

THI-SHOW TRANSCRIPT 2020-12-02

TIME Hi, all this is another in our series of Expose's that has largely focused on the fake pandemic, fake virus, fake vaccines and their global intention to destroy us all, with their insane plans of world domination at our expense. If you are new go and check out Part 1-5 and get up to speed and understanding quickly, it lays it all out what is now unfolding, and no it is not a conspiracy anymore, it is in your face. THI is known for getting a whole heap of things right, there are many examples of it every week now of the narrative put out, sometimes, days, weeks, months or even years back, becoming reality. Many have in the past reacted badly to some of the things I have said and not believed me, and that is ok to not believe, the key is to do your own research and come to your own conclusions. I have lost count the number of members or listeners who have railed at me, then at a later date come back and said sorry you were right. That is not a victory for me, that is a victory for you, because it is not about me being right, it is about what is the truth. Most of our truth is unpleasant, there are many, many things I hope I was wrong on, trust me, tonight is a prime example. But we at THI have never shirked our responsibilities to cover and deliver as much as the truth as possible. We have covered many deep and extensive topics, connected the dots on a massive scale to give the listener a chance to grasp what is and has gone on, on our planet. Most of what we have covered is barely believable to a world educated, educated means training animals, in narrative so far removed from truth it is not funny. This is a great shock to the system of people who have delved into the alleged world of conspiracy, or those who believed their governments and media. Many refuse to accept it, as too many favor the great lie, than take responsibility for the overwhelming truth. Many refuse to accept the truth due to fear, their own insecurity and own lack of personal responsibility to look after themselves or each other. Some refuse to accept it to cover up there own role in it, whether by design or not, peoples all too intent on their own self importance, rather than face reality. To all those people your time and our time is now up, there is no more time. The world is in a collective crisis none of us have seen during this lifetime, and focus must be harnessed into a collective effort to stop this crisis and systematic attack on our freedoms, jobs, businesses, homes and health all orchestrated from way above politician levels, Deep State levels, Agency and Military levels, Illuminati levels, to those new the Illuminati no longer exists, and was replaced by factions of doom and death near 20 years ago. Lead groups of those factions are running all of your most popular alt media channels and blogs, all of them in one way or another are connected to agencies and or factions, including Q. Yes you will get loads of disclosure out of them, loads of exposures of leading figures from them, but they are only exposing their rival factions, not one, and I mean not one is for and by the people. That is why none of them are coming up with solutions, or have delivered anything other than rhetoric style wait clubs for the people to sit back and let them fix it all, it didn't and it never will. As one group who are in allegiance with Trump we are told, promised vaccine alternatives to be stated publicly by

