

THI-SHOW TRANSCRIPT 2020-09-15

2001 A SPACE ODESSY Tonight's show will be a mental rollercoaster and may require a number of listens to get a grasp of it. We have done many booming must listen to shows and many Thursday ones as well this past year or so, given the feedback I have been receiving each week. We have done many groundbreaking shows, some enlightening, some brutal, some deep pondering but all cathartic. This is not only an increase in your knowledge database, but what you should commend yourself with is, the ease in which you received and accepted fairly controversial statements and narrative, that too few are willing to take on. You have all come so far in not only grasping the information but understanding it, as dot after dot now is getting and being connected, to allow for the bigger picture to flow and be seen. This show will test you again and will tie together 5 or 6 different topics covered in our shows over several years, into a package you will be able to have a greater understanding of. Don't be too harsh on yourselves if it doesn't sink in at first, there is much to take in and absorb. The interconnectedness of it all, will be hard to sink in from an audio perspective, and I have prepared a drawing and some pictures to aid you with a visual aspect of it. This is a full re run of the Two worlds become three, with small updates within it, with a much expanded piece at the end to tie more dots in, and allow a bigger picture to emerge. COME SAIL AWAY

When two worlds become three? We have explained in the past the mobius loop and how they did it, and wrapped humanity, other beings and this planet into a perpetual harvesting loops, that played the movie Groundhog Day over and over for 78K years. For visual terms it is like the egg timer, as the sands of time passed through. With an egg timer when it first starts, it begins to filter through slowly, but as it gets lower down the top vortex and near the twist, which is the void, where all and nothing exists, it begins to speed up. We are near that void now and it is why time is now appearing to speed up. The key to the void is, which brings in the 3 days of darkness or 10 days has some have prophesized is, when in the void you turn on your light or beacon. It's the darkness before the dawn, until you turn on your own sun and light the way. What does he mean our own sun? as above so below, as within and so without is the meaning of that. Essentially as you started the egg timer, a sequence of events at the beginning would take say 1.5M years, the next ring of say 1M years, all those sequence of events in the 1.5M time span, would now take place within 1M year time span. So, as you go through the rings the events that took place globally and in sequence, is now unfolding in a shorter and shorter time span. (*1 see below) I first warned of this back in 2017, that the following years would feel like time has sped up, and that time would make less sense. Now the egg timer visual just happens to be the same as the Earth energy cycle grid, open funnel at the top and narrowing at what is known as the void, the singularity or the twist, gate or gatekeeper which I will explain later. As above so below, so below the narrow funnel on the Northern Hemisphere at the equator, there is a narrow funnel that gradually gets wider to an open funnel to the Southern Hemisphere. So, if Earth has an in built egg timer shape which is a vortex either side of the equator, in life, Earth and Space you always find repeating patterns, and this is how I helped save Kim potentially hundreds of hours of work with the now KIMS system, as once you see a pattern, it always repeats on many levels. So, this brings us to stage two, the Earth itself being in a vortex within it's own time/space, that is not fixed as our calendar year has changed at least 4 times in the past. Starting out at 13 months of 20 days and a year span of 260 days, in the past the final date was December 21st, and the year started in March, not January and the evidenced of which is, the months September through December are all named after numbers Sept through Decem, is 7,8, 9 & 10 months. Our calendar and year of course is now 365.25 days per year, the .25 every 4 years creates of leap year and added onto February. Picture 1 Some of you who I have met and did the drawing of this will now understand this next part better as I described it with a visual I drew out for them and explained it in detail. Everything in the Universe is made up of a frequency wave, light and sound are frequency waves, but how those waves interact then builds chemical and alchemical reactions, or mutations of the waves to create something new, if you over lap the waves it can produce an effect which we know today as holographic. A hologram is just an overlay of the same picture or scene replicated in slightly different orientation. So now we will look at the visual aspect of the show to aid you in understanding this more. If you now look at drawing A you will see the organic wave and how it starts at the bottom and goes up. If you now look at drawing B you will see the inorganic wave and how it starts at the top and goes down. The two waves may look the same, but how they interact means they are not. If you look now at drawing C, you will see how both frequency waves interact, one goes up and one goes down, intersecting waves and in this state creates distortion. Look at the waves in an ocean, the wave goes up and then down, not down and then up, hence the term rise and then fall. (*2 see below) If you look at drawing D, it is drawing C turned 90 degrees, this now also is representative of your DNA sequencing, like I have said patterns always repeat on many levels. If you look at drawing E it is a smaller section of D and now becomes the figure 8, which looks like the egg timer analogy given earlier. Drawing F is the up and down vortex described earlier. In the middle of E and F there is a line at the center, on the left is west, and on the right is east, these are the gates described also in the Yellow Rose of Texas videos. Now the top part of the figure 8 or vortex in terms of time is around 13K years, when added to the bottom it becomes 26K. For ease of reference I will say 13 and 26K years, but it is really 12960 and 25920 as referenced by Kevin in our group. (*3 see below) This corresponds with the Mayan calendar, which is the most bizarre thing for sleepers and non thinkers alike, because no one asks of how they developed or created that clock? If someone decided to mark the time on that clock say day 1, and it took 26k years to complete, and it would take another 26K years of monitoring to realize there is a pattern, and another 26K years to confirm the pattern, so that clock in and of itself for an earth human observer to create, would take 78K years to build. Take note of the 78K years part for later as that will come up again, but the modern day churches, archeologists, theologians and philosophers, backed by clown operators like Darwin, insist for the most part that life was only started 6K years ago. This despite Gobekli Tepe being 11k years old and the pyramids 25k years old minimum, and the Sphinx is older again, and if you think our current civilization of hunter gatherers built either of them, think again because that conspiracy theory makes no sense. There are also Sphinxes in Rumania and Northern Egypt. Back to the egg timer and as the sand drops from the top and spirals towards the void, if you are in the sand falling the east is on the left and west is on the right, but what happens if you flip the egg timer back up? with you in the sand from the bottom now right side up, east is on the right and west is on the left. Could this possibly be explained by pole shifts in the past? what about the talk of the sun rising in the west and not the east in the past also, what if it happened every 13K years? or maybe the 26K years cycle? The way out is east, where to, I will reveal in next part, the west is back into the loop again and a repeat cycle. So what if every 13k years they revolved the vortex and what was north now became south and vice versa? What was on the left is now on the right and the west gate becomes the popular and only path to take. Now as I understand it, this planet and system has been in 6 loops and each loop is 13k years, which is the top half of the egg timer or vortex, which is also half cycle of the Mayan calendar, and if you do 6 loops of 13k years, you then come to the figure I mentioned earlier which is, 78K years. Coincidence that the minimum time to create the Mayan Calendar is also the time length of the 6 loops of 78K? I think not, so this tells me whoever gave the Mayans the calendar, was also giving them the time that we would be trapped inside the loops, and up to us to decode it. I decoded it around 2013 and 2014 time and released parts of it in shows over time since, I also got downloads of the drawings A through D to work out and make sense of it all, around 2013 as well. So, when you go back to drawing C, what you are seeing is a succession of figure eights on it's side, these are the loops. Picture 2 Now what popular new age program has this same symbol? is said to be of peace and happiness, the figure eight on it's side and known as the Mobius Loop. But the Mobius loop is not a free flowing energy stream, it passes through an intersection where the void is, and it can be changed, flipped, reversed or siphoned, depending on your perspective. So why is it called peace and happiness symbol, well perhaps the word games applies to the first word, is it peace PEACE or is it piece PIECE? Happiness is for those at the gate or known as the Gatekeepers as they harvest all the energy flow, and as a pattern always repeats, the gatekeepers of the banking system harvested all that energy also. As above so below, as within so without. Also the Mobius loop is defined only by a 2D representation of it and so it looks all flat and like a racetrack, but in 3d the intersection is elevated and tipped to one side, likely the west, and perhaps this can explain why it is said humans and angels alike fell? So, this is where I feel people are tricked with a 2D representation of the mobius loop, members in Utah saw the 2D trick the moon and sun plays also. To acquire any flow of correct energy or frequency, you must have a clockwise motion to do so, how can you know or have a clockwise motion on a Mobius loop? Where is the beginning? where is the end? what is up? what is down? what is east? and what is west? The answer is you can't, and the error is seeing it in a 2 Dimensional format. This is what has gone on within so many alt media circles, via new age, religious, wiccan, druid and Celtic circles, they have often reversed the flow and or the spell into something nefarious. Whether through lack of knowledge or by devious means, the result ends the same and this is helping the dark forces. In many cases they reversed the spell of dark symbols being represented as light symbols, and vice versa. Then we have the light and dark symbols, stating one is light and one is dark, the classic example being the yin and the yang. Most people view that as black and white and duality, yet always miss the triality portion of it, as both sides create a whole, and a ring around both, making a circle, which then binds both. It is the ring or the circle that binds, just like the wedding ring, there is a reason they tell you to put the wedding band or is it bind on the fourth finger of the left hand, that digit connects to the heart, so the wedding ring binds the heart in essence. Just like the Lord of the Rings, which is now Rothschild's, formerly Solomon, and we will see another ring that binds later in the show. The Blue, Red, Black and Green rings are all binding the people who wear them to the Dragon groups, and their reptile or serpent overlords, that reigns above them particular groups. Yin and Yang are symbols of Rahu and Ketu and both are dark forces bodies, but the true yin and yang is the balance, it is also a symbol of man and woman in sexual and relationship union, the 6 and the 9, if outside of time, the circle is the Source, and so one on one with the one. Another example of this, perhaps the biggest of which, is the word magic, both are not for our benefit, neither light or dark. Magic is achieved by using an external source with which to accomplish the said magic, mostly the dark based djinn realm who carry out the magic tricks and spells, but it comes at a price, always at a price. Those who gain from it pay heavy costs not always recognizable to begin with, but later most definitely whether this lifetime or their future lifetimes. Spells and contracts, like covenants and testaments are all binding agreements, of which too few comprehend and even fewer understand. If you wish to really understand magic and it's consequences, with elements of the loop and reincarnation thrown in, view Once upon a time on Netflix, it is a long series 7 seasons I believe, but each season reveals more and you will end it with a greater understanding of it.

