Werrrrlll, who would have thunk it, reprobate scallywag from Liverpool, written off by many as one to fail, becoming a globally established radio show host. As the song Stargazer says, nine years worth of breakin' my back, many sacrifices of people, time and my lifestyle has since unfolded, but above all, this is what I wanted to do from a young age. This world never makes sense, and was not designed to. On July 31st with some coercion from Sunfire and Tanaath at the time, I was kind of pushed into becoming the radio show host for the newly established Cosmic Voice show with Drake Bailey of all people. This goes back to a long weekend in September 2011 at the Awake and Aware Conference in Irvine, California. Having watched the who's who of alt media over 4 days, I find myself arguing in my own head. Between wanting to get up on stage, and the little me going, you don't speak well, you mumble, talk too quietly and have a funny non-American accent! It wasn't my knowledge I was frightened of, it was just me and my speaking abilities, so I came away thinking I could write a book called A dummies guide to ET's. I plotted it all out and it was developing nicely, when this old guy appeared on the David Wilcock show called Drake, speaking of mass arrests, debt elimination, removal of the cabal etc and it piqued my interest. I joined the Facebook group, despite my strong aversion to FB, and things developed from there. I quickly built up a following within the group, as people were seeking my opinions on several items, this must have got me noticed by the team then, Drake, Denise and Gramy J. The shows were ok but a bit repetitive, until suddenly a person comes on called Tanaath on May 1st 2013, I decided to do a transcript of that show and add some bits to it. On May 24th 2013 I was offered an admin job with Cosmic Voice, and suddenly I was in the inside club, so to speak. On May 29th Tanaath came on again only this time with Sunfire, who I know as Tanah. But there was another inside club behind Cosmic Voice I was rushed into. This involved the ET and soul development personal abilities side of things. And so the inevitable happened and the Universal Voice started arguing with each other, and despite trying to be the peace maker, it broke up and Cosmic Voice was birthed. July 31st was to be my first show, to introduce Drake, play the music and ask the questions, but people said they couldn't hear me too well, which was part me and part the studio issue. Less than 3 weeks later another major event unfolded, the end of my 32 year marriage, as the ex wife didn't like the idea of me becoming a show host, and felt I was going above my station per se. In September I got to engage someone who had been helping with the transcripts and questions a bit more, to my shock at the time, that person took a personal interest in me, despite being nine years younger. I said at the time no, as going through divorce and maybe ask again in 2014, but developments within my family late September changed my mind completely and I flew to Vancouver in the October and met her, that person was Chloe. Chloe moved to Florida with me in the February 2014. My confidence of doing the shows began to rise and I felt part of it. Drake introduced Neil Keenan and I didn't trust him too well, so much so I told Drake in October 2013 to be wary of him. But I had to stay quiet and present a public image, which has never suited me well. There were many highlights and lowlights within the almost 3 years of doing Cosmic Voice. In September of that year I appointed two admins, as I was also responsible for running the Facebook page, those two are still with me to this day, James Godbeer and Holly Peterson. There was a number of other questionable characters who came on that show, and a number who did come on and did not want to speak with Drake. Before the end of 2013 went out, another backstage bust up saw Tanaath and Sunfire disappear. We muddled through and in June 2014 I was confident enough to do my first must listen to show, called the Future choice of Humanity. Around this time I met a guy called Shane, an unknown person then, who had done a cryptic blog to help the program members. This came around the time of the alt media roadshow of Wilcock and Corey Goode and the Blue chickens bs. I went and outed there was no blue avian ET's and exposed them both as frauds, Shane then supplied me with more evidence as he was Wilcock's insider at the time, called Harry. Shane went onto become The Ruiner and delivered a couple of belting shows with me, in particular the 2nd must listen to show, whereby we outed the real top order of the control structure. The reptile Draco, the Human 1.0 the Parents, the Covens and the 4th layer of the system known as the cabal or the Illuminati. Unbeknown at that time to most, I was aware the Illuminati didn't exist anymore and was replaced by factions, which I presented as the 3rd must listen to show in the November 2015. Those two shows rattled the corridors of power more than many realize, and still do to this day, including a person high in the banking field. The latter one was my last at Cosmic Voice. 2015 came and went and signaled the end of much of the hidden work I was involved with, sometimes with Shane, but more times than not it was a single pursuit. My confidence in myself rose a lot between 2013 and 2015 and sought to teach other people how to acquire these latent but hidden skills. Shane came and went, but Keenan and his alcoholic buddies were still twittering in the background.

