

THI-SHOW TRANSCRIPT 2023-08-31

SEEDS OF IMMORTALITY That opening piece was another that was written and composed by one of our own members. The talent in this group is really coming to the fore now and is great to see and feel. The important thing is to keep going and keep coming together. United we stand, divided we fell and will continue falling unless people put all differences aside and work for the greater good, not personalities.

BOOKS TEAM: The Romanian translation of the Blueprint has been sent to the web team for inclusion on the Blueprint website. The discrepancy in the French translation has been narrowed to the online translator app of the website and does not affect the downloadable PDF. The web team has been alerted and is exploring means to improve the online translations. Other translations and Book Teamwork are ongoing. The Bulgarian PDF and eBooks are now available for the website to upload. The paperback is published to Lulu.

RESEARCH TEAM: The Blueprint Research Team had a lively meeting with a 10-topic agenda to cover. They discussed the THI member enthusiasm with sending the book PDF around the world and whether to try to track such efforts for reporting the growing outreach. An Australian member has already sent it to all US States and 190 countries. We revisited the request for a new response email address. It may have been the cart before the horse, as a response support system needs to be in place first. Currently there is only one person handling all the contact via the website. It is advisable to find expert volunteers in each of the solutions categories to receive forwarded emails from the website email handler and share the load, as the incoming flood will begin very soon. We discussed the option of adding a title in the ‘Saying Hi’ drop down menu for the research team of general feedback which would link to the established email address. Regarding the email letter template, the team voted unanimously to use the text on the back of the Blueprint book as the main body portion of the suggested standardized letter template, for use by all THI members when sending the book or emailing the book PDF. The letter will include a reply link to the website contact form. We will vote next week on the final full letter text. The Word doc has been posted on Mewe for members to give us feedback before we vote and before we submit it for authorization to the THI Admin Team. Our team decided to suggest to the Admin Team that France and the UK would be the first two countries to focus on. We await their approval before proceeding. Ninth on the agenda was an update on the Influencer Database, which is: The design improvements had a final review. The database is ready to receive the Research Team members’ final missing information for each influencer in their 2-month THI shows set. Once completed, the team wants to move forward from research to active distribution. Lastly, in New Business was the curious coincidence of Benjamin Fulford having been sent our blueprint in July and on August 14th he posted a letter on his website entitled, “The White Dragon plan for the planet.” He stated, “The main obstacle to replacing the current dystopian regime ruling the West is now the question of what alternative is going to replace it.” End quote. Did our book plant a seed? We hope so.

MEDIA TEAM: We now have the Instagram accounts opened and have begun to operate them. The profile names are blueprintforhumanity111, Thisshow111. but the focus will be on the blueprint account. Instagram offer a blue badge like the blue tick; we may investigate this in the future to see if it is of any benefit to us for the blueprint profile. Twitter BP – finally the blue tick has showed up on the account properly, we have no idea what the delay was, the fact it is now on display is all that matters. It helped already as we were the top comment on an account that we replied to this week, which means we would have been seen by anyone replying to that influencer. As we received some photos of members with their copy of the blueprint book, we have made a video to highlight how different people in different countries are already behind the blueprint. Adding the personal touch might garner more interaction with people. This video is now on the main page for everyone to view and comment on. We continue to monitor and change things up a bit as we go, but overall, we are happy with the progress. We will not be opening anymore social media platforms as all the main ones are covered now, we may look to adding a streaming platform in the future E.g., Apple, Amazon, Spotify, Odyssey as there is no additional cost for RSS feed that hosts on Spreaker, so we can stream on other platforms at the same time. We do have an Odyssey page and all the shows since October have been loaded onto the site. Just needs someone to operate it and promote it, preferably not from the overloaded volunteers already in our groups. They need others to step up and support them. Thank you to all of you that continue to spread the word and share the content, it is greatly appreciated.

