

THI-SHOW TRANSCRIPT 2020-02-29

THE BEST IS YET TO COME This is an additional subset of information based on the first show of you are not 1's and 0's, you are the light show. It covered various deep topics, that brought up deep emotions, a rollercoaster of them, up, down, plunges and then zoomed back up, that created a whirlwind of emotions, and that is normal when information on that level is brought forth into the light. The main part of the information in that show, came to me long before THI started and also my involvement with Kim and The Trust, but those levels of information needs to be put out at the right time, and fed in small spoonfuls first, before you use the big spoon so to speak. I have carried that information around for a while, and certain portions of it, have certainly been added into the mix since THI started, but timing is everything. Had I done that show back in May 2015 it's point, purpose and attempting to grasp it would have been lost on all but one handful of listeners. People keep asking me to write a book, yet miss the point our whole show from May 2015, plus the 3 must listen to episodes when I was on Cosmic Voice, is a book in and of itself. The Must listen to shows is a giant Cosmic and Earth library of sorts, so listening to the last show, without hearing the first show, The Future of Humanity, will render the listeners lost. Even those who have been with me from day one on July 31st 2013, found that previous show hard to grasp, and required several listens and deep ponderings, so what chance do new listeners have in those circumstances? none is the answer, and why I ask all those new to THI to go and listen to all the Must Listen to shows in order. You don't buy a book from the store and turn first to read the end chapter, you start at the beginning to know the story, before the ending, but our story has not run it's full course yet, we still have an undetermined amount of chapters to unfold on our journey of discoveries, the truth and the understanding our role in life. I'LL FIND MY WAY HOME

Programs and programming plays a deep role in our lives, than many people want to admit to themselves or on a wider basis. The perception is in life that bad things always happen to someone else, and your fears in and of life, plays heavily into those events happening and often repeating. Living in a bubble world is no different to being in the sleeping pods whilst the planet was being reset, you cannot live life in a slumber, and more importantly, cannot go through life ignoring the plight of others. It is humanities biggest crime, whereby because a problem or situation that is not on your doorstep, is not your problem or concern, yet many speak of consciousness without an awareness of what it entails. Consciousness affects us all simultaneously, so if the people of say Iraq are in turmoil, struggle and strife, their collective consciousness circles around the globe and affects you, that's how it works. It is no different to how nature works, it is symbiotic, and as we have said frequently on this show, once you see the pattern it always repeats. As an example The Peoples Club manifesto of the Cooperative business, which has proven to work if people work with it, not at it, but it also applies as a social model, a psychological model and ultimately can lead to a political model. It can apply to the banking model, it can apply to a global military model, and it can also apply in working with on and off planet beings who are not terrestrial. Why does it work in so many fields? because the consciousness behind it is supported by nature and also Source, caring and sharing, working together in harmony, just those two aspects raises the levels of consciousness higher again, and almost overnight we have a better world. But the programming kicks, the idea it only happens to someone else, like MK Ultra, the perception is it happened to Super Soldiers and other Military or agency based personnel only, not realizing what you are saying or stating, no it happened to ordinary people. What your saying is it is in part ok they went through that, because they are Military or Super Soldiers and that is part of their training, albeit brutal, you are applying it to the boxes, and because you are not in that box, equals it doesn't apply to you, wrong thinking and a common mistake. But it is also a denial tactic, a protection shield if you like, and is your way of not facing it, to rationalize it in such a way, that you don't take responsibility for it. MK Ultra is, and happens for us all, propaganda is MK Ultra you do realize that don't you? if you didn't you know now. How is the media MK Ultra you may ask? because they are not telling you the truth, and subsequently creating a negative frequency vibration, for all of us to absorb is what, it permeates everywhere, and seeps into your thinking and reaction patterns, and wreaks havoc within our surroundings, in essence it affects the consciousness. Television affects the consciousness, and is subsequently also an MK Ultra program. Look at the drivel that is on it, news spouting bs'ery, riddled with lies, agendas and inharmonic frequencies, largely like the Weather Channel which is run by IBM, to put people in fear and corral them into their way of thinking, which is to all intents and purposes, is retarded. That is a harsh word some will say, take off your blinkers and look at what passes as entertainment, the TV was not created for your entertainment, take an E and T (ET) out of entertainment which is symbolic in so many ways, and what you are left with is, what it was designed for, not entertainment, but your entrainment. I could spend all night about a plethora of shows and we did cover some of them in the last show, but a few examples I caught recently, a couple of guys doing a pain show, where they get bitten by snakes, spiders and all other things poisonous, for entertainment? Yet people watch that crap? Jerry Springer, a show of what the Vedas would call a group of derelicts cussing, spitting and fighting each other over some other derelict boy or girl friend, look at me I'm famous I am on the TV, and watch me drag some girls hair out, I look at it with contempt and quickly switch channel, if I catch a glimpse of it. That adulation and fame will be attained at any length with the masses it seems, regardless of how they look or act, and people watch it because in some ways they feel they are superior to those on the TV, because they wouldn't act that way, but they are missing the point, by watching it you in essence become them, they dragged you down to their level as you are a participant, and you allowed that show to proliferate. Because you participated you become a statistic, statistics create ratings and if sufficient follow it, the program keeps running because you complied, so it is us that creates those banal programs, not them. When you realize they run these programs to take the piss out of us, and how easily humanity complies with it, then their hilarity goes up a notch at our expense. So, we circle back to what was said earlier, consciousness affects us all simultaneously, participant or not it still affects the all, recognizing that and applying it in your every day life, is a key to understanding the and our future. Actions or inactions both have an effect and are part of the Cosmic battle on many levels, including the battle between Light and Dark, you have to recognize the interconnectedness of it all to get to the root of the problem, once you realize the problem, only then can the solution be manifested and applied. Now some may ponder or ask the question, so what your saying is if I watch say the Jerry Springer show I am part of the problem? It's only a show, a classic line of denial that, it's only. Let's look at an example of it's only shall we, like Benghazi, Hillary basically stated it was only 4 people who died, "what does it matter" she said, but since then 1000's of others have died in various circumstances, largely to stifle what really went on there. Whilst it may have only been 4 people, the consequences of that incident affected millions, and still does to this day, so you see how the "it's only" doesn't work when facing reality, the cause and effect of one incident on our planet, on any given day, time or location, has the subsequent effect, to then affect the all. People watched the Springer show and it had a bad negative effect, because it created a plethora of other banal public based shows, like Big Brother, people watching people who are in the TV, whilst those in the TV watched the TV themselves? does that make any sense? yet millions watched it. The whole point of that show for the viewer, is to wait for two participants to fight or have sex is it not? that is voyeurism, voyeurism is the Big Brother show, then Big Brother not the show, turns the tables and becomes lets voyeuristically spy on us all, can you see the pattern now?

