

THI-SHOW TRANSCRIPT 2023-12-21

What is the greatest force against the dark forces? What do they work against the most? What are they devoid of? Why do they fear us rising within it? Why have they done everything to stop it unfolding? Whether personal or collective? What do they fear the most?

This was a revocation done prior to today's show, to take into account the difference in time zones globally and to counteract shifts in date events to hide dark sacrificial programs. This is the Winter Solstice revocation. We the people do not consent to calling in the spirits, demons, gods or goddesses or any other malevolent entities. They will be terminated upon entry and the karma passed onto all of you who did the calling. We the people do not consent to the dark practices, black magicians using djinns or any other entities for ceremonial purposes. Consequence of actions against you and them will unfold. We the people do not consent to the collection of, abduction of or any other form of coercion, blackmail or leveraging for any HU-man being to be used as vehicles for host possession. Host possession is also a form of calling in and the karma will increase upon those of you who took part in it. Host possession via walk ins will be terminated upon entry. We the people do not consent of any form of sacrificial ceremonies, whether real or role playing for the same dark intentions. No ceremonies or attempts for opening portals, wormholes or other conduits are allowed on this planet, attempts to do so will be met with consequences of actions. The sacrifices of HU-mans, humanoids or animals for dark malevolent purposes is now declared as, permanently banned on this planet as of December 19th 2023. Instant karma and other consequences of actions against you will unfold. We the people do not consent to any malevolent actions against us or the planet to take place now or the future as decreed by the HU-man Restoration and subsequent Blueprint plan. The Guardians.

BLUEPRINT ACTION GROUP REPORT FOR WEEK ENDING THE 17th of December 2023

Book team report:

The audio and video versions of the German Divine Masculine and Divine Feminine booklet are ready and are posted to the media team. The German Consent booklet, Divine Masculine and Divine Feminine booklet and the Blueprint are available for use. The Dutch translation of the Blueprint is at proofread stage. The Dutch translation of the Consent booklet has started. The Hebrew translation of the Divine Masculine and Divine Feminine booklet has started. The Swedish translation of the Blueprint is on proofread stage by a few members. The Bulgarian Divine Masculine and Divine Feminine booklet is ready and sent to the web team. The Bulgarian Consent booklet is ready available for use. The Bulgarian Blueprint book and the email for influencers are translated and available for use. The first proofread of the Bulgarian From His Story to Our Story, Volume 2 is done. A second proofread will follow and the index file to be translated after. On our last Book team call, as always, we were happy to exchange information on the work we are doing, as well as how we are doing. We were asked to send a year report related to what we have done and still working, what we have learned during the year. About our motivation and anything we would like to share. The members sent their stories to be combined into one report.

Media team report:

The team are currently in the process of over viewing the progress to date, as we come to the end of our first year since creating the Media team. We have amassed a great library of THI and Blueprint memes and videos to date. This gives us plenty of material to choose from and looking back shows us how far we have come as a team and as creators. It also helps us overview and begin reformatting or creating in a different way. As things are emerging on many levels now, we must find the time to pause and correct course if it is necessary. In the past few weeks, we have discovered that the Blueprint is now placed fourth in the Duck Duck go search results, which means we get seen more easily if someone chooses to use that platform to find us. Another interesting fact became apparent on You Tube rankings this week. The Blueprint show episode ten scored high on the channel listing, although it had only received 375 views. When compared to even the Vedas shows which ranked higher in views, one has received over 1200 views, another over 800 views and the last one to date has received 450 views. The reason the blueprint show scored better is because it had received fifty-six likes, while other shows with higher views received far less likes. This came as a surprise as it clearly shows You Tube rank you higher for hitting the like button, than simple the number of views any one show receives. Our ranking means the video will be pushed more by You Tube, which in turn helps spread the word. This week we have had to take down the latest THI show due to copyright strike. They also removed four more shows one of those was the FHTOS, this is incredibly disappointing, but also the flip side is we are being noticed. That then becomes a win. This is why I created the THI-show.com platform, where none can be taken down. Clowns are terrified of our information and have done everything to stop it, but it's out in the collective consciousness now and cannot be stopped. Banning shows you how weak they are. The team said that planting the seeds comes in many formats and in many ways. While some may seem obvious, they are not always the way it will unfold. As we plant the seeds how they bloom is not always up to us.

