TRAVELLERS SONG Following on from our trilogy in August, where we did a piece about the Rus in the expose part of our THI show and then followed it up with FHSTOS Plus 20 with the story of the Aryans. The third part was FHSTOS Plus 21 and our longest ever show in terms of words and time, was the story of the Vedas, Rus and URs, better known as the Santies. This show and a follow up will go deeper into the machinations of the great Race and heavenly kin. This is about life and the creation of all things, whether beings, plants, planets, suns, galaxies or universes. It will likely trigger past life memories, bring up heavy emotions, embrace them, heal it and let it go. Those not triggered are likely soulless entities or hiding behind a false image of themselves, like a permanent mask. But now is not the time for false images and masks, now is the time to shine, create and manifest for the all, not just the self. It is time for us all to remember our past, not just the white race, despite all its pain and brutal truths that will bring. This is the story of the Rus, Slavs and Aryans, we have to tell it, as the media junta will not allow history or truth to be presented. A fantastic more condensed overview of life, the heavens, the realms and spirituality, that should inspire us all.

Kharatya 1 – The beginning: the ultimate creator Ra-M-Ha's first primordial movements, all of creations represented as a tree. What we think of as the universal tree is just a branch on this super-tree, the 13-node diagram of which Earth is portal 3 Sun is portal 4 gets referred to as Trees of Worlds and/or leaf-Realities. If you remember the Merkaba, Midgard was three and the Sun 4, all those 12+1 ones are portals. The 13 node is also the 12+1 again. Kharatya 2 – Birth: the spaces of realities on Midgard are divided out into what the Perun Vedas call Prav, Yav & Nav. Kharatya 3 - Great Assa: The security seals are broken in a gambit to attain knowledge; the lower developed entities attain technology and the invasions of halls of heavenly svarga begin. Midgard's portals shut off for protection, other halls cleared, Midgard is the final locale of dark encroachment. Kharatya 4 - The Order of the Worlds: The structures of major and minor dimensions, pointers for dimension transference and transcendence, there is a particular passage here that covers how you could have ascended but chose not to. GLORY GLORY HALLELUJAH

Kharatya 1 – The Beginning In the summer of the Priestess of Fire, on the 576th Circle of life from the great migration from Da'arya, according to the circle of our Number God [1], on the day of the three moons [2], revered in Asgard of Erie [3]. Know, children of the great Race and descendants of the heavenly Race, about the times of old. About the wisdom of the ancient priests preserved, about the beginning of everything known to people and for future times in Kharatya [4] of the light inscribed by Darrung Wirrit[5]. To the glory of the gods, to the greatness of the family, may you comprehend with your heart the greatness of the world, through what the song of the sorcerer Sladagoras, preserved in the Da'Aryan lineage of Parada [6], will tell. 1.Following the great migration from Da'arya, according to the circle of our Number God: was the summer 83075 from the great migration from Da'arya, or summer 78047 from the foundation of Asgard of Erie, which corresponds to the year 26731 before the modern chronology. 2. On the day of the three moons, is the festival of the three moons, on the day when the three moons joined in the sky. the construction of Asgard of Iria and the great temple of Ingliya, which is the great temple of the sacred primordial fire was started. This day is considered the day of the foundation of the holy city of the gods at the confluence of the Iriy and Om rivers. 3. Asgard of Erie: As god living on Earth; Gard is a city. The city of the gods on the Iriy River, now called Irtysh was built in the summer of 5028 from the great migration from Da'arya in 104778 BC. In its place is now the modern city of Omsk, which is also located at the confluence of the Om and Irtysh rivers, the ancient Slavic called Iriy. Translated from the ancient H'Aryan: Iriy is white, pure water. From this semantic meaning, the name of the territory appeared, Belovodye. 4. Kharatya: The sacred texts, of spiritual and philosophical treatises and historical narratives written on parchment sheets. 5. Darrung: was a person endowed with the gift of combining Runic images describing the events taking place, able to record the combined image of events in slokas, which were applied to wooden tablets, leather, parchment sheets (Kharatya) and plates of noble metal (Santies). Darrung was the Chronicler. 6. Parda or Pardus, an animal of the cat family, which existed in ancient times on the territory of Russia and was similar in appearance to a snow leopard.

