

THI-SHOW TRANSCRIPT 2023-11-28

WE WILL ROCK YOU This is part three of the Vedas, in previous episodes we have covered the whole gamut of what we know at THI as the Rus. But the Rus are also the Aryans, the Slavs, the Brits, the Irish, the Scandinavian, the Germans, the Iranians, Pakistanis and many more. A blighted peoples due to wars in the past, both here and much afar. A blighted people's in more modern days due to psychological, manipulative techniques and pro pagan da, which means pro pagan skin. The Rus have been labeled everything bad under the sun, including the use of the term pagans. But pagans were sacrificing their own and others, just like the many tribal peoples and the Kali Ma cult in India and many other places. The Kali Ma is the dark mother, the Lilith half human and half snake a chimera and also known as the Black Madonna. In the recent series we have covered the URs, who were responsible for the bylaws of how to be and how not to be. We have covered more of the real truth about the Aryans, not being the master race, by now that is clear it was the Jews who set themselves up as such and created the chosen ones, having stolen genetics from the white race sometime back. Aryans like Slavs are not white supremacists either, but it is ironic one race gets labeled as supremacists and it is taken in a negative light. Yet, curiously another race declare themselves as the chosen ones and no one bats an eyelid, why the discrepancy? This whole series which is controversial in the extreme due to our collective lack of knowledge, total history revision on behalf of the dark forces running this planet and a lack of willingness on behalf of the people to look and evaluate new material. This has been costly to us all and yet are great strides not being made now on the outing of this material? FHSTOS was not meant to be seen as a white race only, racist or anything else negative. It was designed to show all peoples have been used, abused and lied to, including the most discussed race in this series, the Jews. Because it is my belief and the purpose of this series was to bring us all together to fight a common enemy. That enemy who call themselves Jews, but are not, reside in the category formulated in this series as, the Hebrew Anunnaki. Latter day Koshey's the modern day Kosher's. While some may find this show in certain parts as racist, you have to understand the times these were formulated. For three reasons was the mixing of the races declared a no no. 1. We are not from the same gene pool or race, despite being humanoid. 2. As we found out in the Cosmic Genetics series the levels of mixing the races and genetically altering them for nefarious purposes. 3. To maintain the purity of a race, not just the white race. In this episode you will learn how life here truly was, the true principals and morals, how to operate and not, plus the creation of life and how to engage and nurture it. Plus what are your duties and how to operate within a true community, whether of land, people or spirit. Some may find this show difficult in a triggering way, as our own habits and ways will be questioned in the extreme. But this is the way we were taught and it is important to not feel guilt or shame for this lifetime's failures, based purely upon our own lack of knowledge. Knowledge that was criminally denied to us, but not anymore.

The Laws of RITA (telegony): The laws of RITA are a set of heavenly laws about the purity of the lineage and blood. In the modern world, these laws are called figurative and the only parameter for the transmission of heredity, which is correlated with such a phenomenon as telegony. Which comes from the Greek tele meaning far away and gennao the transmission of the image. So, telegony means transmission of the image from far away, which is interesting in how the off world have controlled us and also brings up the line of; we will make man in our image.

This comes up in nine sections, yes the figure nine again.

1. Telegony
2. Telegony in the Middle Ages
3. Telegony in the Bible
4. Purification of the image
5. Education and the Bridegroom
6. Image of the Spirit and Blood
7. Energy exchange
8. Birth of a child
9. Treason

Telegony: So what is Telegony? The medical establishment say telegony is a discredited genetic phenomenon, that a previous male may influence the characteristics of offspring, subsequently borne by the same female to another male. Although its reality was acknowledged by such authorities as Charles Darwin and Herbert Spencer, it has been met with skepticism because of a lack of understanding of the theoretical basis for telegony. With the discovery of fetal genes in a mother's blood, the penetration of somatic cells by sperm and the ability of RNA to program genome rearrangement, mechanisms might exist for telegony. Yet clearly there was something to it, otherwise the authorities would not have covered it up, as we will find out. The phenomenon of telegony was discovered in the 19th century in England by a friend of Charles Darwin, Lord Morton, who introduced the term telegony. He decided to conduct an experiment: he crossed his purebred Englishwoman mare with a male zebra, the offspring did not work out. Then, he crossed a purebred English horse, and as a result, foals were born with traces of zebra stripes on the rump. By the way, those who keep pigeons are also aware that if a purebred dove was trampled by a savage Caesar, her head is turned off, because her chicks will no longer be purebred. It's the same with dogs. One of the first researchers of telegony after Lord Morton were contemporaries of Charles Darwin: Professors Flint and Felix Le Dantec. They conducted many experiments on birds and animals, Félix Le Dantec described telegony in detail in the book The Individual, Evolution, Heredity and the Neo-Darwinists, Moscow, 1899. The 24th chapter of this work is called: Telegony or the appearance of the first male. Until the 1960s, scientists from different countries conducted many studies, in which it was found that the effect of telegony extends to people. There are examples when a white woman gives birth to a black baby from a white man, because her first partner was a black. Moreover, it turned out that, not only the external signs of the first sexual partner are inherited, but in certain cases his diseases, in particular: sexually transmitted diseases, mental diseases, blood diseases, etc. This is why the URs warned about the mixing, to not just keep the white race superiority as some may attest, but it is about the purity. It is no different to the mixing of animals or birds, on a genetic level it doesn't work and brings problems for the child. The problems for the child are two fold, the genetics of a different race of human, plus the reluctance to accept a child of mixed race, that comes from both races. The child is then sadly singled out as being "different", and yes people will see the visual difference, but the real difference is hidden within the genetic code. Those comments to the average individual will appear wrong, but not when you understand our real history and the genetic games being played on many races and species, long in the past. The Cosmic Genetics series will have told you that. As an example, many races of the alien greys have almost destroyed all their genetics, so much so they cannot reproduce anymore. That is a warning to all humans and other species, the genetic meddling comes with a heavy price. It is going against Source code. The intent behind this mixing is made clear in this next line. As soon as this became scientifically established, all studies and publications on the problem of telegony were classified from the public, in everyday life and in the media, telegony began to be called a pseudoscience. Now I wonder why that is? Why would the public be kept in the dark about scientific studies affecting them? There is no positive reason to hide it and many negative connotation to keep it concealed. That fact reveals there is a conspiracy behind it. The concealment of information led to the fact that the demographic situation of the white peoples in the world began to fall, degeneration, debilitation began, because there was such a mixture. That fact along with hiding the information, tells you a dark agenda was in place. Ignorance led first in England and America to what is called the sexual revolution, although it would be more correct to call it the homosexual revolution. And in our country, no one thinks: why are they hiding, why have we not had a census since the 1980s? Yes, because the people would be horrified by the pace, let's say, of the artificial destruction of the white population. If since the beginning of the twentieth century, the white population was about 20%, now it is only 6-8% of all humanity, it is not difficult to calculate: even take a maximum of 8% of 6 billion - this is very, very little. Exactly but it was 30%+, but let's go with the lower figure of 20% and a species drops 60-70% in under a century, yet curiously no one rang the alarm bells of a potential extinction event unfolding? What does that tell you? What does it reveal? To me it reveals it was all pre-planned by the Jewish led Koshey's to exterminate the white race. Why? Because we are there biggest threat to world hegemony. Save the whales, manatees, bald eagles, tigers, elephants, we have all heard and seen those campaigns, yet one of our own human races is falling at alarming rates and nothing gets said? The few who do say it are labeled racist or white supremacists and so the narrative is shut down. Save the planet because the climate is changing is the latest campaign, yet white people are losing numbers by 60-70% in a century and nothing is said. Why? Because the ones who wish to eliminate that race, are the ones controlling the media and its narrative. And in families, if the child does not obey the father, he is annoyed and says: Well, who are you with me? - the question is absolutely not addressed to the one, it is not to the child, but to the mother that must be asked. Who was the first man in her life? The reasoning behind that is, each sexual encounter brings genetic exchanges and also cords. Again that is something that the majority of people have no idea about, the reason being it is an agenda. That should be clear to all now who have followed this series.