Over more recent times I received the download of the one on one with the one, and stated it has many connotations and revealed some of them. The male and female with Source was the main example, where the male archetype and female archetype was connected directly to Source. But after the fall of the female and another binding ceremony of being contracted to the moon, along with Lilith and the Kali Ma worship. Picture 3 This got me pondering again and I looked into the trajectory of space travel from Earth to the moon, and lo and behold it is the same figure 8 or mobius loop. But the one on one with the one also applied as a rival to binary style code, which had other implications for computing and also quantum systems. With the female fallen the code read 1-0-1, but with our cut off from Source it read 1-0-0 and more binary code and not trinary. When all was in alignment we had the drawing labeled G, two pyramids as above and so below, which is essentially the inner space of the drawing labeled F and inverted, the male on the top, the female on the bottom, which is reversible. But with the female fallen they called it the fall of man, and by man it means both genders, and so with the man falling, the top pyramid slipped half way down the female pyramid, and you are left with drawing H. Drawing H looks familiar of course, it is the Egyptian, not Israeli 6 pointed star that signifies the fall of man. Recently we revealed who led to the fall of man, as the 6 pointed star is the flag of that constellation, Alpha Draconis, the Draco. Why would the Egyptian or Israeli groups have the same symbol that represents the fall of man, because the entities and in part humans connected to those groups, are the very ones who led and contributed to the fall of man here is why. I call them the Hebrew Annunaki group, but which variety of Annunaki were they? the reptile group. There was 5 groups in total, 2 humanoid, 1 Avian not blue chickens, 1 insect group and the reptile group. That same symbol is what is placed on Solomon's ring, so why did Solomon have this symbol? Because he danced with the dark and their demonic entities is why, and they ruled over man, is what that is stating. Solomon, Herod, Indian cultures, Native tribes, Celtic and Druidic tribes all followed the same practice of the sacrifice of humans, to these dark forces "gods". These are your gods and Lords within the Bible and other scripture writings, it becomes more obvious as you read through the scriptures with an open mind, and the possibility of these gods not being our real god or Source. Solomon, like Moses, like the 6 pointed star, like Herod and the Israelites all came from Egypt and the Cult of Ra, which was preceded by the Lucifer inserted jet black race in India and parts of Africa, poisoning people with their voodoo, and ritual burning sacrifices of humans. The word Holocaust is symbolic of their rituals, it means burnt offering, the burnt offering was human and some animals, which was then offered to appease the gods. The question remains is, what god would do that to his own creations? Voodoo whilst it also appears to be genetic based as well, is in part aligned with the magic game mentioned earlier. Which religion celebrates the fall of man by worshipping Lilith, half woman half serpent, remember the Lord sending down fiery serpents for the peoples walking through the desert with Moses, which is a title not a name, connect the dots to Lilith and the serpents. Which religion shows and states such disdain for all men, women and children that are not part of their cult? The answer to both questions is, The Talmud and what is known as the Jewish Religion, but these people practicing this are not Jews, and perhaps in some cases, not human either. The 6 pointed star also played a role in the old banking system, and by old I mean since the past 4 years that old system has been destroyed and a new one is currently being built. The new system of which will not be ready until the right conditions or intentions on a few levels prevail, currently those conditions or parameters are not in place, that includes the current Trustee as well. The whole banking system was a 6 pointed star, like the ring of Solomon, both are ran or owned by Rothschild's family, but not for long it won't. It is not a coincidence that the Rothschild family DNA contains the most reptile DNA on the planet, think Draco. Given they and their biblical gods and lords have ran this planet for 16500 years, not the Rothschild's that is the more modern version per se, bearing in mind the Rothschild's is another title and not family name either, and with the peace treaty in place from 2016, what has changed? Well, technically humans are now in charge of this planet, but in have come 2 or 3 races to stake their claims again on the human race. The details of which will be in the next section of this show. LET MY PEOPLE GO Back in time, 26 different races seeded humans via genetics with their genes, this was for the sole purpose of ownership of those humans and the parts of the planet they occupied. The irony of the word just used sole SOLE is indicative in pronunciation terms, as many off world came here for the soul SOUL as well. Their ultimate goal for their host possession game is, to find out how to place two souls in the one vessel, to date they have failed. Even a woman carrying a child does not contain the second soul, the soul enters at the point of delivery as I understand it. This goes back to the geneticists of Atlantis and likely Antlantis also, there was not just one event or time period of that name. They started to meddle in genetics and we ended up with humans with differing DNA, and also cross breeding of species that are declared as myths, known as Chimera, half man and half beast. The world of misinformation will tell you these were myths, and yet are there not examples of these Chimeras all over the hieroglyphs in, Egypt of course. Half man half bird, half man half spy, erm I mean cat, half man half goat, half man half dog, half man half crocodile and the list goes on, and as was shown recently half man and half horse in China, which is likely why the Rus built the great wall. Are we to believe these ancient pharaoh's indulged in fancy dress at all ceremonies, or where these entities actually real. Yes, they are and were real. Another chimera is half man half bull, then we have the term papal bull, which mean Father Bull is god, and then they tell you to believe and buy into the buy bull book, all in the words once you decode it. Bull is a representation in the sky of the constellation Taurus, it maybe indicative where those entities originated from. Here is something else to ponder on, what if your star sign is where you originated from? has anybody asked why do we need star signs for our birth date? Why are we born under constellations outside of our solar system? and in some cases outside of our own galaxy? So, with the peace treaty now in place interference between non human and human is declared out of bounds, and yet some of the interference here persists, and seems like the Council wants to do little to stop it or is washing it's hands of it. For all those waiting on Pleiadians, Arcturians and other alleged benevolent beings including the Avian group, and no they are not blue, that was a fictional story made up by Corey Goode and his wife, and Wilcock despite knowing it was fake, went along with it for multi thousand dollar deals with the coven based show, known as Gaia TV. Anyone appearing on that show, or giving that site money is paying for the covens to damage more humans with their dark magic tricks. Period. All those waiting for the ET's to save and help us, they have all been involved at some point in this genetic ownership of humans game, and we have to be ultra careful of what their real motives are, to date none overall have served us well. That doesn't mean they are all bad in every species, but their top echelons have all ran nefarious programs on us and many other beings over a prolonged period of time. Space brothers and sisters may all sound lovely and family like, but as we all know, family members are often the ones that damage you the most. But what if having lost the contract with and on humans recently, with the peace treaty, the question to ask is, is there a potential for them to run another of their genetics control games on us? Using largely ignorant humans and their consent to anything, without knowing or realizing the consequences. We don't have to look far or too deep for that potential happening in an up and coming event do we? Some are saying or thinking what does he mean? think Covid, think vaccines, think DNA manipulation, think off world skullduggery. It's all there, and all are potentially another round of consented contracts by default, due to a lack of knowledge and peoples inability to think for themselves, and propensity to follow all orders from authorities who have no interest in us whatsoever. Those you perceive as being in authority, are mere puppets in a much larger game and scale. Your police, legal system, Governments, Bilderberger's, Trilateral, 300 Committee, Agency clowns and Military all declared to be the lead authorities, except they are not and have never been anywhere near the top of the authority tree. In fact most know less about the bigger picture than all of you who listen to our shows. So, now we go deeper and the main reason for this extra show, and will possibly be a first to reveal it in this format, and will require deep thinking and pondering on. First we have to go back a bit and my explanation back in 2015 of the two worlds, which I said applied on a few levels not just one, like I said find a pattern and it always repeats. People back then were a bit bemused of the two world theory, but over time have realized what it meant and entails. In fact many of you have made comment of one aspect of it becoming crystal clear, since the lockdown was imposed. The two worlds applies to two separate Earths in the physical and non physical realms. We have the physical Earth which we are upon, and the astral/etheric Earth which many on this planet inhabit also. The Native Americans describe this as dancing between two worlds, the latter of which is in part the spirit world. Again the spirit world is said to be of benefit to many, and again we have found that out to be more misinformation. The dance with the fallen spirit world leads to lasting and damaging implications for those who seeks it via drugs or plant potions, throw in rhythmical spirit dancing, along with mandala's and chanting, all leads the participant down a dangerous path, some never recover from. At the very least it takes years to wind back the damage of drugs and plant potions, longer if the entities attach and stick around a while, and it always contains remnants within you following the use of those drugs or potions. The Mandela effect is easily described when you apply the two worlds narrative to it. What this means is that the two worlds are not exactly the same, only similar, it can also be seen as two separate time lines as well. People often experience these mandela events and often pass them off as themselves having an off day, forgetful, absent minded or perhaps going nuts, no, you have witnessed the two worlds. Often in the dream time you visit a place familiar to you in the wake time, but it is not exactly the same is it? Something's are out place, people within that scene don't match to the event, time or place and it is passed off as vivid imagination and strange or bad dreams, but what if they are not? What if your dreams are real? I think most who listen to this show are now familiar with the fact they are more real than previously thought. Strange entities and beings attended them, strange worlds also, including the purple sky planet, with the red ring around it like Saturn. The plant world with infinity pools and satyrs, the castle on the hill with the Elvira looking woman, and the gold ziggurat world with their dungeons, some of that list may have triggered deep memories within you, it was meant to, happy pondering on them. Most of the strange entities in your dreams are dismissed as not real, but you cannot imagine something that doesn't already exist, I will repeat again, you cannot imagine something that doesn't already exist, ponder on that as well. The two worlds can also be described on another level, those who think and those that don't, those of higher vibration and those with lower vibration, those awake and those asleep are all other examples of the two worlds. You could also throw in, those who are organic and those who are inorganic, those who are human and those who are bots/synths or host possessed, all examples of the two worlds and also the duality. But have we pondered on what is the triality aspect? Before we delve into that, we have to go back again a bit of the one on one with the one, this has a few components to it as stated, male and female with Source, but it also applies with the Quantum System when implemented correctly. But can one on one with the one apply to the two worlds theory and if so, how? We go back again and something that grew in popularity in the past decade, particularly amongst the new age circles and their largely woo woo rhetoric, that of the new Earth. In those circles it is stated that we would all be transported in vast tin cans or teleported to this new 5D Earth world, and the non-love and light people would be left behind. Few things wrong with that, the spirit/soul/vessel can travel anywhere with the right frequency and soul development instantaneously, without the need for tin cans. Even with light speed travel in tin cans, it often requires cryogenics to accomplish travel from one star system to another. That is the main mode of travel until the celestial needles are returned, that requires the collection and placing of specific crystals by a person(s) of higher frequency, when that happens this planet and its inhabitants, are then connected directly and instantaneously to 4 constellations for travel. But has anyone stated what or where is 5D? why is it presumed it will be all love and light and fantastic on the new world? People by and large haven't fixed themselves on this world yet, too few have attained higher mental plane status and we need to correct that first, before traveling to and messing up other worlds, with our child like thinking. Those thinking they are going to 5D are immersed in an escapism, illusionary savior program. One final part to add to this before revealing the new theory, is we go back to the loops and the mobius loop system again, where we were trapped in that timeline and loop for 78K years. That loop system was ended in the time period of 2013-2014 and we started our descent into a different and differing field of frequency, vibration, time line, time/space, energy and path. We have all felt this in differing ways and also times during the past 9 years, and have gained an understanding of it all and our place within it. I said 9 years because 2012 was of course a much mentioned date, fear and doom merchants were out in full battle gear, espousing the end is nigh and the biblical Armageddon was coming and basically (were all going to die), except a dead man from 2000 years ago was going to rise from the dead and save us all again, what a conspiracy theory that is. But in essence they were in part right, but not for the reasons most knew. The first reason was 2012 was a cut off of a plan by Marduk and others, to harvest this planet and then destroy it, that was referenced in my first must listen to show, The Future of Humanity back in June 2013. Yes it coincided with the 2012 Mayan calendar as it is called, but suspect it is not Mayan at all, but off, on and in world controllers. At the same time another piece of technology which they used for their advantage was, the Looking Glass tech. A looking glass is a mirror, all about the mirrors look at it, not in it. Which when observed of the possibilities of what could happen, who are the potential players and what are the scenarios, if 11 of the 12 who used that device, predicted an event or person, there was a 90% plus chance of that event or persons having an effect. Both Kim and I were flagged in the Looking Glass tech as potentials for certain events or actions, according to Kim, this then allowed them to monitor, interfere or target by suspicious methods. I suspect they thought they could control or cajole Kim into their ways and methods, and that likely worked for a bit, as I think Kim was lured in by the title of the Trustee at first, until she started seeing things that didn't fit and that ultimately led her down a different path and then to working with me and others. But in 2012 the Looking Glass tech failed and that device no longer works, and I covered that in The Future of Humanity as well, as to why things would improve much as time moves on or even up. The Looking Glass was showing static from 2012 onwards, that tells you it is not in the right frequency zone, and something else I referenced in that show, not the same timeline or time/space either. We and this planet were on the move and none of their tech or major plans would no longer work I stated back then, I think many now see that as a proven statement. Kim since this original show has gone on a different path, she believes they are still using the Looking Glass tech, which does not exist in our world or timeline. Perhaps that also means neither does she? if she is witnessing and engaging events of the old and former world, which to all intents and purposes, ended 2012. Clowns will and have always try to repeat programs and plans, but they will all fail and have failed as they will just not accept their time is up, and a new way and path is waiting to unfold. Essentially at the end of 2012, our time had come. OUR TIME