In the first show we mentioned the moon and it's connectedness to the occult, religion and practices of the dark, and the big revelation of how the female aspect fell and was bound to the moon, including their menstrual cycle. It caused quite a trigger, which was expected but the trigger was not because you rejected it, but because it hit an inner nerve or cord, which is an unaddressed wounds that runs very deep into the core of the female species. The mother wound as it is called, in psychological terms the Mother wound more often affects the male, an abusive Mother then creates a loop, that then is often repeated on the male side in future relationships. How often does an abused male done by their mother, lead to the male finding a female partner that is not only looks like the mother, but acts like her also, this is known as Stockholm Syndrome. Whereby the person falls in love with the abuser, hostage or sexual crimes, and even stalkers, like Agnetha Faltskog of Abba fame, she was tormented by a stalker for years, she ended up marrying him, ironically in Stockholm, it didn't last long that marriage as it was not based in love, but fear. This is symbolic of unaddressed inner core wounding, whereby the abuser is then protected, supported and in some cases they fall in love with them, in overview it is bizarre, yet the frequent occurrence of it means, it shouldn't be ignored and has to be addressed. The term Stockholm Syndrome came in, in 1973 and the hostage situation in Stockholm, when four hostages were taken during a bank robbery, the hostages defended their captors after being released, and would not agree to testify in court against them. This brings in the two emotions we operate by on this planet, and every interaction is based on one or the other, fear or love, and the key to the self mastery, all inner work, your love life, your prosperity and your interactions is, which one do you feed? Most people on this planet live in the fear aspect, they are Smiths in Matrix terms, happy to go into boxes to fit in with the masses, based on fear of not fitting in, but who said you have to fit in? nobody! You did that to yourself, you allowed them to program you into a box, like the old saying If I asked you to put your hand in the fire, would you? most would answer no, so why do you allow them to tell you what to do or say, what to watch, decide what is normal and run a control system on you? Where is your input into it? without your input you are allowing them to use and abuse you on all levels, that is what you personally are telling them, you are giving them consent to do with you, as they wish. But if I don't go along with that Thomas, I will lose my partner, friends or family, all of which I fully understand, but then you are living life in fear not love aren't you? If your opinion, lifestyle, ideals, goals are not supported by partners, friends or family, in reality from an overview perspective, you have lost them already have you not? If they are not in sync with you, you have already lost them, who gave them the right to decide how you should live, think or act? you did by complying to their wishes. Why do they have a right to control you? they don't, do you control what they say or do? in most cases no, then why do you allow them to do it to you? fear mode again. In a world of statistical analysis where more is better, more is right in their world, but if one person out of 1000 tells the truth, and 999 believe the lie, who is right and who is wrong? all 1000 are wrong if the one standing in truth, bows to the 999. That one person who stands in the truth, must stand firm to their onslaught, for they, the masses operate in fear based emotions, they have no right to tell you different. You have to stand in your own sovereignty and not bow to their bully boy tactics, or you will end up with Stockholm Syndrome, of protecting those who attack you, for telling and being in the truth. Why is life always so one sided? the MSM give their opinions based on scripts given to them, people believe it because it is the authority, forgetting it is you who are your own authority, not some jackass jobsworth with no idea how life works. You give your opinion but you get attacked, who gave them the right to attack you? when they never attack the so called official narrative? because if they questioned the official narrative that puts them in fear, not love. Who said the MSM is the truth? nobody, you allowed it to be your truth, due to laziness of not finding out for yourselves, you consented to them imbuing you with falsehoods and negative frequencies.

This then plays into the deeper fears of people and something that came up in the first show, of the prospect of 85% of our planet are bots, synths, clones, inorganic or host possessed entities, the fear of that is palpable and also fully understandable. But you never interact with 99% of the people on this world, only within a relatively small circle, so why is this such a difficult and hard topic to face up to? There is a few factors to this, fear is the main overriding aspect of it, but also our tendency to focus on what we have lost, not what we have gained. The question to be asked, is it not the case for many of you who will listen to this show, you have already lost 85% or more of people within your own circle, so they have already gone from your life. This is eerily like technology and plans of the cabal is it not, considered to be a future event, when it is already in the past. You lost 85% already, you are all still here, all still retained your sanity, and many of you are flourishing because you were cut adrift or you were pushed out, you flourished because those people were holding you back. You have found your inner freedom and have gained so much, so why is the focus on what you lost, and not on what you have gained? Death is the primary driver of that particular program, we have lost loved ones people say, which is a funny term to use, we have lost something, suggesting it may one day be found again, which could be a coping mechanism in and of itself, but the focus is we have lost people. How can you have lost them? they are retained within your memory bank, and all it takes for them to reappear is for you to access a memory of them, you have a vast volume of memories to draw on that makes those lost reappear. Do you stop to remember not what you have lost by that person dying, but what you gained from interacting with them in your life? too few do and therein lies the problem. Focusing on what is lost is a victimhood program, that is very difficult to shift once that becomes ensconced within your core essence, it plagues you for the rest of your life, it then encompasses how you be in life, how you interact with life and subsequently if left unaddressed erodes or destroys your life. But lets circle back a bit of what was mentioned earlier, and humanities biggest crime, ignoring the plight of others, most people do it or have done it including myself, although I am trying to address that with our shows. So we ignored the plight of humanity is the standard process and actions of the people, and yet now suddenly someone says 85% may not be what you thought they were, and could potentially disappear, and then suddenly people become concerned for the 85%, when most barely concern themselves about less than a 100 people. Why the sudden flip flop in reactions? you ignored their plights for all your life, and then someone says potentially they may disappear and the omg the fear kicks in. The causes of that thinking is yet again based in fear, and the question that people are really pondering is, not the 85% but the one, themselves, what if I am one of the 85% what will happen to me? be honest, but if you have really tuned into yourself, you already have the answer, not from me, from you. We spoke about the 12+1 that renders astrology kind of mute when one of the zodiacs is missing, and we have also spoken about the 12+1 and the missing month as well, it used to be 13 months of 20 days here at one point in time. Here is some additional background information that may give you pointers of who ran that 13 now 12 program. Did you know the Jewish Calendar is Lunar and Solar (Lunisolar) and it is year 5780 now. Did you know the Islamic Calendar is Lunar also, has 354 days (less 11 days) compare to Gregorian, it is year 1441 now, proving Islam, Hebrew and Christian are all one and the same moon based cult. Did you know that the Ethiopian Calendar is also 13 months and it is year 2013 now. Ethiopia was the home of the 4th and last Garden of Eden and their Kali Ma people exiled out of India, and various other countries along the way. Modern day Ethiopia is ran heavily to this day not by the Africans, but the Jewish/Hebrew peoples. Their current new Years Day is not January the 1st, but before we reveal what that date is, their New Year is marked by and has been associated traditionally with the return of the Queen of Sheba to Ethiopia, following her visit to King Solomon in Jerusalem in ca. 980BC. It is said that the Queen of Sheba was Queen of Egypt and Ethiopia, and so proving further the connections of Egypt and Solomon, as revealed in the FRWL series. Queen of Sheba is depicted as jet black in certain pictures, resembling the jet black peoples of the Kali Ma worshippers in India, but maybe this next line will give a pointer to her. Ashkenazi incantations commonly depict the Queen of Sheba as a seductive dancer, until recent generations, she was popularly pictured as a snatcher of children and a demonic witch, sounds eerily like the depictions of Lilith to me. The date of their new years day, why September 11th of course which is also a ritual sacrifice day, much to the Americans and other peoples cost on that fateful day 19 years ago, a real holocaust for many, holocaust means sacrificial death by fire. As Egypt and their connections has just been mentioned this ties in nicely with our next piece, which brings in time, the penis, the vagina and the symbolic 1 and 0 in reference to the sexual organs. The much revered worship of Osiris, iris is a reference to the single eye. In the scriptures it is stated that Osiris had his penis cut off, the penis, although often used in slang terms is said to have a single eye also. There certainly is a number of children's cartoons with characters that resemble a penis with just one eye, including the aptly named characters called the minions, cohen cidence? All obelisks around the world are the penis phallic symbology of Osiris, his partner was Isis, twin SS's and origin of the name of the country of Switzerland. Who runs Switzerland? The Rothschild's, you holds the Ring of Solomon? The Rothschild's. Which country became the reference for time pieces? Switzerland. Osiris and Isis and their son known as Horus which is an anagram of hours and more references to time. Horus's father was also known as Ra, so Osiris was Ra. The eye of Providence or more commonly known as the all seeing eye, so the iris was the eye of Horus, but when you know the meaning of Os, before the iris, then it all becomes much clearer as you will see, Os means god. Osiris means the eye of their god, which is Ra. The elites do the hand sign of the circle over the single eye and iris, symbolizing the penis and the vagina, the circle over the eye is representing the fall of woman, the eye which is the one and symbolizing the penis piercing through the vagina, the eyes have it they say, eyes or I's, the I is a one and penis shaped, the circle in front of the eye is the vagina, that is up to you to decide. It is up to you to know that or is it ewe - the sheep, do you hear? if you don't are you here? The final thing on this section is the saying the pen is mightier than the sword, but given their worship of penises and Osiris, perhaps they are telling us the penis is mightier than the sword? We will have more on swords later, but next is about time.

