlds united Earth-planets into a system, into some kind of a star transport network, the working of which was provided by means of a powerful source and obviously, this source was not located on our Midgard-earth. Besides, the nature of this source was not electrical, magnetic, gravitational or any known combination of them. Modern orthodox science has only touched the real natural laws. All forces and sources of energy which are known to it now are mere manifestations of the real force of nature which is a result of the interaction of anisotropic space (having a physical property that has a different value when measured in different directions. A simple example is wood, which is stronger along the grain than across it) with matters which exist in this space. As covered in the humanity unplugged shows, all areas of space have different properties and depends on the environment and consciousness, but you cant have life in a space/time that doesn't have the requisite properties to begin with.

The space with continuously changing properties and qualities interacts with matters which have certain characteristics and qualities. As a result of the interaction of infinity with finiteness, the Universe, which is partly accessible to human understanding, originates. Understanding the nature of this interaction, one gets the possibility to control these natural forces. My belief of this hidden force of gravity and the so called dark matter is aether, the 5th element, it is pliable depending upon it's surroundings and interacts accordingly to the vibrational frequency of the space/time, but also the consciousness of living things that are immersed in it. The operational principle of the Gates between Worlds is based on the understanding of the nature of the interaction of space with matters.

First: The Gates between Worlds are united in the systems; each of them has its own source.

Second: Each of these sources has its power limit, because the qualities and properties of materials of which these field generators are made have their limitations.

Thus, the number of Gates between Worlds which can “sit” in each field generator is limited and depends on the distance between planets-Earth and the qualitative state of the space between them. The system of Gates between Worlds can be pictured as a “string of Christmas-tree lights” where every “bulb” is a Gate on a planet-Earth. And all these “bulbs” “shine” on the Tree-Universe only when this string is “plugged” into a “socket”.

In order to understand what this “socket” is, we should pay attention to Perun’s words: “...The Multi-Gate Circle is torn to pieces...” The Multi-Gate Circle is this “socket” which switches on all “bulbs” of the Gates between Worlds “string”. The force generator, the Multi-Gate Circle, is located on one of the Earth-planets, for example, on Troara-Earth. The name of this circle indicates that many Gates between Worlds located on different planets-Earth were united in a single whole. The pumping of this generator of force is carried out by means of the Needles which influence the space dimensionality around it and, thus, satiate it with streams of matters. The line the multi gate circle was torn to pieces is a key in this, what I interpret from this and from my own understanding, is the very fabric of space was torn to pieces, that then leads to different properties and qualitative states filling in the void, those different properties means the Gates collapsed in on themselves, like a black hole, they are still around, either in the vortex of the black hole, the singularity, or in the white hole, which is on the flip side of a black hole, or it has gone through the membrane of the singularity, and is now in a different universe or section of space/time. This is the origin in my opinion of the big bang as science describes it, a blinding flash of light and then everything appears, yes the matter that went through the black hole was advancing to a higher level of consciousness and vibration, and when the new space reaches it maximum output, it crosses the membrane and comes out of the white hole, it is only white and blinding as it was hidden in the void or the singularity, like a train in a tunnel, you see a tiny white light that gets bigger until the light explodes as it is close to you, this is how I feel this universe came to be, the right qualities for the type of life and growth where already created, and the development of another universe had reached it's growth cycle and was ready to transfer to a higher growth cycle, but only when it reaches full evolutionary development.

Just as the streams of water will always fall downward under the force of gravity, the streams of matters created by the Needles will satiate the Multi-Gate Circle, thus, replenishing all Gates between Worlds which belong to one system.

For the whole system to be “switched off”, it is enough to destroy the Needles (seven Needles are necessary within the limits of our Universe) around each Multi-Gate Circle located on a key planet-Earth. Perun tells to his listeners about exactly this event: “...mountains are brought down on many Needles ...” and therefore “The Multi-Gate Circle is torn to pieces...” When a “plug” is pulled out of a “socket” the whole bulb string switches off. Likewise the nuclear blow inflicted upon Troara-Earth, which was the key planet in the interstellar transport system and the place of location of the Multi-Gate Circle, resulted in that all Gates connected with Troara-Earth were shut.

But our Midgard-earth was “attached” exactly to the Troara-Earth system. The Gates between worlds were closed: “...to Makosh and Rada...” (Makosh is the Great Bear constellation; Rada is Orion constellation) means that the Multi-Gate Circle on Troara-Earth connected our Midgard-earth with exactly these constellations. Many Gates were shut down, but not all! This indicates the fact that there were Star Gates on our Midgard-earth which provided contact with many constellations of our galaxy.