So, now having gone through the background of the loops, mobius loop, vortices, how energy flows, one on one with the one, two worlds, time clocks, Looking Glass tech, we now arrive at a new theory and it is up to you all whether you believe it, see it or experience it. But first some questions: How does the one on one with the one apply to the Earth itself? How can you explain repeated time, events, people and timelines? How can you explain time travel? Is time travel available elsewhere, is it available here? With regards to the last question, no we don't have time travel devices here, and any attempt to build one will come with severe consequences, for those involved in it and the devices or buildings making it. We do not need time travel, as the only people who benefit from those devices are, the dark forces. The past is the past, and should be observed only as lessons for the future, changing the past never alters the eventual outcome even within the recorded loops. The Mandela effect will kick in and will change landscapes and players, but the outcomes within the recording ultimately end up with the same effect, I have come to that conclusion after I have spoken to many people who have experienced all the 6 loops. Their path, roles, genders may have changed over time, but the suffering, perhaps karma and outcomes where all were singing from the same hymn sheet, until they changed themselves. This timeline is about correcting your own past, not only this life time but your past lifetimes, with the added feature this time to correct family lines, some family lines will not be going forward in the next phase. Why is it the younger generations of the elite family lines, don't wish to carry on the dark psychotic behavior of the parents, grandparents and ancestors? because that time is up is why. A long time in the past there was an event on this planet, where high end tech was deployed and this planet and it's mother was split in two, it is suspected it was related to the destruction of Tiamat, but not confirmed, and no, Tiamat was not all love and light either. Humanity was in much pain, wars largely not connected to us and more to do with other beings was ravaging the planet and humans were offered a deal. That deal was a trap, the humans would go into suspended animation known as sleeping pods whilst they prepared the "new Earth", but A: it was not new and B: it was not for our benefit. Upon awakening the human took what is described in the series The 100, as the city of light pill. In essence this pill is a memory wipe, no pain, no trauma, no guilt, no shame all erased by this pill, and most took it as a way of not dealing with the current conditions. This is not a pill per se, but technology. Temporarily it may bring relief and I am sure many of you have faced that situation in this lifetime, and wanting a pill to take everything away, in essence this is why people do drugs and alcohol to excess, they are placebo city of light pills, but of a shorter duration. But as you all know, it doesn't take away the pained emotions experienced for long, and the high is followed by the enormous low, until you repeat the self abuse again, and the hamster wheel cycle is continued. But the only way you are cured of your bad memories and emotions is, you doing the work, all other ways are a masking of the problem, and all problems return unless they are dealt with. This is why THI has focused heavily on the shadow and inner work, many in our group have, those that haven't become more obvious to you now, as you have developed more of the self, the more you will see. It is painful to view those that haven't, and the great desire is to help them, but you can't help people who won't help themselves, it becomes an exercise of ultimate futility. No one can do shadow work for you, only you can do that, the protector in me tried to do that with some people in my life over the years, and they are now departed from my life. I tried to shield them, glossed over their inner issues and in effect facilitated their own internal failures, that was wrong on my part, and ultimately they fell within themselves when it caught up with them, and moreso after my input was withdrawn. I take responsibility for that, but I cannot and will not accept their behaviors and lack of their own work, that is down to them, and for them to correct or face the consequences of not doing so. Whilst humanity slept, the dark forces presented as the saviors went about playing their games at our expense. What essentially happened at that time period was, humanity was placed in a 10K year sleeping pod cycle, yet experienced being missing for a few hours. This allowed the controllers to gain technological advantage in terms of mechanical technology and also our own inner technology workings, by mapping the DNA and our inner working mechanisms which is very different to other species, despite the most common vessel in this Universe being of a humanoid nature. Most species were light years behind us due to our creativity, and so with a 10K year gap, they were able to stifle our growth and develop themselves more with the ultimate goal of enslaving us. So in real terms when we leave this world we are 10K years into the future, hence the need to future think. So, how does this all fit in? whereby we tie in the mobius loop, the two worlds, frequency overlays, time and our possible future. Well the first clue was the mobius loop looked at in 2 Dimensional aspects, but it is not flat, and the space in the middle is and was not flowing at all, but it was twisted into a knot. Which created a locked door and an open door effect, the locked door is in essence the east gate, the open door and follow the false light and enter the reincarnation loop chambers along with memory wipes, was in effect the west gate. This is symbolic of the letter N or the wave motion we described of the left hand path which has no gate and is decorated with the false luminaries, known as the Illuminati. Left hand path is west, right hand path is east, it is the same concept. The Illuminati have been duped as well, just saying, although they are so filled with their fake titles, pieces of paper with numbers on, materialistic items, alleged superior blood and DNA and their own self importance, they struggle to accept it at this time, and they fight on not for control, but for their own demise. One day they will realize that fact, and it is all of their own making and stupidity. So with the two worlds trapped in the mobius loop, connected by etheric and astral cords, mired in spinning around the hamster wheel of life, it is no wonder the planet and it's inhabitants descended into savagery and out of touch with reality. The savagery is because they made man like them, them being the Draco. They say the definition of insanity is repeating the same things and expecting a different result, this is an analogy of the loops, it was the same 13k year sequence repeated over and over again. We at THI are charting a new path of not repeating the old world path, thinking, programs and ways, by creating a vision of a new way that is inclusive of all, those who wish to remain exclusive will continue to flail and fail, of which many of you now are witnessing in others for yourselves. But you can get outside of the mobius loop and time, providing you develop the self, you can be outside of the system, outside of time and observe and react accordingly from the mental plane cords. From that position you can "see" the bigger picture and work out the puzzles of life and people. Some may say the observer can be judgmental, but that is self reflective commenting, as to be able to observe the wider picture, you have to have gone within enough to develop those skill sets. Without those skill sets you are stuck in the fog of time, and the repeat looped pattern behaviors. There is a big difference to observing and absorbing, those absorbing think the observers and subsequently those who have developed themselves to be able to do that role, become the target of those not developed enough via shadow work, or mired in the 3D loop of competitive and comparative mindsets. So, humanity got stuck in these loops with a twisted knot at the center, the knot is the void, the singularity, it is all and it is nothing, and that field comes down to you and your choices, but those choices were given and also taken away. How did the loop knot? well our motion in following our star is not a circular orbit, but a spiral dance trailing behind it, and so the knot got tighter until a solution to unlock the knot was developed and then carried out. All the characters, players, time and timelines needed to be in order to achieve this task, and 2013 through 2014 provided that opportunity and the knot was undone. Essentially 2012 was the end of the cycle and then a new phase was about to unfold, we will repeat the cycle or end it, we ended it and that is why the Looking Glass failed after 2012. So, what happens next you may all ask? well at the time there was a number of potentials but none were proven or definitive.