Telegony in the Middle Ages: Remember the movie Braveheart? King Edward long-legged of England was constantly at war with Scotland, and as he said: The trouble of Scotland is the excess of the Scots. If we cannot defeat them, then we must degenerate them. Perhaps it's time to restore our old custom and give them the bait, the right of the first night. That is, if a girl marries on their land, the governors get the right to share a bed with her on her wedding night. Seriously? I mean wells the fargo on that ruling, but then all females when wed are married to Ba'al. Perhaps Baal should pay all the alimony then? If we cannot survive them, then we will degenerate them. This is said in the Middle Ages, so, people knew about it long before the discovery of telegony. What that also potentially reveals is, some of those governors were not of our ilk.

Telegony in the Bible: In the Bible (Genesis, ch. 38) it is said about telegony: when Judah departed from his brothers who were all Jews and married a non-Jew the Canaanites, it was stated that he violated the basic law of Judaism, that a Jew should marry only a Jewess, because their gene pool is passed on to his mother. Curious that in overview, because when the Germans considered the Lebensborn program after losing 2m of their male youths, that was declared racist and supremacist. Lebensborn was about the Germans keeping their race pure, yet that was labeled as creating a master race. Yet when the Jews do it, no one says anything, far too many of those examples of a completely contradictory nature has unfolded in this series. It goes on to say that from this marriage Judah had three sons: Ir, Onan and Shelah. Judah married his eldest son to Tamar, but soon Ir died without leaving any offspring. Then what did Judah say to the middle son Onan? Thou shalt go unto thy brother's wife, marry her as a brother-in-law and restore thy brother's seed (Genesis 38:8), these are the laws of telegony. Again that behavior has rarely been questioned, basically saying adultery is ok when it comes to the Jewish culture. Incest is also ok within that framework as well, as that is mentioned dozens of times in the bible as well. Another lost in this is, the sheer arrogance of telling the son to go and have sex with his brother's wife! Did they for one second ask that wife whether she would be willing to do so? Clearly not, given how the Middle East treats women as second-class people and how they are there only to be baby factories. That is, Ir was the first man of Tamari and left in her images of his spirit and blood, now only a seed is needed for her to give birth to a child from her deceased husband. But note, Onan knew that the seed would not be for him and therefore when he went to his brother's wife, he poured the seed on the ground, that he might not give the seed to his brother (Genesis 38:9). That is, in those distant times, telegony was known to many peoples and Onan knew that the child would not be his, but his deceased older brother's. What that reveals is, there was an awareness of implanting sperm for a pregnancy, long before the late 1900's when the assisted birth process took place. The next line reveals the agenda and the perpetrator and also who these beings belonged to. The Bible says that the Lord wanted to arrange this mixing and Onan opposed the violation of the heavenly laws, on the purity of the lineage and blood and suffered for it. And now it is interpreted in a different way, they say, Onan is such a bad man, the founder of masturbation. The typical child level labels is administered when things don't go their way. No, Onan turned out to be just a normal man and did not break the laws, as his dad told him. Because Onan knew that his dad had already violated the laws of Judaism, he married a non-Jew and the eldest son brought a non-Jewish wife. If Onan followed his lead, then there would continue to be confusion, violation of the Law and this should not be. Therefore, he seemed to give his life, but did not violate the heavenly laws. The Lord arranged the mixing? Oh dear! Just like the Lord arranged the splitting up of people and giving them different languages so they couldn't engage. The Lord for those new, is Anu, the Draco reptile king. Like I have said, the bible is their story and belongs to the Hebrew Anunnaki.

Purification of the image: For example, if as a result of the raid of foreigners (arims, nomads, etc.) girls were raped, what happened among the Slavs? The Slavs knew the Laws of RITA and knew how to fix everything in case of trouble. The fathers of the births, where the girls suffered from the enemies, gave the girls to the priests, who performed the rite of purification of the images of the spirit and blood, they erased the information. But this rite is very energy-intensive, it took energy for three years. For example, if one priest conducts a ceremony, it means that the energy of three years is removed from him. If there are three priests, then each has a year, If six priests performed the ceremony, then each for six months. This is the energy exchange I speak about when doing healing, the energy work if done correctly is not unlimited and is exhaustible. Overdoing it, can lead to death. It takes a lot physically out of you, as you are transferring some of your life force energy into that person. You come away from the experience drained for a while, never are you feeling better from it, that just means you have harvested the person you are healing and made them worse. The priests gathered, energetically pumped her, erased it all and the girl remained in the skete, at the Temple, at the Sanctuary. Why? Therefore, they already knew that she was clean and the same priests had sons, they had no time to go look for a bride somewhere, so the priest gave her out for his son and she extended his lineage. Many people ask: and now what do you do if the priests are not found? Hang yourself? Ah the lovely cohens again – not. There is always a system, a higher force of love. There were also cases when after the raids of the thieves, a boy and a raped girl remained in the village. But they had been friends since childhood, and the boy, by the power of his love, destroyed the image of the spirit and blood. When they grew up and married, she did not give birth to the nomadic foreigner who raped him, but bore him his children, prolonging his lineage. Because he by the power of his love and her reciprocal love, which is the double force from the inside and outside, she destroyed and erased, as if it burned out the

Image of the Vorog. That is why it is said that the greatest force in the universe is love. But now the concept of love has been mixed with dirt and replaced by the concept of sex. Although love has nothing to do with the concept of physiological. Love is a concept of heavenly, soul-spiritual, that is a very powerful energy that transforms and brightens the whole psyche, the soul and the spirit. But many people confuse love with the concept of falling in love, amorousness but these are completely different systems, more mundane, they are the ones who relate to sex. Some say: at first, they loved, then they fell out of love, love disappeared. It is impossible: if a person has fallen in love, then it is forever and he cannot stop loving. Love cannot be lost, just as heaven cannot be lost. So, it was not love, but falling in love. Now there is a substitution of concepts, instead of love, falling in love, attraction and these are completely different feelings, they occupy a different spectrum, a different category. Love is supreme, so let's say: love for the Motherland, how can you physiologically formalize that? Love for nature, love for the Sun, love for all your kind, which gave birth to you, how can you formalize that physiologically? There is no love for food, there is only a taste, but love is the highest heavenly divine power. This is what I spoke about 4 years ago with the piece, what is love? Of how most cannot experience it in its true form, due to being low vibration, only the image of it is presented. There is still a little different system: the priests not only removed the image of the spirit and blood of a strange man, they were also engaged in brainwashing, they changed the image in the head of a person. That is, they cleaned it out in the sexual sphere and still need it in the head, because a woman will subconsciously compare all subsequent men after the first, with the first. Therefore, this brainwashing is needed so that there is no comparison, so that if love arises with someone after that, there is no doubt in the soul, that he is with it out of pity and therefore I owe him. No. When there is love, there is no such thing as I owe him. A person is loved for who he is, with all his advantages and disadvantages and not because he took it out of nobility. The main thing here is not only this image, which is captured in bioenergetics via someone else's trace, the main thing is that there is order in the brains. The pain shock of rape is deposited in the brain, the first sexual contact, they say has a painful perception, but why? Because there is no knowledge of the RITA Laws in our heads. The image was replaced by the I – image, all done by dark magicians to impose their i-image upon us. Ponder on this thought in relation to the baptism. What if the baptism is overlaying the image by pouring water over the babies head. Remember water is reflective and so has the ability to mirror an image over us. RETURN TO LOVE