The Multi-Gate Circle on Troara-Earth was destroyed (torn to pieces) by the nuclear blow and this planet-Earth is turned into lifeless desert for a long time. Therefore, all Gates between Worlds which were in the Troara-earth “string” had to be switched to another key planet with a working Multi-Gate Circle. Perun tells the Keepers of the Gates exactly how to do this:

For the zarbin Circle to be recovered, And the Spiral between Worlds to shine again,

You must extract the Crystals of Motion, From the part which grows dark.

You must insert the Ingliia Crystals, Instead of the outermost Svarga Crystals of Motion

Destined for Svarga's Palaces...The Light of the Other World manifested in Nav

Will shine in the Ingliia Crystals, And its powerful stream

Will recover the zarbin luminescence...

What does this all mean? The Svarga Crystals of Motion provide the ability to displace within the boundaries of our Universe, in our World, but they are unable to plug a "bulb" in a new "string." The activation of the Gates (switching on a "bulb") takes place when our World (our Universe) is linked with other World-Universes.

There must be a transition from one point of our Universe to another through the Other World. The point is that the natural laws of both our World-Universe and other Worlds stop acting in the area of linking. There is a neutral area, some kind of a "door" between the World-Universes, where the natural laws, as we understand them, do not work. In my opinion that is called the singularity, zero point or the void, the connection between the membranes of Universes via black and white holes. Modern science gives a very "simple" explanation of this phenomenon: being under the influence of certain energies, electrons break through the potential barrier and "jump". The electrons disappear in one place and appear in another at some distance from the place of disappearance. When the electrons disappear, they do not exist in our World-Universe and this is most important. This in essence as what we would call teleportation so, If they do not exist in our World-Universe, although for a very short period of time, there is a question: where they are then? And the answer to this question is quite simple... they are in another World-Universe which differs from ours qualitatively, where completely different natural laws operate. Similar phenomena are observed when passing through the Gates between Worlds. A person enters a "door" in one place and appears in other place through another "door" similar to the first one. There is a principle difference: a person is not driven at a high speed like electrons in quantum tunnelling; the necessary qualitative state is created by a special device, the Star Gates. A material, called zarbin, plays the most important part in this device, more precisely, the Circle made of zarbin. There are many gates across this planet, but one of the more obvious doors is by Lake Titikaka, a door way into the mountain, most mountains and certainly volcanos are portals of some kind, which we told you in a recent show, that access has been totally cut off from the SSP, SS being the operative word, all military on this planet are controlled by the others and rogue families with high elements of DNA non human, SSp is a breakaway faction of those elements. If you see the pictures of the gateway by Lake Titikaka you will see the evidence stated in Vedas texts, where it says The Gates between Worlds are now fused stone, when you see the picture of that door you are likely looking at the evidence of one of the fused gates. So, how is this fixed, well Dark will do anything to not have people co-operating and working stuff out together, but we are many, and many are now waking up to the reality of ours and many others combined situations, and have spent many years, lifetimes and re-incarnations getting to a point of solving this problem, and restoring worlds, raising consciousness, understanding in harmony with all others, like the great teachers the Urs had accomplished before disaster struck.

As soon as you see an even shine of the Spiral On the zarbin Circle,

You must change the Crystals back as they were, Because the Other World will be in front of you. Know, the Light of the Other World is baneful, It takes the radiation of Souls...

And Mind dims in the Rays of the Other World, Powerless to understand what is happening with the Soul...

And the life of unreasonable, soulless creatures, Does not go to Svarga, but it goes to Hell...

And there they pine away in darkness, Knowing neither themselves nor what has happened. This is an interesting verse, to change it back via the Crystals you will see the other world again, riddle with irradiated souls, this proves there was nuclear weapons here long before the last century, as I keep saying in the shows, technology is not now or a science fictional future but it is the past, they just introduce it at certain times to fulfill an agenda. 2nd part mentions something that has only recently been made aware of, the soulless creatures, which we have covered in a few shows. In the final judgement they will not survive as we transition into a new phase of space/time that is more conducive to soul growth and evolutionary development of the living organic souls in here. So this was a traumatic time for many billions of souls and why Perun then appeared before the Keepers of Ways after Da'Aria had sank in the ocean abyss because the nearest Moon, Lelia, had fallen on Midgard-earth.

2. The reason for his appearance was the damage of the permanent interplanetary transport network called the system of Gates between Worlds. The greater part of this system was deactivated because of the nuclear blow inflicted by Dark Forces to a key planet, Troara-Earth, where the Multi-Gate Circle was located and replenished this transport system with power.