Research team report:

The Blueprint Research Team was only able to have one small group meeting on December 10th, to analyze our mission progress and determine the next phase projects. Member family holiday and travel plans affected last month and will do so this month. It slows the name approval pace. In the next few days, we will be reviewing a recent list Thomas sent back to us. It contains his choices for book recipients and those he has sent to or plans to, as well as notes of the remainder of others for us to send PDF emails to. We must audit the list to be sure we have email addresses for them, as the list sent to Thomas was with postal mailing addresses only. Despite a slowed pace, we worker bees add pollen daily to the database hive. Honey is in the making regardless of outward appearances and many seeds have been satisfactorily planted. Therefore, we consider the mission progress thus far as satisfactory. We have grown from having no names or data on April 20th when we were formed to 517 names, with daily growing data as of December 14th. A combination of 83 books and pdf's have been mailed and emailed. This final project for the year will bring the total to 143 and has 3 parts. The first will add twenty pdfs to be sent per Thomas's list mentioned earlier. The second is to fulfil Thomas's request for mailing addresses of 20 US media companies to send books to. The third is to send PDFs to an additional twenty media Editors. We have phone numbers along with some email addresses in the database, but need to acquire the headquarter physical mail receiving address. We will report the names receiving the PDFs, after we get them to Ovi and he has sent them out. We can report that our team reviewed our current list of 85 media names. Selected to receive a copy of the book are: The two wire services of Associated Press and Reuters. Next are nine top mainstream broadcast media.

Thomas suggested we seek their "National Editors" or "Clown readers."

ABC

BBC America

CBS

CNBC

CNN

FOX

ITN (Independent Television News)

NBC

And the PBS show – Democracy Now

For print and online media, we chose eight:

Al Jazeera – English version

Forbes magazine

Huffington Post

New York Times newspaper

The Economist magazine

Washington Post newspaper

Washington Times newspaper

and the blog Zero hedge

Thomas will report when he has mailed the books. On another topic, the team was curious about how to analyze the Blueprint book success. Our Web Team liaison demonstrated SEO or Search Engine Optimization by searching online with just the three words of “the new blueprint.” He told us that usually, the top links that show up are paid for by advertisers. If you are #4 in the links it is an OMG, but anywhere on the first page is awesome. The results were amazing. The New Blueprint for Humanity was surprisingly the OMG #4 on DuckDuckGo and was the awesome #10 on the first page of Google. To further clarify how outstanding that is, consider this: just typing in the single word ‘blueprint’ brings up 1 billion+ results. To bubble up to the surface of that ocean is an astonishing accomplishment. On our agenda for January 2024, is each member of the team taking an equal portion of the influencers, that prefer contact only through their website forms. We will then begin sending them the link to the website and the PDF within a brief standardized message. It would be like an Executive Summary of the book. We will continue collaborating with the Volunteers Team, by adding the missing information they find to the database. We will be focusing on outreach distribution to the different social media, to improve the algorithms as requested by the Media Team.

European Blueprint Team:

The European THI members have taken on collectively, the task of modifying TNBFH to a European version. Several members stepped up to work on the text of several solutions, which need to be adapted. We do this in collaboration with TNBFH group, where we can discuss in the bi-weekly meetings, anything having to do with this project, ask our questions and get the support we may need in the process. There are several aspects to this work, as for certain subjects it is required to study some of the Ucadia Natural/Divine Law material, for a good understanding of it. Besides the more technical, knowledge-based aspects of the text, the Blueprint is a heart-based document and that is our focus as a collective. All input and ideas are valuable, are welcomed and respected, so it will be a co-creation by all the members who wish to contribute to it. We aim to have regular meetings, starting next year, for now we chose to do that on Monday evenings, every other week. This can of course be adjusted to the wishes and needs of the members, if possible. It is exciting to see this initiative grow with a possibility to involve, inspire and cooperate with more fellow Humans who have a wish in their hearts to create a better world for us all. It is a process where we are on our way of learning how to do this and expanding and developing ourselves in being the best we can be, following our hearts and in that way inspire each other. We are the Guardians and, in this way, can take our responsibility for that. For anyone wishing to contribute, please reach out to us, in the chat or in a personal message. We will be happy to welcome you.