In came 2016 and a call that changed things on many levels from Shane and a person who was unknown at that time, Kim Goguen. I engaged her for a whole long weekend with many hours of conversation, and to be fair much proof was made available to me. In the interview I was asked a range of questions on my beliefs and standing, and was also asked if you were the Trustee, what would you do with the funds. Answer 1 was to make sure the world had the 5 basics in life first, and then use the Trust funds in a way where it ends the use of money globally. That got a big approval and I was offered a fairly prestigious title, which I have never revealed to the public, and still won't. I am not impressed by titles but it was a big call to make.

P2 Before I accepted I asked Kim a question and made a statement. The statement was never to force or coerce me of going against my morals or principles, or that goes against the people, and the question was, can you facilitate what I want to do? First to smash the old system and secondly to build a new one in our image, not theirs, the answer was an emphatic yes. And so we began a very positive and profitable working relationship, by profitable I don't mean money. I never even asked for a salary, I just wanted to do the work, but Kim says ok start off on $50K a year, when the funds are released. My relationship with Kim caused much angst, Drake felt he was destined for that job and I took his place, wrong. Drake was given an opportunity with the Trust at my request, the trust were reluctant to have him on board, but Drake blew it spectacularly, so that ended that. In March 2016 I was given access to a Government document just sent by the "Chinese Elders", that was essentially threatening to shut down the banks and the country. That was averted and then on May 4th, the force was with me and my opportunity to expose Neil Keenan was presented and I took it. Keenan read out the very same March document threatening the Government and was making demands on America, that was enough for me, and an opportunity I had waited for since October 2013. I launched into Keenan and exposed him and his handlers out of the CIA, but typical of Neil he wouldn't shut up and was making up lies about me. Drake supported me initially on that, and then did his usual flip flopping and went with Neil. I did another show with Drake, it was to be my last, I knew it would be, and following it Drake, Chambers, Keenan, Montgomery and none other than David Wilcock arranged a meeting late Thursday and Friday morning to discuss how to get rid of me. I had told Kim the previous week it may be time to do my own show, she asked me to hold on until August. On Sunday the 12th I turned on FB only to find me and all the admins were fired and that was that. I asked Drake what was going on and he said he had to do it, but then said you can still do the show, my reply was no, as my position is untenable. So, I intended to take a break and take stock and then plan for something later, but the overwhelming support I received from the members kind of left me with no choice, but to create my own show. So, many told me they only listen when I spoke it was a big surprise given it was Drake's show. I then pondered quickly on what it should be named, and almost instantly it came to, truth, honor and integrity, which is something Drake and Co. did not exhibit. At this time I was tasked to launch what is known now as The Peoples Club, although I don't think many members really understood the importance of it until late 2020. Neil carried on his tirade, but I was armed with many hammers of truth and threw them every time he spoke badly of me or THI. Neil and his handlers were being badly exposed now, and so they sent the CIA assassin over to shut him up, his name? Robert David Steele. By July that had died down far quicker than I imagined and Neil was suddenly apologizing for his lies. But one month later came another bombshell as, Shane then decides after endorsing her 3 times, that he no longer trusts Kim, and Chloe went along with him and left. That was the first time Shane interfered with my relationship with Chloe, it wasn't to be the last, at much great cost to Chloe herself. I gained Kim's trust which is not easy to do, and together we did some extraordinary work together, some of which is in the epic scale. In July 2017 I took my first show vacation and went to Utah, Kim asked us to meet her in Colorado, and so we drove down and met her, all along the way begging Chloe to not spoil anything. Within 15 minutes of meeting Chloe snapped at Kim after I was asked to accept an even higher title that Kim was tasked to relay to me, I accepted and Chloe went nuts. Kim no longer wanted her involved in anything, she blew it. Chloe then left again for a second time and Kim and I continued to wreak havoc against clowns and certain other non-human brethren. Kim at this stage also appointed me the second highest security clearance on the planet after her, again I never announced that either. That time was extraordinary on so many levels, so many extraordinary things happening and most of it never made the show. The show meanwhile took another leap and in came the Levashov material, just after the UPU show. This brought greater understanding to us all and after the 2 illuminati shows, I launched something that would become very popular, it was called From Russia with Love. Originally it was meant for a 3 or 4 part series, but it morphed into something quite spectacular that has given many of you a massive understanding of real life, not the lies and illusions presented to us. That series now stands at 27 episodes, and ultimately it turned into a book, more on that later. Many other big shows appeared on the Must Listen to series prior to May 4th 2016, yes that date again only 4 years later. But the big leap was around the corner. We also created what was known as the THI state and country groups, which despite early egos started to develop nicely, until someone in the background started harvesting all our ideas and making up lies about me and moving members out of the groups. Two were involved in that, Team Bubba and Tank, the latter of which was revealed to me by one of the people he sent to do it. But we had 35 states and around 30-40 countries globally doing quite well at the time, as people took on board the fact that only we can fix things.