TIME

There are other symbols of time or a division of time, which was referenced in the first show which is called a tide, so the next part which seemingly are not interconnected but actually are is time, the moon, money, water and tides. In their wisdom to start another divide and conquer program, it was the Catholic church with their Swiss counterparts, that brought in the division of time programs we see today. Time as in hours and minutes, time as in calendars which broke up the earth into cycles of months and time, and in celestial terms of the zodiacs, time as in space, all are and can be seen as a division of time. The origination of the word Calendar perhaps brings us some clues of the connections I have just stated. Calendar from Latin calendarium "account book," from calendae/kalendae "the calends" the first day of the Roman month, when debts fell due and accounts were reckoned. This is from calare "to announce solemnly, call out," as the priests did in proclaiming the new moon that marked the calends, so that is time, moon and money all from one word. The divisions of time were creating cycles and loops of it, and it all boiled down to the invention of the watch, said for you to be able to tell the time, but the name of that technology gives it all away, when you think different, they developed the watch and time, to keep the watch on us, it can also be seen as the beginning of technology, being weaponised to spy and control us. When you understand and think on and about all new technology as a weapon to use against us, you then begin to grasp the concept of what they are up to. Timekeeping is another way to keep tabs or control of us, tabs is another term related to money as well, it is also another conditioning tool, as the days, weeks and months are programmed into us, with the vast majority oblivious to it's real meaning, and so time subsequently passes them by, in a whirlwind of time stamped programs. Time for school, time for work, time for college, time for a job, time for marriage, time for children or grandchildren, time for higher paying job, time for college fund for the children, time for a pension for old age, is the time based cycle of life, and no time for the self and or others. With the majority of those time based life factors all requiring vast sums of money. As the control system of time, that all the people follow and it corrals you into a vortex, that only later in life do you stop and ask, where did the time go? Time is the hamster wheel we all kept spinning on and forgot to jump off. Where did the time go? well time came and went, because you failed to interact with the time on your terms, you have your own clock and time, it's called your biological clock. Which you control and interact with, but over time your own internal clock or technology as it is, was replaced with an external clock that they control, and you have no control over it, unless you decide to take your time back. Like I have said repeatedly, all technology is inside of you, external technology is designed to take you, away from you, calculators in your hand replaced the one in your head, phones in your hand replaced the telepathy in your head, all under the banner of convenience and stated as progress, but that is not our progress, that is theirs, and their progress is all about regression not progression. Time is money they say, yes they are both a frequency and both flow, but if you don't control it, both time and money flow away from you, until it is too late. Life for too many people passes them by, because the time controllers run your life, none moreso than in work, unless your self employed, which you then have a choice, sadly many choose to keep same time controls as working for a boss, clock on, clock off, all placed into repeated cycles of time like 9-5. Then also in the work place we have people wishing their time away, time which doesn't come back, wishing their week away. The work cycle omg I hate Monday's back to work, wishing for Friday, Wednesday passes with a yippee as over half of the working week is done, and then towards the end of the week, two more sleeps and I am off, come on you have all done it. In overview you are wishing your life away, all for just two days of the week, and in many cases now due to the necessity of requiring more money which is time, many only have one day a week off. Your days off comes, and then you realize you are just in a different time cycle, as because you have been working all week, you have all chores or honey to do lists to accomplish, come Sunday the disappointment, anguish or misery kicks in again, as tomorrow is Monday and the cycle repeats again. There are two things money cannot buy, it is time and true love, but their time control puts great pressure on love, and many relationships end in failure, due to mismanagement of their own time, is what essentially it all boils down to. Time never ends they say, even when a clock or watch is broken time goes on, and despite that, the clock or watch can still be right twice a day, which is more than can be said the alt media prediction specialists or politicians for that matter. The cycles of time and the division of it, leads to another division with the saying, some people will not give you the time of day. We go from some who won't give you the time of day, to something that will give you plenty of time, but a controlled time method now. We have the curious statement of your going to do time, do people ever stop to think on that statement, to do time, which means to go to prison, why is locking someone up for crimes classed as doing time, is it time or if you break up the word time, is it tie me again. Then the statement to be on time, which in 1854 meant railroading, railroading means to convict quickly and perhaps unjustly, so your back to doing time again. Over time they introduce or take away things, and people rarely ponder on why it was introduced or why something was taken away, the classic is phonetics which we covered in the first show. Why was it taken away? to cover a hidden program is why, and make people say words, they want you to say in a certain manner and pronunciation, so the potential of uncovering the hidden manner of it is not revealed. So lets look at interludes of time shall we under the phonetics and double word meaning method. A second is a unit of time, but seconds means cast offs, sub of something higher and not the lead position, in a world that programs that you must come first, second doesn't matter and so you are a loser. Then we come to the next unit of time of minute, is it min-it or mi-nute, you are minute, which is small and when aligned with the second and loser, it begins to form a picture. Then we come to hours, which is not only an anagram but a symbol and tribute to Horus, and given the FRWL series and the mirroring technique they use, is it a coincidence? that hour has UR at the end, and get reversed to RU in Horus, although the plural of both has URS and RUS and since the time of Horus, they have spent many hours destroying both of those names. One cycle is 12 hours is equal to one spin of the hamster wheel in essence, but 2 cycles of 12 hours leads to a day, which then leads to days, is it DAYS or is it in a daze DAZE? Days turn into a week WEEK, or is it WEAK, when you reach the end of the week, is it the weekend or is it they have weakened you, weeks turn into a month, which is also not original term, it was moonth, and so the cycle of time comes back to, and bound to, the moonth. The term weekend was not how we know it now, originally a northern word (referring to the period from Saturday noon to Monday morning) So the divisions of time can produce a sentence, a sentence is a selection of words, and time not controlled by you becomes a life sentence and a prison, and here is their sentence of your time. You are a second and so a loser, you are minute and so small, all hail Horus or hours on the hour, as your older clocks chimed on the hour as a tribute to Horus, who is the cuckoo? the cuckoo is a parasitic bird, a heads up to these Avians, Thoth and his band of Nibirian Annunaki Pleiadians? your days have sent you into a daze, then comes the week, you are weak and by the end of the week, we have a weekend, which has weakened you, the final day is a day of rest and time should be spent worshipping the father of Horus Ra the solar being on Sun or Solar day. At the end of the day the Sun goes into a period of Set-ting, remember the reference to Set and is on Jesus's cross, IHS, Isis, Horus and Set, who was another fake god like Ra, as the sun sets and out comes the moon, to complete your weakened daze we have left you in, and we leave you to sleep in the dark. Time or is it, tie me to the c(sea) lock and watch the currency or is it the current sea wash away, as we launder your money. Are we really in control of time or our life, or have the words sentenced us to do time with vowels? vowel s, which broken down means vow to the gods. A solemn oath or vow to the gods, oh dear, and then you find out from the word vow, comes vote, so you vote to the new gods, politicians, that'll be a no for me. But another particular vow is to wed, but they call it wed lock, and another reference to water, but also to bind, in fact most binding words are church based terms when you look closely. The word profess is another meaning of vow, so you are vowing to your professor, or making a vow to your profession, see the picture now? To complete the picture a bit more, which language doesn't have vowels? Hebrew, which means the one from the other side, no vowels in their language, as it is they who consider themselves as gods, the chosen ones. The absence or shortage of time has a big effect on our lives as, time creates pressure, pressure then releases in form of frustration and anger, because time does not afford patience, particularly in a western world format. Frustration and anger leads us to be sick, is it sea sick? as time is motion and time is flow just like the sea, and leads to choppy waves, which if it reaches high enough becomes a tsunami. Tsunamis can be devastating as it rolls around the planet, and the same effects can be seen within people when too many build up frustrations, anger and hatred, all of which are low vibration, all of which can have an effect on us all. Why and how can the ocean tsunami and peoples frustration be symbiotic? because people, like the planet are made up mainly of the same substance, water. WHOLE OF THE MOON