3. The star wars between Light and Dark Forces have lasted for dozens of thousands of years and our Midgard-earth for several reasons has an important value for both sides. More precisely, Dark Forces try to take it, while Light Forces try to prevent this.

4. Dark Forces need to occupy Midgard-earth, not to destroy it. Otherwise they would have used a nuclear weapon a long time ago, which they did many times with other planets, as it follows from the Slavonic-Aryan Vedas. The appearance of their bulwarks (bases) on Lelia, the nearest to our Midgard-earth Moon, confirms their aspiration to seize our Earth, not to destroy it.

Perun, as a representative of the higher hierarchy of the union of civilizations, in which our planet was granted a membership, as a colony of migrants from other planets, which were the members of this interstellar Light Forces union, came to Midgard-earth in the period of the next tension between Light and Dark Forces. He passed on the information about the interplanetary transport network breakage and necessary actions for its renewal, reported about a fundamentally new tactic and strategy applied by Dark Forces during their offensive actions against civilizations, members of the Light Forces union, and also gave out information about the supposed actions of Dark Forces and their consequences concerning Midgard-earth. This is covered in the next verse: The Volkhv Sviatozar, From the glorious Clan of the SviatoRusov, asked:

Tell us, Father-Perun, What will happen to the Saint Land of the Great Race

And with the Faith of our Ancestors? Tell us, Light God,

If a severe time will come For the Sons of the Great Race,

Who will be able to save the Saint Land of the Great Race...

And the descendants of the Celestial Clan? A terrible ordeal inexorably approached our Midgard-earth—a direct contact with the legions of Dark Forces, which devoured everything healthy and strong like a cancer tumour. Our planet was destined to become a ground for these parasitic forces. It was inevitable, because of certain periodical processes happening in the Universe. Then, Light Forces did not possess the abilities to resist Dark Forces so that they could protect themselves from aggression, and completely neutralize the enemy.

Our Midgard-earth was extremely important for Light Forces, because they attempted to create a new qualitative civilization of Light Forces, which would possess a level of power inaccessible for anyone, when it would be possible to influence the global processes of the Universe by the force of mind, which was being implemented by the Urs in connection with peoples of Rus and Slavonics, of which they attempted to then spread out, to teach others across the planet. Unfortunately, Dark Forces knew about it and they undertook one attempt after another to seize Midgard-earth. They wanted very much to take advantage of the results created by Light Forces and exactly this is a typical approach of a social parasite. Dark Forces had learnt the lessons of their past defeats and dramatically changed their strategy and tactics of actions. Possessing certain knowledge and abilities of a parasite, Dark Forces began to penetrate through the immature elements of Light Forces. Skillfully playing on ambitions and spiritual blindness, they created situations when through these elements they could get very important information about the systems of protection of the Earth-planets which were on the Light Forces' side. This has echoes of today, where people with ambitions sell themselves and everyone else out for selfish purposes, I did a piece recently about the two main issues we face, fear and seducement, far too many have sold out to the Dark Forces for fame, wealth and fake titles, King this Pindar that all an illusion of control, that too many people with lack of morals and weakness, all too easily succumb to. This became possible when Nature itself involuntarily favoured them. It was a periodic change of the streams of the primary matters, which form both our and other Universes that created an "Achilles' heel" for Light Forces. The domination of one or another primary matter in the overall streams of primary matters dramatically influences the evolutionary development of reasoning creatures at the initial stages of their development. Dark Forces used precisely this temporal evolutionary vulnerability of young and developing civilizations. So in essence humanity was about to go through a developmental transition back then and like now, dark forces have tried to ramp it up and stall or prevent it, this time will be different.

The power and density fluctuations of one or another primary matter streams are periodical.

Each World-Universe has its own order of the primary matters which dominate in the overall stream; it is determined by the quantitative and qualitative structure of this World-Universe. The domination of streams of certain primary matters can cause instability and vulnerability in people, and create favourable conditions for Dark Forces to influence the civilizations on their initial intra-planetary phases of development, when the majority of reasoning creatures have not crossed the area considered to be dangerous for the positive evolutionary development. This speaks of the awake and unawakened in our midst, they failed to heed the many calls, failed to address any of the symptoms of the dark, within themselves or collectively, and why I said over two years ago it is too late for them now. Nothing too bad will happen to them, but they will have to face their own judgements and remembrances, our own judgements are often far more severe than external ones. They will go on for more development phases as I understand it. It should also be noted that no one who listens to this and other shows is responsible for others not awakening themselves, each person is responsible ultimately only for themselves, it's called personal responsibility, that oh so few actually exhibit. So, please don't beat yourself up because those close to you failed themselves, you should not carry any guilt for the failure of others, please re-enforce that to yourselves, no guilt no shame and no regrets please. Dark Forces use precisely this time and this evolutionary stage of development for capturing reasoning creatures and converting them into their obedient instruments. If a civilization succeeded in general in getting through this dangerous "evolutional window", all the following fluctuations of the power and density of the primary matters streams, do not have any serious negative influence for the evolutionary development of this civilization. Unfortunately for our Midgard-earth's civilization, Dark Forces stirred to greater activity, timing their next attempt exactly to the beginning of the period when it was crossing this dangerous "evolutional window." The next verse tells the following: Know people, the stream of the River of Time will bring hard times