Youth Website:

The YouTHInkDifferent website has blossomed into a reality this year, with content being developed for the opening on the site in early 2024. The areas under development will be added to the site in stages as content expands. We have decided to make videos of the five documents being written for website content because they will have a greater impact on youth.

These documents include:

Food, Permaculture and Gardening

Law and Consent

Housing and Job Security Solution

Gender, Integrating Divine Feminine and Divine Masculine and Race

Climate Change; Positive Focus: Respect for the Environment and Sustainable Living

Assistance will be needed in making videos from content documents. An Anime script is being written about the Race and Gender topic. Movie ideas using THI concepts are also under consideration, as well as using youth with talents in the performing arts. The following area of website development are underway:

VIDEOS:

The media team are helping regarding translating documents into videos. While another member is writing an Anime script for her Race and Gender document for the next meeting. Documents are being reformatted to question form as this steer the youth to think different and become more interactive. Another member is working on movie ideas using THI concepts and youth she knows from taking part in the performing arts industry.

LIVING LIBRARY:

This will provide a place for youth to book a chat with a more mature person based on their interests. This will not be a counselling service because of the complications with that. Candidates will be selected based on compatibility with the site. Ultimately there could be short bios on available people, even featuring skills such as learning to juggle, which is one of our members talents.

MINI E-COURSES:

In future development there be a Mini E-Courses section where skills can be taught. There can be hidden tabs for areas under development which are launched when the groundwork has been done.

TELL US YOUR STORY:

There are four young people working on their stories. The kick-off is with young entrepreneurs who are excited to share their progress. Stories such as new beginnings after life-saving surgery and turning your passions into a business are key.

TEL-A-VISON:

Like TikTok or Instagram, this is a place for youth to share their visions of the future. Katie is having exciting chats with 18- and 19-year-olds. They resonate with the website name. The focus is on interpersonal development rather the distraction of television.

WEBSITE CONTENT:

A member of the web team attended to discuss the website further and went through all the content we have put together so far. Once we have refined the material, it will quickly be able to be insert it into the website to go live. There will be some kind of security that will prevent typing in of abusive words to prevent derailing conversations.

MEMBERSHIP:

Membership may be used to filter out trolls. There would be no cost to join, and a membership form would be more of a survey of their interests. They would provide an email which they could use when they provide things to upload to the site.

VISION:

We want to create a place where youth can bring friends and hangout. The more responsive the website is to their interests, the better their sense of belonging and making it their preferred place. It is key to live from the heart, respect others' differences and listen openly to others' ideas.

We discussed a FUTURE PARENTING WEBSITE:

This age group, 16-Twenties, is a popular time for having babies and parenting will be of great importance to those with children. There will be a future parenTHIng website to help young parents. In Chinese medicine when a child is sick, they look to the parents for the cause of the illness. The parenting website can be an opportunity to use ideas from the School Blueprint. It will also build a rapport for the Forest School Project. "Guardians of the Galaxy" could be used with Anime. Great to find people with specialties in different areas to enhance the appeal of the sites. Open discussion topics and questions: The meeting had a new contingent from the Europeans this week, as they are well underway with their ideas for adapting the Blueprint into a more euro friendly prototype. It was very encouraging to hear their progress and commitment to this part of the process. Many ideas were shared about making improvements in the year ahead, such as flagging goals to monitor progress. It was emphasized that we need to take time to appreciate how much we have accomplished this year. There will be a brainstorming session at the next meeting to record ideas.