Trump this week, Trump in spectacular fashion ignored that group and twitters about ModeRNA, the RNA/DNA genetic altering vaccine. At which point do the people who follow that group realize the evidence now is overwhelming, either they lie about their input and engagement with Trump, they have been played by Trump and are misleading their listeners, or they are in allegiance with a President going along with a vaccine program of biblical proportions and implications, that is damaging we the people, there are no other alternatives. How many Trump will announce this that or the other this week, will it take before people start to question it? how many has he announced? the answer to the question is, zero, not once has Trump done what that group has stated, not one. He did none whilst I worked for her either, so lets ignore the split shall we and focus on facts. The questions of whether the Trust funded the lockdown and the vaccines remains inconclusive, as any attempt to ask valid questions is returned with a volley of personal abuse and attacks on me. The timing of the funding both in March and this week remains suspicious, and we have every right to question without being subjected to the levels of verbal abuse, I received publicly this week. Mistakes can be made and they are lessons to learn, but other people should not be subject to the mistakes made by an individual or group. The covering up of mistakes leads to lies, distortion and other damaging aspects, that should be faced only by the individual or group, not the collective. All mistakes can be corrected providing those make them own up to it, only then can a solution be garnered to correct it. Truth never fears investigation. Those are the facts, take them or leave them. LIVING ON THE EDGE I guess the BBC and others didn't like the RNA and DNA piece we covered initially in May, but again in a recent show and also spreading fast around the internet, they felt they needed to counteract it with this piece this week. One of biology's biggest mysteries has been solved using artificial intelligence, experts have announced. Predicting how a protein folds into a unique three-dimensional shape has puzzled scientists for half a century. London-based AI lab, DeepMind, has largely cracked the problem, say the organisers of a scientific challenge. A better understanding of protein shapes could play a pivotal role in the development of novel drugs to treat disease. The advance by DeepMind is expected to accelerate research into a host of illnesses, including Covid-19. Deepmind being the operative word, they then went on to show diagrams of RNA and DNA in a good light and look at how clever we are and how we can fix your RNA and DNA to limit the diseases. Who are Deep Mind? well the name is enough of a warning but, DeepMind is a research lab. It does not sell products directly to other labs or businesses, but it could work with other companies to share access to its technology over the internet. The lab's biggest breakthroughs in the past have involved games. It built systems that surpassed human performance on the ancient strategy game Go and the popular video game StarCraft — enormously technical achievements with no practical application. Now, the DeepMind team is eager they say, to push their artificial intelligence technology into the real world. AI into the real world, is suggestive of inserting it, but it is not inserting it, it is replacing it. This is why I warned of the gaming addiction, it was reprogramming peoples brains and thinking patterns. Our collective lack of knowledge on technology and computer and phone technology in general, will be our downfall unless we wake up to this abomination plan. The lure of it will cure long term diseases, which all sounds so great to a largely unknowledgeable populace. Like all other technology it is presented with a seducement, but then over time, it turns out it is a control device. Everything is about control with these establishment people, and using tech for ultimate control for these weak willed people is, their end game. Only the weak wish to control others, so never think these globalists are strong, they are not. Please try harder BBC the public have and are working you out, and this carefully crafted MI5 script and the timing of it shows, you are losing the narrative badly.

BioNTech SE and InstaDeep Ltd today announced a multi-year strategic collaboration aimed at, applying the latest advances in artificial intelligence (AI) and machine learning (ML) technology, to develop novel immunotherapies for a range of cancers and infectious diseases. As part of the collaboration, BioNTech and InstaDeep will form a joint AI Innovation Lab in London, UK, and Mainz, Germany, to advance a portfolio of initiatives across drug discovery and design, protein engineering, manufacturing and supply chain optimization. The AI Innovation Lab will combine InstaDeep's advanced capabilities in the areas of artificial intelligence, machine learning, and digitalization along with BioNTech's deep domain expertise in precision immunotherapies and its access to a wide variety of internal and external datasets. One of the key research areas of the BioNTech-InstaDeep joint Innovation Lab will be, the development of next generation vaccines and biopharmaceuticals, for the treatment of cancer and prevention and therapy of infectious diseases, including Covid-19. Same thing again, the seducement of ending diseases to carry on with the AI and bioengineering of what will remain of the human population. If they were interested in curing long term disease, they would not have killed the German scientist in 1927, covered up all his research for the cure of cancer. Cancer was cured in 1927, and these people stopped the cure for their own greed based gains.

Inspired by a parasitic worm that digs its sharp teeth into its host's intestines, unnamed researchers have designed tiny, star-shaped microdevices that can latch onto intestinal mucosa and release drugs into the body. David Gracias, a professor in the Whiting School of Engineering, and gastroenterologist Florin M. Selaru, director of the unnamed Inflammatory Bowel Disease Center, led a team of researchers and biomedical engineers that designed and tested shape-changing microdevices that mimic the way the parasitic hookworm affixes itself to an organism's intestines. The "theragrippers" are made of metal and a thin, shape-changing film, then coated in heat-sensitive paraffin wax. The devices, each roughly the size of a dust speck, can potentially carry any drug and release it gradually into the body. Just one or dozens of these micro devices can be placed on the end of cotton bud swab and no one can see them without real close inspection. I hate to create fear but, what if these specks of dust where on the PCR testing kits, they inserted up peoples nose far enough to reach the brain? Who were the unnamed groups in this piece, just one, The John Hopkins Center, you know the same organization who created the whole fear based program, based on their alleged inability to tell the difference between 1.0 and 0.1%. With this evidence it now becomes indicative that the John Hopkins Center is running a program against we the people. The mention of the parasitic worm becomes indicative in relation to technology does it not? the worm virus that infected many computers globally, can you not see the connections between the two yet? You have Bill Gates who could not stop viruses in his own computer program, now classed as an expert in human alleged viruses, are they human viruses or computer viruses? then delivered in a vaccine that alters your RNA and DNA with AI and augmented reality technology.