YOUTH WEBSITE: The youth team is assisting with editing & finalising the parents & teachers guide. The Mission statement for youthink different space is underway, by members which will go on the website to make clear on our intentions and goals for the space. The YouTHInk different anthem written by a THI member is almost ready, lyrics are finished and the recording process in the studio has begun. Once the song is finalized work can begin on a music video clip to go with the song. One of our aims for the webspace is to have action groups and social connections for youth to connect with their peers who think different and act different. Who also want to be the change, to give examples and ideas for the youth to create their own action guides for the 10 most youth relevant BP solutions. We hope to encourage youth online also to tell us how they feel about global and local issues, by creating memes, videos and other content to draw the youth into communicating their thoughts and feelings with us, to grow their own space and future. Who or what are the youth watching and listening to now? Who are their influencers, are they telling them the truth, the whole truth? We as the adults need to embody and seed the love and truth frequency of the Blueprint. The way showers that model what it means to be a guardian, helping to support and grow the youth to be the guardians of the future.

WEB TEAM UPDATE: Progress on the THI encyclopedia is continuing at pace, with 2019 shows being processed and sliced and diced as needed from a technical perspective. Upon completion of data preparation for all shows going back to August 2018, when THI transcripts were officially introduced, we can then move to the next stage which is building each archive show page with its user-friendly user interface, linking the show audio with the relevant transcript text. A significant 63 GB of data was uploaded to our THI server, these are the music-less THI show files, as we call them, a crucial element of the project. Their deployment required a technical solution which we finally were able to figure out, by putting our heads together and also asking other likeminded people for their advice. The organic living gardening website is also coming along nicely; the milestone achieved in the last fortnight has been identifying a few hundred images with their associated credit / licensing use information. After that plant images were assigned to all posts on the new website, which our contributors created so quickly. If THI members have any ideas or suggestions for improvement for our websites or indeed if you'd like to contribute by creating digital content which we can then present on our websites or indeed on any of our social media platforms which the media team manage, please let us know in the main THI chat on MeWe by tagging Ovidiu in your comment. We will consider all suggestions and do all we can to implement the ones that will really make a difference; thank you in advance.

OPEN DISCUSSION -TOPICS AND QUESTIONS: We moved on to questions from the members which included what steps we are taking next. So far copies of the books have been sent out to Candice Owens, Elon Musk, and Douglas Rushkoff. Robert F Kennedy Jr, Ron DeSantis, Marjorie Green, Lauren Boebert, Amazing Polly and Tucker Carlson. All of these have received or will receive their copies in the next week. There were some suggestions from the members of who the next people might be. The research team are preparing a campaign to directly target them, but the work takes time, but they are getting there. Working with the media team will also be factored into this step. A member asked a question in relation to the Ghanaian president, they stated he should be on the list, as he referenced THI in the African conference. This led into a discussion on the possibility of amending it to suit the African countries. As the Blueprint was written with the US states in mind, it can also be adapted out for each country. So, we can modify the original and make it suitable for each country's own Blueprint solution. At least 20 of the 29 solutions are already workable for each country, it is a matter for each country to take the Blueprint and come together with people or members in their own countries and adapt it to suit their requirements.

In overview: In relation to sending out the books to these people, some may say that is a waste of time because they are part of the system. But, we are appealing to the humanity side of them to trigger them, they all have that side of them, it is just hidden. How much Humanity they have that is the question. They only ignore it because of fear, initially there is fear, but it erodes as the frequency of the Blueprint spreads. They are all aware of who we are and what we are doing. This is such an important thing to remember, that they have been trapped within their own constructs and fear-based programs too. Sometimes we are thinking instead of feeling, we are still operating in the programs and overlays from the past. Thinking can lead us to being more plugged into their world, feeling is being plugged into your heart space consciousness, it is a new way of being. Feeling from this perspective rises our frequency and enables us to bring about change, not only within ourselves but it then emits that frequency to others, in effect we are the cosmic towers. We know that the real technology lies within and practicing holding that frequency will enable us to be our own transmitters of the Blueprint. We need the doers now; we need the people to come forward and step into and be the real change, that is already taking place around the world. Fear scores 100 on the scale of consciousness, courage is 200 and it is the first step to freedom, love scores at 500. So, by stepping into courage we become the way showers, we then plant those seeds of courage in others. Whether that is by speaking about the Blueprint, sharing the message on social media or joining the groups and actively becoming part of the community. All this matters, but so does simply consciously holding the frequency of truth and courage as we go about our daily lives. They have enslaved us with their three letter agencies. So let us begin to wipe that out and plant our own three letters across the globe, let us replace them with the THI script instead of the CIA script. GET FREE