IN OVERVIEW:

The momentum is really building within all the groups, as progression is the key to expansion. Each group has covered much groundwork during this year and are beginning to see the seeds planted starting to emerge in many ways. This brings with it; a new set of perimeters and a reforming of previous structures may have to be amended and reformed. Through the formation of the new beginning of co-creation we are learning that there are no mistakes, there are no errors, for they are the building blocks that kick start something better. The tabula rosa that was ours at the beginning has woven its own tapestry of beauty, that grew from the spark of light, which was the thought. The energetic spark that forms the thought and then the action. Within us all we are emerging from the shadows and the overlays, shedding each one as we gain momentum. Gaining an innerstanding of our own depths brings a wave of ideas, like a tapestry of color and form. Coming together to honor the other brings forth a deepening of admiration for each one, that invokes in us a remembrance of who we are and why we are here. The shadows may be more important than we think, for they push us to want to be better, to try new things and to stop focusing on failure and become a measuring stick for growth. You are only as small or as big as you choose to be, staying small served no one but the darkness. Though we have learned to thank the dark, for without it we would never have become a better version of ourselves. An artist creates from shadows and light, both are needed to add real depth and understanding of the painting. Each one as important as the other. What lies beneath should never be feared, it is there to help us grow and strive to be our true selves. We look forward not back, we embrace the shadow dancing and learn that we all have value, we are all just aspects of the other. No one is above or below you, there is no race, no haste and no competition, there is only the great journey of creation. We let go of the copy of the copy and leave the chrysalis to emerge as the butterfly. The flower of life within becomes the New Blueprint now seen without.

Fantastic stuff again and that wraps up the final Blueprint show for this year, although there will be a full year review from the different teams in Part 2 of the End of year review. I wish to say thanks to you all for the fantastic contributions to the Blueprint shows and we go into the New year with the next episode of 12+1. The flower of life within becomes the New Blueprint was just stated. A reminder of a song that fits in nicely with that, with a twist so to speak. Just remember in the winter Far beneath the bitter snows Lies the seed that with the sun's love In the spring becomes the Rus.