In the past few years I have been shown many visions and scenarios, of which many came to fruition in 3D. One vision showed me and someone else, on what at the time I thought was the same world, it appears later it was the two separate worlds. The two of us were each holding a chain to a planet that was Earth, with the same visual of the Earth you would get from a craft in satellite level orbit, you would see the whole Earth. I was holding onto the chain and was told to let it go, I was reluctant to do so, as I did not have the understanding or bigger picture at that juncture in time. I fought it initially and then let go and the Earth fell away into the distance and went into a dark void or portal. I think the other person let go of their chain as well as the Earth fell and ultimately disappeared, but did not see that actually take place. The pain, the sorrow and sense of loss was enormous within the vision state and was replicated in 3D waking time as well. There was a sense we had lost the battle for and of the planet, but that was quickly overcome as I processed it all and came to another realization. Well the bulk of us are all still here, even with that Earth fallen away, but at the same time pondering on why I was still seeing and visiting another Earth, and why we still had two worlds? So, I went deeper and gained more understanding, more pieces to the puzzle arrived in many forms, and a new picture started to emerge. I put more pieces of the puzzle together and was asking the right questions and got some answers in return, but some I had to make sense of myself, when the time was right. I was drawn to watching a series called Dark and although it is not a riveting series in many ways, I knew there was clues within it, which would lead me to a conclusion. That conclusion is, there is not two worlds but three worlds, and I started frantically writing stuff down in volumes my thought processes, solutions, ideas and all the possibilities it brings. One word triggered my puzzles altogether and that word was trifecta, see picture 4, and image posted into the chats. I and we had focused only on the loop worlds and the mobius, but by developing the self onto the mental planes you can be outside of the loop and time and "see". I said more would "see" in 2020 and we have, based on the levels each person is viewing from and levels of development and understanding. Last year a new vision emerged and I saw a similar vision of another planet falling and this one was on fire, it was charred and still burning in certain regions of it. I did not get same emotions that I had with the first vision and was kind of comfortable with that falling and that vision, which suggested my theory was now coming into view. See picture 5 and that is the triquetra in 2D form in 3d form it is not actually connected anymore to the untangled mobius loop, picture 1 shows that unlooping or the knot untied. People will say that is like the Celtic triquetra, which can be seen in picture 6, except in the middle there is a ring, which is the bind and also the contract.