COMING TOGETHER: We ended Tuesday's epic show with the words of we must all come together, so this piece from the past with much extended portions, is a reminder to us all. It matters not what color or race you are, what matters is, we set the example for the rest of the world to follow. Another blueprint in essence, of how to work, play and communicate on a far more adult level than what has gone before or the now. What is so difficult about coming together? Why has it been so difficult even within our own group? Because of old programs installed in us all. Low self-worth, inferiority complex, low confidence and the singular pursuit of life, not the all. I said earlier, the important thing is to keep going and keep coming together. United we stand, divided we fell and will continue falling unless people put all differences aside and work for the greater good, not personalities. Here is a test for you all, like a check mark to see where you are at within yourselves. Is there a person or people in the group you don't like? Ask yourself why? Distance yourself from the situation and assess the interaction not the person and then come to a conclusion. What you will find is, the person you don't like or worse hate, is actually something inside of you, that you don't like. All projections, dislikes and mistrusts you have towards others, are in actuality just reflections of the self. Whether you like that fact or not, it is the truth. I have often been told I trust people too much, a fair reflection given some of the characters who have left the group after betraying me and us. But self-mastery allows you to trust and love everyone, that way I do not have to waste my energy wondering about person a, b or c. If I put trust in a person and that person messes up, do you A: blame yourself for trusting them or B: recognize it was their mess up not yours. Most will do A and blame themselves, reduce their trust factor considerably and waste more energy vilifying and questioning themselves. Answer B: is the self-mastery and so no energy is wasted upon that interaction. Why do we blame ourselves when trust or love is broken? Why take that burden on? Particularly when someone else is doing the wrong things. We had a prime example last year, people telling me not to trust a certain person. I was aware of the reasoning behind that and tried to help that person. Ultimately that person went onto justifying the mistrust of that person and the person badly messed up and exposed themselves in an ugly sort of way. Some people then questioned why I would trust that person so much? The answer is with self-mastery you can and if that person messes up, that is on them, not me. Had that person been adult enough to own up to an error, that person may well still be in the group as that person had many values. The person chose not to due to shame and guilt. The next stage is forgiveness, forgiveness Thomas? But that person did this, that and the other. I get that, but I ask you all one question; Have your lives all been so perfect? So, the answer to that is no, then why would you hold all others accountable, to being so perfect then? Why do people get into arguments and then involve others who were not involved? How can they adjudicate an interaction they were not involved in? Essentially you are asking them to support your own narrative, but that person was not there. So the adjudication is based only upon assumption, not truth. Again it is a waste of energy for the arguers and the person brought into. Why can't you settle issues yourself? Why do you have to prove your truth? You don't, another waste of life force energy. Are you seeing a pattern now, a pattern in your life that you created. Endless drama, mistrust of others, abandonment issues are all created within your own heads, why? Because you are not operating from the heart. Operating solely from the heart does not allow you to dance within those negative fields of interaction. It is a mind loop program of repeat ad nauseum, why are we doing that to ourselves? There is no perfect in anything, nobody ever was perfect, perfection is an unattainable program that people seek. The eternal treasure seeker, is no different to the religious waiting for a dead man to return and save 7B people. Not happening, so why do we adopt these programs? Who decided you had to be perfect? Who decided our judgement of others is based upon our own illusion of perfection? Guess what, that hasn't worked for us too well has it? So, if you do not like someone, you don't like yourself. If you do not trust someone, you don't trust yourself. If you do not love all others, you do not love yourself. Have those programs served you to date? No? then fix it. Cooperative not comparative and competitive, mixed with caring and sharing is the way forward for us all. All the above I just wrote about is telling you one thing about you and yet you never consider it. You have just wasted days, weeks, months or years of your own life force energy on unnecessary things, because you have not learned to develop the self-enough. Endless hours of child level bickering, when agree to disagree is available to all and you just move on. One thing that is hardly ever considered in an argument is, how the other person felt on that day. Maybe it was some personal event that caused the person to not be nice or have a niggly attitude? Do we in general consider that? No, because everyone has to be perfect 100% of the time in the mode of operating. Yet no one is perfect and so the division of us all increases, all of which helps the system of control itself. You do realize with these types of interactions, you have given yourself two labels, judge and executioner. Doesn't sound so good those labels does it? Yet is that not what unfolds in our lives by discounting others after arguing points of view? Arguments in groups, work settings, partners, siblings and family, often start off something very small and escalate beyond all proportion. Why? Because people are not flexible enough, people become emotional bullies of my way or the highway, my opinion only matters, only my truth matters.