Education and the Bridegroom: The Slavs brought up children in a special system: the girl was told: A boy is a future man, a future warrior, a master, the head of the family, the father of the family, the children and the god-protector of the family. Therefore, he must be loved, respected, revered as god. The girl was brought up in this vein. The boys were told: A girl is a future woman, a future mother, a mistress, a Goddess-guardian of the hearth, a future Lada-Mother of God. Therefore, she must be loved, respected and revered as a goddess and the children have perceived this since childhood. And when, not a marriage was created, because a good thing should not be called marriage, but a family union, then they had a relationship with each other as god. Is it possible there could be debates and contradictions between them, if they treat each other as god? Of course not. The Slavs did not have the same as the Christians, as they were forcibly married. The Slavs first went, identified, then arranged the bride, if they liked each other at first sight, then the conspiracy took place. The most important thing in a family union in addition to love is, the blessing of parents. Plus as an additional - the blessing of god. The bride, after a conversation with the parents of the bride-to-be, the parents on the other hand, together with the groom, came to visit. During the meal, the bride surrounded the refectory table with all sorts of dishes and every now and then glanced at the groom, who was considering her. If they liked each other, imbued with the soul, then the bride (peepers) were considered to have taken place. That is, after the meal, the girl went to her upper room, a woman was sent to her and asked: Did you like him? The groom was asked the same thing, if they answered yes, then they were preparing for the wedding, if no, then it a definitive no. That is, the bride has never been captive. If the girl liked it, but the guy didn't, he was told: so you didn't look closely, she found something in you. And he wondered then, there could still be additional bride. If the bride did not take place, then the guests, giving gifts to the girl's parents, left. Then there was matchmaking and so on. Even in ancient times there were overnight stays, but this does not mean that they had sex. Let's say two Rods, presuming rods are there name for parents, whose children liked each other, they arranged gatherings and the divchina stayed the night. A rod in Slavic terms means the god of the family. They were laid next to them and they could lie all night chatting, hugging, but nothing more. That is, they learned as much as possible about each other so that they would not have stiffness towards each other, but all this happened without sexual relations and kisses, because they were not even married yet. Kisses by candlelight were inappropriate, due to possible consequences if they find out in communication that they do not suit each other. Then they will live all their lives. Therefore, in the conversation, all this was clarified. When we just met, there were kisses, but there was a different meaning. Then they were called the bride and groom and went through the appropriate Rite, received a blessing. All the men of the two clans gathered and in front of the mansions of the groom's father, they put new mansions face to face (therefore, the street, i.e. at the face of the father of the son's mansion). That is, they built so that young people immediately had their own mansions and they could begin to run their own household. Then Lubomyr which is the wedding.

The Image of the Spirit and Blood: On the first night, the spouse gives, gives the spouse:

1. The image of the spirit and blood.
2. The energy of one year of your life.
3. The gift of motherhood.
4. Women's share.

Rewarding his wife with his image of spirit and blood, giving the energy of one year of his life, he also gave her the gift of Motherhood, for the main goal was to have children and continuing the lineage. A man perceived his wife as the mother of his children, but if he did not see this image in his spouse, the child was born unwanted. This meant the mother of the child was not endowed with the gift of motherhood; she did not feel maternal love, care, or affection for the child. That is an important point that has been lost, the internal damage to a child born out of love. Because if they or one of them doesn't have that affection for the other, the child knows through the mother and that impacts their living time. Maybe that is why so many of us have low self-worth? Therefore, mind you, of the bride, he evaluated not just her appearance, but first of all subconsciously thought about whether she was worthy of being the mother of his children. In addition to the fact that she would be Lada (his wife), he also saw her as the mother of his children. Deep pondering with that section based on one saying, we will make man in our Image. The implications of that pondering is enormous.

Did you know there is a different between man and male, plus woman and female? Did you know when you got up in the morning and you knew that you had to do this and that. A woman on a subconscious level can know everything that she needs to do. But a man must awaken this memory. If he didn't wake me up, what kind of man is he? This is a male. A woman in whom the Female lot has not awakened is no longer a woman, but a female. And here they are: males and females have sex. But love can only be in a man and a woman. This is where the whole relationship issues falls down in my opinion, because we haven't defined it too well. There is a difference at the outset between love and sex and yet the lines between them have been blurred. In general the woman feels there must be love before sex with a partner, whereas the male wants to spread his seed, whether driven by lust or otherwise. But there are four components to a relationship and yet it is never conveyed that way is it? Because the male and female aspect not the man and woman aspect kicks in and we danced around each other playing mind games of cat and mouse. But what is wrong if single people can say what they really desire and not over complicate things? Ponder on this longer than a snap judgement, because the programs are designed to create such judgements and think on how much easier life would be for single people, if everyone was just honest with each other. This should not be a spontaneous engagement, only after at least getting to know each other should this type of discourse take place. I would like the following:

Relationship 1: Engagement of sex acts between the two and no strings attached.

Relationship 2: Engagement of sex acts and see how we get along with possibility of becoming a couple.

Relationship 3: I want to make a partner with you and I would like to engage in sex acts now or I am prepared to wait for it.

Relationship 4: I wish to not be a couple or have sex with you, but would desire your friendship.

No guessing games, no mind games and no lying to each other, just a straight and honest discourse between two single people. No wasting energy trying to engage the person and no rollercoaster rides of emotions, will he or she or won't he or she. It also encourages people to be more forthright, instead of hiding behind nuances. This then gives everyone more confidence within themselves. Which then aids the community and wider afield. This also aids the fear program as well over time, as no longer will people have the fear of being rejected as this discourse becomes the new way. Imagine how many lost opportunities you have had, because the fear of being rejected took over. The placing of other people above you based on looks, earnings, societal status, religion and other comparative measures, all of which ended up you being the bridesmaid and never the bride or being the best man and never the groom.

Energy exchange: A man conveys the image of the spirit and blood and in addition the energy of his life: 2 months to consolidate the image and 7 months to bear the fetus. This is according to Slavic time, according to Russian time it is 3 months and 9 months, respectively. This energy goes through the 2nd chakra (Germ) to give birth to a new life. In the eastern system, this chakra is called Svadhithana, the transmission of the heavenly obarz. In addition, a woman can only give birth to a woman, since she has a female chromosomal structure (XX). Therefore, all these women's things, they say you need to eat more salt, then a boy will be born, and if sweet, a girl. It's all nonsense. It depends only on the man who the woman will give birth to. When a man in the subconscious connects to the girls XX, then a girl will be born, and if XY, then a boy will be born. A woman receives from a man the energy of summer or a year of life and this energy in her activates certain forces. A woman radiating this force to a man, opens in him a channel for receiving energy from the lineage. That is, not only a man gives a woman the energy of life, but a woman also gives a man, opens channels of communication with the Cosmos in him, from where he receives additional energy. Therefore, they say: a man makes a girl a woman, and a woman makes a boy a man, everything is interconnected. Plus, when a child is born in the process of communicating with dad, he opens additional channels in dad and dad receives even more energy from the Cosmos. That is, the father does not receive energy from the child, but from the Cosmos, because the man himself is a radiating system, he radiates. A woman accumulates and accumulates, as if absorbs. Therefore, the child in dad also opens a channel, and dad as it were, restores his energy of life. That is why it was said: you will give birth to 16 children; 16 additional channels will open in you and you will have fully replenished all 16 channels of your energy system. Therefore, each husband dreamt of having a hereditary circle of 16 children. If there are more than 16 children, let's say 35, then there will be several streams for each channel. A very interesting concept and I am pleased the energy exchange was highlighted. I have spoken about us learning to understand energy and its effect upon us and life. We largely fritter away our life force energy in lying to ourselves and arguing with each other. Gossiping, competing on unnecessary levels and drivel based entertainment, when our lives could be enriched so much more by using our energy in developing ourselves, our partners and children. Like I have said, if only there was an app for our own life force energy and karma levels, perhaps we may see a quicker change in us all.