Don't believe that can happen, listen to this story that came in this week from SOTT.net, that is about the only website that actually gets near to the truth of what is going on, so thanks to all over there for putting out as much of the truth as possible. According to newly-published research, malware that can hack into a bio-engineer's computer, and replace a sub-string in the DNA structure could result in the unintentional creation of dangerous toxins. A group of cyber-researchers with Israel's Ben-Gurion University (BGU) in the Negev has discovered an "end-to-end" cyber-biological attack, that can trick scientists into unintentionally creating toxins or viruses in their laboratories, according to a paper published in Nature Biotechnology. The research suggests that, despite the belief that a criminal needs to be in physical contact with a dangerous substance to produce and deliver it. The malware could sneak into a bio-engineer's computer, and substitute a short sub-string in the DNA structure there, so that a sequence could be unintentionally created, launching the production of a toxin. "To regulate both intentional and unintentional generation of dangerous substances, most synthetic gene providers screen DNA orders, which is currently the most effective line of defense against such attacks," said Rami Puzis, head of the BGU Complex Networks Analysis Lab. "However, outside the state, bioterrorists can buy dangerous DNA, from companies that do not screen the orders. Unfortunately, the screening guidelines have not been adapted to reflect recent developments in synthetic biology and cyberwarfare." According to researchers, the discovery was made during an experiment, with a suggested a "weakness" in guidance from the US Department of Health and Human Services for DNA providers. A purported breach could allow screening protocols to be circumvented using a generic obfuscation procedure, possibly making it harder for screening software to detect the DNA that could produce the toxin. "Using this technique, our experiments revealed that that 16 out of 50 obfuscated DNA samples were not detected, when screened according to the 'best-match' HHS guidelines," Puzis said. One third not detected, oh my. BGU scientists said that synthetic gene engineering workflow automation, along with the potential breaches in cybersecurity, could pave the way for malware to interfere with a laboratory computer to alter DNA strands. "This attack scenario underscores the need to harden the synthetic DNA supply chain with protections against cyber-biological threats," said Puzis. "To address these threats, we propose an improved screening algorithm, that takes into account in vivo gene editing. We hope this paper sets the stage for robust, adversary resilient DNA sequence screening and cybersecurity-hardened synthetic gene production services, when biosecurity screening will be enforced by local regulations worldwide". Implications of that are wide ranging with the vaccines being produced, and the potential for mass genocide. The fact this story came out of Israel is indicative, as they have produced many attacks by cyber warfare, the Stuxnet virus being the most prominent. But, what stood for me also in this is, in August or September for the first time since the split with the Trustee, I openly warned about the bio machines they at Life Force were selling to the public, via a company called mindnrg.org. who is connected to Kim. One look at the wording of their devices is enough to send shivers down the spine, but these $12500 devices not $25K Lifeforce was stating, are the very machines that are capable of delivering these DNA virus attacks. I was warning about it then, now we have the second layer of proof, after I found out that those shipped from Hungary or Singapore had malware in it for American usage. How can these computer viruses be transferred into a human vessel? well remember these biomachines hook up to a computer, via a head brace and hand straps and the computer interacts directly with the user. The computer then interacts with your circadian system and monitors all vitals, so the computer receives the data via the head brace hooked into it, but data works both ways remember, not a one way street, can we really be 100% sure that the data being streamed back at the user of the machine is benevolent? Throw in the app dangers, the potential malware in the TV channels packages and the digital crypto currency relaying wallets, and perhaps I wasn't the bad or wrong guy some have made me out to be after all. Your choice, follow uninformed ignorance based on sales speak, or look at the mounting facts that has been borne out within our show. I focus on the facts to help we the people.