To the Sacred Land of the Great Race...Only Priests-Keeper of the Ancient

Knowledge and Secret Wisdom Will remain on this Land...

Because people will use The force of Midgard-earth's elements

And the Circle of Svarog will turn then, And the human Souls will be horrified... "Only Priests-Keepers of the Ancient Knowledge and Secret Wisdom will remain on this Land..." (this could well be describing what is known as The Elders, explained in the Shane shows who have lived for thousands of years, take note these are not related to any fake Chinese Elders) So only the higher caste of priests-keepers were able to avoid the danger of the Dark Forces influence, because they would have already passed the intra-planetary cycle of evolutionary development and, therefore, would be immune to it. All the others, who failed in completing this evolutionary stage of their development, would be unable to withstand the "virus". As stated earlier, it is clear this planet was in part, used as a safe house for refugees fleeing war and destruction on their home worlds, and this is why I get pissy with people saying we don't want refugees in our country, it is just wrong on so many levels, the question is, what if most of the souls resided here currently, are all refugees? Does that change your opinion, for those who won't welcome refugees in their time of need, perhaps they need to think and act differently with the new knowledge available. REFUGEE SONG

THE WAR OF ANTLANTIS NOT ATLANTIS The described events reflect the consequences of the armed conflict between the Ancient Slavonic-Aryan Empire and Antlan (Atlantis), its province which had separated from it. It happened over 13 000 years ago. The war for world domination resulted in the planetary catastrophe, when the small Moon, Fatta, was destroyed and its fragments fell down on Midgard-earth, causing tremendous natural cataclysms. The axis of Midgard-earth changed its angle to 23.5 degrees (And the Circle of Svarog will turn then), the continental plates began to move, causing powerful earthquakes and volcanic eruptions; the clouds of volcanic ash, thrown into the higher layers of the atmosphere hid what they called the Yarilo-sun; twilight set in for a long time; vast areas of dry land sank into the ocean abyss, while the others emerged from it.

The waters of the Atlantic Ocean hid in its depths the rebellious Antlan (Atlantis) forever.

New mountain ranges rose at once, giant tsunamis turned around Midgard-earth several times, the climate was dramatically changed. All this cast Midgard-earth civilization from the intergalactic level to the level of almost complete savagery with rare islands of civilization which the Priests-Keepers managed to preserve. Perun warns his listeners precisely about these events: The Great night will wrap Midgard-earth. And the Celestial Fire will destroy many Lands of Earth...

Vast Deserts will be there, Where wonderful gardens flowered... Seas will be rolling on Where life-giving dry land was

And high mountains covered by eternal snows will appear, Where sea waves washed... This all took place 13027 year ago, which was around 3000 years before the Draco arrived here, stating they were coming here to save us, whilst all the time plotting with the dark forces to gain maximum advantage, the Keepers of the Ways known as The Elders did advise humanity to not align with The Draco, that advice was ignored, and The Elders then sat back and watched us fail. Up until 2014 there was still 11 Elders here from that time, and I tried with Shane to arrange a meeting of how they could help us in the now, but it seems they too were in the pockets of The Draco as that meeting was refused or ignored, during 2015 it was relayed to me that two of them left, at least one of them due to suicide. It should be noted for listeners, those at the top end of the game appear to have a no kill policy, but they efforts of the dark is to get people into a state, whereby they take their own lives, this has a devastating karmic effect on the individual in the next life, as they drop down a scale of personal evolution. During the war between the Ancient Slavonic-Aryan Empire and Antlan (Atlantis) nuclear weapons and the psi-influenced forces of Nature were applied, the conditions here were described clearly. People will hide in caves from, The poisoned death-bearing rains,

And will eat the flesh of animals, Because the fruits will be filled with poisons

And, having eaten them, many people will die ...