Birth of a child: Now our women have been intimidated that childbirth is blood, pain, fear, torment, so much negativity has caught up, that one reminder of the birth of women leads to a state of stupor. But note that each born child rejuvenates the woman's body for 3 years. Some already at the age of 30 believe that it is too late to give birth and that at the age they give birth to children with pathology. But pathology is created by doctors, it is impossible to interfere in the process of childbirth and they give birth not in natural conditions, but in the maternity hospital. Previously, you gave birth at home in a bath in water, because water is a natural element, when you are in a river, lake or bath you automatically relax all the muscles of the body. The most comfortable place for the child was in the aquatic environment in the mother's womb, where the child lived for 9 months. Therefore, when a woman gives birth in water, then the child is better, he passes from the aquatic intrauterine environment to the aquatic external one, it does not receive the gravitational impact of the air column and the child is strong and healthy. The mother has no tears because the muscles become soft, more elastic because, she does not give birth dry, the child simply swims out of one environment to another and he does not have a painful shock. The baby is born in the water and swims there until the placenta moves away, the mother lies in the water submerged up to the chin, the child can find the mother's breast himself, start suckling, even before taking his first breath. Previously, fathers took births and the older women of the family, the grandmothers and mothers, etc. stood next to them as assistants. After birth, a cradle with a special protrusion was hooked to a hook under the ceiling, the placenta with water was scooped up with a wooden bowl and placed nearby. This next line explaining the reasoning behind that is very interesting, because if the child was born in the evening or at night, before cutting off the umbilical cord, it must be shown to the Sun, so that his life is long and healthy. The placenta was in warm water, it was warm in the bath. In the corners, there were open chests so that the woman could look around, everything is open and the body is fully revealed, because our Ancestors noticed this feature of psychology. The umbilical cord was pulled and tied with a thread, for which they took the father's hair, the mother's hair and linen thread (flax is the power of the earth, the power of the air and the power of the Sun), all this is twisted together and a thread was obtained. But the umbilical cord is cut only after the child has been shown to the Sun. If it's cloudy, wait for the next day. It happens that you have to wait a week or 10 days, doesn't matter the child is alive and healthy. The Rus and the Slav did not practice circumcision, but knew why it was done and said this. Why are they circumcised as soon as they were born? To make an extract from the umbilical cord, from the placenta, and use it for anti-aging drugs for the rich, whose gene structure is broken. Just like I said when I did the piece on circumcision, I asked was it another version of Cosmic Genetics, well there is the answer.

Treason:

Man:

A man gives the energy of 2 months of his life to his Lada (wife), for the manifestation and consolidation of the image and 7 months for the birth of a child. That is, no matter how long they live a sexual life, he does not spend more of his energy, he gives only for the birth of the next child. For fixing his image he no longer gives because it is already fixed. And when a man runs to the left, which is an interesting term for infidelity, is it the left-hand path of Set? But if a man does look elsewhere, they say a woman should blame herself for what he is looking for, on the side. If man strays, let's say to a widow, she has the image of the spirit and blood, etc. he squanders his life energy. In order not to waste your life, you always have your own Lada-spouse, then there will be no expense. But now all this is hidden from young people. A man, running to the side, deprives his wife of life support from his side, because he is ruining his life and having completely spent his life on pleasures, he leaves her alone with the children. That's the disadvantage. Again, these types of hidden understanding's needs to be retaught to children to allow them to develop properly. Along with the sexual energy exchange, spirituality and the Santies.

Woman:

This section is even more enlightening and maybe a trigger to some. The first man left her the image of the spirit and blood, but she went for a "walk", such women in Russia were called "walkers", by having sexual relations with other races. Let's say the second man was a Moroccan, the third was a Filipino, the fourth was an Arab or whatever, but everyone's spectra is different. A woman, she receives the energy of one year from every partner and the spectra do not coincide, sometimes the energy is completely incompatible. As a result, there is such an energetic mixture that this energy begins to destroy a woman's strength. This is why they say not to mix sexually with other races, it is not racism, it is on an energetic and genetic level that hidden dangers arise because of it. Again this type of information should be made available on a wider scale, to give people an opportunity of an informed choice. The prostitute's daughter has a broken spectrum, several spectrums have been layered there, it turned out to be a kind of double spectrum and there is an emptiness between the spectrums. According to the gene pool from the first man, it is indicated that instead of emptiness in the matrix, there must be something there? But these layers of spectra as it were, had gaps or emptiness, into this emptiness no matter how much you pour, everything is like into a bottomless barrel. It becomes like the vacuum of space, a total void that has other consequences for this girl. This girl then needs to be among men all the time, she has such a need, because a man radiates energy even in conversation and she by communicating with them, is like feeding. Which in overview then becomes a harvesting mechanism. In other words, everything is much more complicated than many people think and what people will talk about. She no longer belongs to any kind; she belongs to the fool and what ancestors can she connect with? 1st, 2nd or 3rd man? There is an expression about such people: a restless soul. In other words, it is a soul that does not know where to stick to it, because it does not coincide on the spectrum either. Such people are also called lost souls. If they are boys, then as a rule, they are sickly, scandalous, trying to do everything in the first place. There are extenuating circumstances like in difficult times, like war. A man could have several wives, but he took them at the rate of exactly as much as he could feed not only his wives, but also all their children with his work. He is ready to feed his wife and 16 children, he has one wife. Ready to feed 2 wives and 32 children, he has 2 wives. He is ready to feed 3 wives and 48 children, shoe, dress, raise him to his feet, it means that he will have 3 wives. Sixteen is the base number for the Rus in some circumstances. Times change, but the thought of having 16 children would terrify most of us these days, but then they had a community to look after and gave support to all the children. Polygamy was a rarity, only at critical moments for the people, remember the commandment: let you not have other wives except your own. But at any time, except for a dashing year, when the male race dies in defense of his house, his land and his faith. That applies only then and even then, it was a rarity. A woman has always sought to have children from a strong healthy man. Therefore, during the war there were men who literally went to the front from the wedding table on the second day. The only thing that they managed to leave to their wife was the image of the spirit and blood plus their energy, but the conception did not happen. Years of war passed, victory came, the soldiers returned home from the war and her husband died. Then she asked the soldier to spend the night with her, to give her seed and then she would give birth to a child from her dead husband. Not from this soldier, but because she had the image of the spirit and blood of her husband in her. A completely different way of operating from today, but what it shows is, the male and the female had a greater understanding of life and it's machinations, than today. Life has been made complicated and many people really don't understand life too well. Women reject the idea of being baby factories as they call it, but that is the duty of the female to be in and of motherhood. It continues the lineage and boosts the population of the clan, the more people the lighter the work for the community. All basic common sense without the wokeness, feminist movement, racism and political correctness that dominates all narratives now. It is fairly simple in the concept. The Female is the mother, the love, nurturing and care aspect with a smaller role as a warrior, provider and protector when needed. The Male is the father, the provider, the warrior, and protector, with a smaller role in the love, nurturing and care aspect when needed. They are the Divine masculine and feminine aspects and the archetypes. The children produced are not seen as burdens as in many cultures now, they are your and our future and the protection and service of the Clan. No children eventually leads to a reduction of the clan, with less hands to help and pro-create. It is in these circumstances your clan or race begins to reduce, just like the white race is. WHEN A MAN LOVES A WOMAN

The next section is all about RITA, but it doesn't just apply to the law, but there are laws of engagement and operations all people are expected to follow. RITA is an abbreviation for purity of lineage and blood, written in one Rune. There is also the female name Rita, this is how some parents subconsciously call the child, as if reproducing that the child was conceived in accordance with the heavenly laws on the purity of the lineage and blood. But when parents come to the registry office to register a child, they record her as Margarita, but the parents do not agree and continue to call Rita at home. Some seek to be recorded without the prefix Marga, which means violation. For example, in a book about the wizard Merlin there is Marga or Morgana, who was the eye squinted, oblique, one leg shorter than the other. Born with defects, means with violations.