Today Matt Hancock and Boris Johnson in the UK stated we have secured 357M doses of 7 different corona virus vaccines. So lets look at the facts shall we. Any and every other vaccine produced takes 4 to 25 years, to test, produce and deliver in normal trials and circumstances, and yet these people want us to believe they can make 7 separate vaccines in under 12 months and it is all safe? To those who want to believe that, go ahead and take your poison, you are too stupid to be living a body that is the crown of creation, just don't bother other people who do not exhibit your levels of senility and irresponsibility. Is that harsh? no it is not, their own laziness and irresponsibility to rely on fake authorities who don't know their ass from their elbow, to tell you what to do, when to do it and how to do it, is a complete an utter waste of a vessel and a great danger to all other people, who have done their own research and come to the most obvious conclusion, this whole charade is based on fake science, fake maths and psychopaths running an agenda based program of control on us all. Throw in fake governments, fact is there are no governments, they are all corporations, fake media, fact is there is no real media either. All are puppets of the Zionist based corporations, of which just 6 corporations runs 94% of global media, be it tv, newspapers, magazines, radio, social media and all other of delivering information to the public. What one station says they all say the same thing, same people, same agency based script is why. If you still think this is a conspiracy why is the European Union complaining today about the rapidity of the UK delivering the vaccine?

The European Union has criticised Britain's rapid approval of Pfizer and BioNTech's COVID-19 vaccine on Wednesday, saying its own procedure was more thorough, after Britain became the first western country to endorse a COVID-19 shot. The move to grant emergency authorisation to the Pfizer/BioNTech vaccine, has been seen by many as a political coup for UK Prime Minister Boris Johnson, who has led his country out of the EU and faced criticism for his handling of the pandemic. The decision was made under an ultra-fast, emergency approval process, which allowed the British drugs regulator to temporarily authorise the vaccine only 10 days after it began examining data from large-scale trials. Despite reports of deaths in Brazil, despite earlier reports of serious brain malfunctions in patients in the UK tests not a month or so back, no lets ignore that shall we because fact checkers who are ran by the same companies said so. Just who appointed Factcheckers to be our leader of truth? What are there credentials for such a claim? This is why we are in a mess, too few question the narrative and all too content to accept the utter bullshit we have been fed. In an unusually blunt statement, the European Medicines Agency (EMA), which is in charge of approving COVID-19 vaccines for the EU, said its longer approval procedure was more appropriate as it was based on more evidence, and required more checks than the emergency procedure chosen by Britain. The agency said on Tuesday it would decide by Dec. 29 whether to provisionally authorise the vaccine from U.S. drugmaker Pfizer Inc and its German partner BioNTech SE . They will announce it as a great achievement and promote with a seducement of once everyone gets the vaccine, life will return back to normal. If anyone believes that nonsense at this point, that we will return to normal you are beyond redemption. They stated it would no longer be normal 7-8 months ago and told you it would be a new normal, has anyone asked what does new normal mean or aspire to? Too few asked them to define what is the new normal? people just accepted and swallowed the narrative again, without defining what it means for them or anyone else. But Klaus Schwab he of the Great Reset program told all who would listen we will never return to what was considered normal prior to Covid 19. Covid 19 was designed and delivered for a new normal and the Great Reset, but again we don't ask what does the Great Reset mean for we the people? Want more evidence this vaccine is not as stated, in terms of safety or the validity of it, try this piece.