Those people are not adults, they act like mere children, what is worse is, we copy them. Yet where is the higher ground in that? Where is the care of thinking maybe that person needs help? Did you consider maybe that person was providing you a service, by showing you a lesson? Is the point of view worth discarding that person from your life? Is them telling lies about you, your problem or theirs? Have you considered the fact that, the truth never needs to be defended or argued? With self-mastery, which is only operating from the heart, the truth your truth never has to defend itself. This is what self-mastery brings you, you are not wasting all of that energy on what is basically, a total waste of life force energy. Life and the system has seen us all divided on a collective and personal level, has that worked for us or the system of control? I said recently, there is not a single organization of theirs that operates for the benefit of the people, you know why? Because A: we never defined it B: we never asked for it C: we tolerate shit too much and D: we are easily distracted. Do you think the system would run a famine scenario in the white race countries? No chance, because they know it would not be tolerated enough to support it. So, they run them scenarios on the other races to create guilt and shame and because they will tolerate those conditions more than the white race. But like slavery which was considered a colored race only exhibit, another illusion, because again their people tolerated it and again they passed guilt and shame onto the white race. Slavery was eradicated they say in 18-1900's, it wasn't, it was just extended to the white race as well. But how many people noticed the sleight of hand trick? The problem with both scenarios is people tolerating poor lifestyles, not caring enough for each other and people not coming together. So how do we solve that issue? The key to it all is people coming together, this is what they fear the most. The rest of the piece done a few years ago tallies in nicely with Tuesday's show with some additions. As a reminder of their fear, when the people in the past started to come together to build a city and became a community, this biblical chapter tells you what happened next. Genesis 11-6 And the LORD said, If they have begun to do this as one people speaking the same language, then nothing they devise will be beyond them. 7 Come, let us go down (us? I thought the Lord was singular) and confuse their language, so that they will not understand one another's speech. 8 So the LORD scattered them from there, over the face of all the earth and they stopped building the city, or this. The Lord will bring a nation from afar, from the ends of the earth, to swoop down upon you like an eagle, a nation whose language you will not understand. Most people will have misinterpreted that, which is understandable. But what this is saying is, they will swoop with the Phoenix, not with a country as the people assume that is what nation means, the reference to a nation being a country was not introduced until 1864. A nation means a race, tribe or species with a different language, there is your ET disclosure right there in that sentence. What happens when people find out many of the ET's, were actually them? A language you don't understand means it came from somewhere else, not Earth. That language was Latin, that rules law, which religion is known as the religion of Law? Judaism, which I believe or know is connected to the Draco and subsequently the Anunnaki. What this also tells you about this Lord that so many worship is, he was an evil, demonic and psychotic son of a dark mother. The one thing that will be overlooked in the bible is, the lord, is always spelt in capital letters, which means the Lord is dead, yet we are told they are immortal, funny that. Scriptures, bibles and fake