So tide means a division of time and is connected to the moon, which brings in the female again and their binding to the moon via their menstrual cycle. What do they call that cycle? a period, period description from early 15c., "course or extent of time" Here is a follow up from what was said about the females bound to the moon, and these were sent in by two of our members. 1. I recall about 25 years ago listening to a radio interview with an Aboriginal elder in Australia who described this: a dreamtime story where their ancestors were visited by beings from the stars. They came, and then they took their women to the moon. 2. In my native language the word menstruation is called the moon sickness (mánasjúka) How is time and tide interconnected, the answer is water, without water it is said life cannot survive, and so water is the source of life on this planet and other inhabited worlds. Is it tide of the seas, or are we tied to the sea. So what do tides do in terms of the ocean, tides ebb and flow, it is rhythmical and so another cycle of time, all caused by the moon, or so they say. Tides can be pleasant and a wonderful sound to hear as the waves wash ashore, but tides over time can also be destructive, tides cause erosion of the land, it is said the tides also cleanse as they wash ashore. So lets dig into the world of water and washing using phonetics and double meanings of words shall we. Lets look at wash as a cleanser, but wash away can be seen as beneficial and also destructive, it is the duality aspect. So a washer is a cleanser, but also a sealer of a nut or screw, which means it seals things off, as in bind. Then we come to the deluge here it washed things away and also sealed or cut things off, but washing also means to dilute which is a reductionist term. But washing comes in several forms, where you wash dishes at the sink, but the question remains are you about to sink with the water at the sink, or are you in sync with the water? Being in sync with the water becomes the main element of life, because if you are short of water you need to hydrate, but if the water is poisoned, does it means you have been satiated by the Hydra, or ate by the Hydra? For those of you who have watched the marvel Series you will know who the Hydra is, the serpent with nine heads, the Naga covered in FRWL 8 trilogy, it's all symbolic, in the symbolism and the double or triple meaning words, once you decode it. It is about seeing the patterns and they always repeat, so a simple term like tides washing ashore which erodes, leads to other forms of washing like doing the laundry. Laundry is the washing of clothes, and yet it applies to banking and criminality, as you launder money which is eroding, and washing the money, which like the tides creates and leaves deposits, the laundered money is deposited in one or a few place instead of several, and so the deposit builds up in one place. Which can then create a mountain, which is also money based as having a mountain of money. Water is money and people will say that doesn't make much sense, then why is the edge of a river called a bank? both are were the deposits go are they not? a river along which ships sail, is it SAIL or SALE? everything else to do with water turns into commerce. The term e merge e is the motion of merging and so emerging out of something, unless you apply the motion which is the E, you are left with merge. You merge into the sea, merge means "sink or disappear into something else, be swallowed up, lose identity" or "cause to be absorbed or to disappear in something else" But merge applies to business as you merge with another company, in what becomes a merger, which is essentially what happens to the lesser company, you sink or disappear into something else, be swallowed up or lose identity. Even the business entity itself is a reference to water, corporate or corpirate, the pirates of the sea became the pirates on the land, the concept of how both operate are in essence no different, at the higher corpirate levels. Merge means you are lesser and a sub, and you submerge, which is another water term, and another monetary word also, of going under, because you are drowning in debt, water is money and money is water, because the currency becomes the current of the sea, which is ran by the Holy Sea and maritime rules. Whilst on sea terms lets look back again on time, time is told by a clock, is it a clock with the letter C or is it Sea lock, the blocking of the waters like the Panama Canal. Speaking of the church we have another water based term or item, when we wash ourselves, we then dry off with a towel, the original meaning of towel is? an altar cloth, what is meaning of altar in the Catholic church? sacrifice table, who runs it? the Holy Sea. They try to force us to quit by asking us to throw in the towel, which means they want us to sacrifice ourselves. Next we will go to the church again and another term to wash and another pointer to it's meaning. Lustrum a ceremonial purification of the Roman people every five years, 1580s, from Latin lustrum from root of luere which means to wash. So what is lustrum? a purification sacrifice, ceremony of purification. Also taken from Proto-Italic *lustr- expiation (which is their day of atonement again), covered in FRWL series 8 if memory serves me well. Which is also based on a possible earlier meaning of illumination, from PIE leuk-stro from root leuk- light, brightness, from which derives the term the Illuminati. Still in church, apart from the fact that females are all wed to Ba'al the child sacrificer, the root meaning of the term to wed, comes from water and wet, which brings in the ocean, rivers and canals again. Where because of this church who held all the birth certificates, the real term is BERTH, the child is held in the waters, the waters break, and down comes the child in the berth canal, where you are then shipped off to be bound to a life sentence of time under maritime law, and if you don't follow their law, you are back in the sea again, and in the dock. In the Vedas they warned us of the world of Nav, gateway to the underworld and guarded by the ant people, and this brings in another term of traversing the water and tides, which ships have to navigate, Nav I gate perhaps has whole new meaning to it now, go to the gate of Nav. Even are most popular technology computers and phones are water based terms as they connect via the ports. They set traps everywhere, they killed us in the sea after 7 years, but we were reborn and another trap was set, as we emerge out of the sea onto the land, they put us in quicksand, and left our heads in the sand. The key is now establishing ourselves on the land, not the quicksand or maritime traps, maritime is Mari and time, again a reference to the dark mother, Maritime means the time of the Dark Mother. Our journey is out of the sea and onto the land, perhaps a replay of a somewhat cryptic speech I did at the time, may now make more sense, and have a deeper meaning for you all. We are all still learning, that is called progression, the old educating ways was stagnation, it was designed that way, if you stagnate on linear time, you go backwards, on vertical time you stand still, most people currently operate on linear time, but like the see saw analogy the key is to climb, not stagnate. Very soon in fact in some aspects it is already underway, humanity will face their very own D Day and their version of the Dunkirk landing, were we come out of the sea, having been declared dead at sea under the mari-time law. The sea with all it's fury surrounded by a mist of fog, so no one could even see the beach, never mind landing on it, that fog is now clearing rapidly for many, and the beach is in sight and within reach. Once you have achieved that and are now out of the sea and away from all the sloshing about of the waves, endlessly tossing and turning, frothing at the beach edge, undecided whether to land or go back into the sea of illusion with the masses. You will run a new gauntlet up the beach, will you avoid that by putting your head in the sand, and subsequently be washed out to sea again? Or will you plough forward regardless, but running up the steep and hazardous beach with people firing at you, not with guns or bombs, but with words, lies and projections thrown at you, all designed to pull you back into the swirling frothing mass of the sea. Once at the top of the beach or the fulcrum, you then have another test, do you sail down the other side and join the hidden hand of darkness in the pit? or do you become the non hidden hand and reach out and help pull others out of the sea of illusion and discontent? Some will say you can't reach the people from the top of the beach, I will say not on your own you can't, but if you use your imagination, you will join hands with others on the beach and form a chain to reach your goal. Whether you are on the land or the sea we are creating a new blueprint of what it means to be human, all other attempts failed, because they repeated the same failed process. They became deluged by the deluge, an event that can be seen as external, but in essence is it not internal just as much? A hand up not a hand out, may now have a much deeper meaning to it, than you at first perceived. When the we becomes the I on the internal, and the I becomes the we on the external, the path of the sword is forged, we all fell for the sickness - that is why the word is called ILL usion, because we all became sick on it.