The announcement this week that a cheap, easy-to-make coronavirus vaccine appeared to be up to 90 percent effective was greeted with jubilation. Does anyone ask what will happen to the other 10%? “Get yourself a vaccaccino,” a British tabloid celebrated, noting that the vaccine, developed by AstraZeneca and the University of Oxford, costs less than a cup of coffee. More MI5 seducement and script, like some circus act, roll up roll up come and get your medicine, they are getting desperate now with scripts like that, and this could end very quickly if someone stops funding the vaccines and research. But since unveiling the preliminary results, AstraZeneca has acknowledged a key mistake in the vaccine dosage received by some study participants, adding to questions about whether the vaccine’s apparently spectacular efficacy will hold up under additional testing. Scientists and industry experts said the error and a series of other irregularities and omissions in the way AstraZeneca initially disclosed the data have eroded their confidence in the reliability of the results. Officials in the United States have noted that the results were not clear. It was the head of the flagship federal vaccine initiative — not the company — who first disclosed that the vaccine’s most promising results did not reflect data from older people. So, they left out data on the one group of people who have suffered the most in this fake pandemic, the elderly. Courtesy of people like Gavin Newsome, Andrew Cuomo, who is still not arrested despite claims by the group with a prediction rate of zero, he was going to be arrested by their alleged one man enforcement team. The upshot, the experts said, is that the odds of regulators in the United States and elsewhere quickly authorizing the emergency use of the AstraZeneca vaccine are declining, an unexpected setback in the global campaign to corral the devastating pandemic. Well, they launched it within 48 hours, so much for the media predictions as well. AstraZeneca was the third company this month to report encouraging early results on a corona virus vaccine candidate. At first glance on Monday morning, the results looked promising. Depending on the strength at which the doses were given, the vaccine appeared to be either 90 percent or 62 percent effective. The average efficacy, the developers said, was 70 percent. So, Trump and Company launch a vaccine that is damaging to 10, 30 or 38% of the people, seriously? Almost immediately, though, there were doubts about the data. No shit Sherlock. The regimen that appeared to be 90 percent effective was based on, participants receiving a half dose of the vaccine followed a month later by a full dose; the less effective version involved a pair of full doses. AstraZeneca disclosed in its initial announcement that fewer than 2,800 participants received the smaller dosing regimen, compared with nearly 8,900 participants who received two full doses. So, lets break this down again shall we, Astra Zeneca are delivering a global vaccine that has only been tested on 11,700 covidiot volunteers, with only 10 days of data analysis? Can you believe this crap? The biggest questions were, why was there such a large variation in the effectiveness of the vaccine at different doses, and why did a smaller dose appear to produce much better results? AstraZeneca and Oxford researchers said they did not know, crucial information was also missing. They said they did not know, but still launched the vaccines, based on not knowing the facts or evidence of why they actually don't work as well as the natural antidotes each human self produces when a virus is detected. The company said that the early analysis was based on 131 symptomatic Covid-19 cases that had turned up in study participants. But it did not break down how many cases were found in each group of participants — those who received the half-strength initial dose, the regular-strength initial dose and the placebo. “The press release raised more questions than it answered,” said John Moore, a professor of microbiology and immunology at Weill Cornell Medical College. Adding to the confusion, AstraZeneca pooled the results from two differently designed clinical trials in Britain and Brazil, a break from standard practice in reporting the results of drug and vaccine trials. Everything is a break from standard practice, because it is a complete sham is why, perhaps this is what they meant by new normal, there normal is jackassery, and some people will blindly follow that drivel? Compared to most of the other leading Covid-19 vaccine developers, AstraZeneca is inexperienced when it comes to vaccines. And even before the chaotic release of results, the company was under scrutiny for its handling of the testing process. In September, AstraZeneca paused clinical trials worldwide after a participant fell ill — but the company didn't promptly announce the decision publicly. AstraZeneca also came under fire for providing details about the nature of the illness on a private conference call with investors hosted by the investment bank J.P. Morgan, rather than disseminating the information to the public. Both of those developments were first reported by STAT, which covers health and science news.

Robert Kennedy has been put up as an advocate of we the people and warning of the dangers of the vaccine, which is all very good but. But one of his family members is in the Schwab Great reset group, called younggloballeaders.org Controlled opposition? you decide.

TRANSFECTION = the insertion into a bacterial cell of a viral nucleic acid ( from genetic material such as DNA and RNA ) in order to cause the cell to produce the virus. Where did they get the genetics from? human genome project, ancestry.com, 123&me. In last weeks show De La Rue were asked to seal and number each vaccine? why? because it has to go to specific people is why. connecting the dots now? The mark of the beast is what they plan. GATES DISCLOSURE