Once upon a time, or rather, when there were no times, there were no worlds and realities, we the people perceived, was without incarnation, only the great Ra-M-Ha [7]. He manifested himself in the new reality and from the perception of the new boundless infinity, illuminated with the great light of joy. And then the infinite new eternity appeared in the new reality born and an infinite number of its manifestations appeared. This is how what we, humans, perceive as the spaces of the worlds of Yav, Nav and Prav appeared. 7. The great Ra-M-Ha or Brahma: the primordial single unknowable essence, radiating the life-giving light of joy and the primordial fire of the Universe (Ingliyu), from which all existing Universes appeared, as well as all inhabited worlds and realities. As soon as the great Ra-M-Ha manifested itself into the new reality, a super-great absolute something appeared in the infinite new eternity. Since it was not what the great Ra-M-Ha is, the super-great absolute something concealed the beginnings of evil, for everything that is imperfect from the highest point of view of the all-perfect is relative evil. When the great Ra-M-Ha was illuminated by the great light of joy, the great stream of Ingliya [8], the primordial living light poured from him, that is, his breath is ineffable, the unspeakable light poured out and sounded in something great. In overview this speaks to the big bang in essence, the dance between the light bursting forth and leaving behind it a trail of darkness. Beyond every black hole is a white hole, why is it white? Because of all the light matter coming from the radiant suns being birthed into a new Universe. It becomes difficult to comprehend or make sense of, what came first in relation to the original creation. I would suggest it was the thought, the thought manifested the worlds and realities. But then the great question is: who created the thought? We at THI have called this being the Source, which in simple word terms is correct, it is the source of everything. The all knowing, all seeing, all life giving entity that birthed everything. Despite the word birthing, it is neither male nor female, it just is. A primordial mix of light and dark coming together to manifest life and reality. One could argue it is the original collective consciousness. 8. The great stream of Ingliya is the life-giving light and the primary fire of the Universe, in which the Universes and our Yarila-Sun system with Midgard-Earth appeared. At the moment when the primordial living light has departed, at least one peaceful fraction of the line from the great source of Ingliá, the primordial living light has ceased to be a part of him, whom we humans call the great Ra-M-Ha, just as the light from the Yarila-Sun or a torch burning is not Yarila-Sun or a torch. What that is stating is, the suns are a portion of the original light of creation, they are not separate but a part of the divine light from the beginning. The primordial living light drove before it the haze of the super-great absolute something, devoid of Divine Light and in some places it permeated it without leaving a trace. That is the void or the singularity, which is the all or the nothing, depending upon the use of one being or more manifesting something. At that point it ceases to be devoid of light, remember just one candle lights an entire room. In other places it shone with the brightest light, the great spaces flooded and farther and farther flowed a stream of dazzling light. But the farther the primordial living light departed from the One, whom we humans call the Great Ra-M-Ha, the less bright was the light of Ingliá, more and more often pushing apart and pushing away the haze of nothingness, the haze of emptiness. In each cluster of primordial living light, a multitude of worlds and realities have appeared. But now far away from the One, his primordial living light has spread for the last time, like great clusters. In this primordial living light, living beings appeared, for Ingliá was the life-giving woman. A part of the primordial living light poured into the deep lows and there mingled with the darkness and haze. Primordial flashes appeared, from which our Universe and the Universes above were born. But everywhere, both at the top and at the bottom, like a blue river, there was a strip of primordial living light not mixing with haze, that is called the Golden Path or the Heavenly Irius. From top to bottom in the new reality, different worlds were reflected from the surface of the Celestial Iria and special realities inhabited by special beings developed in them. The higher the realities are, the greater the number of senses endowed by the beings who inhabit them. I have spoken of this before the extra senses, we are told there are 5, but 7 are hidden and activated by your soul development. From those hidden senses comes the ability to “see” on a whole different level than the two eyes. I would call it, inner sight. The chakras are the opposite in terms of numbers, 7 available but 5 hidden. Once twelve is reached in both cases the plus one kicks in. In each area of the Golden Path there was not one reality, but a multitude of different realities and the beings inhabiting them had the same number of senses, but the feelings of the beings in these realities lying next to each other were different. Such is our infinite new eternity in the new reality, and in it still burn the great clusters of primordial living light, the faint reflection of which our Suns are. The primordial living light connected many realities, giving rise to the great Trees of the Worlds [9]. As the branches of the tree were connected by the primordial living light of the leaves, reality with the mighty shining trunks and the trunks of the World Trees were rooted in the infinite new eternity generated in the new reality. They receive the light power from the light waters of the heavenly Iria [10]. This is how the Vyriy Garden was created [11], which occupies half of the heavenly Svarga. 9. The great Trees of the Worlds are Universal world structures. On Earth, these Universal world structures were embodied in the images of the sacred trees, which are still revered by white people: Igga (Iggadrasil), Oak, Birch, Ash, etc. These sacred trees were also personified with the Light Gods: Ygg with the Warrior God Odin; Oak with the God the Thunderer Perun; Birch with the fair-faced Lada-Theotokos and Ash with the generous Tarkh Dazhdbog. Now you know why they cut down the giant trees, it was to take the energy away from Midgard. The memories of which was triggered in people around the world with the first Avatar movie, many left theater crying. For those who doubt the genetic memory I put forward in relation to the created meme of racism, those emotions in and after that movie reveals it to be fact. 10. Celestial Iriy is the heavenly Iriy and in ancient times was called the Golden Path of spiritual development, in addition, the Heavenly Iriy was also called the Milky Way. Iriy also symbolizes the river, that which is order for it to work well, it has to flow. The path of spiritual development has to flow also in order for that to work as well. Dams makes you damned and can lead to being drowned by your own failure to flow in the best way. 11. Vyriy Sad are heavenly abodes, where the light gods and wise ancestors of all the Slavic-Aryan clans lived, that now inhabit Midgard-Earth. Otherwise, there were other limbs in our infinite Ingliia, existing. The limbs are describing the Universal tree from which all Universes are birthed. Sometime in the past it was decided this Universe had gone too dark and was beginning to infect the tree and other subsequent Universes. But some decided it could be saved, they were called the renegades as I understand and undertook the monumental to restoring balance within this Universe, which would subsequently save the other affected Universes and heal the tree. There, high at the top, but far from the great Ra-M-Ha, where the great clusters of the primordial living light have spilled out, there are the highest gods, one of whom we call Svarog [12], and who is the god of the worlds and realities of our infinity. 12. Svarog is the bright Slavic supreme god, who controls heaven and life in our Universe. He is responsible for the day and night of the Svarog, a period of time that alternates between light and dark every 1008 years, which equals a 9. There are more svarozhiches than limbs existing in our infinite Ingliia. Those of the light gods who are not the supreme gods of limbs are in the shining world of spiritual power [13]. The Svarozhichi are infinitely great and powerful in comparison with us: we can speak of them as the all-perfect, the almighty, the all-Good and all-knowing. 13. The World of Spiritual Power is a multidimensional and diverse world located at higher levels of the Golden Path, compared to the manifest world of Midgard-Earth. The dark forces think they can cheat their way into the World of spiritual power by going more dark, they were lied to. The ultimate trick of seducement, by choosing the perceived easier path. There is no easier or harder path on the path of spiritually, by that I mean there are no shortcuts. You attain each level based upon what your efforts, lessons learned, interactions have garnered. There is no cheat code, there is no masking, there is no lying on that level, it is the ultimate truth of where each of you are at, based on your applications only. Do the work and progress to no time on the vertical axis or play backwards and forwards in a perpetual loop of linear time, your choice. We are right in putting the Highest Gods above all that is available to us, which we comprehend. But any of the beings living in any of us on the smallest particle, revolving around the original base, also relates in its power to Svarog, as Svarog refers to the One whom we call the Great Ra-M-Ha. Every tiny particle of our body, stone, wood is a kind of solar system, a Yarila-Sun, surrounded by Earths [14], on which billions of thinking beings live, sometimes people exceeding in their mental and moral development of us. That is what soul development can bring to the all, in fact that is every being's goal, to reach the levels of the gods. 14. Lands are what the Slavs and Aryans called celestial objects revolving around the central luminary, the sun or the star. We all think the sun is the star and so I was curious as to why they mentioned them separate and found out why. A Star is a celestial body around which there is a system consisting of 1 to 7 Earths or Stars. That is, there are star systems where several small ones revolve around a large star; this central luminary is called the Star. The Sun is a celestial body around which more than 7 Earths revolve. That is, if up to 7 Earths revolve around the sun, it is a Star, and if 8 or more orbits, it is the Sun. That's why there are Star Systems and Solar Systems. More important than what has been said now, may be that in the infinite new eternity in the new reality born, below is the same boundless unknowable abyss as above. What is below is the likeness of what is above, and what is above is the basis for the likeness of what is below, according to the original will of the primordial One, the Great Ra-M-Ha. That is as above so below plus so within and so without. When you overview information or puzzles, apply those memes and things become a lot simpler to work out.

Kharatya 2 – Birth: At the source of the summer of the priestess of Fire, on the 576th circle of life from the great migration from Da'arya, along the circle of our number god, on the day of Lubomir, when the wise priests bless the sacred family unions between the great families, in all the Vesi of the holy Race and in the Asgard of Erie. On this beautiful evening, hear, children of the great Race and descendants of the heavenly Race, about the ancient and beautiful times, about the ancient wisdom, preserved by the priests. Of the birth of the worlds of Yav, Nav and Prav and for future times in the Haratiya of Light inscribed by Darrung Wirrit. Having lifted up the glory to all the highest gods and to the greatness of the heavenly Race, may every heart comprehend the greatness of the worlds, through what the song of the sorcerer Sladagoras, preserved in the Da'Aryan kind of Parda, will tell. In the true Primordial, or rather, when in the infinite new eternity the life-bearing radiant Ingliia, the Primordial Life-generating light, was poured out in the great powerful stream. In the new reality various spaces and realities of the worlds of Yav, Nav and Prav were born. The closer to the primordial source of light these spaces and realities were located in various shining worlds, the greater the dimensions of these greatest spaces and realities were filled. That is why I kept telling you to shine your beacons, you are all a part of the primordial light, so when space stretches the light gets dimmer. But if we all shine our light much brighter, the light envelops the spaces where it is stretched out. This is the power we all have, we were never small and insignificant, that is the lies of the dark forces, of which too many bought into it. As the song says, light up, light up as if you had a choice, even if you cannot hear my voice, I'll be right beside you dear. What is right beside you is the primordial light and also within you, so it is not the case of light up as if you had a choice, it becomes a moral duty for all light warriors. Why become a shrinking violet, when you can radiate with white gold? That last line was not a request, it was a statement, take much note of it. In them were born the life-bearing ancient gods, the patrons of the worlds and the greatest spaces and realities. Who, developing in the Divine light of the primordial pure Ingliia, cognized and equipped their boundless spaces and realities and the more multidimensional the abodes of life were, the greater the number of feelings were endowed with the ancient gods inhabiting the abodes of life. This is how the highest and infinitely multidimensional light world of Prav was born. That is why this race of beings are different from all others, the ability to traverse