As you have all had a series of gentle shows for the past few months, some light entertainment, engaging melodic music and gentle ponderings, perhaps it is time for some brain expansion again. Following on from our last piece what is love? I found more material on the theme of what is and we will delve into another section called: What is time? I have expanded the original pieces to this, as a greater understanding by you all, is now prevalent. What is time? What is the time? How is time? When is time? When was time? All interesting questions and ponderings. We spoke in the Cosmic Genetics series about the Time Matrix, which in overview can be seen as ti-me. Tie me is a binding contract again, that has never served us all too well. Time like money, is a control system of harvesting, the syphoning of your life force energy by placing constraints upon you called time. Where they are shortening the time, whilst asking us to produce more via life force energy for them to harvest and collect the shekels. It is just a clock or is it a c-lock, another binding word. It is just a watch, but who is watching who? And why? Is it Greenwich or green witch mean time, does mean mean average is it just being mean or not nice to us. No one wants to go to prison to serve time, is serving time a dinner, a lord or a sentence. But words are also a sentence and so words become a prison unless you decode them. Has not life become a prison sentence without the authority bars version? Is not the worst prison, your own mind, that you must escape from? In essence time is the prison. Yes here comes some more brain twisting time, pardon the pun. But the lesson we must learn is, it is time for no time. The two worlds we spoke of in 2015 is now in clear view, we also spoke of 2020 the time people would "see", and those both now are prominent in our world, hence the AI based loop program of trying to change what is known as time, but ultimately time is an illusion of their world. As we go towards the anomaly or the event horizon, time changes due to dilation. What is a few seconds here, can be many years elsewhere. Essentially we are or hopefully were, governed by time, which means to bind when separated, tie me, time is and was the god in here, a control mechanism and also fear inducing concept. Why else would they call it Father Time? the depictions of father time look is all very Jesus or god like. A Jesus in an older form, man replete with a long beard, which is the same depiction of the Anunnaki is it not, perhaps they are one and the same? Remember we spoke of why the gods came here in FRWL series, they came to buy more time with the Elixir of Life, from the Milk Ocean that existed where the Himalayan mountains are now situated. The elites still do it, of attempting to cheat time and old age by consuming adrenochrome, it all boils down to gaining from time, so time becomes the god here, and wielded it's fear, power and control on us all. The religious orders all call god "The Father", so if god is the Father, who is Father Time? Chronos. Who or what is Chronos? In recent centuries he is usually depicted as an elderly bearded man, sometimes with wings, dressed in a robe and carrying a scythe and an hourglass or other timekeeping device (which represents time's constant one-way movement, and more generally and abstractly, entropy). Usually with wings, oh my, the new age and religious elements will all scream he is one of the angels, those who have researched properly will realize, it is the fake gods again, the Royal Anunnaki have wings, just saying. The man in a robe carrying a scythe is also a depiction of the Grim Reaper, the harvester of the grim people. Your Michael's, Azazel, Raphael, Gabriel, Uriel, Samael, Seraphim, Elohim and all others of that ilk all came out of the Talmud book, long before Christianity adopted the religion of the Hebrews. The Hebrews in human form on earth were the black Africans originally, the Hebrews now are the disciples of the Hebrew Anunnaki, playing the same war and same events of time out, like a loop. If these angels were so great, we are told an angel came to the entity known as Jesus before his alleged arrest, why didn't they save the alleged son of god? Why wouldn't god save his only son? does that really make any sense? Here is what does make sense of that analogy, because that is what it is. A misinterpretation of the narrative that is riddled with analogies in the so-called holy books. The real reason is because those gods in the past and also the bloodline families here on Earth, all sacrifice their first born is why, the other entities worshipped here by the Hebrews or the more modern day term Jewish, is Solomon and Herod did exactly the same thing, seeing a pattern now? The story of Jesus is symbolic of their Earthly