P3 In November 2018 I pulled a clever stunt on you all, you asked to end the Q&A section on the show and I did, but I reversed it and asked you all the questions instead! What this did is, it made you all think for yourselves, the answer is not the destination, the journey of discovery and understanding is the way forward, aint that right Marnie? In February 2020 came the start of the betrayals, people I had helped enormously all suddenly disappeared one by one. First Shane was sent back into the alt media to attack Kim, I defended her again as I always did, I was the firewall, but Shane and then Randy Maugans and Jimi Brent got involved, and that ended the relationship with them. In March Chloe left for the final time to create havoc in Mexico and Canada within the first month, including removing stuff off my computer to pass to Shane. I just got over that and then came May 4th again, and this time it was Kim herself losing the plot, there was no argument Kim went on a rant against all men and decided that I was just as bad as them all. This despite me saving her life 3 times, funding her daughter, boyfriend and his son and most of all her to the tune of a $1K a month, just dismissed like last week's trash. Many thought I was finished, I guess they were wrong again. With the extra time I had not looking after her virtually 24/7 I launched into doing an increase in the must listen to shows. But with Kim gone you would think the betrayals would have ended, sadly no, take a bow Alan James and his Masonic friend Liam Torrance. So, now I was not in contact with any of the alt media and was all alone, that suited me more than they realized. My departure wasn't the last in her life in the last 2 years either, virtually everyone close to her is now discarded. I have seen some fall in life, but none as spectacular as hers, her looks, her standing and her reputation ruined, just as the clowns wanted, all because she couldn't hold her hand up and say I made a mistake, a painful lesson for her and a warning to us all in many ways. But with Kim gone I raised the anti via work, myself and my voice, I also raised my masculinity side after having been in the more feminine role to balance Kim. Since then we did 12 more must listen to shows in 2020, 15 in 2021 and 8 so far this year. In June 2020 I made the first of my ventures away from the area and began to meet up with members in Arizona, which brought a nice close relationship with them. In November of 2020 I got another of my downloads to prepare for something on April 1st 2021. This was the announcement of the end of the now bedraggled THI state and country groups courtesy of Kim, Alan, Liam and Tank and the launching of the Communal Gatherings which has been a great success since, with much more to come. I also announced a TPC village in the making in New Mexico was has since flourished into something tangible, indeed I should be moving there within the next week or so. In May 2021 I visited TPC Texas and had a wonderful time, THI Utah and California followed in the July of that year. I have had several visits since by members since and one decided to stay, with much damage to his brain particularly in the mornings, and loved meeting you all. And then we had the ultimate trip in May this year, that will never be forgotten by those who attended, a wonderous four days of discovery and a tiny bit of ruining.

Many of you have favorite Tommyism's General ones: Get a new script, rank stupidity, Listen closely, spies, indeed, jackasses, dangling carrots, 2 weekkss, Well I never, time always tells, butt plug science. triggers Humorous retorts: clowns, yeah right, turn it in, pull the other one it's got balls on, utter bollox, erm that'll be a no, What in the name of Satan's portion. Clown name changes: World Horror Organization, Never A Straight Answer, Clown News Network, Bugging British Children, Cats In America, Cat-holic, Wells the Fargo, Shittybank. Name changes: Netanyahu – nuttyarsehole, Zuckerberg with a silent F, I'm a dinner jacket, Mormons with a silent second M, Pelosi is an anagram of lie POS, Hitlery, Ann Droid, mask man, IS RA EL, EL-ites. The learning ones: How can you be an illegal alien on your own planet? oh dear, does anyone ever ask why? does this make any sense? If it doesn't make sense, it's a program, the truth never fears investigation, What did you see? What didn't you see? You cant see the forest for the trrrees has changed to there was no forest to begin with. I didn't come here to play the game, I came here to change it. Personal ones: you cannot speak butterfly language to caterpillar people, never put anyone above your own heart, Classic ones: Oops and the more familiar retort to people who have met me, who me? Yes Rochelle? The biggest classic was Well? You're all gonna die. The classic that was often repeated – it failed. I will leave the last one to Rochelle, Thomas you have ruined everything. Many people to thank in fact too many, even the ones who left us, so I wish to thank you all for listening, working, donating, loaning and supporting me more than I could have imagined back in May 2016. We have much to celebrate of what we have achieved together, it was never just about me, without you all I am just a talking head, well almost anyway. I made a commitment to support all the people who want to act and be in the right way, I have not and will not waiver from that, I cant be bought, sold or swayed from that endeavor, and we will see it through past the end of the movie. I started off THI with the line I am going to tell you what you need to hear, not what you want to hear, and the second part became a later me, we are going to learn to think and act different. Accolades are not what brings me joy, it is seeing you all progress that keeps me going. And after May 2022 The covenant has been broken, so we end on another line from our shows, what happens next?