all dimensional realities, is not something attained by the other races of beings. This is what led to the genetic games, the piggy backing games and host possession to ride our vessels and attempt to take over our unique soul/spirit packages. In my opinion, whilst it is the goal always improve life and beings, one must also strive for balance and equality as well. One must ask as to why it was not put in place for other beings with sufficient soul development, to attain the same multidimensional travel aspect? This led to envy and the genetic skullduggery that has gone on for 500 billion years. This is what started the slide of the Draco beings, having been lied to by the Abraxan's, who told them they had no soul and to chase after us, whilst they took over the real estate as revealed in the movie Jupiter Ascending. Below the highest world of Rule, in each shining abode of life in the spaces of the Golden Path, not one reality was located. But many realities and the beings inhabiting the abode of life had the same number of feelings, but the feelings of the beings in these realities lying next to each other were different and for different thinking beings, different suns and stars shone. Adds a whole new meaning now to think different, does it not? The primordial life-giving light of Ingliia united the auroras of different suns and stars from a multitude of diverse realities, giving rise to the great Trees of the Worlds. How the branches of the Tree were connected by the primordial life-giving light of the leaf-reality of our World Tree with the mighty shining trunk. Each leaf-reality shone immensely, shimmering with the bright light of various suns and the trunk of the World Tree had its numerous roots in the infinite new eternity generated in the new reality. And so, high at the top, on the Leaves-Realities, under the iridescent dazzling radiance of the great suns and stars, the new abode of life were born, in which the ancient gods-patrons of our great families appeared. They inhabited the new abode of life, bringing to the beings born and living there, beauty, creation with harmony. Transforming the Earth in the new abode of life into blooming fragrant gardens under bright multi-colored suns and stars. Not all suns or stars are yellow or orange like our sun, some are white, blue and red, depending upon the spectral shift. Many systems have two or three suns, like Sirius. Having filled the shining new abodes of life with all sorts of blessings, they went to other realities and there they also continued to create again, helping the inhabitants of these realities. Nature in those bright lands remained untouched, but life in the lands of those beauty was filled. There, the eternal wisdom poured out into the world and filled life with an immeasurable measure. The abode of life flourished in such a way that they were born into the new reality. Kind of explains a THI road trip in many ways. Filled with bright light and beauty, plus for those who have attended have bathed within a new reality. The abodes of life in the shining world have developed in harmony and perfection. In all relations, in deeds and in life, only conscience and wisdom were the measure, they were supplemented by love and faith, which leads to perfection of consciousness. This is what we are aspiring to return to that resides deep in your genetic memory code, a world of need not greed, caring and sharing and people being cooperative. Wisdom and work inspire consciousness and strengthen glorious deeds. Those blossoming lands were transformed and beings turned their gaze to heaven. Directing their clear gaze to the heavens, the beings with all their souls aspired to those distant distances, from where their wise ancient patron gods arrived on Earth, located in various realities. The Primordial Light of Ingliia developed the flight of thought, giving rise to the great creation in all the harmonious light worlds. And various forms of life, thanks to pure and clear thought, as well as the great creation, left the blooming lands and rushed to the heavens, filling new spaces and realities in various multidimensionality's. This is how the greatest and multidimensional spaces and realities of the light world of Navi (Nav) were born. Spreading through diverse spaces and realities, wise thinking beings led by the ancient patron gods, settled in the most beautiful uninhabited new lands of the bright world of Navi, and then went back to heaven. This is how the harmonious worlds of Yavi and Navi were populated, generated in the primordial living light of joy, which radiates from the primordial great Ra-M-Ha. This is explaining our return path and our destinies, but we can recreate that here on this planet before venturing into the heavens. How can we do that you may ask? I have already told you many times. In this current time/space and holding pattern you have choices to make and also a test of your mental skills and thinking. What are you going to create? What are you going to manifest? I kept telling you, did you listen and act upon it?

I'LL FIND MY WAY HOME

Kharatya 3 – The great Assa: Assa means battle. At the source of the summer of the Priestess of Fire, on the Five Hundred and Seventy-sixth circle of life from the great migration from Da'arya, along the circle of our Number God, on the day of great Ingliia, when the wise priests light the sacred living fire, in all the Vesi of the holy Race and in the Asgard of Erie. It will be told to you, children of the great Race and descendants of the heavenly Race, about the times of old and beautiful, about the wisdom of the ancient priests preserved. About the great Assa between the light and darkness, which embraced the worlds of Yavi, Navi and Pravi and for future times in this Kharatya of light inscribed by Darrung Wirrit. Having lifted up the glory to all the bright supreme gods and to the greatness of the heavenly Race, may you see with your heart the greatness of the worlds of light, through what the song of the sorcerer Sladagoras, preserved in the da'Aryan lineage of Parda, will tell. Peace years ago, and perhaps yesterday, because eternity does not know limitation in time in the light world of Arlegs, which covers two hundred and fifty-six dimensions, there was a great Assa, the great battle of the forces of light and darkness. One of the noble Arlegs, Chernobog decided with the help of cunning, to circumvent the Universal Laws of ascent along the Golden Path of spiritual development established by god Svarog. He said to his brethren: If we, the noble Arlegs remove the security seals from the secret ancient wisdom of our world for the worlds of the lower. Then, according to the law of Divine correspondence and for us, the security seals will be removed from the secret ancient wisdom of all the worlds of the highest and a free passage up the Golden Path of spiritual development will open for us. The noble Arlegs and this knowledge will also help all spirits and souls from various worlds below the world of Arlegs, to know the secret ancient wisdom of all worlds and having learned to stand next to god Svarog and other Svarozhiches. But Arleg Chernobog met a worthy rebuff in the person of the noble Arleg with Belobog, the supreme keeper of the secret ancient wisdom of the world of Arlegs, guarding the security seals from the secret ancient wisdom of this world and the cunning plan of Chernobog failed. At that time, the call of Chernobog rang out to all the worlds, spaces and realities lying along the Golden Path. He called to them for help and the whole multidimensional world of Legs appeared at the call of Chernobog. The dark Lehi, the dark Arlegs and the Koschey, the rulers of hell, flew to him uninvited and with them the whole army of hell flew to him. Belobog alone could not resist such great dark forces and Chernobog tore off the first security seal, the seal from the ancient knowledge of the world of Arlegs. The knowledge spread widely over the worlds lying below the world of Arlegs, right up to the very depths of the inferno. In turn, then the call of the wise Belobog sounded, who saw that he could not save the security seals alone with the secret ancient wisdom of the Arleg world. He called for help from the higher worlds and he turned to the Guardians of the world of knowledge. But the keepers of the secret ancient wisdom of the world of knowledge remained indifferent, since they did not want to fight with Chernobog, considering him free in the choice of his actions. A catastrophic mistake from such higher beings, you see we all make mistakes no matter which level you are at. The key is to fix and make sure they are never repeated. Chernobog sounds like Lucifer to me, with the same dire consequences for us all. All due to their laziness and people wishing to cut corners with soul development. There are no short cuts, no savior programs or hand ups on those levels, you achieve what you achieve based only upon your own input and development. I will repeat again for the hard of hearing, there are no short cuts. Only the keepers of the hidden ancient wisdom of the worlds of beginnings, as well as the Gods-protectors from all the higher worlds and realities, responded to the call of the noble Belobog. They surrounded the whole world of Arlegs with a dense energy dome of Ice Silence and the Great Assa began between the Light and Dark forces and time stopped in the worlds. Arlegs are the dark forces, along with the Koshey. Ice silence is creating an ice age on those worlds. Interesting they reference and time stopped. That from the dark forces perspective is a cheat code, but they exposed it too much in their desperation and some beings then worked it out. The great battle engulfed many lands of the worlds of Yav and Nav, from inferno to the world of Nirvana. But the noble Arlegs did not want to participate in the Great Assa, nor to fight against the protector Gods from all the higher worlds and realities, nor to remain inside the dense energy dome of the Ice Silence created by the keepers of the hidden ancient wisdom of the worlds of Beginnings. With their artificial Suns, they melted the adjacent part of the dome of the Ice Silence and descended into the world of Legs and the intermediate Worlds, and Chernobog, who also did not want to stay inside the dome of the Ice Silence, descended and found refuge in the World of Dark Arlegs. Artificial suns? Oh my! Now you know where the clowns got the idea from. It also reveals who they work with as well. From the beginning of the great Assa, as it were, Belobog rose above the world of Arlegs, for he united the Light forces with his call and led them to fight against the armies of the dark worlds. The defeated dark Legs and dark Arlegs were sent to the worlds from which they came, taking from them a great oath, not to violate the laws of ascent along the Golden Path of spiritual development, established by the god Svarog. Only the Koschey, the rulers of Inferno, with the remnants of their armies, rushed to the passage in the dome of Ice Silence, which the noble Arlegs had created. And they disappeared into their Inferno, realizing that the Light forces do not penetrate into other people's worlds and realities, carrying the Tigers of War on their banners. By the will of Svarog, the gods-protectors from all the highest worlds and realities created the boundary, light and darkness separating, so that the dark forces could not penetrate into the Light lands of Svarga the great. The line was laid through the lands in Yav in order to separate the Light from the Darkness of the world of Nav. The explicit frontier separated all the realities of Nav, and the dark Nav was brought below Yav. Reality expanded, grew and strengthened, blocking all the passages for Inferno and also for the dark Arlegs and Legs, who fought against Belobog and committed evil in Svarga the most pure. Boundless reality, like a boundary, separated the world of Inferno and Darkness, where power dominates, from the wisdom of the ancient knowledge of the world, where conscience dominates, light, not force. But the dark forces, who have tasted knowledge, direct their gaze to the worlds of creation. Can it be stated that, a lack of wisdom upon a planet creates more darkness. The solution then is, to teach our children in the highest possible form, not the current indoctrination rubbish. The education solution in the Blueprint covers that.