RITA Laws: Parental Responsibility. We have already analyzed what telegony is and what was known even to the biblical Onan, is unknown to modern doctors. Are there any references to this in our legends? There is, in the Santies of the Veda of Perun it is said: Do not allow foreigners to your daughters, for they will seduce your daughters, corrupt their pure souls and destroy the blood of the great Race. For the first man leaves the images of the spirit and blood at the daughter. What this is revealing is, how important it is you choose your first sexual partner well, as it creates the imprint. Again this is something that should be taught in all schools. As an example, the virgin, alien images of blood from the children of men are expelled by the light spirit, but the mixing of blood leads to destruction. That line mentioning alien, is not just a reference to other world species, it also means the engagement of intimacy is alien to a virgin. This kind, degenerating, dies not having healthy offspring, for there will be no inner power that kills all the ailments-diseases that will be brought to Midgard-Earth by alien thieves coming from the Dark World.

According to this Vedic text, the first man in the life of a virgin leaves his image, a psychological and often physical portrait of the unborn child she will give birth to. The health and usefulness of the unborn child depends on the first man. How many women are now thinking of the first man currently? All of you I would imagine. Was it a smart choice? Only time tells with that, but would you have changed your partner if you knew this type of knowledge at an earlier age? One hopes this information is widely dispersed into the next generation before more images are destroyed. This comes in four categories.

1. The Sexual Revolution
2. Maiden braid
3. Children under 12 years old
4. Christianization is a genetic experiment

The Sexual Revolution: Now in schools, children from 10-13 years old begin to be taught about family planning, distribute contraceptives, talk about safe sex. But all without knowing that sex is about gender i.e. male or female. That's why they say: there is no sex in Russia, because there were human relationships built on love, respect and sympathy at least. In America, purely animal relationships, plus they add all sorts of perversions with whips, handcuffs, etc. Also note that children are told how to protect themselves from unwanted pregnancy, when in our country pregnancy has always been considered desirable. The burden is the heyday of the female body, when it is transformed, it blooms as a beautiful flower. That thinking has been lost with cultural revolutions and in particular the feminist movement. We have lost our connections and true purpose, particularly within the female role. We recently mentioned 862K abortions in America each year, because too many see that children are a burden upon their lives. It hampers their looks, their fake images and their lifestyles many will tell you. But is it not the archetype of a woman to produce children, preferably with a loving man? Whether feminists or service to self-females like it or not, that is the role of a mother. There should be a desire to become a mother, because without children our species and world ceases to exist. The understanding of it needs to be re-enforced at a young age. We just don't teach anyone about life anymore and that is why the world is messed up. Children born in non-loving relationships, leads to dysfunctional children, we have all seen the rise of that since the feminist movement. Our ancestors knew that a girl's body was prepared for flourishing at the age of 16 and from the age of 16 she could get married. A young man could become a husband at the age of 21, because before starting a family, he must master weapons and learn how to protect the family. In the West, it has become the norm that children at the age of 10-13 are familiar with sex, all whilst 90% of people of color have blood diseases. I looked for the supporting data to back that claim up and this came closest. Scientists have identified 36 different blood group systems, some of which can cause problems with blood transfusions. Some of these rare blood types and blood group systems are distinctly more common in certain ethnic groups. That certainly supports it but without the 90% reference. Again the effect is blood disease, but where or what is the cause is never addressed. Why aren't the people of color not being told about this? What is taught at school, then confirmed by the series: Helen and the guys, Beverly Hills 90210 and Friends, etc. That is, there sexual partners change, as if it were in the order of things and do not even pay attention to what gender the partner is, whether boy with boy or girl with girl, it's all like the norm of life. But for us, this is unacceptable. For example, in Holland, in Anglican and Protestant churches, homosexuals and lesbians are already being married. Arrange sex changes, but this is all unnatural. Some may not like that statement, but again it goes back to the earliest thinking of building and spreading the community. You cannot do that with same sex relationships. The unnatural part is to do with transgender, because that is going against Source. In overview thinking Source gave you the opportunity of life and the precious vessel, yet these people want to abuse and mutilate it? The same applies with circumcision, it is stating Source made a mistake. In Russia we had criminal punishment against morality, sent to hard labor and away from society. During the time of Ivan the Terrible, such people were impaled or expelled from the country. When the October Revolution of 1917 took place, as the communists say - the Great Socialist Revolution, they first abolished the criminal punishment for a crime against morality, i.e. punishment for homosexuality, because 99% of all these fiery revolutionaries were homosexuals, just like the SS then. It was only when Stalin felt that he had gained a foothold on the Russian throne, that he reintroduced the law of morality and all those Leninists flame blue to the wall. Personally I don't agree with those measures, as that is against freedom of choice. But again in overview, without the killing as I don't agree with that, is it not protecting the communities? But the most dangerous thing is that, in schools virgins are perceived as black sheep. It got to the point that girls in grades 8-10 begin to discuss who, how many sexual partners have changed over the summer and virgins are called backward fools, etc. Why? Parents did not give proper upbringing? In a way, yes. Which is why we all have to learn about life, value, human, morality and love, plus sex with a spiritual component.

Maiden's braid: In order for a girl to think well, she must have energy. Where does she get this energy? She takes it from the Cosmos through her cosmos, through the scythe. Therefore, they said in Russia: a long braid is a girl's beauty, which means that this girl knows how to think, does not follow the lead of the crowd, but she herself tries to understand certain criteria. That is speaking of individuality and mixed with personal responsibility, not just following the crowd. The ignorance of parents has led to what we have today. As the saying goes: ignorance of the laws does not exempt from liability and this also applies to the RITA Laws.

Children under 12 years old: One of the RITA Laws states: Parents who have created a child, up to the age of 12, nourish him with the power of their life. Therefore, whether the parents know it or not, they are responsible for the created child and give the born child the energy of their life, i.e. so that he grows. Interesting they say until 12 about not being a parent, but a guardian of the child. Maybe the age of twelve is puberty time and suddenly a budding adult is developing. The energy of life implies the energy of love. But note: You can make up for it only by constant communication with your child. That is, the parent gives energy to the child, communicating with him, receives from the Cosmos, from the Gods, nurturing the child. The bond between parents and children exists constantly and the child always receives the necessary energy of life from his parents, regardless of their desire. Therefore, children under 12 years of age among the Slavs were called child, i.e. asexual creatures, meaning experiencing no sexual feelings or desires; not feeling sexual attraction to anyone. Together with their parents they went to the bathhouse, bathed naked together on the river, i.e. they saw a naked body constantly and in the order of things. Clearly at that time nakedness was not considered a bad thing, until the church turned it, sex and even childbearing into a sin. It created a mystique about it, a dirtiness surrounding the whole topic, when it was all so innocent and natural back then. Therefore, will they then spy on the opposite sex? Of course not. During this time, the child got used to naked bodies and the criteria were already there: this woman watches her body slim and beautiful and this one does not sagging and swollen with fat, etc. Even in Soviet times, my mother took her sons up to 7-9 years old to a public bath. Dad took his daughter to the bathhouse, she sees men's bodies, perceives them as reality, she also went with her mother and with her father, realized that she was like that and there are also beautiful bodies, but decorated differently. The child may ask why this is so, here, and here it is so, they were told: because both of these are creators and the child understands. This is when they have a separate upbringing, after the rite of majority and everyone is given the necessary information. Please note that a man is a radiating system, a woman is accumulating, as if absorbing. Therefore, the girl has always aspired to her dad because he radiates energy; And the boy goes to his mother, because he will come up to his dad, his dad already radiates and he radiates, so he needs to give it to his mother. If mom has already gained from dad, he gives it to his sister through play, because there is a single kinship system. Sometimes my sister ran around, played enough with her friends, used up her energy, but dad was not at home, then she asked her brother to play with her in order to replenish her energy. Therefore, do not be surprised when between a girl and a boy it almost comes to a fight, she needs to replenish her energy, she begins to tease him, pinch, tickle him so that he cheers up, runs after her and he has a surge of energy, with which she will quickly replenish her own. It has long been noted: if a sister is sick, the brother does not leave her bed, holds her hand and takes care of her. Because he feels that she needs nourishment, he holds her hand and transfers his energy received from her parents. Then he is replaced not by his mother, but by his father. Parents are surprised that they are like a cat with a dog, but if she is sick, he does not leave her. Or he grew up, went to the army, and she does not find a place for herself, misses him and cries, because it lacks native energy. Such are the relationships, the connection of the children with each other, the parents with the children and other peoples mention this. That is describing engagements are all based upon energy and the exchange of it. Which is why some families are now toxic as the energy exchange is not harmonious and so the family becomes dysfunctional. Like we have said, it is all about the energies, understand that and you begin to understand life.