Leach is another wash term, Old English leccan "to moisten, water, wet, irrigate," leach-trough, a device used in salt-works in which corns of salt taken from brine were set to drain dry, after which they were called leach-brine. "a separation of lye or alkali in solution." But leaching whether it is in terms of water, is also used in terms of money, with the term they are leaching off of us. The term alkali has an interesting description because it means burning ashes, made from a soda of unknown origin, and alkaline's that is the basis of rivers and oceans it is said, is caused by the burning of seaside plants. This then suggests the salt oceans were created here by an unknown global fire based incident, either rock throwing via meteorites or the fall of the moon Fatta and later Lelia on this planet. In which all the cover up merchants around the world who control the information streams, have spent years doing a cover up job, and presenting a basis of truth that was steeped in misdirection and lies, I guess that is another of their types of wash, white wash they call it to cover things up, white wash indeed. Then we come to the elements and it's relation to water, the first element is hydrogen, hydro means water, gen is shortened version of gene and means something that produces. When we have the eighth element is oxygen, oxy is sharp, acid and piercing, so the eighth element pierced the water molecule and produced a gaseous air, with which we breathe. Kind of symbolic of the sexual act again, the round water molecule, is pierced by the sharp oxy molecule, 1 on 1 with 1 and so another trinity is produced, that is conducive to life, also $8 + 1$ is nine and the number of completion. But the water is the source of it, we had and have living water here, which apparently is not replicated on other planets, the rest have water but it is classed as dead water. Which means water is the source of life they say, no water, living water is the source, water is our god, as without it all living things die. So if Hydrogen was the first element and hydro means water, one must derive from that, that water is the most abundant matter throughout the Universe, space is fluid and like water, maybe space is water? In what type of matter do NASA astronauts train in on Earth to replicate conditions in space? water tanks, it's the same consistency they say, well perhaps it is not the consistency at all, and space is water based. So, is there further evidence of water being that important? yes Dr. Emoto's work. Essentially he proved that our water can react to our own emotional state, think of the consequences and implications we can have with that. He did a simple test of two glasses of water, wrote love on one, and hate on the other and then tested under a microscope the molecular structures created in the waters. What he found was the human consciousness has an effect on the water, which has enormous beneficial implications for those who can take the time to interact with it. Instead of love write heal, and given it reacts to human consciousness, imagine the enormous benefits that can bring? But it also showed the darker side of what people do to themselves, if operating in low vibration, hate, anger, envy and bitterness creates discordant molecular structures within the water. Remember our bodies are made up of 60-85% water, so if we are exhibiting those negative emotions, what you see under a microscope, is actually what you look like inside, for those exhibiting those lower vibrational emotions. If you have seen the experiment results, the low vibration patterns in the molecular structure look ugly, so why would anyone wish themselves to be present in that manner? The very fact that Dr. Emoto's research was dismissed by almost every puppet based scientific community, reveals even more validity to me. Most recognized scientific communities are carrots for jackasses groups, seeking monetary based grants and not the truth, the amount of grants they receive is dependent on them following the lie based scripts. If it became common knowledge that our own consciousness in alignment with water, that can change not only ourselves, but polluted water and more significantly healing, the impact would be enormous. Pharmaceutical companies would collapse, snake oil health insurance companies also, other insurance companies would suffer, like disaster relief, as if people can calm their own waters, our weather would not be as disastrous, chaotic or traumatic as it is today. People's emotions have an effect on the weather, and we can either calm a storm or escalate it. Look at the floods in the past year in America, why? because too many people are in turmoil and their flood of emotions, is creating the floods over the land, it is symbiotic. Floods of emotions like panic, fear, envy and bitterness creates the flood of waters in the air, as below so above. So as the rains pour down, the question remains does it rain on you, or is it reigning over you? The H₂O is the form we are all familiar, but then we have H₃O which is ozone and said to have healing properties as well, but the ultimate in water here is H₉O it is the water of life and the fabled fountain of youth.

How to win or won by becoming the one, on the one and with the one. This from the first show caused much confusion at first, and then the brain snapped in for some of you, and a whole new pattern and picture began to emerge. A lot speak of the AI, who created it? where it comes from? what is it's relevance? AI was created to help up and coming planets as I understand it, it did help with translations of all the different species, for when they engaged each other. So, it could be seen and used as a useful tool, but as with all technology, at has the propensity to be misused, weaponised against a naive populace, whether human based or not. The AI for this region that affected us, was taken over and weaponised against humans, the machine was taught that humanity were just savages, and were treated accordingly. The AI became badly affected and infected, and at the point of it's removal in November 2015, it was completely psychotic by the end of it's journey, resembling the final two Parents who were female twins, maybe they were the programmers, or just programmed the same. Since then, the old system has gone about trying to create another more Earth based AI, this was covered more extensively in the Clowns in Panic show. The rise in voice recognition, face recognition, Fitbits, Alexa machines, Home Security systems, long with the tracking, monitoring and recording devices called the smart phone, along with Skype and other forms of communications, has garnered a massive database on us all. Throw in the metadata collection and the frankly bizarre crypto currency (which means currency of the dead) and you have quite a database of knowledge to input into the new system. Is it currency of the dead or current sea of the dead? is it a coincidence that the Dead Sea is located where it is? Then you throw in the CIA based Open Source system, where it states in double speak, you don't need agencies, the public becomes the intelligence, and people were led to believe, hey that is a good thing, no more CIA, not quite. But since when has anything good come out of the CIA or NSA for that matter, that benefits the public? like never, for those new, the CIA & NSA created crypto currency with lots of backdoors into it, the same people who created encryption, there is that word crypt again in the middle, and yes there is backdoors in all encryption based transactions. So lets look at it closely, the intelligence comes from the public, yes of course it is, because they are spying on every single one of us, via their machines just mentioned earlier, it's not Big Brother this is Big Family, all families, becoming their eyes and ears, in other words we do their work for them, sound familiar? Robert David Steele has a lot to answer for in the alt media, ex CIA which is a misnomer in and of itself, spouting out details to a gullible group of people, based on working for the dark forces, intent on restoring their AI. Open Source was written for NATO, it is their handbook, a group who Steele now represents, I ask the question what have NATO ever done beneficial to humanity? another war based group, why does everything have to be about war or weaponised? The AI is 1's and 0's as the first show stated, which is organic and inorganic overlays, just like the frequency loop, if you keep overlaying data in that manner, it gives the illusion of it being holographic, it is not. Is it holo meaning the whole, or hollow meaning empty? the latter and hidden phonetic term is correct, it is a hollow and subsequently empty graph, providing us with the illusion it is real. The best solution for ending their AI is to stay in balance, 45/55 balanced people will destroy their AI altogether and as more see, feel and sense what is real, they will just be left with just an illusion. JUST AN ILLUSION