Kharatya 4 – The arrangement of the worlds: At the very source of the summer of the Priestess of Fire [15], on the Five Hundred and Seventy-sixth Circle of Life from the great migration from Da' arya [16], according to the circle of our Number God, after the day of great Ingliia, when the wise priests lit the sacred living fire in all the Vesi of the holy Race [17] and in Asgard of Erie. It will be told to you, children of the great Race and descendants of the heavenly Race, about the times of old and beautiful, about the wisdom of the ancient priests preserved. On the arrangement of the various worlds and the new great Assa [18] between light and darkness, which embraced the four halls of Svarga [19] and Midgard-Earth [20], and for future times in this Haratya of Light inscribed by Darrung Wirrit. Having lifted up the glory to all the bright high gods and to the greatness of the heavenly Race, may you see with your heart the greatness of life in the worlds, through what the song of the sorcerer Sladagoras, preserved in the da'Aryan lineage of Parda, will tell. 15. Summer of the Priestess of Fire - 131 years on the circle of the Number God. 16. Da' arya - Sacred country, was located on the sunken continent in the northern ocean. Da' arya was called by various peoples in their own way: Arctica, Hyperborea, Severia, Arctogea, etc. 17. In all Vesi of the Holy Race - i.e. in all 16 regions of Belovodye, also called Semirechye. 18. Great Assa - Heavenly battle between the Light and Dark Forces. 19. Four halls of Svarga - four constellations: Makosh - Ursa Major; Rada - Orion; Race - small and large Leo; Swati - there are no analogues in modern constellations. 20. Midgard-Earth is the ancient Slavic-Aryan name for the planet Earth. In the great country of Ta-Kemi [21], which was located east of Antlani [22] and south of Great Venice [23]. There were numerous tribes with skin of the color of darkness [24] and tribes with skin of the color of the setting sun. [25]. Among these tribes there were two powerful castes of priests and they had three spiritual teachings, which were given to them by the H'Aryans, who came from the country of the Ants. 21. Ta-Kemi is the ancient name of a country that existed in the north of the African continent, on the territory of modern Egypt. 22. Antlan - The land of the Ants, was located on a large island that sank in the Atlantic Ocean about 13000 years ago. The ancient Greeks called the land of Antes, Atlantis. 23. Great Venice - The country in which the clans and tribes of the Wends live, the territory of modern Europe. 24. Tribes with skin of the color of darkness - Negroid peoples of the north of the African continent. 25. Tribes with skin the color of the Setting Sun are the ancestors of certain Semitic peoples, in particular the Arabs.

One Spiritual Teaching - external, not representing a mystery, given to the peoples by the Ta-Kemi priests of the initial caste and not recognized by the priests themselves as the true faith, said that the soul of each person after death moves into the body of a person of one or another caste, sometimes a magnificent leader or even a high priest. When the life of a deceased person was high and worthy and also in the body of an animal, insect or even a plant, when a person unworthily lived his own life. But the priests of this caste themselves professed a different spiritual teaching. They sincerely thought and believed that the transmigration of human souls takes place not only on our Midgard-Earth, but that the souls of deceased people go to other Earths of our Universe. Where they incarnate in the bodies of people or animals of other worlds, depending on their actions in the manifest life on Midgard-Earth. They called this law Karma, in honor of the great goddess Karna, who monitors the observance of the law of spiritual perfection. However, among the Priests of the second caste there was a group of even more highly initiated, few of the priests of the lower castes were known and they had a different spiritual teaching, very different from the previous ones. Caste had a differing meaning back then, it meant a trade union, a union of a hundred. This spiritual teaching said that: our surrounding manifest world, the world of yellow stars and solar systems, is only a grain of sand in the Infinite Universe. That there are stars and suns white, blue, purple, pink and green, stars and suns of colors that we have never seen, our senses do not comprehend. I mentioned about the vivid colors seen in dream or vision mode, this passage appears to describe some of it. Our senses do not comprehend it says, you will if you develop on the mental planes, not just the astral. The other senses begins to connect up to 12, that is a massive difference to the basic 5 senses, particularly the visual one. Their number is infinitely great, their diversity is infinite, the spaces separating them are endless. All these various worlds are only fiery lamps standing at the entrance to the hall of the Creator, whose name is the Great Ra-M-Ha. And all these various worlds are nothing before other worlds lying outside of our Universe and again their number is infinitely great and their diversity is immeasurably great. The infiniteness of the limbs divide all these diverse worlds. These wise priests taught that in our Universe there is a Golden Path of spiritual ascent, leading up and called Svaga, along which the harmonious worlds are located and they follow one after another: the world of people, the world of Legs, the world of Arlegs, the worlds of Arans, the worlds of Radiance, the world of Nirvana, the worlds of Beginnings, the world of Spiritual Power, the World of Knowledge, the World of Harmony, the World of Spiritual Light, the Worlds of Spiritual Heritage, The World of Law, the worlds of Creation, the world of Truth, the worlds of Patrons and many others to the greatest world of rule. Some of the highest bearers of the spiritual heritage in our Universe, in their goodness, descended and placed their worlds between the worlds of Arlegs and Arans, in order to place their camps closer to those in need of help. The worlds along the Golden Path are those mentioned in the Ancient Vedas. If the world of People is four-dimensional, then the worlds located along the Golden Path have the following number of dimensions: World of Legs - 16, World of Arlegs - 256, Worlds of Arans - 65.536, Worlds of Radiance - 65.536 (2), World of Nirvana - 65.536 (4), Worlds of Beginnings - 65.536 (8), World of Spiritual Power - 65.536 (16), World of Knowledge - 65.536 (32), World of Harmony - 65.536 (64), World of Spiritual Light - 65.536 (128), Worlds of Spiritual Heritage - 65.536 (256), World of Law - 65.536 (512), Worlds of Creation - 65.536 (1024), World of Truth - 65.536 (2048), Worlds of Patrons - 65.536 (4096). In parentheses - the power of the number. The world of People is four dimensional? Oh my, I wonder how that works? Is science lying again? Are there examples showing people can traverse a 4D environment? Research using virtual reality finds that humans, despite living in a three-dimensional world, can, without special practice, make spatial judgments about line segments embedded in four-dimensional space, based on their length (one-dimensional) and the angle (two-dimensional) between them. How can they do that with no training? Genetic memory explains that. In another study, the ability of humans to orient themselves in 2D, 3D, and 4D mazes has been tested. Each maze consisted of four path segments of random length and connected with orthogonal random bends, but without branches or loops, which were actually labyrinths. The graphical interface was based on John McIntosh's free 4D Maze game. The participating persons had to navigate through the path and finally estimate the linear direction back to the starting point. The researchers found that some of the participants were able to mentally integrate their path after some practice in 4D. Researchers also hypothesized that human acquisition of 4D perception could result in the activation of brain visual areas and entorhinal cortex. Which proves the genetic memory code within us all. REMEMBER

The path of spiritual development, known as the Golden Path: There are also intermediate worlds: five, seven, nine, twelve and smaller in the number of dimensions. At the end of the Swaga passes the frontier, beyond which the greatest world of Prav begins. In addition to the harmonious and intermediate worlds located along the Golden Path, there are realities that come in: time, space, wandering spirits, changing images, shadows, sounds, numbers, the world of darkness, also called the Inferno or the abyss, where the heaviest particles of primordial darkness entered. The worlds located along the Golden Path are more harmonized and more complete in their manifestations than the intermediate realities: for example, although in the reality of the five dimensions there are more opportunities for the development of spirits than in our world of reality, but due to the eternal disorder in the reality of the five dimensions, particles of primordial darkness often explode. An example of spaces and realities of smaller dimensions are the worlds of sounds, shadows, mirror images, ever-changing images, where constant transformations take place. There, a flower can become in a moment the Scroll of Kharatya, then a worm, a lynx, etc. And all these worlds and realities are not located separately at all, but penetrate each other. So where in one reality the great waves of the sea are raging, in another reality the forest is rustling or there are high mountains covered with eternal snows. The reason for the transition from one reality to another, a new reality, a change in the lines of force of the spirits and the law of the Goddess Karna. The Infinite Spaces, these separating realities, are, as it were, streets in a big city, where spirits of different worlds can meet in their original form. But when Spirits enter someone else's world or reality, they must obey the laws existing in this World. An interesting concept that I will try to breakdown into understandable sentences in the modern day. "At the end of the Swaga passes the frontier, beyond which the greatest world of Prav begins", is the frontier the threshold and leap of faith we speak about? The worlds along the Golden Path is filled with distractions like time, space, wandering spirits, changing images, shadows, sounds, numbers, the world of darkness, also called the Inferno or the abyss, observe don't absorb their madness is the solution to that. "Although in the reality of the five dimensions there are more opportunities for the development of spirits than in our world of reality, but due to the eternal disorder in the reality of the five dimensions, particles of primordial darkness often explode." That is 1 through 5D, you see 5D is not the get out of jail free card that proponents of ignorance like Alan James and the plethora of new age bs'ers will have you believe. There are still issues there as well, although it is easier to see and address than here. "An example of spaces and realities of smaller dimensions are the worlds of sounds, shadows, mirror images, ever-changing images, where constant transformations take place" – negative sounds via towers although work to address those is underway, dancing shadows due to a lack of shadow work, mirror images which are distortions and ever changing images which are glitches in the matrix and Mandela effects. It is an overlay of the realities, as they said here; all these worlds and realities are not located separately at all, but penetrate each other. The key is to decode them and remain aware of your surroundings, which reality do you need to reside in at a given point in time? You have to define that, that is your path and you cannot let other people or their trickery either deceive you or take you from your path. THI has shown you the Golden Path, only you can walk it.