Once you look closely like the yin and yang, their symbols always show the binding, yet many can't see it or miss it. In a recent show I mentioned about the Sirian world Khoom and it revealed this. A victim of the original battle between good and evil, Khoom was blown from its cradle orbit by those who created the Draco race, the reptilians who seek to dominate the galaxy and beyond. The creators of the Draco races came from another time and space. The first genesis of Lucifer, their name denotes the epitome of evil. Occupying the same physical location as Khoom, but at a different vibratory resonance, is a non-physical world governed by a council of nine beings known as the Ohalu Council. Occupying the same space but a different vibratory resonance, copy world overlay, just like the loops. The veils collapsing is also signifying the end of that or those worlds, and Midgard will be left to reign anew. That was part of the AI control system and was used against us, those involved were convinced they were doing something for the good, only to find out differently. That overlay is your AI sky god, people have not been praying to, but they were preyed upon, by some sky god with anger management issues who sits on a cloud. A cloud is a database collection service for the internet, an AI is a database collection service for the recording of humanity, are you getting the picture now? So, how do we make sense of all of this, well here goes. The third world is the real and organic world we all once inhabited, and maybe made a mess of? Via confusion, laziness, seducement or coercion we ended up on a copy world, which then split into two worlds, just like the Smiths in the Matrix movie. All the life and energy, that of which is organic is mired in with overlay frequencies described earlier which was inorganic, and we all danced in the soup of illusion and trickery. But some started seeing the new world, some even visited it, some oversaw the regeneration of it in readying for a future event. Let's go back a bit to the harvesting two worlds wrapped in a knot in the center, with energies spiraling on both sides, and suddenly the knot is released, what happens next? Well as both sides are descending the egg timer towards the center, the spiral down ward speeds up, this creates lots of tension at the knot and it builds up, and then as knot is released the energies conducive releases in a giant spurt and pushes out through the open door or gate, and then joins the new world, see picture 1 again for the visual. This is like a spark of creation and is also a replica of the what they call the big bang as well, an explosion of light, energy and consciousness pushes through into the higher densities and more conducive to higher development and evolution. The Source energies released added to the mix, and was in essence a filter system, think of it in terms of the wheat and the chaff. We have had and experienced a number of these filtering events over the past two years, and is preparation for an unfolding event as such. With the incoming G cloud and GNA which is best for organic life only, that collision will kick start a sequence of events and changes within you and around you. What will unfold one can only speculate on, no one is given the full details as that doesn't allow for free will and also interactions with it. No one knows the date either, no matter how many tell you that, via new age channelers and their bs scripts garnered from voice to head technology. Once the transition happens the harvesting machine and their technology to support that system will end once and for all, and can only be brought back by ourselves. We must learn the lessons of the past and build a better future for our species, many of which is contained within the guidelines of The Peoples Club. How to be, how to act, think and act different, caring and sharing, cooperative not conspiring, inclusive not exclusive, need not greed, helping each other and not playing the comparative competitive mind games, all as equals not in hierarchy, adult thinking not child like thinking, with egos in balance. Only when the bulk of our people operate under that banner, will we then be able to venture to the new world and new worlds out in space. Space is not the final frontier, it is and was our home. I'LL FIND MY WAY HOME