Christianization is a genetic experiment: Note that since there was kindred mutual support, it means that we had the most powerful power and no external enemy could defeat it. How is it possible to defeat the power, which seems to be impossible to defeat, because it has pure powerful tribal foundations, the Laws of RITA. The consequences of coming together and standing within your own and collective power, slays invaders. Such a power must be shattered from within. They started with the Russian princes, they were first chosen and then introduced as hereditary. The princes began with the princes, for example, to marry a relative of the 7th-8th anniversary, which is prohibited by the Laws of RITA. Corrupting their own gene line. It was through such princes that it was already possible to carry out various systems of destruction. Therefore, 1000 years ago and in other countries earlier, a genetic experiment called Christianization began on the Slavic land, which was carried out with fire and sword. It was carried out, as a rule, by gray peoples, that is the sub-gray race mentioned in Volume 1. They carry out the rite of baptism, which destroys the energy connection with the parents, relieving them of all responsibility. To create a new connection between the child and the priest operating as a Christian god. I bet that statement raised a few eyebrows and angst, due to the lack of knowledge again. There is a concept: those born in one religion create families from this religion. i.e. incest. And who will be responsible for genetic mixing? The experimenters found a simple way out, the Christian god will be responsible for everything, because for him there is neither a Greek, nor a Jew and others. The example is give birth to mixed marriages, bring them to a Christian church for a baptism ceremony, at which parents cannot attend and the clergy will honestly explain the reason: because the child was conceived in sin. I bet most didn't realize that fact either, our children were born in sin courtesy of the fake church whether Cat-holic or otherwise. GLOW

RITA Laws and Generic Laws: The laws of RITA and the ancestral laws were interconnected and helped a person to reveal himself throughout his life. They still help, but many people don't use it, someone is not helped precisely because they do not use it.

These are the five principles:

1. Raising other people's children
2. The youngest son is the heir
3. To live for Rod
4. Child up to 1 year
5. Kissing a married woman

Raising other people's children: If a man marries a widow, does he fulfill his duty to the family? Here it is impossible to approach one-sidedly, because perhaps he incarnated on Earth for the second time, reincarnation, because in a previous life he under fulfilled something? For example, he fulfilled his duty to the lineage, he gave birth to 16 children, but did not gain experience of creation. So he was born new in order to gain weight, and at the same time he helped the woman raise her children to their feet. But there may be another thing, a person does not know about the Laws of RITA and married a widow (or divorced), raises, say, 5 children, but the children are not his. Although they call him dad and are recorded in the passport, but in the image of the spirit and blood they are not his, but the first man of his wife. And then he will come to the Court of the Ancestors, he will be asked: We gave birth to you and where is the continuation of our lineage? He will say: I have 5 children and the Ancestors will say to him: but you did not prolong our lineage, but someone else's. What have you done for our Rod? Therefore, RITA basically still had the following form, let's say 3 brothers left to defend their land, their families and only 1 returned alive. Those who returned alive took custody of their brothers' wives and children. That is, he set up large mansions and everyone already lived at his house, he then took responsibility for the maintenance of the children of his brothers, who still belong to his family. And before the Ancestors: he has his 9, and let's say 7 from one brother and 8 from another, so 24 children raised to his feet, although he did not give birth to all, but they belong to his family and he acted in accordance with the laws of the family. A far cry to what unfolds now in far too many places, where each to their own too often applies. It could also be argued that many of the parents barely look after their own either, never mind anyone else's children. Another thing that has to change is, the attitude of parents in believing they own their children, they don't they are the guardians of the children to guide them the best way as possible towards adulthood. In reality, all parents don't own their children due to the Cest Que Vie Act and the registering the child after birth. By registering the child, you have just awarded your child as the property of the State, same applies to cars, homes, dogs or other pets you register.

The youngest son is the heir: One of the laws of RITA says: The youngest son in the family always stays with his parents. Therefore, the principle has always been in effect, all the sweetest, most delicious goes to the youngest, as if the parents from the very beginning provided themselves with a decent old age. The child saw that all the best, everything that they had acquired in this family, all the heritage, everything goes to the younger. The girls were given in marriage, they continue the other Kins, the brothers can leave and build their mansions, but the youngest always remains, this was the Tribal Law. Let's say only 4 girls were born, then the parents of the youngest do not let her go anywhere, on the contrary, they take the son-in-law (daughter's husband) to themselves, call him a son and pass on all their heritage to him. But it already turns out according to the RITA law has an appointed heir and not a direct one. Therefore, the Slavs tried to give birth to an heir themselves, even 9-10 girls so it is necessary and then the men will go. You can give birth at the age of 100, nature allows the female body if it lives in harmony with nature. The limitation of one's life is created by the person himself. The not-so-great limitation program we all run on ourselves, in overview is pure folly. When all of us are capable of so much more, when we get out of our own way.

To live for Rod: Now you can often hear: You have to live for yourself, but what does that mean? Get away from problems and do nothing? When a person lives for himself, there are enough problems while he does nothing, because that means that he is being a parasite at the expense of others. To live for himself, implies he does not owe anything to anyone, does not oblige, but at the same time enjoys all the fruits of society. That is the service to self-culture that permeates this world currently like a virus. It leads to not sharing or caring about others, which is another virus that allows the EL-ites to divide and conquer us. Service to self only and dancing in excess ego is dancing within the parameters of the dark forces. Can a person live cut off from the whole society? Maybe, if he is a hermit and has fulfilled his duty to Rod. When a person simply says that he wants to live for himself, then both the duty to the Rod and the duty to society, fade into the background. Yet there was no such thing as living for yourself back then, you were a part of a community and the Slavs had a concept, to live for the family. That is, the thought which should always prevail: what can I do for the good of the lineage? A bench, a chest, a wardrobe that he made for the lineage, he puts the soul into it. Once he invested the soul, it means that all the descendants of his lineage, interacting at the level of the soul, they seem to prolong the life of the same shop, table, etc., through these things they interact with their lineage, because particles of your lineage accumulate in the tree, so many cannot throw away the old tables, by buying new ones. Remember the stone and the tree used to make the items, also have a soul as well. If I start doing for the good of the lineage, then the Gods will immediately begin to help me, because the lineage unites all my Ancestors and all my Gods. If I do for them, they also begin to help me, create for me and there is mutual assistance, mutual support. The classic pay it forward method and also understanding the flow of life. The Gods have helpers, especially the Gods-Rulers of the elements and their assistants also begin to help us. These assistants: brownies, yards, sheep, banniks, goblins etc.