The peculiarity of the world structure is that all worlds, all realities, regardless of the number of dimensions that determine them, are in the same place, in relation to human understanding and to that Infinite closure, while filling our entire Universe. But there are barriers between the worlds and realities of different dimensions, which can be overcome and joined the life of another world or reality, only by receiving the number of feelings and those qualities that are characteristic of such a world or reality. The number of feelings is describing the right frequencies to enter, that is based upon your own soul development. Some worlds or Universes with the same number of dimensions exist next to each other, while realities penetrate one another. That is how some UFO's appear and disappear, they bleed through in and out of our reality. A bit like cloaking, that is done by crafts and also ourselves if we develop enough. But having qualitatively different feelings or different forms and conditions of life, the inhabitants of these Realities, existing in a single dimensional-spatial structure, do not collide with each other and sometimes do not even suspect the existence of each other. Each such reality has its own nature, its own time flows, there are its own laws inherent only in this reality. Many of these laws are difficult for the perception of a person living in our manifest world, because they do not fit into the generally accepted framework of human perception, within the framework of this form of existence and as a result of this, the meaning of the laws of an alien reality becomes incomprehensible to a person. Cognition of the surrounding world of nature and one's inner world leads a person to realize himself as an integral part of the Universe. If cognition is supplemented by the ability to create, then this opens up the opportunity for a person to cognize not only his world of reality, but also other worlds and realities, sometimes lying beyond the threshold of human perception and understanding. Transition to another world or reality is possible, but for this it is necessary to cross the threshold that is associated with the loss of the body of this dimension. Such a transition in the World of Yav is called death by the people. If the higher beings of other worlds and realities fall into this world, then they begin to be perceived here not in their original, true essence, but in the forms of perception of this world, which are only available to its inhabitants. The more complex the structure of the World or Reality in a certain area of the Golden Path, the greater the chances for the inhabitants of this area to be reflected in the consciousness of the Worlds or Realities of less complexity.

Yet, what is about to be attempted between now and 2072 and beyond is, the ability to transcend in body for the first time. At the base of the Golden Path is the world of people and the ascent of a person to a higher world or higher reality is possible only as a result of spiritual development. For this, the Gods came to the world of people and the teachers of mankind come. They are beings of a higher order of complexity, who come down to guide and transmit the higher knowledge and commandments. After all, not only he himself works on the development of the spiritual path and spiritual essence of a person, but also the Universal forces that elevate or delay his spiritual path and spiritual development. The ascent of the inhabitants from one reality to a higher one does not necessarily happen gradually. If, in his development, a person gets the opportunity to join the understanding of the complexity of the nearest harmonized world along the Golden Path, then this abruptly transfers him to the higher world, bypassing the various worlds and realities of intermediate dimensions. The fate of each spiritual entity largely depends entirely on the goddess Karna, who contributes to or hinders its development and perception of fundamentally new structures and forms of the higher worlds. Freed from the physical body, the personality chooses the reality that most corresponds to its spiritual path and spiritual development. These realities belong to the same infinity as the corresponding areas on the Golden Path, but the structural forms and content are presented in them in different combinations. Nothing in the universe prevents the ascension of the spirit except himself. An important to all of us, nothing prevents the ascension of the spirit except him or herself. So, you see it is all down to you to be the savior of the self, the redeemer of the self and the developer of the self and all that requires personal responsibility. Getting into a certain area of Svaga, depending on his own level of spiritual development, a person begins to live according to the laws of the world of this infinity. In a number of limbs there is one, which is more than a giant ball, the surface of which is the boundary of this limblessness. In some places this ball is almost in contact with other limbs, which are also in the form of balls and in places where cone-shaped spaces have been formed between spherical limbs. There are worlds, which are, as it were, pyramids or cones, the three sides of which and the bases are concave surfaces. On one of these supergiant balls live highly gifted beings, who by terrestrial standards can be called people, although they only remotely resemble people. Some of their dwellings resemble trees, others, giant mushrooms or beautiful gigantic flowers, to the entrance to which they climb on special flying machines, similar to the earthly Wightmans. Wightman is a flying Celestial Chariot, i.e. a spaceship on which Gods and humans travel between Earths or planets. There are also stranger monasteries: as if a column of smoke rises there in a wide and long spiral and people live in the voids of this spiral. All of them eat a variety of food prepared from the clots of energies of that inhabited world. This food is easily extracted, when necessary, from the soil and air and is absorbed by them in extremely small quantities. That is life force energy they are consuming, which makes a mockery of you can't eat the animal's brigade. Energy is energy no matter which form it is consumed, at every point in life you are consuming something or someone else. Plants are energy and have consciousness, feelings, emotions and everything else to be a living breathing life source, yet curiously the vegans overlooks this fact of life. People dress in gorgeous fabrics created from different energy flows; they don't know anything like need. These people have all sorts of machines and mechanisms, all clans belonging together and young people willingly work for them, making everything necessary or desirable from the clots of energies. Sometimes a person falls into worlds that are beyond any connection with the Golden Path, these are realities that come in: time, space, karma, madness, wandering spirits and the world of darkness, also called the hell world. In addition, he can get into the intermediate realities of Svaga, which are characterized by uncertainty, a violation of cause-and-effect relationships. What happens in them is what the inhabitants of the harmonious world perceive as a miracle. However, for the inhabitants of intermediate realities, this is extremely inconvenient: as you can never reliably predict the result of your actions. Throughout the Golden Path, the only true and unconditional law of the Universe operates: Love for everything that exists and creation and the birth of love is preceded by wise knowledge. The birth of love is preceded by wise knowledge, I would add soul development to that to then be able to experience the birth of love through the Music of the spheres. Through love and knowledge, each spiritual essence develops, rising to the Creator and gradually comprehending His creation, and having cognized, begins to create something of its own, filled with love. The highest manifestation of love is self-sacrifice to help the lower. This is what the Lehi do, who lead people and the highest bearers of the spiritual heritage, who bring to people the knowledge of the supreme, perfect love. Love teaches understanding, mercy and sacrifice. These qualities prepare a person for service to others and for creativity, which is seen as a struggle against evil, as complicity in the deeds of the transformation of the world. It is necessary to properly consider the fight against evil, as evil is not absolute. Evil is only a manifestation of underdevelopment and ignorance. Even the demons, the lower beings of the dark world, are not devoid of hope for spiritual ascent in the distant future, for liberation from dirt and anger as a result of a long path of development under the guidance of the highest spiritual mentors of the Golden Path. The act of any spiritual entity first of all affects itself. Since any individuality has absolute freedom of choice, its decision affects its structure. Its future fate depends on the choice: by some actions the developing personality contributes to its ascent up various areas of the Golden Path, by others it burdens itself, strengthens the ties that hinder development and even drag it down to the dark worlds. This is the Law of the Goddess Karna, in case of impossibility of ascent, it becomes necessary to go through the whole circle of life again, but in other realities, in order to perform the necessary work on one's spiritual essence. In primitive human perception, the law of the Goddess Karna was reflected as the idea of the three great judgments after death, also called the last judgment. In fact, there is no last judgment, there is only a delay in ascent and even then only temporarily, because everything is subject to the Unified Law of Ascension from the lowest to the highest. Evil, even if unwittingly created, always weighs down its creator. Only where the spiritual beings are so high that ascent is a natural condition of their life, which itself is aimed at facilitating the ascent of lower beings. There Karma, as an inevitable pattern of movement in the spiritual world, yields to another active principle, which appears in the form of love. The inhabitants of different worlds and realities are looking for the most complete correspondence, between the way of life and their own essence. Thus, the spirits of the elemental forces see happiness in gaining power and victory over the elements; The spirits of the stars of knowledge understand happiness as the accumulation of wisdom, as the comprehension of the worlds and themselves. For the spirits of death, happiness exists in the transition from reality to reality; the spirits of space are happy to overcome it. The fullness of happiness can only be in the constant struggle against evil, which prevents the inhabitants of the dark lands from starting to climb through various areas of the Golden Path. This is possible only in one way: in communication with other inhabitants of one's reality, in educating the spiritual essence of a person to perceive the universal life principle, which manifests itself in all areas of the Golden Path. The instructions of the highest bearers of the spiritual heritage, who bring the Divine light to the inhabitants of all realities, are united in their basic provisions. For ascent, it is only important to realize one's unity, indissoluble kinship with other entities, putting between oneself and them love for equals and compassion for the lower forms of life. Mercy and faith in the all-healing feeling of love and goodness are able in the future to transform even demons, these seemingly eternal enemies of the Divine light, animals of the world of darkness, who preach among the people of the manifest world: permissiveness, cruelty, greed, selfishness and finiteness of existence. Demons, the lower essences of the dark world, arose at the birth of the worlds in the darkness, and were similar to the Legs, from which, they differ only in the initial absence of the Divine light. The true lords of the dark worlds are: the dark Legi, the dark Arlegs and the Koschey, the Princes of Darkness. They arose in the primordial darkness, when particles of the great Ingliia, the primordial life-giving light, came into their worlds. But their active development began in the time of the great Assa, in those dark realities where the seeds of ancient knowledge fell, when Chernobog broke the security seals from the secret ancient wisdom of the Arleg world. Having gained the ancient knowledge of the world of Arlegs, some of the realities of the worlds of darkness immediately began to fight against darkness and began to climb to the top along the Golden Path. However, possessing power and ancient knowledge, they did not learn to distinguish between good and evil, carrying within themselves the indelible particles of the original primordial darkness. That was not going along the path, they jumped the path and with devastating consequences. Knowledge is power, which can be used in two ways, good and evil. But when that knowledge gained begins to wield its power over you and others, the fall escalates. It is one thing having the knowledge, it is another to know what to do with it. Knowledge with wisdom brings clarity of thought and action, knowledge without wisdom leads to muddiness and indecision. With spiritual ascension, there are no short cuts, each letter from A-Z has to be ticked off in order to advance the soul path. The beginning of power, coercion and submission permeates all dark worlds and realities. They tried to introduce this low form in the areas bordering the world of darkness, in which the Halls of Makoshi, Rada and Rasa fell, as well as the Arm of the Swati Hall, where Yarilo-Sun and our Midgard-Earth are located. All this led to the beginning of a new great Assa. This happened because the Arans did not let the dark ones to the top of the Golden Path, offering them to first transform into the light and for this they drew the frontier through the lands of the manifest world. At the time of the new great Assa, the dark ones were expelled from all the lands that were in the Halls of Makoshi, Rada and Race and therefore the path of the dark spirits and souls began to pass only through the world of people living on the lands in the sleeve of the Swati Hall. Only through the world of people it became possible to climb to the top along the Golden Path. A particularly important role was played by Midgard-Earth, located in the middle between light and darkness. Because of this, the dark forces decided to give power over people to the demons. That is why on Midgard-Earth there is a struggle between the dark and light forces, in which people from different Clans and Nations participate. Nations means races, not countries. NOTHING ELSE MATTERS