The poisoned streams of water will bring, Death to the Children of the Great Race and Descendants of the Celestial Clan, And thirst will make people suffer... It reduced Midgard-earth's civilization from the level of a colony of the enormous union of Light Forces civilizations to a level of primitive savagery. In times of full strife the lessons learned it seems can return us in an instant, back to the primitive everyone for themselves mode, and subsequently have and have nots, aligned with divide and conquer. The reason for this horrible situation was the spiritual immaturity of Antlan's higher caste, the representatives of which were, beyond measure, carried away by technology, forgetting about the spiritual aspect of development. Possessing knowledge sufficient to create high technologies, they, nevertheless, remained spiritually immature. The conditions for inharmonious development had originated in the midst of this civilization created by the migrants, natives of one of the Slavonic-Aryan tribes, the Ants, and, in the course of time, led to the desire to dominate the whole World.

These distorted souls became a nutrient medium for the Dark Forces "virus" and created an environment which allowed the Dark Forces secret emissaries to penetrate into our planet.

Star parasites succeeded in penetrating our Midgard-earth. From this moment, the nuclear catastrophe which happened thirteen thousand years ago became inevitable. Ours became one of the Earth-planets infected by a Dark Forces virus. (this could well be related to the fractal virus described in our shows and also in greater detail by Sunfire and Tanaath) The secret preparation of the representatives of Antlan's ruling caste, infected with this virus, for taking the power on the planet by force resulted in the nuclear war, which, in its turn, resulted in the catastrophe which eliminated the majority of those who were affected by the Dark virus. However, small groups of the higher hierarchs of Antlan (Atlantis) managed to board Vitmanas and Vitmaras at the moment of the catastrophe, survived and became those Dark Forces' seeds which "fruits" we "harvest" even now: Following the advice of Strangers, Who secretly arrived on Midgard-earth,

People will start to take the Life of each other...

For the sake of a sip of fresh water and a piece of clean food
And they will forget the Ancient Wisdom
And the Laws of the God-Creator
The great Disunion will come to the World of Midgard

And only Priests-Keeper of the Sacred Land of the Great Race

Will keep the purity of the Ancient Knowledge, Despite all ordeals, privations and death.
So the earth inhabitants of our planet had now become infected by the Dark Forces "virus", Midgard-earth was isolated from other Earth-planets of the Light Forces. The Gates between Worlds (Star Gates) on our Midgard-earth were disconnected from the transport system of Light Force civilizations to prevent the “virus” penetrating other planets. Our Midgard-earth was put into quarantine, which will last until our planet either rids itself of this “virus”, thus, getting immunity to it, or is destroyed by Dark Forces. There is no other option. It is safe to say we are in one of those times now, whereby certain people on this planet have cleansed themselves sufficiently of the virus and its temptations of the dark ways, this is why everything currently is in chaos, one desperate group clinging onto the old paradigm, which despite their protestations to the contrary, has failed, and one group pushing forward with the new paradigm and a potential return to the old way of being, taught by the teachers to the general populous and then spread out across the lands. The Gates between Worlds located on Midgard-earth were disconnected because Dark Forces had penetrated our planet, and the danger of their further penetration through the Gates to other Planets-Earth which were connected with Midgard-earth to the united interstellar transport network, occurred. That is why the Gates between Worlds do not function at present. And they will not function until our planet is free from the influence of the interstellar parasitic system. The Russian language has preserved some traces which indicate the use of the Gates in the past. The word to leap (sigat’) meant the same then as it means now, except for the fact that one leaped not from one step to another, but from one planet to another through the Gates between Worlds. This adds to a whole new meaning an understanding of one leap for man, one giant leap for mankind, does it not.

The point is that a sig in the Slavonic-Aryan tradition is a time unit equal to approximately 1/300-billionth fraction of a second. Accordingly, the word sigat’ initially meant almost instantaneous transition from one point of space to another through the Gates between Worlds or in the process of teleportation. So, there are traces of the Great Past in Russian, we need only to think about the sense of the words which we use every day...