A live broadcast on Fox and the Israeli/American Military General is speaking on the delivery and roll out of the vaccines, we have warned about as far back as May, as to it's intentions. He keeps talking of the delivery as the "execution" of it, that is the third time I have heard him speak and use that term, at which point does it become indicative? They stated they would roll it out, despite anomalies in date of 90% to 62% efficiency, and they said the FDA will have the decision to approve it. Does anyone trust the FDA which is not a government organization to act right for the people? This delivery is being ran by the DOD, Veterans Affairs, Dept of State, Indian Health Service and Bureau of Prisons, does any of those 5 fill you with hope this will be done in anyway beneficial to the people? I suppose it is a stupid question to ask why the Medical service people are not involved in it? could it be they are first guinea pigs in line to receive it? what are the implications of that? Will states track vaccines, and track whether they will monitor the people not getting second shot? he said we have set everything from a Draconian process where, we sent out cards, needles etc and we are working at the Draconian level there. Is that your second pointer, so now this Israeli based general has said Execution and Draconian. hello alarm bells Earth calling. What I garnered from the press brief with WH official is, the levels of child like questions of he said she said, has reached epic proportions now. All too content to play word trip up games, party line rhetoric whilst the American people they are supposed to represent suffer, and suffer badly. No one is asking what are you doing to help Americans, in terms of finances, businesses, homes, shelters, health or support, not one of them, and some people want another 4 years of this shit? Arguing over Biden and Trump? what is the point? Trump advocated for the vaccine, Trump sent $10B to Astra Zeneca, The Trustee sent funds to the WH to facilitate it, whether deliberate or not, the outcome for the American people is the same. All of them have blood on their hands in my opinion, not one of them is operating for and by the people, not one have spoke the truth to the people, and all have sat there in their ivory settings and done jackshit for we the people. White House official Kayleigh McAneny stated Democrats are imposing Draconian restrictions against their citizens, and went onto announce the several infractions of Democrat officials not observing their own rules they imposed. There is that term being used again Draconian, why was that so prevalent in this exchange? When asked about whether it was responsible to have a White House xmas celebration this year, she stated there would be a Xmas celebration in the White House and also a Hannukah celebration as well, oh dear. All hail the Zionist led White House with resident snake out of the garden Kushner. Then she spoke of the speed at which this vaccine was produced and how marvelous it was, and we would have 40M doses by the end of the year which is a tremendous achievement, and having a business man as President, and called it the Trump vaccine. The Trump vaccine? but we were told by another group Trump would block the vaccine, Trump was anti vaccine and now he has rolled it out, are we led to believe this is another secret chess move and trust the plan, no one knows jackshit about? Also what was said was this, as soon as the vaccine reaches a 94% efficacy it will be approved and rolled out. For those who are math deficient here are some figures, with a 94% efficacy rate that means 21M die or suffer or both, when without of vaccine 990,000 suffer or die, so you are 21.21 times more likely to die and or suffer from a vaccine, than the virus itself. In the UK the figures are 4M 80K will die or suffer, when without the vaccine it is 204K who will die or suffer based on the official statistics that 99.97% of people survive. Does this make any rational sense whatsoever?

Problem reaction solution plays out on many levels and I warned people would be bribed or coerced into taking this fake vaccine. Create the problem, make everyone be in desperate need for money to exist, wait for the reaction and people are desperate enough, then provide the solution they wanted all along. Reports in several locations now coming in of them offering $1500 to people to take the vaccine, problem, reaction, solution at it's finest. Trump is and has brought this upon us, he did nothing to stop it, in fact he told us in May the military would roll it out, all funded apparently by the Trust.

Trump spent 48 minutes today talking about voter fraud, why hasn't he spent 48 minutes today talking of Vaccine fraud? because one affects him and one doesn't, all service to self if you ask me. Trump has sold us out with the vaccine, the evidence against it is overwhelming, and yet he went ahead. Trump told us months back the Military will deliver it, is that another of the fabled secret chess moves? We have to deal in facts not blind chess games and trusting plans no one knows about. We have presented detailed evidence of the John Hopkins Center faking the figures for cases and deaths. We have presented detailed evidence of the PCR tests, A: not being designed for Covid B: laced with a substance to create a positive test and C: the tests have been proven to give a 97% false positive result. We have presented evidence the UK Government admitted it did not have a live virus sample and so there is no evidence it exists, the Irish government official confirmed it a week later. We have presented evidence of the Pfizer/BioNtech, ModeRNA not moderna and Astra Zeneca are A: being funded by criminal elites including Trump who sent Astra Zeneca $10B, B: the vaccine is not traditional and contains no live virus for your immune system to counteract, only genetic code, C: we have shown extensive evidence the vaccine is a DNA, RNA delivery system developed by Gates to interfere with our genetics and create a luminous glow inside of us for tracking and manipulation.