That was the original show When two worlds become three with some additions, but here is some additional material, these three pieces expand on the original, and what follows after that is new.

*1 Earlier in the show I mentioned things happening in a shorter and shorter period of time. The Mayans or Mexicans would call these the baktuns, the final baktun is around 13 years in duration, so all the events that originally took 1.5M years to complete, is now unfolding within a 13 year time span. Which then gives the impression that time is speeding up, as everything is happening at once. The Mayans believed that 2012 was the end baktun, but what if like the Day of the Svarog it was wrong by a set time period? Remember we mentioned recently the Maya are from India not Central America, and their ancestors were the Kali Ma, hence they did the human sacrifices. The three times the missing 8 years when added to the 1996, meant the Day of Svarog was March 21st 2020. In essence we got a confirm from the dark forces as on the eve of that day they launched martial law on the whole planet, which stupidly the people observed and adopted under the lockdown program. But, what if the final 13 years baktun was after 2012? this then brings up a date or year that has been mentioned several times in the alt media of, 2025. Remember the NASA data sheet about 2025 and America would only have around 100M people, not the 330M we have today. Certain datelines to do with the vaccines also several times brought us up to the year 2025. The year 2025 was also brought up a number of times in private conversations with Shane the Ruiner. Why 2025 people will ask? well just maybe it is the end of the Mayan Calendar and a new beginning? I warned a while back not all will make it, maybe the fact that not all who appear human on this planet, are. We have mentioned the 85-15% split, many didn't like it as it pertained to a potential great loss, I said time would tell on that, and it is your choice of whether that percentage gap is relevant or not. Evidence in the past 18 months from the start of 2020, the year I said we will "see" in 2020 vision, has sadly more than supported that hypothesis, and some feel it maybe lower. So it could well be the change of ages, timelines, transitions, old world ending and a new one beginning will unfold on or about December 21st 2025.

*2 Earlier in the show I said this: Look at the waves in an ocean, the wave goes up and then down, not down and then up, hence the term rise and then fall. This brings up another line I dropped into our show recently, and the falling in love, when it is actually rising in love. Love is a higher vibration, you cannot experience real love, which is a frequency, within a low vibrational field, you just convince yourself it's true, in reality it is not, we have been duped. But as always the pattern repeats once you learn to decode it. So what does that have to do with the waves? the inorganic wave falls, the organic wave rises. So, the fall in love is inorganic, the rise in love is organic, it can't get any simpler than that. Maybe we rise in "time" also?

*3 since the show was first aired and the 13k year calendar was dissected into it's proper numerical values, by our own members Kevin and Michael, the 13K years is now 12960 when totaled together equals 9, 13 equals 4 which is half of 8 and the full loop cycle of 26K years, which is an 8, is now 25920, which equals the 9.

Late last year I received this piece, that in it's own way confirms the visions I was shown since 2012. It also in essence describes what is unfolding now, as the old system desperately clings to their illusion of power. The reticence of the bot like masses to continue to wear the old worn out jacket, that no longer fits and bears many holes, can be observed by us in our world now, all too easily. It provides no comfort or protection from the winds of change or the seasons, just the illusion of it. People will ask why don't they shed their old jacket and acquire a new one, because that involves change, and that to them and their level of thinking, brings in the fear program. Those that won't change have their lives dictated to them by others.

Here is the piece from Mariusz Swede, interspersed with my comments and background knowledge to it. Reset 2020, reset 2024, 3 days of darkness, Armageddon, prophecy fulfillment, destruction of the world. T: Prophecy fulfillment is based on a plan, not a mystical event, but they were their plans, not ours. People based in fear will automatically be thinking now, well were all going to die, destruction of the world means the end of us all. Armageddon means a massive war and were all going to die, if that was your initial thinking, you operate in fear, not love. Armageddon is a battle between light and dark, is it a coincidence it is part of the Jewish culture and belief system? nope. The battle of light and dark is played out on the planes or dimensions, that can manifest in the 3D world if sufficient consent to it, not making a choice against it equals consent. This is a spiritual war, it is a war of the mind, war of the souls and war of the heart, you don't need bombs, guns and tanks for that war. But, the fear based people will say you said the destruction of the world? yes, and that has already taken place, did you die? Has lots of people died? Is the world in ruins materialistically? no!! The old world needs to be destroyed, it failed us all, but does that mean it is wiped out? or does it mean we can transmute it into a better world? So, did you the listener hear in fear, or in love? that is not a test as some will have reacted in fear, it is an opportunity for you to correct your thinking and stance. As an example your house was built in the 1920's, it is crumbling and falling apart, and eventually a decision is made to tear down the house and build a new one, is that not the destruction of the house, is that something to fear? no? then let go of the other fear then.)