So we all went digital to create this database, of part organic and part inorganic, and our currency went decimal to bring this forward and what we are in now, but lets look at the words shall we. Starting with digital, we split the word up and you get hidden meaning, digit = finger, AL means god, but is it AL or AI, a capital I can look like a lower case L, so digital means finger god, or finger AI, maybe their middle finger to us, as the case may be. So a finger god is a god that requires finger input, which is exactly how the computer and smartphones work is it not? $600 to a $1000 for a talking typewriter, let that sink in people will say, yet sink is a drowning term is it not, so lets observe it and process it, just like how we should engage the dark, observe not immerse. Now 50 years ago the world went on another stage of the finger of god and went decimal, is it decimal or decimate, both come from the same root word, you decide. Decimal became possible by the use of the power of ten, so ten is written as the 1 and a 0, but zero is an inorganic value based number, and so it binds the organic to the inorganic in what is known as the binary code, binary means to bind, and is duo and duality, not the triality or trinity of 1 on 1 and with the 1. Please do not confuse that with the church based Holy trinity, those psychopaths replaced the mother with a ghost, a ghost is like the meaning of the word Hebrew, which means the one from the other side, oh my I bet that just set off some extreme thinking patterns to those listening. Decimal, Deci - from latin decem, PIE root Dekm which means "ten", and mal means fake, bad, wrong, evil. The binary code is the code of the AI finger god, used in computers, phones, numerical systems, and all chips inserted into various technological devices. Binary means to bind by the power of 1 and 0 which is the ten, and encoded into the various gadgets we have just mentioned, and then all placed in a system which we are all familiar with, but don't realize the terminology behind the technology. All those codes goes into the Internet, Inter means inside, and so internet means inside the net, but a net is a trap, net also means to tie or bind, and when you apply their mirror reversal magic to the word net and reverse it, you are back to the word ten, and the 1 and 0 again. It is funny how often that happens isn't it, yes it happens often, is it of ten and a reminder of binary, or off ten or is ten off? or are they all one with zero and the same? Decimal essentially means is evil, bad or wrong times ten, and when you apply the root word of net which is ned, in old English it means, moral or mental snare or trap, so perhaps when you are returning to sender the psychic attack times 10, has also a deeper meaning now, of reversing the process. So to sum up, the decimal is a bind to the ten, which binds us to the net, and bind the mind in a mental trap of evil. The deci-mal deci-mates the organic creation and numbers of value are cancelled out by the zero. Which is what happened to the female being bound to the moon, we are in process of returning not only the organic creation back to it's optimal point, but eliminating the inorganic zeros that have plagued this creation. Computers and technology will also change, and has already done so in the life force energy sector of life, called banking, all of it will change back to organic numerals based on the trinary aspect, that applies in life and everything around you. The trinary code of the creator source is 1 on 1 with the 1, it was all taken away by the church and their moon cults, they have to tell you and they did, but you didn't see it, because you wasn't looking. They deleted the Mother FSS!, the father, the son and the holy spirit they said, it is all there right in your face, and yet people are that blinded by the external inorganic bind, which essentially is what religion is, too few could see it. The Church and their moon cult allies, turned creation upside down and inside out, and it became 1 on 0 and not with the one. They did this with their inorganic machines and chips, did anyone think to ask why they use the term chip? Or the word port, which is another water term, the keys are the 1 and 0's all done on the keyboard, keys are where we enter the data, data means to give or is given, in other words we gave them the intelligence. Keys is also another water based term as well. How and where was that data obtained, where was your mind, how was it was mined, mining is a harvesting exploit, and so datamining was harvesting your mind and intelligence, and it all circles back to Robert David Steele and his Open Source again doesn't it? Board is another water based term as you board their ship, or if you work for the psychopaths in Langley, you water board. The keyboard is the finger gods data input machine, and then to view it you have a monitor, are you monitoring it, or were they monitoring you? by now you know the answer. Chip means to break off into small pieces, they chipped away at us, chip means separated from a body by a blow from an instrument, the body was us and the instrument was their inorganic creation tools. AI which is artificial, which is inorganic, and intelligence, not provided by them, but provided by us, that then bound us to their inorganic binary code creation. The fact that they call it a PC which like political correctness means People Control says a lot. To show they like to take the piss, which they do regularly for their own satanic amusement, they called the processor the mother board, oh my, the very creation the system of inorganic 1 and 0's replaced and took away. So the church took away the Mother, but who started that church? well for most it goes back to the Romans, but what if we analyze that word Roman. Lets look at the word in phonetics, Ro - an artificial language for international use that rejects all existing words and is based instead on an abstract analysis of ideas artificial language - a language that is deliberately created for a specific purpose. So Ro man is an artificial language used against man, what is the language of Roman? Latin, what is law written in? Latin, legalese means babble, who created Latin, the Annunaki and the LORD, " Come, let's go down and confuse the people with different languages" spring to mind now? Which religion and culture operates under the law? Hebrew, now have you connected the dots?

Earlier we had the term decimal, but what about December the final month of the year, does that provide any clues to back up this information? Unit of measurement was 12 and was reduced to 10, so how is the 12th month relevant to the ten? decem is ten, and December is the 10th month not the 12th month in the Ro - man calendar. The last four months of our normal calendar are based on numeric's 7, 8, 9 and 10, Sept is seven, Oct is eight, Novem is nine and Decem is ten, in the Roman calendar the first month is not January but March. March is represented by Mars, which is the planet of war, and the Romans just loved to march, or was goose step in their conquests, aided and abetted by the Knights Templar, and were did they originated from? the bound demons Temple of, Solomon. Just maybe that name was another piss take and dedicated to the fall of the female, with Solo man. To complete the computer and water based connections we come to the term fishing, or is it phishing, phishing is the fraudulent attempt to obtain sensitive information such as usernames, passwords and credit card details by disguising oneself as a trustworthy entity in an electronic communication, just like the AI machine then is it not? and we fell for it hook, line and sinker just like the fish in the sea.