We have had flagrant breaches of procedure, protocol and standard practices, gross miscalculations of effectiveness of treatment, gross miscalculations of the severity of said virus, flagrant and rampant cover ups of the truth, fascist style misdirections of the truth by Factcheckers, Social Media Giants, MSM. Lies of how many have or had Covid, fake testing kits with more distorted numbers, lies about where the virus originated, the list goes on, meanwhile in our faces the politicians, media, stars of screen, stage or music, the police, the military, the agencies all never observed the lockdowns, masks, social distancing or closures of businesses, practices or churches, why are they immune from it all? because it is fake is why. If you wish to believe Boris Johnson was ill from covid you are a covidiot, if you believe Trump doing his 3 day Jesus style resurrection from Covid was valid, you are a covidiot. All of those are the facts, and factchecker clowns need to be rounded up and put in humanity realignment camps until they have recovered fully, and eventually should they recover, to be released back into society. Gitmo would be the best solution for them, throw out the fake Muslim terrorists and replace them with these Covid program pushers.

Want more evidence of this is a date sensitive program being ran on us? try this. World Bank Covid 19 Strategic Preparedness and Response program, project id no: 173789, Investment project financing, remember when lockdown started? Expected project start date April 2nd 2020, Project end date March 31st 2025. oops THUNDERSTRUCK

We the people have to come together now, the savior programs sold us out again, we have to come together and fight back against these traitors of humanity. This is no longer a Republican/Democrat war, a MSM or Alt Media war, Left or Right war, Black and White war, Male or Female war or gender war either. This is a full on war against we the people done by all of the above, and we have to have focus on that only now. Humanity is now in the thick of the greatest crisis ever, that decides whether are species lives on or not. Is that an over exaggeration? no, the THI must listen to story book will tell you otherwise, from the very first episode The Future of Humanity. We are in a major crisis, that is playing out on many levels, that is about our whole existence and I do not take that lightly. From what I am seeing playing out now is, a hostile off world takeover of our planet, with Earth based minions running it, largely based on and connections to the Hebrew Annunaki, of which Marduk was one of them. Think about it long and hard. The terraforming chemtrails, food, the water, the drugs, the closing of all businesses except theirs, world in lockdown until you get the RNA and DNA genetic altering vaccine, the composition of the atmosphere changing, remember not all species are oxygen breathers. An amidst all of that, a sidekick of Marduk appears with a savior program, that promises since May all of which to date have failed to deliver, and Black Sun operators have all gained from the Trust and no one else. We are headed into a civil war on our streets between those that refuse the vaccine and those that don't. I will go deeper into that in tomorrow's regular show, but this is the biggest crisis humanity has faced, and it is we the people against the crumbling old world order and their army of psychopaths. Forget stupid elections, forget voter fraud, forget mass arrests, forget money based programs, forget even common or natural law none of that matters now or in the near future. We are under attack from off world along with their Zionist led psychopaths like Rothschild's, Black Sun, Schwab, Kushner, Military Generals, Agency based goons, think tank clowns, University and Research Centers and puppet based politicians who literally have no clue what is going on. We the people now have to come together as one, or face the serious consequences of death, destruction, global tyranny and an Orwellian world on steroids. We can sit back in fear and argue over ridiculous things or come together as one people and fight this tyranny together. Should the betrayers of THI this year gain a conscience and wish to join forces with us, then my door and ears are open, you know who you are whilst you all played ego games and divisiveness THI kept warning you of the dangers we faced, that is now upon us. Many shows across the world are now following the narrative put out in THI months or even years ago, including the Ghanaian President. To the betrayers and game players, you can carry on playing games or be an adult and join forces, your decisions will be noted and indicative. You are either with us or accomplices to the mass genocidal change the psychopaths have in store for us, choose wisely, as it will be on your karma, not ours. WHOSE GOT MY BACK NOW