Emerald tablets done by Thoth to distort real knowledge, but hidden within the bullshittery are gems of truth, once you grasp the understanding. Those books and scriptures were not about us and our story, but them and their story. Those books said to be all holy are riddled with wrath, vengeance, bloodletting, incest, sacrificing, bodily fluids and waste of all kinds. All done for ceremonies, deception, sorcery, magic, black magic, worshipping nonhumans, binding, plagues, demons, beheadings, denigrating women, dark sexual magic, word magic all done in a veiled hidden cloak of deception and wrapped into programs said to be good for you. Like religion and their version of spirituality it is corrupted beyond repair and needs to be scrapped and the true story told. The bible is their story - not ours. I know many people will not like that fact, but why are those words even mentioned in a so-called holy book? Does that make any sense? Does that sound like your version of Holy? Well, does it? Of course not, in our version of holy, holy means sacrifice and that includes all those people who follow those books. It has been a tough learning lesson that is littered with traps, spells and misunderstandings. The key to it is intention, intentions that you set, not the entity Set who laid out the left hand path of doom for you, you have to learn to chart your own path, only you are responsible for that. Man "fell" it is said, no we all fell into the pit of darkness, and only now, some are seeing the shaft of light at the top of it, and beginning to emerge out of it, it was an emergency one word, now it is three words, emerge and see. The climb out is and was muddy, filthy, brutal and strenuous, but ultimately worthwhile as the animus within us takes hold and goes forward. Animus became known as a species of aliens in the Cosmic Genetics series. But, the Animus has become known as a river near the village, that is learning to flow again, no more dams or damning of souls there now. Animus means rational soul, mind, life, mental powers, consciousness, sensibility; courage, desire, we will require all of those qualities and more going forward, we are in the quickening period. A few years has passed since this piece, now do you see and more importantly feel, the quickening? They set traps everywhere, they killed us in the sea after 7 years, but we were reborn and another trap was set. As we emerged out of the sea onto the land, they put us in quicksand, that left our heads in the sand. Like the song says, circle in the sand goes round and round and we replaced the next line of it. Never-ending love is what we've found, we replaced that with never ending fear and division. About time we reversed all of that don't ya think? The key is now establishing ourselves on the land, not the quicksand or mari time traps, maritime is Mari and again a reference to the dark mother. But Thomas it's all a bit depressing hearing the alt media, religion and spiritual practices are corrupted, and I get that to a degree, from my perspective its enlightening. Why is it depressing? because we are seeing the illusion of it all, through the fog, passed down to us from the mists of time or even the Time River. But once you have passed through the fog and indeed the mist or cloak of time, it is the true path to real enlightenment, which comes from within. The dark have far more work to do than us on themselves, as they are more out balance than we are, they brought it on themselves also, via the misuse of freewill. All about riding the waves as you bob forward which is progression, this is not linear line actions, but vertical timeline events. On linear events you are told to wait for things to happen, if you stand still on a linear path, you go backwards. In those terms, it can perhaps be deduced, that the wait club was actually a spell cast? Some will say well what does it matter or it doesn't matter, unaware they are more spell casts, matter is a beam of light and all light matters. Some will say nothing is sacred anymore, not on the external it isn't, it was all an illusion that you bought into. But what is sacred is, you, yes you for the hard of hearing. How are you going to help, prepare and develop you and protect that what is sacred, is the key. Will you go on then and work with and help others? It is an arduous process we face and faced, but we work with what we have, it's a challenge, maybe the biggest challenge you will ever face. But with attitudes of I'm possible instead of impossible, it is not insurmountable, as shown in the giant strides of progress we have already made. It requires fluidity, which is flexibility, and the fluidity is recognized by what is inside of you, water. We are 70-80% water, and we can make our own oceans be angry and violent, or we can calm them like the rivers. Your water is streaming again inside you, those illusions you absorbed were for the purpose of creating dams inside of you, dams restrict the flow of water. Water is source of life they say, and we are the only planet that has living water, perhaps water is THE Source, subsequently you are the living embodiment of living water and the source spark within you. The fluid movement water that is within you is, a river stream of thought, love and consciousness, love they say it is a river, I say let it flow. HUMBLING RIVER