not godly based practices. A group of other beings we call ET's now, presenting themselves as the god or gods. The Anunnaki beings are depicted in hieroglyphs with wings, the Royal White Draco appear in wings, of which Anu was one of them. Some people will not believe that last statement, but their psychosis effect prevents them from seeing that themselves. They will look at the hieroglyphs and see a man, ignore the wings aspect because that is outside of their own program of understanding. If you develop your own program of understanding and not accept theirs, you will come to the conclusion that, A: hieroglyphs are disclosure of ET life and B: we see with our own eyes and interpret ourselves and C: we come to our own conclusions. A man with wings is not native to this planet, that means it is from somewhere else, that is ET Disclosure 101, it cannot get any simpler. People with psychosis cannot do that, yet this world is riddled with people living within time and psychosis. They mentioned he carries the hourglass, which we in the UK call the egg timer, how apt is that? that we revealed the hour glass concepts in describing how life, loops, time and events unfolded here? It is said that the hour glass represents time and it's constant one way movement, which is describing linear, except time is an illusion and cannot be linear, as all events are past, present and future. If the hour glass represents only a constant one way movement of time, what happens when you tip that hour glass upside down? does time go backwards? I know common sense again, but that ends that illusion of a constant one-way movement of time. The representation of the tipped upside down hour glass is a description of an Earth based event of pole flips, North becomes South and East becomes West. China and Russia become North America region, and Australia and New Zealand become top of the world, but what is up and what is down? essentially there is no up or down, it depends on your orientation of standing and objects. Australia and New Zealand are described as Down Under, has anyone asked what are they down under from? are they beneath the surface of something? is Australia and New Zealand in a giant cave? Why describe it as down which means below something and under which also means below something, the question is what are they beneath? As above so below springs to mind, but what is above and what is below? is the great question. Surely above and below have no real concept, as it is indicative of where and how you stand and your perspective from that particular vantage point. Ok Thomas now you're getting too technical, but if you approach Earth from a space craft from the north pole, Australia would appear as the top of the world, not down under. So, your perception then becomes different from the differing vantage points of observation, does it not? The sky is up above us, but the sky is also below us, we just can't see it as it is below the horizon, look at the words below the horizon, the original version of horizon was to circle or bind. So the sky is not up or down but all around us, just like the Universes, just like the dimensions, just like the planes of reality. They are neither up or down but around us. They use the curious word of skies, as in plural. But there is only one sky, the whole Universe is one sky. If you look up at the stars you will see the sky, if a being from Orion looks up at the stars, it will see one sky. The same sky only a different vantage point. So where does the term and meaning of skies come from? Some would argue the firmament, but the firmament is in the same sky, just an extra atmospheric layer of the one and only sky. What if they mean the "sky" in the inner Earth? Would that explain the reference to skies? No, because below our feet is higher dimensions and the upper world would not necessarily exist in the viewing spectrum circumstances. In simpler terms, it is like looking through a window, you will still see through out, despite the barrier of the glass. So the inner is the outer and vice versa, as above so below plays out here. The terminology of, a window to the sky applies. Maybe the window to the skies are the large pole openings with a cone shaped lens? Because then you will "see". What has the sky got to do with time? Because we are told by our scientists, that looking at each star is going back in time. As light takes time to travel here. But light is creation, Source based and instant, so why would it travel thousands of years to get here? Are they saying light is some sort of cosmic spaceship? Is the term light years away some sort of mind meme, all designed to make you think it is not attainable? If it is not attainable, please explain of how are we able to travel to other worlds instantly in the dream time?