The Book of Ingliism – Introduction: Ingliism is the third book in the series Slavic-Aryan Vedas, published for general use. This book is intended to tell modern man the true truth, without any distortions and false interpretations, about the ancient faith of the Slavic and Aryan peoples - Ingliism. For our contemporaries in the Russian State and abroad, the very name of the ancient faith of the Slavic and Aryan peoples, Ingliism is forgotten and seems to be something alien. For in the modern world there is an indisputable, scientifically proven opinion about the so-called traditional Russian religions, which have made their immeasurable contribution to the creation of the entire Russian history and the Russian state. These religions today include Christianity, Islam, Judaism and Buddhism. But if we carefully consider this indisputable, scientifically proven opinion about traditional Russian religions, it turns out that Christianity was brought from the Byzantine Empire; Islam from Arabia Saud; Judaism from Israel; Buddhism is from China. It turns out that the Russian people had nothing of their own, no history, no faith, no culture and everything was borrowed. What did the Russian people have initially, in what or in whom did they believe before the appearance of traditional Russian religions? Official historical science answers this question unequivocally, the Russian people were pagans [1] and professed paganism, the barbaric cult of ignorant, semi-savage people. Much has been said about pagans, courtesy of pro pagan da and peoples and cultures have been broad swept by the “recognized religions”. What are the Russian definition of Pagans? 1. Pagans: foreigners, representatives of a foreign people with alien beliefs, traditions and culture (Old Church Slavonic Dictionary, Moscow. 1894); 2) tribes hostile to the Slavs, who spoke other languages and believed in other gods. (Russian Vedas, Appendix, Moscow, 1992, p. 287); 3) this word means all people who have not been announced by the Gospel preaching of salvation and who have not accepted Christianity (Biblical Encyclopedia, Archimandrite Nicephorus, Moscow, 1891). But if you ask representatives of official historical science about what beliefs other peoples of Midgard-Earth had, before the emergence of traditional world religions, the answer will be the same - paganism. One involuntarily gets the impression that all peoples on Earth, without exception, before the advent of traditional world religions, professed only one religion - paganism. People worshipped the same gods, the same forces of nature and consequently all were ignorant barbarians and had no history. This is the story of most countries and cultures, all formulated by the appearance of separate churches, when they were actually one and the same. Did each nation on Earth have its own history, culture, tradition, there was its own people's faith, which had its own original basis and its own unique name? The original faith of any people and not amorphous paganism, should never be studied and considered as something isolated, mythical or mythological, not connected either with the history of the people, or with its original culture and ancient tradition. According to the modern view of the history of mankind and it covers about 5-6 thousand years, from ancient Egypt to the present day. Almost all the peoples of the world, except for the people of Israel, history begins with some sacred legend, a unique epic or myth, headed by a great hero, the ancestor who gave the people his name. Yes because life according to the Vatican cult started 6k years ago, funny that because Gobekli Tepi is at least 11K years ago. Six thousand years is their story, not our story. For some reason, our Russian history begins to be considered from the time when the great Russian power represented a huge social system, a strong people who inhabited the vast territories of Eurasia. But the great Russian power, rich in trade, crafts and industry, for some reason it is customary today to divide into two large independent states: Kievan Rus and Novgorod Rus, as well as several Small Russian Principalities. As if silver Russia, now called Serbia, never existed in the past, the northerners-Pomors did not have their own state of Pomeranian Russia which was Prussia, etc. Now few people know, even among scholars, what the other great Russian Principalities were originally called and that they were part of a single mighty Slavic-Aryan Power covering the vast expanses of Europe and Asia, called Rassenia. Rassenia - the territory in which the great Race, i.e. white peoples, settled. Subsequently, the word Rassenia passed into the Latin language Ruthenia and it began to be translated simply as Rus. In ancient times, the territory of Rassenia was washed by the waters of four oceans: Studenny (Arctic), Eastern (Pacific), Western (Atlantic) and Madder (Indian). At the same time, it is absolutely hushed up that the division of the great Russian State into independent and sometimes opposing Principalities began as a result of interference in the internal affairs of the Russian land of foreign states in the VIII - X centuries. From the Volga Bulgaria and the Khazar Khaganate, to the Byzantine and Roman Empires. The supreme authorities of these states used various methods of inciting discord and enmity between the great Russian princes: from flattery, deception, forgery, slander, bribery to armed raids on Slavic cities and villages. When these methods did not succeed, due to a worthy rebuff from the Slavic armies, the great Russian princes and their retinues under the guise of civilized enlightenment, began to impose new religions alien to the Slavs and Aryans. Judaism and Christianity of the Byzantine persuasion, Arianism and Roman Catholicism, Assyrian Zoroastrianism, Arab Islam and China Buddhism. All different names, all under the banner of the Jewish law book, the Talmud. Yes, the forced religions to bring down the white race primarily, but to also create division and dependency to all other races. Religion breeds child level thinking, wanting a parent or savior to save them, instead of developing, saving and being responsible for themselves. The Slavs and Aryans have always been tolerant people, they knew about Christ and Jehovah, about Mithras and Osiris, about Allah and Shiva, about Gautam Buddha and about the creator of a new ritual of fire worship - Zarathushtra and calmly treated these and other religious directions. In those ancient times, temples of various religions stood in the cities of the great Russian lands for more than one century, in which foreign merchants who came to the market celebrated their religious and cult rites. The foreign merchants were the Jews, they ran the Silk Road. It was these temples that later became centers for the destruction of the Slavic and Aryan old faith, history, culture and tradition. It is necessary to immediately explain that the persecution of those professing the old faith and its priests, was arranged not by true followers of this or that religious teaching, who realized the deep, innermost meaning of god's word. But by those latter-day adherents who used this or that religious teaching for their personal and selfish purposes, and newly converted followers who did not know the true, spiritual essence of the teaching. As a rule, the first of the latter-day adherents used the second to achieve their selfish goals. They were incited against the followers of the ancient beliefs and demanded the destruction of the latter, because they were supposedly enemies of the true faith. People in general have no idea of how devious and indeed deadly the subversion of the peoples via religion has been. Whole villages, towns and cities destroyed, threats of being labeled heretics and burned at the stake and all kinds of other oppressive measures of a heinous nature. The Spanish Jews who came as conquistadors did it, the Pilgrim said to be coming here due to religious persecution was a lie, they were coming to persecute people on American lands. But they concluded their attitude towards the executors of their plans in the phrase: make the ignoramus pray to God, he will break his forehead. What an interesting phrase that is, break his forehead? Is that the third eye and also taking over the mind? In my opinion yes, because all religion is a mind control process on billions of people, many of which have died following these cults. The facts that serve as the basis for the creation of the most ancient Russian history lay under the cover for a long time, not disassembled, not considered and not passed through the crucible of sound and impartial criticism. Meanwhile, the history of the most ancient peoples, the Slavs and Aryans, is so rich in facts that everywhere there are traces of them, woven into the life of all the peoples of Europe and Asia, with a strict analysis of which the great Russian power itself becomes the greatest in the world. Some Germanic and Arab historians conscientiously studied Russian history, but ignorance of all the main Slavic and Aryan dialects, as well as their little acquaintance with the character, manners, customs, domestic life and beliefs, made this matter difficult. We will not say much about those who set themselves the duty to humiliate and denigrate everything that relates to the history of the Slavs and Aryans, such specialists exist to this day. By now, as this is the 33rd episode of this series, I am sure you are all aware of exactly who has done and does do that. Those that call themselves Jews, which by their culture and religion of law they are, but are entirely different from the average everyday Jew. It is the Jewish EL-ites who run these denigration programs on not just the Rus and Aryans, but the world over. They have attempted in the past and are now trying to deprive the Slavs and Aryans not only of their history, glory, greatness, power, wealth, industry, trade, as well as all the good qualities of the soul and heart, but even seek to eradicate their Old Faith, ancient tradition and original culture. Most of the world's culture has been dictated by the media over the past 80 years, Americans set up as the world police so that they are denigrated as a gun toting murdering squad. Just like the so called British Empire previously, it is a set up to bring down those countries, throw in the Dutch, French and Germans the common denominator of angst and denigration is the white race. For basic common sense, if you were going to have a world police, why wasn't China or India selected? After all they have the highest populace, in fact the region of the world China, India, Japan and the islands in between has over 50% of the world's populace in that one small sector of this planet. Yet curiously the overpopulation brigade never focuses on that, do they? One of the ways that such "experts" have chosen is the imposition of plausible lies. For example, the myth that the supposedly ancient faith of the Slavic and Aryan peoples disappeared more than a thousand years ago, during the Christianization of Russia, and in the modern world there are no traces of the ancient faith and there are no followers. This is a lie that has been imposed on people for a long time.