Child up to 1 year old: Children have developed a broad outlook, their range of perception of the world around them is greater than that of adults, who have already created some restrictions, rules, laws, so they see limitedly. The children see both the brownie and the goblin, they have a better perception. But many modern parents who simply were not told or they were locked in childhood by their parents or society, which led to the development of all sorts of fears, phobias and these phobias are then transmitted to their children. Let's say the parents returned from work and the child turned on the light everywhere and sits in the hallway, says: I'm afraid to go into the room, there is something in there. But, the parents do not believe him, they are angry, saying do not talk such nonsense and march him into the room, telling him not to be stupid. But since the parents did not explain, this inexplicable event begins to frighten and subsequently children's fears turn into new phobias: fear of confined spaces, fear of the dark, the unknown, fear of open space, fear of other people. The child becomes withdrawn, depressed, because he begins to think that if his parents do not believe him, how can other people believe him? Who is to blame for this? Genius? No, the child was born normal, so his parents are to blame for this. Therefore, when a child was born, it was generally not shown to anyone until 1 year old, until the body got stronger. Only close relatives, the mother, father, grandfathers, grandmothers, brothers and sisters had the right to see, and sometimes after 3 months the planted parents could start playing with him. Before that, they do not come close, even if in the same room with him. I presume this has some sort of protection for the child as well, lessening the chance of the child being corrupted by negative energies or picking up adult viruses.

Kissing a married woman: A married woman is kissed only by her husband and some relatives. When a woman is in a position, only her husband kisses her, others and even some relatives do not kiss her. A man, when his wife is in position, should not even just touch other women. You don't even have to shake hands, because a woman gets energy from her husband. If he, for example, said hello and talked to another woman, he has the energy of another woman in his hands. When he returned home and took an apple and then gave it to his wife, the energy of another woman through this apple eaten by his wife gets inside and can make changes or violations. Therefore, there is a commandment: Let not the finger of the father of another wife touch, when his wife carries his child under her heart. Energy is very difficult to wash off, so it is better to follow the heavenly Laws if you want the offspring to be healthy. A man can only touch his daughters. If you accidentally touch another woman, wash your hands thoroughly, there is even a commandment of Perun about this: Wash your hands after your deeds, for whoever does not wash his hands loses the power of God. If you lose your strength, what will you give your spouse to carry a child normally? Everything that you bring from the store should always be thoroughly washed, so you not only wash off dirt and dust, but also someone else's energy. After washing off the energy, the husband applies soy and only after that he gives the product to his wife. Interesting way of thinking and something we have relayed in the shows about understanding energy. Again it is such an important piece about life, yet where are the teachings about it? Women are better at recognizing this than their male counterparts. A woman they say always knows when a man is having an affair, despite the male making and taking steps to not be found out, maybe women sub-consciously picks up the energies and frequencies of the other woman?

HOW DID YOU LOVE

This next section involves deeper questions into the parts covered earlier. It is called the RITA Laws: Frequently asked questions.

1. How can it be determined that the spectrum that was laid down in a woman was erased with mutual love? For children: when a child treats both dad and mom with love and when each of the parents sees his own likeness in the child. But if love, was on the one hand, pure and higher, and on the other hand, insincere. Then just falling in love on one hand, then the image may not be erased completely. Because outwardly it will manifest itself, that the child of the new dad and the inner essence will remain from the first man. The question then arises: And who are you like me?

2. What is the meaning of life for those born with violations of the RITA Laws, or those who themselves have violated this law, because the process of degeneration and spiritual death is irreversible? There are no irreversible processes and the best way out is childbirth. Can a person's spiritual transformation take place? Yes. Does this mean that a person himself, realizing and building himself spiritually, by creating a spiritual and spiritual world around him, can he transform himself? Yes. This means that he can even change the violations that he received, if they are small. If a person has everything completely broken, such a person does not follow the spiritual path, he goes down further. He degrades, he does not listen to anyone, neither parents nor grandfathers, he does not perceive anyone except himself. Which is the unbalanced ego, a sure recipe for spiritual devolution.

3. If a woman has several men, is the child obtained from one or more? The main image is from the first and the images of others are superimposed on it. That is, someone is more powerful, someone is weaker, but there is a layering of images and as a result, like Pushkin said: they are not a mouse, not a frog, but an unknown animal, in other words it will give birth to an unknown person.

4. Can non-traditional sexual intercourse affect health and spectrum spiritually? What are non-traditional sexual acts? A married couple does not have such. As for the two spouses, this applies only to them and no one else and is not subject to any discussion. How they want to caress each other is their own business. Exactly right, it is nobody's business what goes on in other people's bedrooms, sexual preferences or gender preferences either. As long as no harm is being done to others, as long as both partners agree on what is acceptable and what is not to them, then people are free to explore their sexuality in whichever way or form that takes them.

5. Is it possible for a woman or a girl to kiss someone else's man? Yes. The Slavs kissed three times on holidays. When they came to visit and a woman or girl carried them with kvass, they kissed them. Kvass is like a low alcoholic beer. But then they used to know that when a person kisses, he gives a part of his soul, so kissing in the Slavic lands was normal. With a kiss, there is an exchange of souls, so the thieves could not understand: why the Rods live fragmented in farms and how when they were attacked, they united and defeated the thief. Because they had a connection on a spiritual level. But at the same time, it is important what meaning is invested in the kiss, what is the energy component? They did not invest back then, as they say now, of whether it had a sexual meaning to it. Today is mired in possession of the person, the partner belongs to me attitude, which is a control system. This is all achieved due to the lack of trust of each other, mixed with the ease of which people fall for the seducement.

6. If a parent does not know about the child, does he receive a birth canal from him? Yes. But the child will receive energy in any case and the parent himself only in the process of communicating with the child. After the child reveals a channel in him in the process of communication. The more dad communicates with the child, the more energy he receives. He not only replenishes the year of life that he gives to a woman for conception, but also receives additional energy when communicating, so that later the next one can conceive. That is describing the cycle and flow of life, the energy exchange of giving and receiving. People who understand that and operate within, will always receive what they need in life.

7. In what case does a woman not receive the woman's share and the gift of motherhood? If the first man did not see her as the mother of his children, but saw her only as the object of satisfying his sexual needs. That is, he did not see her as a future mother and therefore did not reveal a woman in her. Therefore, she suffers, but then he will understand what needs to be revealed. He may try to do it, but it is much more difficult to do, although it is possible. But it will take more strength and it will take many years. This is why it is important to define what type of relationship you wish to have, like I mentioned earlier. The solution to this is, find man whose love is greater than the first male and embrace him with all your heart. That then replaces the image, regardless of whether you have children together or not.

8. Is it possible to save descendants from parents of different nations, for example: the mother is white and the father is yellow? It is possible, but what does save mean? For example, if the father is yellow and the mother is white, the child continues his yellow appearance. If the father is white and the mother is yellow, there is a process of accumulation, if then the children went more white, then there is a recovery. That is, yellow 12 channels and white 16 channels, it turns out that the child has 14 channels which is  $28: 2 = 14$ . This species is more than 12, as if an improved yellow look, but less than that of pure whites who are 16. But after all, development is not closed to anyone to become like whites. Another thing is that in order to become like whites, you have to be born white, but you have to strive for yellow and let them strive. But they will reach the 16, but we will already have 256. They have a multiplying of 12 which will give only 144, we have  $16 \times 16 = 256$ , and again we are ahead, but again they have an incentive to develop, to reach the creators (that is, us). That piece in today's terms will be deemed as racist, but in Cosmic Genetics terms it is known and understood. That the white race was created out of higher stock from the 3 founder races. If this wasn't true, then all other races would not be trying to mix their genetics with ours. It's basic common sense looked upon in overview, not immersed in it, which will always diversify opinions based upon which race you are.

9. If a woman has cheated on a man, then the image of children is slightly changed, can this be fixed? As a rule, a woman was expelled from the family for such deeds. That is treason and was not allowed at all. The priests can fix it, but will they, do it? They will correct the betrayal and she will go to change again.

10. If a man married a divorced woman, does this mean that at each sexual intercourse he will spend one summer of his life? If he does not change the image of the spirit and blood of her first man by the power of his love, then he will give her the energy of the year of his life every time. These are the laws of the universe; only mutual love can change the image. I imagine that piece left many gulping and saying holy shit, that is the folly of sleeping around. You lose a year of energy each time unless you overcome the first man/partner. Like I have said, if we had an app for the use of energy, many would change their lives very quickly. A karma app also.