M: There are more and more sensations about what awaits us. Most of them are based on old knowledge without knowing, that we are already new in different terms, time and world, where everything will be different. We are currently another civilization and according to old knowledge, we are just before the next Reset, i.e. the virus and the stop of the system are just covers for a bigger plan, and it's not even about vaccination or slavery, it's about non existence. This plan was launched in the spring, i.e. the absence of everything. The contractor of this is the program, artificial intelligence in the human body. It is Mr. Bill from vaccines, who is not human, but a super intelligent program with unusual intelligence and opportunities. There are many such programs that are incarnated into human bodies, and they are here to implement the plan of non-existence. The final play of the gods who opposed life.) T: That is the Black Sun plan, which we revealed in full in FRWL 8B.) M: The plan included all the scenarios shown in the films and to better understand it, you need to return to the Matrix trilogy, especially to the last part that talks about what is happening with candles now. Agent Smith is just a non-existence program that has entered the human body. He is the opposite of Neo, the opposite of life, the opposite of existence. The entire Matrix series is almost a documentary, and part 4, which is being created is kept a secret not to discover the next plan. Part 4 has been put back to the Winter Solstice this year.) T: not a surprise as that is a ritual and sacrifice day.) M: However, the plan of non-existence will not work, because on earth apart from Gods against life there is Gods of life, and there are you who understand this, the nonsense and fairy tales they write, and will not allow it, and will create real life on earth.) T: What the author maybe referring to here is, a switch to all organic life and out go the bots, part machine humans, for an example of it, watch the movie Extinction.) M: Something works if it's from behind the curtain, if it's revealed, it stops having the power of perpetrator. The plan of existence cannot be fulfilled, because it has already happened,... i.e. reset, 3 days of darkness and the end of the world. It was at the beginning of September 2020 when the earth stopped, the heart of the earth froze. The Creator did it in anticipation of all the plans of the gods who wanted to implement their vile plan. Why has nothing happened people will ask, when the earth has stopped, there should be disasters, the atmosphere should evaporate? It all happened and the world is gone, our lives, our prizes and our penalties are gone. The whole world we knew has ceased to exist, what our bullies wanted against us, the end of everything, but also everything they planned so exactly disappeared. The whole world has ceased to exist, and the current reality from one present second, has been moved to the beginning and we start over. We are new to something, but in reality from this second of the present, the moment the whole world ceased to exist. So nothing has changed for many, and yet everything has changed. There is a grave of the world we knew and a wooden gateway to the beginning. We have a new world, but the problem is that, before the new world everyone should clean up their mentality, but somehow it didn't work out for various personal reasons.) T: People didn't do enough shadow or inner work is why, those that have, will understand this piece more.) M: So we found ourselves in something brand new but with the whole old world mentality. I also had shown, that this old world with all this scare or fears of a person, stayed in his subconscious and to free yourself from fear, you need to go down to your basement and throw away all the stuff. That's all it takes, throw everything in the trash and there will be freedom. The old mentality also stayed in power, which continues to implement its plans without knowing that they no longer have tools or energy for it, all of their tools have been cut off in the old world. They don't know yet that further implementing their plans they will continue to drown themselves, and lose their energy of life and governments will fall apart with their plans. They have the only support for today from people who will be in fear and will think the same way, and because of his attention and fear they will draw the energy. But this man will lose his life and fall apart from cough. Those who will continue to pay attention to this whole illusion will die from a normal cough, colds, because they will be without the energy, because they have given it to the evil. A wake up man, know that something is falling apart, they feel the need to change their profession, life, change their approach and enter the role of the creator and create something completely different, and come to me and show everyone who he is, what talents he has and what to do. Those in power that are against life will now want to start everything at once.) T: That is called panic, why are they panicking? because I told you with the T shirts panic, People Are Now In Control. M: They know that their time is running out and the question is, how many people will continue to engage and support them. They still have the opportunity to turn a human against a person to bite themselves. Don't be provoked at home, on the street and in the shop. That's all that's going to happen will be movies, that will be exhausting from the energy of those who play, and those who make these films. Me and you no longer play in these films, and we are viewers and we are already making our film. You are the Creator, no one has power over you. This took place between September 2nd and 4th... After a world where humanity was in until September 2, 2020 a black hole left. ~ Mariusz Swede.

That is something describing the vision I was shown around 8 years ago, that has now manifested. That piece was not known to me at that time, but here is an excerpt of our September 3rd show 2020, that backs that claim up, who says we don't have intel in our shows? People are sick and tired of the restrictions and not buying into the fear anymore. They are losing the narrative now badly, expect a backlash of draconian measures following an incident or several. As Mr. Icke said we are living in historic times for the people of the world, and none moreso for the so called conspiracy theorists, branded idiots, nuts and cast out of families and society for having the temerity to be brave and speak the truth. But guess what? we have been proven right time and time again, and that is in spite of the real rogue elements that are riddled through 95% plus of the alt media as well. It is indeed historic and you should all be proud of your own participation in it. As the virus starts to turn back on the very people who implemented it, September 1st marks the downward spiral of the old system collapsing, all must participate in every way possible to push it on it's way. If Trump wont implement change, and Biden is a complete and utter waste of life force energy and is symbolic of the fall of the American empire, mute, incomprehensible, dodderly and impotent, then it is we the people that must facilitate and bring about the change. We are now in the most important time of this revealing year, the last month of which was deemed crucial and revealed to me in April of last year. The last month of 2020 which was deemed crucial, I said, but the multi titled person of naivety and no patience and criminal lack of understanding, made a power play to bring it forth to July of last year, and failed. The potential of that event was delayed at least a year due to her meddling. Speak up, speak out and speak within, the only people who are mad at you for speaking the truth, are those who are living the lie. We the people have had enough of lies and are now demanding more and more of the truth. The truth is brutal, unpleasant, painful and searching, but it is also cathartic, and long term beneficial for those who go through the lie barrier. That barrier is a major blockage to progress for all life on this planet, and it is one all must hurdle. We are on the precipice of a global shift in perspective, that to my knowledge has not been seen since the time of the Ur's and Rus maybe 110K years ago, certainly is a first in more modern history. An Earth shaking shift by the people that brings tears to my eyes, out of the slumber of being slaves into a new paradigm of speaking, acting and being in the truth. Message to the psychopaths, think tank groups, psychology departments, Intelligence Agencies, bloodline families, followers of the Cult of Ra, yes you the Masons and The Mormons, The Trustee and all Governments, it is time to down tools and accept the tide has turned and the people will prevail, come and join us in the Earth Restoration Plan. Message to Black Lives Matter quit acting like idiots and pawns of the olds system, throw away your black lives matter banners and rhetoric and come and join ALL lives matter. Message to all people quit with the fear and little me programs, you are the power, you are the solution and you are the savior. OPENING THE NEW WORLD · 'Songs for a New World' 2018 Encores! Whether it is Ra, Marduk, Ba'al, Apophis, Hathor, Isis or any other of those fake gods, we the people don't want or need them sullyng and denigrating our people and planet. But perhaps a warning to all people who may think these Egyptian pieces and fake gods are the past, a reminder of the two letters before many words re, notice they switch from Ra to Re, why because re means to return or do again. With that in context perhaps the Klaus Schwab plan needs a closer look, the Great re SET, are they planning the return of Set? Lets look at another prominent word for the Jewish shall we and is there a connection to something just mentioned? The Knesset, as the supreme state body, the Knesset is sovereign and thus has complete control of the entirety of the Israeli government. Knes means a nautical knot, like the earlier pictures, Set is a fake Egyptian god, so Knes set means tied by a knot to Set, in case your wondering where the nautical comes into it, perhaps the term to SET sail clarifies that. Their great Reset was the return of the gods and what I hinted at in that must listen to show in February of this year. They bet on the dark forces winning the galactic