Are we at the inception of ending time? Time ultimately is a contract. Contract means a binding agreement, but contract also means something more sinister than that. To bring on oneself especially inadvertently, which means you were lied to or duped. To become affected with, which means you were immersed in it and became part of it. To establish or undertake by contract, which means you agreed with it and became bound to it. Remember, Covenant and Testaments both mean to bind. All of which means religion is a binding contract as well. To reduce to smaller size by or as if by squeezing or forcing together, like this planet and all its beings and fauna, plus lifespan. But also by squeezing or forcing together? Like the other matrices? Like condensing time and space? To draw together so as to become diminished in size, the great reduction program. To become less in compass, duration, or length which means everything shrank? So if everything shrank, how can space and time expand? Time's constant one-way movement, and more generally and abstractly, entropy, the description said. Entropy is a scientific concept, as well as a measurable physical property that is most commonly associated with a state of randomness or disorder. So entropy is a state of randomness or disorder, so how can that be associated with fixed and recorded time? the answer is it can't. Entropy predicts that certain processes are irreversible or impossible, aside from the requirement of not violating the conservation of energy, the latter being expressed in the first law of thermodynamics. Entropy is central to the second law of thermodynamics, which states that the entropy of isolated systems left to spontaneous evolution cannot decrease with time, as they always arrive at a state of thermodynamic equilibrium, where the entropy is highest. Let's look at this line, entropy of isolated systems left to spontaneous evolution cannot decrease with time, so what they state is the randomness or disorder of evolution cannot decrease with time in an isolated system. And yet we are told this evolution was not done out of randomness or disorder, but was created by a god over time, which is contrary to scientific conclusions, more so in an isolated system. But what if Earth was in an isolated system? and that system is governed by time? Time is a one way movement, hence linear time, which means it can only go one way. All of which sounds like a countdown clock to me, getting you ready to call time on you. But all of us go back in time with memory, the memory inserts you back to the origin or the event of the memory does it not? So, at that point in time, the memory has installed you back in time to that event, so how can time have a one way movement? The fact we have memories, means it is not one way. Now in the past there was memory wipes, but it still didn't eliminate going back in time with the memories of this lifetime. But there is also vertical time, the time of no time, which is the gateway out of the Time Matrix, with the 12+1 open Merkaba. Let us break down Merkaba shall we, merka means measuring or a yardstick and ba means soul. Is that saying within the bind of the Merka-ba, they are measuring the soul? If so, who? It is not Source, as why would Source put souls in a bind? Source resides outside of time, just like the Golden Path. I have thrown out random hints in recent shows to see if some of you picked up on it, three in particular, inside your matrix God is time, God is an AI and you interact with Source outside of time, which is outside of an isolated system. Perhaps now those three statements make much more sense? if not ponder some more on it. As an image "Father Time's origins are curious", yes it is only curious because they leave key factors out of the narrative is why. But it also depends on which meaning of origins the writer was portraying, origins now is where you come from, but the original version of origin, was ancestors or race. So origin is like the word nations, both meant race. The ancient Greeks themselves began to associate Chronos, their word for time, with the agricultural god Cronos, who had the attribute of a harvester's sickle, just like the grim reaper, who calls time on you. A sickle is a curved or crescent shaped blade, symbolizing the moon, all celebrate the Harvest Moon now, as the moon calls time on the light of the day. How curious can that be that the Father of time is also a harvester, now are you connecting the dots? They are the harvesters of life force energy, currency and time are replacements for life force energy, what is the saying? time is money, and money is a compensation for your labor, by doing labor you are using your life force energy. The Israeli word for time is Eth, Eth is also on the stock market called Ethereum, which is an open sourced blockchain crypto currency. The currency of the dead hence crypto steals your time which is money, which is life force energy. Cohencidence? But he is referring to agricultural crops some will say, which means greens, vegetables and fruits, yes to your perception, but what if an off, on or in world group thinks of us as an agricultural crop? Here is the description of agriculture, Agriculture is the science and art of cultivating plants and livestock. Your interpretation of livestock assumes it is to do with animals, but what if we are the livestock? Is there evidence of this? yes in the Hebrew Talmud again, they describe us, the goyim as animals, beasts, reference us as pigs, all those are our own livestock terms. One of the Parents who ran this planet for so long also echoed the Hebrew Talmud, same program, same beings is why, she said children is what you are, the children of animals. Our birth certificates are a live stock, traded upon within the markets, which are called stocks, we are the living or live stock. Livestock can be said as one word or two, but whether two or one word the essence and the notion behind it is, one and the same. We are told by the tribal peoples that the gods brought us the technology called agriculture, why? to fatten us up, think different. They told you all in Jupiter Ascending they consume our life force, in their religious ceremonies they told us to eat the flesh and drink the blood of Christ, that is cannibalism, but it's symbolic Thomas, symbolic of what? I would ask, symbolic of what? It is them and their fun and games again telling you to your face what they do, you cannot grasp it, as they have told you the reverse that man is top of the food chain, but when have they ever told us the truth? Canni which means to consume, Ba'al the god, so cannibalism is to consume the flesh of man as a sacrifice to the entity known as Baal, which is a title not a name. Consuming the flesh plays into another time mind memory of time flies. But what do flies do? Over time they consume dead flesh, as evidenced by roadkill's. Does that mean flies are time machines? You do realize we already have a time machine, no it is not a DeLorean car, it is called a Merkaba. Back to the future? But how can you go back in linear time to the future? You can't as the future is outside of time, by a factor of 10K years. But how can time fly? Does it have wings? How can you fly within time if it is linear? upon the conveyor belt of linear time? no, that is driving and not flying, is it not? They corralled us into zones, just like the Districts in the Hunger Games movie, called time zones. A zone is any continuous area that differs in some respect, or is distinguished for some purpose, from adjoining areas, or within which certain distinctive circumstances exist or are established. A continuous area distinguished from adjoining areas, just like countries. Time zones based upon the rising and setting of the sun they said. Only one problem with that, the actual sun never rises or sets, only shines its beacon for all the galaxy to see on a permanent basis. Life here became like a movie stuck in time, a reel going round and round until the tape ran out, then they reset it and did it all again. Yet we not only watched the repeating movie, we participated in it. They even made a series about it called Westworld or is it really Western world and so the more white race countries? We just forgot we are the directors of time, space, life, creation, light, energy and vibration, plus the movie. That movie as they reminded us, was called Groundhog day. The day the hogs or pigs were grounded, all very Talmudic, are you getting it now? As an extra reminder; You gobbled it all up like greedy little piglets Cassandra said. The opposite of time? No time, no contracts, no bindings, no restrictions, freedom of will, choice and personal responsibility all under the Golden Rule and RITA Law. That allows things to flourish and flow and not bound by their time limiting restrictions. What flourishes then is, life, living, expression, compassion, freedom of thought, work, play, rest and above all, love. Time was not our creation, it was imposed upon us by technology. Only we are the creators of natural things and we should never have consented to it or operate within it. What are you now going to create and then manifest springs to mind or it should do. What is time? Have you consider when was time? Or when was no time? It then begs the question of, who was time? Your answer should be, I have no time for time and it is time to end time.