The Night of Svarog which has lasted for the last millennium is over now. The dawn of the Day of Svarog has already begun and Dark Forces have no chance of waiting for a new Night of Svarog to try again taking complete control over Midgard-earth. Humanity has to take the next step along the evolutionary ladder during the Day of Svarog. If this happens, the next Night of Svarog will not help the Dark Forces to attain their goal. They know this perfectly well and this is the reason why the last Night of Svarog was the most terrible and bloodiest out of all previous Nights. The dark, parasitic forces have almost succeeded in gaining their object, especially during the last century of the Night. So the next 1000 years the day of the Svarog is all about the progression of the species, and our spiritual and evolution developments, which will ultimately restore the common bond we had with the other 27 earths connected to the Gate, for those with negative thought processes, this does not mean it will take 1000 years to complete, this version of humans is the most creative of all the different races by far, we develop in 10K years, what takes the draco 120K years for same progression to build whatever is required, It is expected that it will take 40 years before the full changes are made on this planet, we will all see and have seen great changes in just last 2 years, but there is 489 different aspects of life that has to be deleted, corrected or totally altered during that time period. The biggest key to that is the same as all developing species, the offspring, they have to be taught or others brought in to teach them so they go onto to teach the next generation, by that time the two older generations here now, will have passed on and taken with them the few with development or the majority with their over programmed hived mind thinking with them. This set the platform for humanity to really go on a fast drive forward of personal and collective development. Will there still be issues, likely for next 10 years I would think, but as more gets exposed, there is less of them to propagate the dark system of control, whereby it will become and be considered almost a laughing stock to continue in the failed ways of the past. Remember it is us who provides them with their platform to operate, we are their batteries, well if the batteries take back their own power, they have nothing left to run on, and then in a huge piece of irony, it is they who will turn on each other and devour themselves, just like they did to us in the past. Karma and irony it seems, can be a bitch. Many people would love to travel on space craft, many of you may not realize you already have and that wasn't a pleasant experience for most who endure that, next topic will be all about crafts used here in time of The Rus and Slavonic Aryan race.

ET CRAFT There were two main craft here used by the Urs and the peoples, Vitmanas and Vitmaras. In addition to the Gates between Worlds, our ancestors used spaceships, Vitmanas, for displacing to other Earth-planets. In the past Vitmanas were used for reaching the planets which did not have Star Gates. Let us remember that the Gates should be installed on a "sending" planet and a "receiving" one. There are the followings reasons for the absence of the Gates on a planet:

1. A planet has reasoning life, but it is not a member of the given union of civilizations for one or another reason.

2. A planet has reasoning life, but its civilization is at the initial stage of development and therefore, is not ready for interstellar contacts.

3. A planet does not have reasoning life and there are only research bases on it.

4. A planet does not have life and is not of any interest to the union of civilizations.

5. A planet is unknown to the union of civilizations.

Vitmanas were also used for space travelling between planets which did not have the Gates between Worlds, they were used for cargo and people transportation at long distance (from one Earth-planet to another) and for short distance (within the boundaries of one planet). And this is not a supposition. Let us read The Tale about Finest, the Brave Falcon:

“... Then the Brave Falcon said loudly: — Farewell, my fair maiden! If you need me, you will find me, although I will be far away! Before you can see me, you must cross Three-by-Nine Earths and come to the Three-and-Tenth Palace. You will have to wear out seven pairs of iron boots and eat seven iron loaves.”

What do Three-by-Nine Earths mean? Where or what is it? Is it a distance or a location of some place? This is both things. Our ancestors called other planets Earths, and Three-by-Nine Earths means twenty seven Earths (planets) of the Yarila-sun system, (which in meaning is the Central Spiritual Sun, and not the Sun of the Solar System itself, which was the number of the inhabited planets united in one system. It was not the number of planets revolving around a star. In other words, Midgard-earth was a member of the union of civilizations, which was called the Yarila-sun system and had twenty-seven inhabited Earth-planets! These twenty-seven planets constituted a united interstellar system, which had one hierarchy, a unified system of laws and, most likely, one and the same culture and language for communication which was ... the Old Russian which has changed very little since then!

Moreover, the Brave Falcon indicates in what constellation his planet of the Yarila-sun system will be—in the Three-and-Tenth Palace; i.e. he will be in the thirteenth constellation of the system which corresponds to the Slavonic-Aryan name of the constellation of Finest on the Circle of Svarog. For Nastenka to get there, she must cover Three-by-Nine Far Distances, (or 27 Far Distances).

Thus, if we know the meaning of the words and understand their original sense, a few phrases dropped by the Brave Falcon, will transform into the precise co-ordinates of the place where she will find him. In her sleep Nastenka had heard the Brave Falcon's words and in the morning decided to go searching for him, having a clear idea of where she could find her promised.