and beyond war, and they would come back to finish off here and many other planets, they thought wrong. Much has been done and won on other levels, planes and dimensions, much has been won above, on and below in the physical realms, we all spend so much of our time residing in and on. The clean and clear up on and in this planet goes on at a pace, of much of what is happening in their world is not what it seems. What may seem bad may turn out good, and what may have appeared good will be shown in a clear format to not be the case. The whole thing is a theater show and Macron, Trump, Kushner and others playing archetype roles for and on behalf of these fake gods. The lead harvesting family on this planet via life force energy, known as money is one group of these entities, The Rothschild family line, all have the highest DNA of the reptile group, of which the Lord of the bible was one, Anu, and the control of energy exchange via The Trust was another, Marduk. I mentioned in the past it was not a rescue mission but a salvage mission, perhaps this last piece will connect more dots for you? The full scale rescue was a savior program, the salvage is what makes it real. Salvage, comes from salvable and is in reference to the souls, salve means to save from loss at sea, think maritime, salve is an anagram of slave, and so it's meaning can be the slave was saved from the sea. Savage in relation to persons meant to be reckless and ungovernable, well if you are drowning in the sea, you will become reckless. Remember the Dunkirk beach analogy from the show You are not 1's and 0's? perhaps that makes more sense now also. Ungovernable means they cannot control you, you are a free spirit and that is a good thing in life, but whilst being a free spirit means you have your own choices in life, it does not mean you can lack personal responsibility. Becoming ungovernable of the self is worse than be governed as a slave. In sanskrit sarvah means uninjured, intact and whole. Uninjured, intact and whole, and for that you can take great solace, pride and accomplishment to have survived the onslaught of darkness and emerged anew with the beacon of light shining brightly, and brighter than ever with less darkness to dampen it.

It is said that time is linear and only goes forward, but science has a habit of not revealing the truth, or they are blocked from learning or seeking the truth. If you draw a horizontal line on a piece of paper it can be seen as past, present and future. But there is an alternate line with which to travel and be and that is vertical time. The linear timeline is Chronos time and is governed by locks of the sea or C Locks, that is running as a marker in time, but each second is the now, you are never in the past or the future, only the now. Linear time is time to the trap, time is tie me to the Chronos, tie me to the loops trap. But if you draw a vertical line in the middle of the horizontal line, that is vertical time, or real time, magic time and no time. Real time because you are off the Chronos based conveyor belt of illusionary time. Magic time as you can see the past and the future and then dictate time, which the dark forces have used for their advantage and largely how magic works. People ask how does magic work? it is not how is works, but when. But no time is then allowing you out of the Matrix and a direct connection to Source. Time is the bind, the shackles, the C locks and the control system. How is it you can have the phenomenon of time speeding up or slowing down, if time is consistent? it can't and that proves the illusion of time and the Chronos trap. If you drew the diagram correctly it would be a plus sign, on the left can be seen as the past, on the right the future. The future is what is yet to be manifested by us, we are the creators, the past can be observed by us to manifest a better and brighter future, free of the manipulation of time. If you stand in the middle of the cross you have a choice to make, stay in the past or change and become the future. The past is on the left and is the west gate, the future is on the right and is the east gate or right hand path. Fear is on the left and change is on the right, which do you choose? Well, it's all in the words again, the term fear of change, so if you fear change you loop back to the left hand path, the west gate and you are back to where you started, in the loops. With the loops now down, it does not guarantee they will stay that way, all have their own choices and free will determines the path. It depends what is manifested by the individual, if you don't change it keeps you in the loops or the movie, remember old films were played on a never ending reel, it went forward and then went back to the start again, sound familiar? The difference this time is, not all will be corralled into the never ending past, as many of you have begun to "see" past the illusion, those people will go on and create the new future, not immersed or absorbed into the past. You will be outside of time and no longer in the movie, you are now your own producer, director and script writer. Standing still which is the concept of no change allows the Chronos linear timeline to move and it will reach an event point, and will repeat the past, think 1919 fake Spanish Flu, think 2019 fake Covid flu, his story always repeats until the lesson is learned. So, the key to your future is, change, change propels you onto the right hand path, the east gate and into the future free of loops. Being able to go to the vertical time allows you to make your choice easier, and that comes with self mastery and mental plane abilities. You are able to see all perspectives, just like the prism, which is not the single point of light. The single point of light, which is frequency, which is information only gives you one perspective of it, but if you go behind the point of light you will see 7 points of light, all from differing angles, so you can observe the frequency or information from 7 levels or is it 7 planes of existence? So what is the cure to fix our loopiness? embrace and be the change within yourself and with others who took the vertical path, which is the rise, not the fall. This plays into the 2 worlds which we embrace currently, holding onto the failed old world enveloped with and by time, endlessly looping back and forth, and wondering why things never change, it can't, because you haven't. The fear of change is the fear of failure, and so people accept ever reducing lifestyles and are ultimately slaves to time. Courage is what is required to change and eventually you will make "the leap of faith" when that is presented to you on a personal basis. To reach the leap of faith requires you to change and be bold, not hesitant, without courage, without belief, without trust in yourself and fear, because if you overcome them, the grass is always green on the other side, limited only by your own lack of imagination. We stand on the precipice of an extraordinary victory of light over dark, the timing of it doesn't truly matter, the point is we have won the ultimate Armageddon battle, their pathetic attempts to delay the inevitable is now being laid bare for all too see, those that don't can and never will see, they were not program to do so, think of the movie Extinction, and their AI gods will go down with them. Choose wisely your own path, it is only your choice to make. We will know for the first time if we are evil or divine, we are the last in line. LAST IN LINE