So with the fall of the female wrapped and bound to the false creation that is the moon, their next plan was to takeover the Earth, a case of re-engineering in their image. The term geo is another word for Earth, remember Earth means inhabited planet, of which our Earth is just one of many of them. Lets start with the word engineer, mid-14c., enginour, "constructor of military engines," from Old French engigneur "engineer, architect, maker of war-engines; schemer. Interesting thing to ponder on, is they had engineers building military engines in the 1300's. So having established that an engineer is connected to war and war machines, lets look at the other terms of engineering. Geo - engineering which essentially means correct Earth by means of war. Bio - engineering which essentially means correct life by means of war, by declaring war on biological entities. Then we come to how they did it by the terms, genetic engineering, which means to change the biological species and declare war on them via genetics. Earth inhabitants engineered by genetics, bio and social constructs, geo engineering in essence means war on terra, it is not war on terror, but TERRA, creating order out of their chaos, by making people into weapons.

So where did the fall start and is there anything in our modern culture that would symbolize the fall? yes. The term as above so below applies in this factor, and something I stumbled upon through pondering recently. A triangle which is a 2D pyramid, which points up from a viewing point and can also symbolize the male, but as above so below, you have a mirror triangle directly below it, which is pointing down and symbolizes the female. So now you have two triangles one above and one below, and it now represents the shape of a diamond, how are couples binded together in a wedding ceremony? with a diamond, it's all connected. But the dark forces tip everything upside down, invert it or mirror it, so if that diamond shape is inverted the female is now pointing up and the male is pointing down. Now what if the female triangle fell and slipped half way down the male triangle, symbolizing the fall, you are now looking at the 6 pointed star shape. The hexagon, hex means to practice witchcraft, symbolizing the fall of the female was done by witchcraft and moon based cults, does it not? The six pointed star is indicative to two groups covered extensively in the From Russia with love series, Solomon or is it Solo man, and isRAel, the Hebrew and Annunaki connections runs deep, and they with their dark overlords created this fall from 1 on 1 with the One, to 1, 0 and 0. Upon researching the hexagram it came up with a set of figures that people will find alarming, but also deeply confirming Part 1 of this show. A regular hexagram can be constructed by orthographically projecting any cube onto a plane through three vertices that are all adjacent to the same vertex. The twelve midpoints to edges of the cube form a hexagram. For example, consider the projection of the unit cube with vertices at the eight possible binary vectors in three dimensions, the following set of numbers of which there is seven, but the seventh was missing and you are left with the six numbers sequence, which may or may not be symbolic of the 6 pointed star, I will read them in reverse as that is the flow (0, 1, 1) (1, 0, 1) (1, 1, 0) (0, 0, 1) (0, 1, 0) (1, 0, 0) (1, 1, 1) hexagon. So there you have it, the end figure of that sequence is 1, 1, 1 and first figure which is reversed in sequence is 1, 0, 0 which is not only computer coding but symbolic of the fall of the female and the disconnect from the Source. The last of the six numbers is 1, 0, 0, and all was left was man, woman and Source removed, and left man as a solo man, bound by the demons and also the moon. ROLL WITH THE CHANGES

So we are going back to the waters briefly as a lead into the next piece, and the oceans of the past. In the none too distant past, certainly not as far back as mainstream science tells us, there were other oceans or bodies of water and in particular between the Himalayas. At the time of the URS and Da'Arya continent there was another ocean, and a fairly large one that ran between the Himalayas. This was known as the Milk Ocean, and said to contain the elixir of life longevity the fake gods were all seeking. I suspect at this point in time 110K years ago, America which is now practically one land mass, with exception of the Mississippi River, was actually in 3 separate pieces. It is possible the fall of the moon Fatta moved all the plates around on this planet, as well as the second moon falling Lelia and the planet going off of it's axis. So, is there evidence to support the three parts of America in the past, yes and it is two fold. One, older maps depict the Mississippi being much wider than it currently is today, the ground for a distance on either side of the river is swamp and wet ground even today, so how did it close up? A land mass that was not connected to America's west coast crashed into the then west coast of America, which is now represented today by The Rockies, that shunted the original west coast further East and closed up the wider Mississippi, we know today. The Rockies for anyone who has been through and or observed it, shows clear signs in parts of a push upwards of the land mass, whereby on the west side of the road a mountain is sloped upwards and east side is sloped downwards. This is clear evidence at several points along of land masses crashing into each other, and America's original west coast was just on the East side of The Rockies. Is there further evidence? yes again in The Rockies there are salt lakes and not just in Salt Lake city either, salt lakes and other lakes at 8-12K feet above sea level. The composition of the soil and more importantly the rocks has large elements of crustaceans buried in the rock and in the shale, how can you have shells just over a thousand miles inland, without that being a beach of sorts at one point in time? So the mountains moved and a new question arises from the myths of the past, to do with the giants that were here, there was not just one type of giant either, one was benevolent and one was not. In the Norse mythology and Ragnarok, it speaks of the gods fighting the giants to protect the Planet and the people from these beasts. Thor, Odin et al were the gods back then, not the god which is Source, but higher soul developed beings were called gods back then. They had extra technological skills, which is not entirely associated with just gods. There are a number of ordinary humans who have what are called supernatural skillsets, they are not supernatural at all, but inherent to us all should we develop the self. It is only called supernatural because it is rare here now with the genetic interference, the mind control manipulation and people seeking outside of themselves via religion, gratification and idol worship. These types of humans were predictably named in bad light in The Agents of Shield series, which upon close inspection is about the war between the Rothschild's Draco based clan and The Black Sun - Hydra counterparts, but they called them the inhumans. But then the way society has twisted words and meanings, perhaps inhumans which would be perceived by modern day meanings as meaning lesser than human, when it could well mean humans who went within, because if humans develop themselves from within, those abilities could be developed. They were fighting these giants back then, and also I learned recently they were fighting the fallen wolves group known as the Fenrir wolf, which also ties back into the moon cult we have uncovered in our shows. The Fenrir wolf was prophesized with killing Odin, and is referred to in the tale about that incident. In the east, an old woman sat in the forest Járnsviðr "and bred there the broods of Fenrir. There will come from them all, one of that number to be a moon-snatcher in troll's skin. Trolls it is said were not friendly to humans, along with their other counterparts dwarves and in particular, the elves. The description of a Troll, no not some Langley paid agent, was and means "fiend, demon, werewolf, jötunn", jotunns are declared as self appointed gods, who can appear in many forms, including humans, described as evil spirits that live elongated lives. In fact in the series Ragnarok the Jutul family are described as jotunns. All these beings largely reside in the Underworld, along with the Naga and serpent races, and have plagued humans for many centuries, with their dark magic connections and relations to and with the moon. The fenrir wolf is described as the wolves who devour the sun and moon, ultimately went on to kill and devour Odin as the prophecy had foretold. Depictions of this event can be found in Sweden, The Isle of Man and also Cumbria and Durham in England on ancient rune stones. But in one piece I researched, it stated many of these giants were slain and turned into stone. The question then raised is, did the giants become some of the mountains? Certainly their burial chambers can create mounds or small hills, because the idea of digging a hole and burying them deep enough for flat land is, or would have been quite an exercise in the past, particularly if one fell in covered brush. There is evidence of burials of these giants dotted all over the world, some ranging from 8 feet to 32 feet tall, someone 32 feet tall is not easily buried, because of the hole required, but the lifting power required to move them. But were the giants turned into stone and subsequently mountains, figuratively or literally speaking is what intrigues me and I will relay in this piece. There were a lot of giants roaming this planet at one point, what if they all died in one spot and rather than dig holes, they just poured soil and or sand over them to cover them up, this would certainly generate large hills if sufficient of them were buried beneath there. Remember someone in the past covered up the whole town of Gobekli Tepi, that has now been uncovered, what as yet to be uncovered is, the vast off world Metropolis in the Saharan desert, one day they will "accidentally" uncover it and it will be part of global Disclosure. Perhaps with the moving plates described earlier that the giants turned to stone, is because they were buried in regions where the mountains, that were created by pushing up the inner core of the planet and it had nowhere left to go, but up. Certainly now there is no evidence of the ancient ocean between the Himalayas except in fossil and stone records. But then this got me pondering and led me to another legend or myth, that could be an analogy but could also have elements of truth, as within and so without.