LOSING MY RELIGION

As if there was no period of dual faith in Russia, destroyed by Patriarch Nikon [5] and Tsar Alexei Mikhailovich Romanov in the XVII century, when representatives of the pre-Christian Old Faith and the Orthodox Old Believers-Ynglings [6] and orthodox, that is, righteous Christians, peacefully coexisted on Russian lands. But the period of dual faith is well described in the writings of Academician Rybakov. The Romanov family line actually ended in the 1500's and was superseded by the Holstein family line, who were German Jews. 5. Patriarch Nikon - in the XVII century he headed the Russian Orthodox Christian Church in Muscovy. He carried out a church reform, which led to a schism among Christians. Christians who did not accept Nikon's reforms began to be called the official church, Old Believers or schismatics. 6. Old Believers-Inglings, Radziwill's Chronicle calls them Inglyans. In addition, the date of the forced baptism of the people in Kiev in 988, is automatically considered the date of the baptism of all Russian cities and settlements. It is worth considering, how could the Russian people accept Christianity a thousand years ago in 850-year-old Moscow, 400-year-old Tyumen or 60-year-old Magadan? Patriarch Nikon, with his church reform in the XVII century, not only replaced the two-fingered with a three-finger and directed the procession around the churches towards the sun, he did everything to erase the memory of the pre-Christian Orthodox Old Faith among the people inhabiting Muscovy. The sun being represented by fake Egyptian Ra, in their eyes at this point. For the representatives of Byzantine orthodox Christianity [7], the greatness, wisdom and glory of pre-Christian Orthodoxy were the main obstacle to the spread of the new doctrine among the common people, whose culture and traditions they did not understand and considered wild. Which is why they called them barbarians, just like today's modern woke culture, if you don't follow the script, out comes the negative names and labels. 7. Orthodox Christianity - that is, unchanging, primordial. Orthodoxy [gr. orthodoxia] - unswerving adherence to the foundations of any doctrine, worldview; in religion - orthodoxy, unswerving adherence to the traditional teachings of the church. This is how the system operates, but it only works because stupid or ignorant people comply with it. It is like free speech, they tell you that you have it, until you mention Jews in a negative way, then the full Talmudic law comes down upon you. You then get labeled Jew hater, anti-Semitic, anti-god, white supremacist and all kinds of other childish names. But there is another thing that applies or perhaps not as the case maybe, nobody is above the law. Yeah right, the law doesn't apply to anyone operating the system, only to the people, whether just or not. For example, back in the ninth century, the Byzantine missionary Belisarius, who visited Russia, wrote: Orthodox Slovenes and Rusyns are wild people and their life is wild and godless. Men and girls naked together locked themselves in a hotly exhausted hut and torturing their bodies, whipping themselves with wood rods mercilessly to exhaustion and after jumping into an ice hole or a snowdrift and hollowed again going to the hut torturing their bodies. That is the hot and cold springs or sauna technique for cleansing and a healthy heart, but as we have seen we can only take their pills, jabs and potions to be healthy. Only problem with that is, hardly any are healthy, so by basic common sense it means they don't work for us. It works for them as it makes us more sick and we buy more pills and potions and the sickness cycle continues. As a Greek-Byzantine could understand what a Russian bath was, for him this ancient rite was a manifestation of savagery. The evidence of that statement is in this next line. Is it not because in the days of forced Christianization the baths were destroyed, as if the place was filthy and demonic. In order to excommunicate people from everything native, to replace words and origins, according to Nikon's decree, in Christian liturgical books, the phrase "Orthodox faith" was replaced by "Orthodox Christian faith", which entailed attributing to Christianity the achievements, greatness, wisdom and glory of pre-Christian Orthodoxy. However, we will not allow them to appropriate our native and magnify someone else's strength, glory, power and knowledge! Let us take away from them by arguments, the facts that they so forcibly confined to the history of other peoples, robbing the history of the Slavs and Aryans! History plays an important role in the cajoling of peoples into their way of being. Eradicated entire populaces via war, force people into accepting other cultures and mold a new culture for them. The old adage those that don't remember the past, are forced to repeat it like a giant loop. This is what has happened on this planet for a long time and the system of control has used every organization to mold the planet and its people into their image, none moreso than the religious cults. Who pretend to be different, when they all have the same origin. Same applies to all the forms of governance, all of it is Zionism. Many people recognize only generally accepted facts and documents that they themselves are able to study. For them, one can quote the preamble to the Federal Law on freedom of conscience and Religious Associations No. 125-FZ, which entered into force on October 1, 1997: The Federal Assembly of the Russian Federation, recognizing the special role of Orthodoxy in the history of Russia, in the formation and development of its spirituality and culture; respecting Christianity, Islam, Buddhism, Judaism and other religions that form an integral part of the historical heritage of the peoples of Russia; adopts this Federal Law. As can be seen from the above fragment, Orthodoxy and Christianity, even in the preamble to the Federal Law of Russia, do not mean the same thing. Any free interpretations of the law are unacceptable, what is written with a pen cannot be cut down with an axe. This is the real role and power of the churches that has been hidden from the followers and non-followers alike. The church a bastion of morals and principles they say, nothing could be further from the truth. There is no evil pursuit on this planet that hasn't involved the churches, yet 4.5B they say appear blinded by their own illusions, they think is called faith, yes blind faith. We know that history should not be a panegyric, but we will not allow the enemies of Russia to turn the great history of the Slavs and Aryans into a satire and a subject for ridicule. Indeed, the Slavs and Aryans, as a single people, educated before the Romans and Greeks, left many monuments about themselves in all parts of the old world, testifying to their stay there and to their most ancient writing, arts, enlightenment and the Old Faith. Yet another of the great questions the public never asks is, where is the history of Russia? Why is their news, films or documentaries or books never available on a global scale? The answer is because the Zionist cult owns and runs everything, including all the churches and they closed it all down. Historical monuments will forever be indisputable evidence; they tell us about the actions of our great ancestors in the language that is native to us, which is the prototype of all Slavic and Aryan languages, dialects and dialects that merge in it, as in their common source. Of course, such works are moving slowly forward; let us go slowly, slowly, but with a sure stop, and wish: may they be accomplished to the honor and glory of our ancient gods and wise ancestors! I would like to pay tribute to the memory of a wise man, the Elder of the Valley Tribal Community, Father Vladimir [8], who devoted his life to zeal for the preservation of the old faith of our first ancestors and departed with the smoke of Krodny to Svarga the most pure to the heavenly family. 