11. If the wedding was conducted by a monk in a monastery with the permission of Vladyka, what will happen to this marriage? A good thing will not be called a marriage. That is, if the Slavs came to get married in the Christian church, this will be a marriage for the glory of Israel. The priest says: For the glory of Israel I crown and not for the glory of Russia or the Slavic Family. The Rus clearly understand the higher purpose of two people coming together. Marriage or is it Mari age? Produces the term wed lock, to wed is to pledge into being locked, the ring becomes the bind and is place on the left-hand finger or is it left-hand path, which is SET in stone? The ring finger is connected to the heart energetically and so the ring binds the heart. So, their version of marriage is another binding contract, all done at the behest of Israel as the Rus and Slavs are telling us. Remember all women in the marriage setting are in essence married to Ba'al. What it also reveals is, the Rus and Slavs knows that the Christian church is fake and operates under the House of Israel, not the country.

12. What happens if you dye your hair or wind it on curlers or do chemistry? You cannot change the color of your hair, what kind of hair from birth, such a spectrum of energy is necessary for your existence. If a woman dyes her hair, it means that she changes the spectrum and as a result, receives completely different energy that she needs and the body begins to fight her foolishness, because then the roots have climbed and then something else. You can wind it up with curlers, there is no harmful chemical effect on the body. In addition, only a man can judge the beauty of a woman, because a woman in herself looks for only flaws and is very focused on girlfriends, the opinions of others. Men evaluate the same woman in different ways, because you can't like everyone, for one it may seem scary and for another it is not more beautiful. Some spouses are similar, as if one mother gave birth to them and they found each other. That will raise eyebrows in many females, I guess that is the price of fitting in with others, seeking the approval of others and vanity.

13. Are the DNA helix and energons the same thing? No. DNA is generic, physiology and energons are responsible for the spiritual and soul.

14. Can people have more than 16 energy channels? They can, but in the next world. There are already 256 channels, the 16x16 is designed and a person becomes Leg. In our world, a person (Slav) can develop his 16 channels and this is more than enough. That is, some people live with only 6 channels and we have 16.

15. A man opens his channels through communication with children and a woman opens her channels through what? Through a man. Oh dear, that will not please the feminists and their ravings of we don't need men. Is this why so many females are struggling? They are missing the male energy required for them to be open to communications with their children. Is this then explaining why so many children are struggling as well? As they have been cut off energetically by a parent living a single life? All interesting questions, but I will add another; is this why females in general are struggling to develop spiritually, because communications on an energetic level are closed down, due to a lack of partnerships? Like I said, they are all questions, not statements of gender superiority, because both need each other to develop. One falling is all falling, one self-correcting with knowledge means we all rise.

16. Can all people love? Everyone can, but not everyone, does it. You can compare it with the Sun, as everyone can receive light from the Sun, but someone who lives in caves and does not come out of there. This has a much wider part to play and it goes back to our piece, What is love? Do we understand it? No, have we defined it? No. Are we embracing it? No. Do we run from it? Yes. Why? Because of fear. Fear is a low vibrational state, which means you cannot experience love, which is a higher vibrational state. Those in fear will run from love, make excuses to not accommodate it and ultimately end up dis-communicated and disconnected from Source due to their own fears. The light from the Sun comes with love, the avoidance of the Sun operates in darkness and fear. CHILDREN OF THE SUN

ENDING PIECE: Well that was quite a reality check wasn't it? Another brutal truth episode, another shattering of our own illusions and riddled with common sense ideas and solutions. I imagine it is trigger central out there now, glad that I am staying in tonight! Well we have to deal, heal and process it, it is the only way forward. That concludes FHSTOS Plus 23 and I am here to tell you there is a Plus 24 expanding further into this fascinating peak into how life was, who we were, who we are and how to be. A fascinating insight into how life works and how their understanding was far greater than we know today. An extraordinary devolution on a massive scale, that the laughable description of so called hunter gatherers were way ahead of us in terms of understanding and knowledge. Are some of these pieces controversial in nature? Yes, because we lack knowledge and understanding on a massive scale. Whilst some parts may well trigger some of the people outside of the white race, given the distortion of our languages and meanings. But this must not detract from the knowledge gained from this series as it is essential to us all. The bigger triggering's will come from the ponderings this show will have garnered. We have found out this evening, that much of what we thought was correct about life and living, is a world away from the original versions. The effects will be seen as the dark forces interference, but the cause is us adapting to it.

Like the old saying, if I asked you to put your hand into the fire, would you do it? Sadly too many do that and get burned, it is the same with the wet paint sign, people just have to touch it, which has just destroyed the painters life force energy poured into doing it. Didn't think of that did you? All of us followed a path the dark laid out for us and all gladly, blindly went along with it. Why? Laziness and a lack of thinking, plus the worst aspect of service to self. Service to self leads to an uncaring, un-sharing world, which is exactly what we have. Where mothers and fathers have abandoned children and communities in favor of being or having the best for themselves. Where vanity is more important than purity, where the head is more important than the heart, where shekel chasing is more important than spirituality, where greed is more important than need, this is what we have now a broken society on all levels, not just the 1%. In overview service to self is a dereliction of duty to Source and is no better than the dark forces antics. Caring, sharing, nurturing and supporting of others has become a brutal exercise in personal grief. It is on a par with telling the truth on this planet, you receive no end of grief and abuse, I know both all too well. Now you know why the gods of the light don't return, or why many higher evolved souls won't come back here. As it is like a lifetime lost, plus the suffering, abuse and targeting, because people here will not change their ways into becoming better people, becoming more spiritually evolved, nor will they spend any time improving or saving themselves. Is that fair for those who come from the higher dimensions to help here? Is life now how it should really be? Why do so few see that life here currently is an abomination? Riddled with victim and victimhood, bitter and twisted people, uncaring, un-sharing, competitive people riddled with ego and the low self-worth problem. Yet low self-worth and limitation programs in overview, allows too many to not do anything, many will not like that statement, but it's true isn't it? Then we have the service to self-people, who look after their own interests only, yet will cry about the loss of the communities. The communities needs all to be doers, yet so many will not do anything, just complain. Even in our own group we see that, even after all the lessons of how to be, too few do whilst others sit by and watch from the peanut gallery. As much as we would like to deny that fact, it is true. The teachings of these shows which has echoed much of THI in many ways, must be developed into teaching courses for all youths globally. For our species to develop, we must teach the youth in an adult way and prepare them for adulthood and life. Our current schooling is how to become an imbecilic bot, even the so called privileged in top positions are utter jackasses. Unable to provide solutions, unable to run any country for the benefit of its peoples. Running repeated kick the can down the road and ouroboros policies, it's embarrassing. Yet most of these people have been to top colleges and universities? What does that say to us all? What is worse is, the people mostly don't think there is anything wrong! That is sheer lunacy of the highest caliber. The whole situation we are in, makes me despair at the crass stupidity of it all. This lifetime is a massive opportunity to change it all, history in the making, not the receiving of poor or bad history. Our future generations will ask, where were you when this all unfolded? What was your input into it? What did you do to change it? So, what will be your legacy that you leave for your future generations? Will future generations be proud or despairing? Your choice to create the legacy you will leave behind, choose wisely as the leap of time is 10K years to look back into the distant past, which we currently are now. An observation window in essence, what will you see? What will you not see? Will you be at that observation window or repeating failed lesson of multiple lifetimes? Only you can decide that. We can walk around looking down at phones like imbeciles, walk like an Egyptian which is like a snake or take the multiple leaps of faith and fix our own mess. The window of multiple opportunities awaits, will you see it or ignore it like the last 78K years? To shine your beacons you first have to turn on your own damn light on, for Source sakes. It's time to shine. SHINE