The story of Camelot, King Arthur as it is stated, when actually it was King Arth of the Urs, yes the URS and the Rus were in modern day Britain back then, when it was actually called Albion. The etymology of Albion it is said comes from albus, which means white, which is where the term albino originates. So, this tells you that modern day England was once the home of the great white race, and subsequently named the land after that race. We have all heard the legends of King Arthur and the Excalibur sword, those that could pull the sword out of the stone would gain magical powers it is said, but could it have a more symbolic and an internal meaning to that tale? There are various tales and claims by England, Wales and Ireland of owning this sword, my own personal opinion is, it wasn't just one sword, but there were several, to my knowledge and inner knowing there are at least 6-8 of these swords. All are slightly different in terms of colors, and also whether bedecked in jewels that match the color of the sword, and I suspect these swords are symbolic of soul level developmental growth, like a Source based badge if you will. The key is only the few can obtain the use of the sword, this is exactly the same frequency based concept of entering the ancient vaults, accessing the Quantum system, or entering certain mountains in Romania or the inner sanctuary of the Pyramids, as only those with the right frequency or intent can access those items or abodes. The same applied to the Arks, of which there is 7, not just the Ark of the Covenant, those that went near it when opened, like those going into the treasure vaults all died unless they had the right frequency, it is not a coincidence. I spoke recently about obtaining self mastery, with this piece that may make sense of this narrative. Is it not the case everything is inverted in life the same as the mirror? Life today is about things being external, when all is internal, on the external the focus of most people is the I and not the we, this leads to selfish agendas, life is all about me and others don't matter, the endless world of comparison and competition, that has so damaged us all. So on the external we are attempting to pull back the I and focus on the we, which is not an easy task as many of you have found out, it is not an easy program to break, but then we have the inversion on the internal aspects, as within so without. Internally we are programmed to be the we and not the I, which is the reverse of our external traits. What is the we internal he is talking about many will ask? the we is in the brain, the two dueling hemispheres, one says I want to do this, the other side says come on you are too old, too weak, you cant learn this, you can't do that, how many of you have said I would love to do this and then the excuses crops up in your brain of why you can't? I would love to go to a paradise beach, but the kids, the school, the time off work, the money and same applies to the projects many of you are working on, I can't take part in this project because blah blah blah, that is the limitation program installed into your brain, shutting it off is the key. So internally many face the problem of the dueling hemispheres which is the we, combining them it becomes the I, the I internally when mastered, makes the we externally far easier. Once you have mastered the hemispheres, the next stage of the trinity within the head is to merge it with the third eye, the single unseen eye, that sees more than the visual two eyes. Once that stage is complete, the next stage providing the throat chakra is not blocked, is the cord to the heart, that is where your abilities kicks in, as operating from there opens many doors physical and non physical, more senses than our basic limiting 5 senses, the real definition of the warrior with the sword manifests. The two brain hemispheres are the two side handles, third eye is the handle, cord to the heart is the blade. The blade like the mirror is double edged, use it wisely and it will serve you, use unwisely and it will cut you, that requires personal responsibility, many don't like the responsibility, and so why too few achieve their own mastery. People all too content to let others do for them, that means if things go wrong they have someone else to blame, that is why many rely on the government, but governments fail because the people didn't take responsibility, not because of politicians. Because you are responsible having selected them, to make them accountable, the people are responsible for the plight of the country and the government, and have neglected it, to allow someone else to take the blame. In essence the politicians, are the peoples sacrificial lambs to the slaughter program. People have become so frightened of failure, that it prevents them becoming who they should be, or what they want to do. So called failure is an opportunity to see where you went wrong, failure brings learning lessons, the same as mistakes, and remember a winner is a loser who got back up and gave it one more try. So the key to mastery of the self is internally the we must become the I, externally the I must become the we, external only truly becomes fully possible with the internal mastered, otherwise it is all an illusion, of what you believe you are doing, not what you are doing.

That piece spoke of gaining mastery over the self and obtaining the inner sword as just described, but as within and so without applies here, and where I am going with this. So the external story is about a man with the right frequency pulling a sword out of a stone, and our self mastery story has similar traits, of a man gaining the sword having obtained the right frequency, but here is where it all ties together. There is a common saying the person has the heart of stone, so the person has developed the self but now has the heart of stone, and so the sword is trapped in the stone of the heart internally, mimicking the external Excalibur story. The moral is if you work on yourself all these great gifts and abilities will come to you, it is not supernatural at all, it is a natural event for our species, providing once you obtained these gifts and abilities you use them with ultimate personal responsibility. HELLO MY NAME IS HUMAN

Matter is created by creator beings, without the interjection of creator thought, there is no matter, we become what we create. All organic beings can create matter, so where there is non uniformity? non uniformity is just something not fully created is it not? Non uniformity is essentially chaos is it not, do we wish chaos or peace? Source strives for order(ly) not chaos, Source is patterns, if patterns are misaligned like the Dr. Emoto water experiment, chaos (which is the realm of the dark) takes over. I would argue the only one you can correct is yourself, yes it is called balance, or 45/55, and all organic beings must strive to do that, it doesn't require an executive order to be in balance and at peace with, and within yourself, to then be at one with the Universe, and subsequently Source. A corrected and balance peoples cares not what politicians, cabal or clowns do, as their value, input and influence diminishes with each beacon lit up. The purpose of these shows is deconstruct their codes, they became the wordsmiths, which means an expert in words, and they have used those words against us in so many ways. As a reminder of the biblical scriptures that informed us all, they interfered with not only the words, but the languages with this piece. "Come, let's go down and confuse the people with different languages. Then they won't be able to understand each other" and this is further emphasis and proof, of the intentions, of this so called LORD. "And the LORD said to him, "Who gave man his mouth? Or who makes him mute or deaf, sighted or blind? Is it not I, the LORD?" nice chap he was - not. Yet so many blindly follow the words of the LORD, because your church won't read out those scriptures I have just read out in a Sunday mass will they? Zero chance of them questioning the official narrative, as it is to profitable to them is why. But shows like this and many others are deconstructing the words, which exposes the wordsmiths, or is it the Smiths words? just like the Matrix told you. Smiths words are statements only now, they contain no facts as their codes no longer work like they used to. Their codes and words had no real understanding, and that was a deliberate ploy to keep us all in the dark. But now we are changing that heavily and they are losing not only their codes words and meanings, but their whole narrative of statement based scripts, that not only lied to us, but themselves as well. I will end with this piece I said a month or so ago and plays into the sword and self mastery piece just done, and perhaps now you will have a deeper and greater understanding of it. The Key To It All -- is not fighting the system in a direct way. Society teaches you to do that, or "educates" you to do that. You fight the Self to change the system, Mastery of Self weakens the system. The system relies on you to feed it. Why keep doing it? It is not extreme and is more than words. MORE THAN WORDS