First, she had to find a spaceship, the Vitmana, to travel to other Earth-planets:

“... Nastenka had not been travelling for a day, or two days, or even three days: It was a very long journey. She crossed open country, urman woods and high mountains. Birds sang songs to her in the fields, urman woods welcomed her, she admired the whole world from high mountains, and she finally reached an astounding valley from which trade Vitmanas took off into the boundless heavens. Nastenka entreated good people; they allowed her to board their trade Vitmana and she left for a long journey to the place which lay Three-by-Nine Far Distances from her beloved Earth After a long way she reached: “...an astounding valley from which trade Vitmanas took off...” This means that people knew about landing strips for spaceships, trade Vitmanas. And if there were trade Vitmanas then there were trade relations between our Midgard-earth and other Earth-planets.

Someone can object: this is a tale, it is all fiction.

First, a tale is a narration about real events of the past slightly embellished by some bright images.

The fact that the landing space grounds exist can be proved by very solid confirmations which no sceptic can dispute. In 1999 Professor Chuvyrov found a stone plate in the southern part of the Urals near Chandar village. This plate proved to be a relief map of the West-Siberian region (rivers: Belaya, Ufimskaya and Sutolka). Even today it is impossible to create a map similar to this one. In addition to the natural landscape it has 2 systems of channels with a general extension of 12,000 kilometres and a width of 500 metres each and 12 dams, 300-500 metres wide, up to 10 kilometres long and up to 3 kilometres deep.

Second, there are several diamond-shaped “strange” platforms near these channels on this map. The image on the surface of the map is made on a scale of 1:1,1 km. There are also some written signs on the stone plate in the form of hieroglyphic-syllabic letters, which for some reason were at once considered to be the Old Chinese language. Later this was proven not to be true.

This three-dimensional map contains details, the mapping of which demands at the least, the existence of artificial satellites and technologies unknown to modern civilization.

Professor A. Chuvyrov also discovered the Governor-general of the city of Ufa’s archival documents of the 18th century, where the latter mentions 200 white stone plates, which allegedly had been found near Chandar village (Nurimanovskij district). It is supposed that, all put together, they formed a three-dimensional map of our planet, Midgard-earth. Professor Chuvyrov’s new expedition found the second stone plate that confirms the archival information. It is improbable that all plates could be found, but what has already been found is sufficient to prove that a highly developed civilization existed on Midgard-earth, which was a member of the system which united many civilizations of the galaxy quite recently, thirteen to fifteen thousand years ago. The finding of these volumetric maps totally confirms the information from the Slavonic-Aryan Vedas and turns them into a reliable source of information about the past of our civilization.

It appears that these diamond-shaped platforms served as landing grounds for Vitmanas. Alexander Nikolaevich Chuvyrov found out that several grounds of different forms (from diamond-shaped to three-cornered) and different sizes were on the relief map.

The purpose for these grounds remained a mystery to the researchers. However, they are nothing but landing grounds for Vitmanas and Vitmaras of different purposes and size. For example, the size of the diamond-shaped grounds is simply enormous and, most likely, served for enormous Vitmaras to take off and land. To clarify the situation, I will give the information from the Slavonic-Aryan Vedas about the purpose of our ancestors' spaceships. Vitmaras were mother-spaceships which could carry 144 Vitmanas. Most likely, Vitmaras were spaceships of intergalactic connection and reconnaissance. We were both travellers of time and space as the song says KASHMIR

Let us pay attention to the followings lines in the Tale: "... urman woods welcomed her, she admired the whole world from high mountains, and she finally reached an astounding valley from which trade Vitmanas flew into the boundless heavens..." The words urman woods say nothing to modern man. But urman woods covered the slopes of the Urman Mountains which is the old name for the Urals (which later were called the Riphean Mountains)! So we have already heard about the group of teachers known as the Urs who went onto teach man, and they clearly became one when you breakdown the names of the places in Russia. Urman woods the cojoining of the two, and the main set of mountains in Russia is the Ural, or UR and AL, AL like EL means god, but they had a different meaning of god back then compared to now, it just meant higher evolved being. These beings had gone through their initial development on a planetary level, followed by 7 levels of galactic level and 7 levels presumably of Universal development, to then be able to spread their wisdom amongst the developing species. The UR name is in 3 of our planets Saturn, Mercury and Uranus, you think that is a co-incidence? or maybe why American spellings have dropped the U before the R in many words? like colo-ur to color. Or the fact that there is a place in Russia that far predates the middle east called Urusalem - oops that will rattle a few people no doubt. Let's break it down UR-Rus - salem, Ur are the teachers, Rus where the learners and tasked to spread the message of Light and Salem means peace, Urusalem was the original name in Russia of what is now known as Jerusalem, even the current Jerusalem was not the only one, as Constantine created Jerusalem as Constantinople. In the UK the most favorite hymn is Jerusalem, a line in the song tells you it is not a fixed place, but transient, And was Jerusalem builded here, Among these dark Satanic Mills? I will not cease from Mental Fight, Nor shall my Sword sleep in my hand: Till we have built Jerusalem, In Englands green & pleasant Land. It was written in 1804 in relation to a story of Jesus with Joseph of Arimathea travelling to England, then known as Albion, then to Glastonbury. I have spoken to people who have recall of the time of the teacher more commonly known as Jesus, and there are some depictions of it in hidden paintings and murals, all of them say he had blue eyes, blue eyes are not native to middle eastern climes, but they are native to more northern climes and the people's known as The Aryans, question is what if Jesus was really a fake name given by Roman Church, for a specific agenda, and the real Jesus was