This next part was intel at the time contained within this piece back then. Technically it is not relevant to the now or the piece, although new members will get much from it and the message is all about us now coming together. The 11/11 event stated throughout alt media was about the Dark forces opening up portals, and letting in the armies to create havoc again. At least two portals were opened one in Russia and one in Switzerland, this was wreak maximum damage on this planet and turn the tide back in their favor. People doing mass meditations have to realize you are being duped into opening up these portals for them, via certain chants and incantations within the mediation word magic ritual. The situation was contained, around 150 dead and 4000+ were quarantined, whereby they all died and returned to source. For those fighting on that level use a faraday cage to contain them, no current based energy can go in, and so they can't feed and subsequently die off in there. Update to that is, all portals are closed off and nobody in or out is allowed, despite claims to the contrary by some sensationalizing alt media host. The head and ultimate in the dark magician world known as The Destroyer and his legion of armies has now been completely eliminated from all planes of existence. We were aware of it over a week or so ago, but their minions confirmed the event did take place in the now, and caused some high profile peoples to now admit, they are not part of the Order of the Black Sun and actually they were their enemies. What these people and in some cases entities don't get is, you were all played big time, the illusion was this group and that group were enemies, is the oft repeated boogeyman and savior program, one day you will all realize, the dark played both and all sides. Create nasties, then create another set of nasties, call one the light and one the dark, one is the boogeyman and one is the savior, no you were both energy harvesting batteries. Like the mirror created conflict called the Cold War, the US fought the SU, and the SU fought the US, all of which was total bs'ery, there was no separate US or SU, SU is just US in the mirror, and so it was not the United States fighting the Soviet Union, it was US was fighting US and the dark wins off both sides.

So now the Destroyer who I believe goes by the name Kal Karinjan, whose female counterpart was the Kali Ma and subsequently Lilith, who all tribal people have been taught to worship of and subsequently sacrifice to her. The same entities who all the Hebrew, Buddhism and Hinduism people are worshipping, the witchcraft people and their goddesses where all worshipping the Kali Ma and the dark mother moon ritual-based entity. That was syphoning vast quantities of life force energy off the people participating in it, but also those who came in to contact with them, a self-perpetuating virus. This will now allow things to move onto the next stage, the key battles are being won and won heavily, and the end game moves closer again now, Universe that was once 87% dark is now heading close to the balance of 45/55 now. When you understand the term let us make man in our image in terms of not creation, but genetics and traits, as an imitation of them in their image, then you begin to understand the bigger picture here, of what unfolded.

So summing up this piece and as we move onto an important next phase. Are those petty arguments with others really acting in the best way? If not, fix it. If you don't like someone it is a projection of yourself. If you hate someone it is a projection of yourself. If you project or retort in an unbalanced way, it is a projection of yourself. Fix you and those issues goes away. Tuesday's show put everyone on notice, which path are you going to take? Who me? You all cry, yes you! All of you. The ripple and frequency effect for that show goes much further than many will think. That whole show was supported in parts by the URS themselves and dare I say it many important figures surrounding them. It will escalate certain things on this planet that is long term beneficial, short term unpleasant. The mandela effects of differing memories of our world and their world will increase, as the separation is escalating. A shedding of the skin is unfolding. From a line in the sand to a spiral in the sand, no longer hampered by the sands of time. The river of Time is now controlled by what we do, not by them. The Santies written 40K years ago told us how to be, act, love, trust and protect and we neglected it all for fake alien programs. We were warned of the do's and don'ts and ignored that as well, falling to the level of slaves to an inferior group of species, well fucking done humanity. What an embarrassment that is, the crown of creation being ran by lizards, spies and genetic miscreants. Reduced to not being able to think for ourselves and only repeating their scripts, their version of history, following their religions and savior programs, embarrassing. Illusioned reigned, reality awaits those who will be themselves, not just a copy of them, like a Smith. We don't need one NEO, we need millions of NEO's to counterbalance the Smith's. 99% plus of people on this planet are Smith's, whether people like that fact or not, just a copy of a copy. Get out of your limitation program and be and make a difference. What is your part or role in it? please don't say but I am just one person and what can I do, that is a cop out and part of the laziness of humanity the URS warned about. Might I remind you I am just one person with a few school and college certificates and look what I went onto achieve. That is not a glorification of myself, that is a blueprint for us all, that we can all achieve so much more than what is perceived as the sums of our parts. Maximum focus is required now on everyone's part, as the dance to true freedom gathers apace. The Empire had to fall and a new foundation will take its place, ran on common sense, fairness, balance, trust and love. We are making big progress on every level, recognize your own progress in the process is essential as well. Because if we all progress individually, we make progress as a collective as well. Deeper pondering required. Are you going to fight for love, not fear it? Are you going to embrace love, not fear it? Are you going to be love, not fear? Are you going to make love, not fight it due to fear? All you have to do now is, follow your heart, and then come together, it cannot get any simpler than that. FOLLOW YOUR HEART