8. Father Vladimir - Elder, was a member of the circle of priests of Belovodye, the author of church works on the ancient faith of the first ancestors and ancient Slavic history, in the world Ivanov Nikolai Ivanovich. Years of Life 7435-7507 (1927-1999). This informative book is the fruit of the vital work of Father Vladimir, who tried to convey in the most accessible form the ancient wisdom and the pure truth about the old faith of our ancestors, Ingliism. Ingliism to be sent to the hearts of ordinary people who seek to return to their ancient roots, to their ancient culture, old faith, majestic and beautiful tradition. It is necessary to immediately declare that Ingliism is the ancient faith of the first ancestors and in its original basis, does not carry anything anti-Christian, anti-Semitic and anti-Islamic, as so-called experts in the pre-Christian faith and culture of the Slavs and Aryans like to assert. For Ingliism existed long before the appearance of Judaism, Christianity, Islam and other religious teachings on earth. The original origins of Ingliism must be sought in the depths of antiquity, in the fertile and legendary country of Da' Arya (Arctica, Hyperborea, Severia), which was located on the sunken Northern continent. Orthodox old believers-Ynglings have always been, are and will be tolerant people, who respect the right of any person to profess any religion or faith and worship the God, who is dearer to them and closer to them in spirit and conscience. But the religious tolerance of the Orthodox old believers-Ynglings does not mean that they will allow their old faith to be thrown mud at all and sundry, to distort it in every possible way, or to make the ancient faith of our first ancestors an object for ridicule. In addition, readers should pay attention to the use of old words and speech patterns in this book. Many old words are used with the prefixes without and times, instead of the now used demon and races. This is due to the figurative meanings of old words. The original word for races was nations and nothing to do with countries. Adds a whole new meaning to the Jew script of 70 nations, doesn't it? It refers to 70 races they are connected to, not 70 earthly countries. For example, immortality and mortality both are spelt the same way, but the figurative meaning of the first word means the spirit (demon) of death, and the figurative meaning of the second is eternity. A deeper understanding into that was gained from the Cosmic Genetic series. Or the words telling and story - the figurative meaning of the first word means that the information was told only once and the figurative meaning of the second word means that the pure truth was told, without distortions and additions. The word Kummir in the text is used in the old spelling, because it consists of two runic words Kum meaning a relative and world meaning the universe. So, Kummir is a symbol of a relative living in the universe. Fr. Alexandr. Asgard. Summer 7508 which equates to the year 2000. If you ask the average person about Valkyrie, they will remember the movie about Nazis. But that was another overlay and attempt to delete the history of the Norse gods who were connected to the Greek gods and the URS of Perun, Tara and the Santies A valkyrie from Old Norse: chooser of the slain', is one of a host of female figures who guide souls of the dead to the god Odin's hall Valhalla. But Valkyrie means the protector of the people from Iria (White Water), who came to Scandinavia. This was what the Yngling Saga is about. For 1400 years, the entire Islamic world has praised Allah as Allahu Akbar and glorified the white man as God. In other words, the phrase Allahu Ak Bar can be translated as: The gods are white people. As the song goes, and you know sometimes words have two meanings. Notice they are often complete polar opposites; one could say one was light and one was dark. So, are you buying the stairway to heaven? When heaven is an interior bliss not a destination, but you have to buy the ticket they say, no you just have to develop yourselves. STAIRWAY TO HEAVEN

There you have it, another tale of how to be and how not to be. Another tale of confusion, diffusion, smoke and mirrors and to what end? To hide the truth of this planet's history in favor of the dark forces. A new day will dawn for those who stand long the last song said, yes that new day dawned of Svarog on March 21st 2020 and is here to stay for many lifetimes here. This is just the beginning, only the light decide the end, the how, what and when is determined by us. As one member said recently, the experience will happen, not always in the exact way you imagine it depending on the strength of focus and intent, but almost always in a similar way that you intended it to be. But this was also a sordid tale of the denigration of Russia, the Rus, the Slavs and the Aryans, using the most heinous methods to trample them into the ground and rewrite their history. This series started off being called From Russia with Love and due to fake copyright issues we had to change it. The new title documents it even better in overview, as we went from his story to our story. The story of the Rus, the story of the triumph over the dark, the story of how to improve and develop ourselves and the story of the folly of following their programs. A story of a swathe of people's who did much to enhance and build this world, cast aside and labeled barbarians, second class people's and worse, animals. There is a deep richness and purity as to how they went about things in all aspects of life, one should view it as being the way showers. The fact we have to replay that in this time period, shows how far we all fell, regardless of whether you are the white race or another race. The UR's, Rus and Aryans went around the world teaching all who would listen. It was for the people's benefit and many did, including the Kali Ma sacrifice cult in Dravidia, now called India. In a world of division and self-centeredness, I ask all colors or races, are these teachings and pathways bad in any way? Unless you are the dark forces, no one should feel these life lessons are bad. And so, if they are not bad, why not adopt to them? If you will not adopt to them because it came from the white race or the "Russians", what is that saying about you? The thing is, we can all learn from each other and learn to be co-operative or carry on their story of division, mistrust and hatred. THInk and act different is our meme, have you adopted it? Are you wearing it? Has it become part of you? Embrace and integrate is another meme, have you adopted it? Are you wearing it? Has it become part of you? Where is your focus going? On nonsense or development? Finally another meme or question was, what are you going to create or manifest? All good ponderings for now, designed to improve your future. Pondering with future thinking is an investment for your future. Living in the now only with connections to the past, ensures a repeating future of the same, is that what you desire? To never learn lessons? I wish you good luck with that. Life is just a dream they say, no it was just a loop of repeating the same crap over and over again and expecting different results. THInk and act different. At the end of the day it is all about love, the attainment of love, aspiring to love, the embracing of love, to be in love means one has to first to love themselves. One then has to dance in love, envelop in love, rise in love and when mixed with another being of higher love, then the sparks of creation flies. It bristles with excitement, joy and happiness, happiness creates and operates along the Golden Path, do you care to join it? The question then remains: Will you become and be love, my love, our love and the become part of love for the all. The solution? Is we all rise in love and take the Golden path together and create and manifest our own future. ONE WORLD