Russian or Rus having blue eyes? Is there further evidence to support the people known as Jesus and Mary Magdelene were not from middle east, yes, depictions in Last supper and other art pieces hidden mainly but I have been able to view a few, Mary Magdelene was a blue eyed blonde, she lived on in France under the protection of Knight's Templars until the Roman church military killed her after hunting her and her children down for years, but her last child managed to flee before they slayed her and all of her followers. If you think the crimes of the RC church are new, think again, they have been a blight on humanity from day one, and they run and operate on behalf of the dark forces, period. Jesus's real name was Radomir (why do you think the Russians called their space station mir) and it is my belief that he was part of the Urs teachers and Mary was one of the Rus, it is also possible that both were Urs also. Both of them were special people with abilities, Nicolai and Svetlana Levashov also had the same special abilities, both were slain by the same dark system, but their memories and also Radomir and Mary's will live on, and we should thank them for their services to humanity, but here is the kicker, why does society only listen after these teachers of light have already died? A lesson we must all learn it seems. In some aspects the name can be seen as not being important, others due to word magic are, but the teachings and ways are of ultimate importance. The main people of the URs named were Perun, whose son was Tarkh and his wife Tara, the latter being important as the crystals in her name are the ones to fix the gates, Tara travelled also to Ireland and there is a hill of Tara named as a sacred place there, and what is common of the Irish race? blue eyes, who sent armies to destroy the Irish and their history? RC church sent Dutch and British kings after them, William of Orange and all, ya see it is all about erasing history, so they can rewrite their own bs narrative. History it seems is not what it appears to be does it, our truth of what happened here on Midgard is distorted beyond all reason, but are these shows done the truth for you, that is your choice. One hopes it makes you think and act in a different way, and research these topics for yourself. The truth they say never fears investigation, and yet we are denied knowledge on a plethora of things, why? Because they wish to continue to leave us floundering in the dark, only when the faith comes through will we begin to heal and go forward again. The gist of this piece was not to denigrate whole people's far from it, the gist is to combine all people's together as one, with a common enemy, we will only do that from a position of full knowledge. It may well get attention that it is targetting the Jewish, religions and black groups, but might I remind listeners I have spent way more time on our shows, highlight crimes of the white race also, and I don't hear anyone complaining about that. Bush, Clintons, Cheney, Rumsfeld, Blair, Churchill, UK and EU royals, British Empire, Dutch Empire, nazis all those groups are white, and I have never heard one complaint from a white person saying I am denigrating the white people. So one hopes some will not see this piece, and use it as an excuse to deflect and distract under the banner of racism, as what has been made clear is colors, races and countries did not matter to the various peoples the Urs, Rus, Slavonic Aryans met, only to teach them to change from the dark forces ways, of bloodshed and sacrifice. Otherwise why would Iran who are not white skinned per se, name their country The Land of the Aryans and was the original site of Manna Kingdom. Manna means a divinely supplied spiritual nourishment. We cannot allow the continuation of stifling the narrative under the banner of it offends this or that, if those people are that shallow in their understanding, that criticizing poor behavior and at times heinous behaviors of their particular culture, either in the past, now or future is deemed racist or wrong, then you have lost not only any moral fortitude but what it means to be human. It is about love, compassion, understanding, caring and sharing and not violence, anger, greed and self serving. We have a real chance to go forward for a better world for all, we can only do that by coming together and learning the truth together, truth is painful and also traumatic, but also a life lesson, if history keeps ignoring life lessons, we will continue to endure the devastatingly corrupt, perverted and dark world we see today. Time we all learned to be a beacon of truth, have large doses of humility and engineer a new spirit that was set out so far back by the Urs, Rus and Slavonic Ayrans race.

Faith had an original meaning, the enlightenment of knowledge. Time we all relearned to collect, absorb, take actions and learned to keep it. Keep the Faith.
